OREGON ATHLETES IN SHAPE

Hayward Getting Men in Good Form for Corvallis Meet.

They Are Not Discouraged By Recent Defeats—Boys are Showing Up in Splendid Shape.

Track work is again active on Kincaid Field. Trainer Hayward has his men down to hard work again, after allowing a few days' relaxation after the Seattle trip. Every effort will be bent to bring out the maximum strength of the team by June 4th, when the university boys will meet those hies from O. A. C. Not discouraged by recent defeats, the men are getting into the work with more determination than any time during the season. The prospects of success in the coming contest seem favorable. The Corvallis team has been materially weakened by the loss of Coates. This leaves them with practically the same team that was defeated by the university team last year, with the exception of Smithson, who is a fast sprinter and a new man in the Corvallis team. The "farmers" meet Pacific Monday, and the result of that meet will give Oregon a fair estimate of the comparative strength of the O. A. C. team. Accordingly, the meet will be regarded critically by Trainer Hayward and the management of the Oregon team.

As matters now stand, Oregon compares favorably with Corvallis. A trome crowd and home field gives the local boys an advantage. The meet will be the first held in Eugene in three years, and ought to be well attended. Oregon has some pretty athletes, and the boys in several events are doing fine work. Thayer is doing the hurdles in championship time. He has already done 16 flat, which is as good as anything ever done in the university. His form is beautiful and his stride and jump work with a uniformity and accuracy which is almost automatic. "Dutch" is a sure winner, and illustrates what can be done in the development of an athlete. His football work is well known, and his track work this year is better than ever. When Thayer entered the university as a freshman he did not even possess ordinary ability, but he has trained persistently and as a result he is today one of the best athletes that Oregon has ever produced.

Captain Perkins is also another reliable. In his event, the half mile, he has never yet met his equal. This is his third year as a member of the track team. He has been in many contests for Oregon and he has yet to allow a man to pass him at the tape. His work in the 440 is not so conspicuous. His stride is beautiful, and it is real pleasure to see him step around the track. Eugene people will remember the form of the California distance runners in the meet in '02. Trainer Hayward has given this same form to his mile man, "Swift," who is doing the event in 4:45. In Moore, the freshman sprinter, the university has something of an undveloped quantity as yet. He succeeded in capturing two firsts at Seattle, but both events were run in slow time. Moores was regarded as a very fast man early in the season, but as yet has not come up to expectations. Good work is expected of him in the Corvallis meet, but unless he shows up better he may prove a disappointment. Hug is doing fine work in the weights, and each day shows development. Under the efficient training of Hayward, Hug has come out wonderfully, and is now doing better work in the shot and hammer than was ever done in the university before. Hayward has demonstrated exceptional ability as a trainer, and although the meets have not been won, yet the work of the men is very fine. Especially is this true when one considers the very short time the trainer has had the men in hand. Hayward feels encouraged about the Corvallis meet, and expects to have the boys in the best of form by that time. He spends his whole day improving the work of the men, and each one is taken individually. Work begins on the track in the morning and continues throughout the day. If conscientious work on the part of a trainer means anything, Oregon ought to show up well, and this she has done, considering the poor material which came out early in the season, and the many other difficulties which have been met.

COURT MARTIAL FINDINGS

Salem, May 25.—Adjutant-General Finzer has issued general order No. 11 regarding the annual encampment, which will be held at American Lake, near Tacoma, Wash., from July 7th to 21st, inclusive. The National Guard of Oregon, except Troop A, and the guards of Idaho and Washington will camp with the regulars from the Department of the Columbia.

Major Frank S. Baker, of Portland, has been named as inspector of small arms practice. The findings of the court-martial in the Eugene militia trouble have been filed with Governor Chamberlain, but, under the law, cannot be made public until the orders have been issued. The petition of North Bend citizens for the organization of a militia company at that place was disallowed for the present, owing to a disposition on the part of the military board not to form any new companies, but the application was placed on file, and may be granted at a later date.

F. L. CHAMBERS COMMISSARY OFFICER

Major George O. Yoran has appointed F. L. Chambers, the well-known merchant and banker of this city, commissary officer of the First Separate Battalion, Oregon National Guard, with rank of second lieutenant. Mr. Chambers is well qualified for the position, having served for a number of years as captain and quartermaster in the Fourth Regiment on Colonel Yoran's staff. Officers and men of the battalion are well pleased with Mr. Chambers' appointment and feel confident that they will get all that is coming to them from the commissary department. Not a few remember the efficient work of Captain Chambers at the encampments at Salem, Eugene and Albany.

TWO "DAYS" ARE RUNNING FOR CORONER

R. M. Day and F. M. Day --The Former an Undertaker, the Latter a Doctor.

The sample ballots are out for the June election, and as foreseen, the identical second initial and surname of the Democratic and Republican candidates for coroner will likely cause confusion. The ticket on this office reads: For Coroner—Vote for one. 70. F. M. Day, Eugene - Republican 71. K. M. Day, Eugene - Democratic 72. L. C. Moffitt, Junction - Socialist With the sameness of names of the two leading candidates it is well to advise voters not only to be careful how they vote, but to take care that they vote for the candidate desired. K. M. Day is the undertaker and furniture manufacturer and dealer, and F. M. Day a physician, both residents of Eugene.

found, returned to Eugene yesterday afternoon. He had been on Puget Sound and made no attempt to conceal his whereabouts.

The facts are, as previously stated by the Guard, that no papers citing him to appear as a witness in the case were ever served upon Mr. Hobson, and he considered that he was free to go and come as he pleased.

