Society Events

One of the most enjoyable social events of the past week was on the afternoon of Friday, May 20th, when Mrs. J. S. Luckey entertained a large number of ladies at her residence on the corner of East Tenth and Pearl streets. Progressive whist was the game, Mrs. James Hoffman winning the first prize and Mrs. J. W. Shumate the second prize. Following is the list of guests: Mesdames Henry E. Ankeny, F. W. Prentice, B. L. Bogard, D. A. Paine, C. W. Lowe, S. M. Moran, G. R. Christman, S. S. Spencer, T. G. Hendricks, P. E. Snodgrass, R. H. Dearborn, John Kelly, Ada Church, F. W. Osburn, Laura Harris, T. B. Luckey, Bettie Humphrey, L. N. Roney, L. O. Adair, S. P. Shadden, Burgess, James Hoffman, Henry Hoffman, James M. Abrams, S. H. Friendly, L. L. Whitson, T. A. Gilbert, J. W. Shumate.

The members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity of the University of Oregon, with their lady friends, were entertained in a most hospitable manner last evening by Mrs. J. S. Luckey, the fraternity's godmother, at her home, 641 Pearl street. The evening was pleasantly passed playing progressive whist. The prize winners were Miss Helen McKinney and Seth Kerron. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Lowe, after which the evening's pleasures ended with the gay company dancing the Virginia reel to the music of Uncle Joe Luckey's violin. Those participating were the Mesdames Norma and Elma Hendricks, Rosalie Friendly, Mary Dale, Alice Benson, Margaret Cundiff, Corrie Benson, Helen and Bertha McKinney, Ruby Hendricks, Ada Hendricks, Virginia Cleaver, Carrie Paine, Mrs. C. W. Lowe, Mr and Mrs L. L. Goodrich, Messrs Joe Templeton, Ray Goodrich, Robert Cronin, William Chandler, Claude Wright, Douglas Taylor, Arthur Leach, Elvin McCormack, Fred Stamp, Seth Kerron, Fred Steiwer and Defoe Shirk.

One of the most delightful affairs of the past week was a surprise party tendered to A. E. Sueden Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Quiner, 207 West Eleventh street. The principal feature of the evening was a progressive guessing contest of authors. The prize was won by Mr. Sueden, after which progressive whist was played. The parlors for this occasion were decorated in pink roses and ferns while the dining room was charming in red roses and ivy. The dining table was decorated with cut roses and a large mirror in the center. A most elaborate luncheon was served in courses by Mrs. Seelye and Miss Lillian Quiner. Those who participated in this most enjoyable affair were: The Mesdames Mary Skipworth, Norma Hendricks, Alicia McElroy, Elizabeth Elliott, Maude Gallogly, Lillian Quiner, Grace Edmondson. Messrs Chester Washburne, George Piper, Ralph Bacon, Frank Mitchell, George Merritt and Arthur Sueden.

The piano recital given by Miss Sadie Evelyn Ford of the University School of Music last evening in Villard hall was highly appreciated by those in attendance. The young lady played through her program with a great deal of ability and tact. Miss Ford was assisted by Miss Eva I. Stinson, vocalist.

Members and friends of Rev. O. C. Wright, the Baptist pastor, and his wife gathered at their home at 732 Mill street last night expecting to create much surprise. Mr. and Mrs. Wright, however, had gone for a family picnic and learned of the good intentions of their friends late in the evening and after all had departed. Instead of leaving calling cards, however, the callers left many substantial gifts of Oregon's choicest fruits, etc. The surprise was equally divided.

Miss Irene Applegate and Miss Ermine Church entertained informally this afternoon at the home of the former, 109 West Eighth street. "Progressive Sniff" was the amusement of the afternoon.

One Year in the Pen.

Roseburg Review: Douglas county makes one contribution to the state penitentiary from the current term of the circuit court here, in the person of Frank Brothers, whom a jury Wednesday afternoon found guilty of larceny. Pursuant to the request of the convicted man, Judge Hamilton pronounced sentence immediately after the verdict was announced. The sentence was imprisonment in the penitentiary for a period of one year. Sheriff Parrott took Brothers to Salem on the overland train last night.

DROWNED IN MCKENZIE RIVER

Gilbert Smith Met With an Untimely Death.

While Fishing in McKenzie He Fell In and Was Unable to Save Himself--Such is the Supposition.

The supposition that Gilbert Smith is drowned is causing much distress to his relatives and friends in this city.

On Friday afternoon Smith in company with his brother-in-law, Mr. Barnum, left Eugene on a fishing trip down the McKenzie river. They arrived at the old Abrams mill site and parted company, Barnum intending to fish in a tributary while Smith fished down the main stream. They agreed on a meeting place from which they would go home.

About 4:30 o'clock Barnum arrived at the appointed meeting place, and found Smith's basket hanging to a limb and further up the river was his fishing rod, lying on a log. Alf Blanton happened to be in that vicinity looking for cows at the time, and he is the one who found the pole. He was not fishing with it, as has been stated.

The same thought and fear came on both men and they began a diligent search for the missing man, which ended in vain. Barnum came to Eugene as quickly as possible and notified Smith's friends of his disappearance. It is Barnum's theory that Smith reached the meeting place first and while waiting walked out on a log extending into the river to fish awhile, and became overbalanced and fell into the water, his pole remaining on the log.

Smith is an excellent swimmer, but was probably caught in a whirlpool and drowned.

A search party was organized and left town early this morning to search the river for the young man's body.

Gilbert Smith was a member of the local lodge, W. O. W., and formerly an employe of G. N. Frazer's foundry. He was about thirty years old. He leaves a wife and three children.

A CASE OF DESTITUTION

A family of six persons, Oliver Harris and Lodena Harris, his wife, Lucinda Harris, aged 13; Vivian Harris, aged 11; Emma Harris, aged 8, and another child under six years, were sent to their former home at Gila Bend, Arizona, this week by the county, says this week's State Journal. Judge H. R. Kincaid secured half fare tickets from the railroad company on Wednesday and they started Thursday. The tickets cost $103.85, $15 of which was raised by citizens and the remainder furnished by the team all the way from Arizona. Their horses died during the winter, their wagon, bedding and everything else was sold to pay rent and grocery bills and they were entirely destitute, and lived on the charity of neighbors in the west end of Eugene. Some of the church people raised $30 or more recently, and made up some clothing for them, and insisted on having them sent back to where they have some friends.

It was agreed at the last term of the county court to send them back, but the judge hesitated, as the expense was more than at first expected, and also hoping that the man might get well enough to work or might receive aid from Arizona. However, the situation did not improve and they were sent. Mrs. Trask, Mrs. Fassett and husband, Mr. Zimmerman and others had been furnishing supplies and assisting them for some time and were very earnest and persistent in their efforts to send them back to their relatives. They represented to the court that they were in extreme need, not able to earn a living here on account of the feebleness of the father and mother, and were sent, intelligent, modest, and had been without food and wood until their neighbors discovered their condition, and were in every way an exception to the class who travel around, always asking to be "helped."

Notice to Sheep Owners

All farmers and stockmen who have sheep with seal or subject to seal are hereby notified to dip them as soon as sheared or shorn will be dipped at the owner's expense. W. G. HATHORN, County Stock Inspector.

Eugene.
10:45. Address of welcome, W. M. Pitney, Junction.
11:00. Response, Mrs. F. B. Sackett, Coburg.
11:30. Report of district presidents.
