COURT MARTIAL ORDERED

Will Meet in Eugene on April 25th at 3 p. m.

For the Purpose of Trying Capt Williams, Lieutenant Babb and the Wilson Brothers.

By an order issued today by Adju tant General Finzer, a general court martial is to be instituted at Eugene, to meet Monday, April 25, for the trial of such persons as may properly be brought before it, says Saturday's Portland Telegram. This action follows a personal visit to Eugene by General Finzer to investigate the situation resulting from recent occur rences in which an officer and enlisted men of Companies A and C. First Separate Battalion, were reported to be involved.

Just what charges have been made til the court-martial convenes, but it morning at ten o'clock for the purtions will include various infractions of the regulations of the military arm of the state, and that Captain J. M. Williams, of Company C, and Private parties to an altercation the evening Harbaugh temporary secretary. of April I, are both made the subjects of charges, as are also others who were identified with one side or the other in the controversies engendered between members of the two companies. . . . For the sake of economy the court is held down to the smallest less expensive to have the members of the field. the court go there than to have the large number of witnesses appear elsewhere. Besides the officers of the state military board included in the court, Colonel Vorbies and Colonel Bauer, Major Frank S. Baker are of a Portland battalion of the Third regiment, and Captain Hiram U. Welch is of Portland, commanding the First Battery; Captain Bartells is of The Dalles, and Captain Murphy of Salem, making the personal representative of the different divisions of the organization. The order is as