As has been stated before by this paper, it is thought by many that the fraud cases will be postponed from time to time and never will come to trial.

Elmira Items.

(Guard Special Service.) Elmira, May 25.—Elmira boys played Crow a game of ball last Sunday. Mrs. Lydia Richardson of Smithfield was up last Saturday to attend the auction sale. The campaign speakers spoke here last Wednesday night. They sang the same old song, "Vote for me, I'm your friend." Dr. Debar was called to see Mrs. Harting Sunday afternoon. The Baptist revival meetings at this place closed last Friday night. Rev. Lamar went to Union District to hold meetings. Mrs. Clara Richardson of California returned home after a week's visit with her mother Mrs. Cantrell of this place. The Lions took in three new members at their last meeting. The Socialists are billed to speak in the grove the coming Tuesday at 1 p. m. Mrs. M. P. Richardson sold her belongings at auction sale last Saturday. E. W. Jordan was auctioneer. Mr. Fred Yates is reported no better. It is feared he will lose his eyesight.

G. A. R. VISITED PUBLIC SCHOOLS

As usual, just before Decoration Day, a committee of Grand Army men visited each of the city schools today, kindling the fires of patriotism in the hearts of the young student. The children listened with interest as the old soldiers told them war stories and of our heroic soldier dead whose memory they are urged to respect and hold dear. The part taken in the memorial exercises by the school children is that most appreciated by the old soldiers. At the Geary school the committee of old soldiers consisted of Samuel Taylor, John Ingham and J. W. White. An excellent program was rendered, including patriotic songs, an address by Professor Moore, addresses by the old soldiers, etc. The school children were presented with about 400 flags, a gift from the G. A. R. E. F. Chapman was the chairman of the committee which visited the Catholic school; J. M. Shelley at the Central and High schools, and Dr. Hopkins at the Patterson school. Similar programs were rendered there.

Track Team Benefit.

The co-eds of the university have definitely decided to give a benefit for the track team Saturday evening on the

ROSEBURG TEAM HERE

Pop Morrow and his bunch of Shamrocks arrived down from Roseburg this afternoon and will open another series of games tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at South Side Park. The Roseburgers have been strengthened materially since they were here before, and better ball will be played. The batting order of the teams tomorrow will be as follows: Eugene: Briseno, shortstop; McKune, 2d base; Clynes, left field; O'Day, right field; Radford, 1st base; Downing, 3d base; White, catcher; Deadman, center field; Komer, pitcher. Roseburg: Newell, shortstop; Shaw, left field; Bradley, 3d base; Morrow, 1st base; Nadler, 2d base; W. Oswill, center field; C. Oswill, catcher; McDonald, right field; Bilyeu, pitcher. ORDWAY RELEASED. Roseburg Review: Manager Morrow, of the "Shamrocks," has secured a new twirler in the person of E. L. McDonald, who played in the Inland Empire League last year. McDonald can also play the outfield. He and Shaw, the new outfielder, will join the "Shamrocks" at Eugene next Thursday. The acquisition of these two men follows the release of Outfielders Miller and Ordway, whose work of late has not given full satisfaction. Miller and Ordway will play with the Medford team of the Rogue River Valley League.

Note and Comment.

Register: The Lane county democrats opened their campaign at Waterloo. It will probably end the same way. "End the sameway" for whom? Wellington made his name immortal on that world historic battlefield.

L. Bilyeu has done Lane county and the state excellent service in the Oregon legislature. His wide acquaintance with prominent men throughout the state, not a few of whom will represent their counties in the legislature, coupled with his proven facility for making friends even of those whose measures he could not support, make his election desirable. Lane county can well remember the man who has done yeoman service in her behalf—was responsible to no small degree for legislation that placed the State University on a footing where no biennial fight must be made for state support. And the delegation from this county should number a lawyer among its members, else they will have to find other legal assistance in drawing up their bills. And, by the way, some of those people who profess to be opposed to lawyer lawmakers would be the first ones to get the advice of a lawyer if elected to the legislature. They could not help themselves—they could not begin to draw a bill that would pass muster.

One Coroner's Case.

There was a report on the streets yesterday that Coroner King's services were needed at Lorane, a man having been found dead in his yard near there. Louis Poitras, the man killed by Archie Elliott, lived only a few miles from Lorane, and his was the only case requiring the coroner's attention.

Note and Comment.

Had the Oregonian's Eugene correspondent taken the pains to look up a Guard reporter before he sent in his report of the Poitras tragedy he might have been able to send in at least something definite concerning the affair. The Guard had all the particulars of the tragedy, including the victim's full name, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The Oregonian correspondent sent his report last night and had the man's name "Potaksy," and stated that his Christian name was unknown. The report also lacks definite particulars of the tragedy.

Died.

At Pleasant Hill, Ore., May 22, 1904, R. E. Streeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Streeter. The deceased was born Jan. 25, 1875, and leaves, besides his father and mother, two sisters and five brothers to mourn his demise. The funeral was held today (Monday) at the family home at Pleasant Hill and the remains were buried in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

High School Notes.

As the end of the school year draws nearer the societies of the school are preparing to disband until next year. Last evening the Amicitians held their last meeting of the year and bid farewell to members belonging to the senior class who will not return to be with them again. The program was a long one and full of interest. Chessman's humorous characterizations of the senior class jolted things up considerably. An excellent address was made by Charley Evans, an old time member of the society, who has always been foremost in leadership. Final examinations have now begun and the students have dropped all pleasure and are devoting their time to cramming.
