

IT'S DIFFERENT—A STUDY IN SHRINKAGE.

Mr. Bluff in his own home. Among real men. —New York Evening Journal.

CLEARING THE RIGHT OF WAY

All Buildings on the Line of Connecting Link Have Been Moved.

The work of clearing the right of way between Springfield and Henderson Station, along the proposed connecting link, has been in progress for the past four or five weeks. Those who have been vacating this ground have been laboring under the instruction that their work must be finished by June 1st.

Last Tuesday G. W. Taylor and gang from Eugene began moving the M. E. church in Glenwood Park, and now have it clear of the right of way. All the buildings on the Springfield side of the river, with the exception of the old shingle mill property, have been taken away.

Springfield Notes.

A cow belonging to M. M. Male was feeding on the lots on the right of way, from which several houses were moved recently, when she fell into a well which had been left uncovered. Fortunately she did not fall in head first or she would have drowned, as the well was nearly full of water.

J. J. Stewart, of St. Paul, Or., paid his brother, T. B. Stewart and family of near here, a visit last week. While here he purchased a fine team of horses from his nephew, R. T. Stewart.

Postmaster Clark will receive bids for carrying the mail between this place and Eugene up to 6 o'clock p.m., June 10th. Information concerning the route can be had by applying at the Springfield postoffice.

N. E. Blair, who started a saloon in the Blue River district, has suspended business and returned to Springfield. There are two more saloons still in that district.

Mrs. P. P. Prim, of San Francisco, who is enroute to Chicago, stopped at Springfield and is visiting Mrs. C. E. Penga.—News.

Fairmount Items.

Fairmount, June 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Grant Knight gave a pleasant dance last Tuesday evening. Everybody reports having a good time and a fine lunch. There will be another dance at Mrs. M. S. Kaufman's residence and an ice cream supper. Everybody invited.

The Peter Nye quarry is going with full speed. It is doing a first-class business.

It is understood that there is a creamery to be started in Fairmount. Walt Mead was up from Indian Creek last week. He made a purchase of a new dog.

The new quarry is still working at the same foundation. They have struck water and cannot work as fast as they would like to.

Mr. and Mrs. McFee are down from Leaburg, also Mrs. Geo. Miller, visiting relatives and friends. They expect to return to Leaburg soon.

Society Events

On the 17th of May, the Jolly Baker's Dozen met in regular session at Mrs. Klov Dahl's on East Eleventh street. It being Norway's Independence Day, the genial hostess had decorated her rooms in her national colors, displaying both loyalty and artistic taste.

The most notable event in society during the past week was the whist party given by Mrs. J. M. Shelley and Mrs. O. E. Smith at the residence of the former, 109 West Eighth street, Friday afternoon. The house was decorated for the occasion with the choicest flowers of the season. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Mary Griffin, Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass and Mrs. F. M. Wilkins.

Last evening a party of young people climbed Skinner's Rutte, where they took luncheon on the summit and enjoyed the recreation very much. The company consisted of the Misses Kate Kelly, Lela Horn, Lila Prosser, Barbara Gray, Hazel Humphrey, Messrs. Burke Williams, Steve Burton, Austin Farrington, Merle Chessman and Floy Booth. Miss Mazie Eddy was chaperone.

GOOD RESULTS FROM GREAT NORTHERN MINE

Bullion From Six Days' Run of Two-Stamp Mill Brought Down.

Scott Standish, operating the Great Northern mine in the Blue River district, under a lease and bond, is in the city. He brought down from the mines 46 ounces of gold bullion, the output of a six days' run of the two-stamp mill at the Great Northern mine. The ore was milled from a fine ledge ten feet wide and very rich with the yellow metal.

This ore, if milled by a 40 stamp mill, would run up to $150,000 per month. The 45 ounces is worth about $800.

The Great Northern is owned by Brownville parties, but Mr. Standish and those associated with him will purchase the property.

SHERIFF WITHERS' MONUMENT

Will Be Unveiled Tomorrow— Sheriff Fisk Will Make Address at Cemetery.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the ceremony of unveiling the monument erected to the memory of the late Sheriff W. W. Withers by Springfield Lodge, Woodmen of the World, will take place at the Eugene Masonic cemetery.

The ceremonies will be conducted by that lodge of which he was a member. The address will be made by Sheriff Fisk, first deputy at the time of the killing.

Note and Comment.

In his recent trip East E. L. Campbell, of the Guard, supplemented the World's Fair with a couple of days in New York. The foreign quarter was a great revelation to him. He says there are miles of streets in the great metropolis where one does not hear a word of English spoken—all foreign tongues. His party took a special police guide for that locality, it not being considered safe otherwise.

Though the tenement district, largely in the foreign quarters. They hang the babies out of the upper story windows anywhere from the second to the sixth or seventh story (about the limit of tenement house height), in cages like birds. It's the only chance for the little ones to get air and sun—no back yard there to play in. Then when evening comes those tenement houses empty themselves of their human load into the streets, filling them full and overflowing into the adjoining wholesale district. It is their only chance for air and recreation. They do not live, simply exist. An idea of the congested condition there may be drawn from the fact that in the area bounded by Honston street, Grand street, the Bowery and the East River, containing about one square mile, live 300,000 people.

Two New York ex-convicts were presented with nine years in the penitentiary apiece yesterday for 30 cents. They snatched a woman's purse containing that amount.

"THE STORMY PETREL OF COLORADO."

Sherman M. Bell, adjutant general of Colorado, has been called the "stormy petrel" of the state, because of his act in defying the order of the court to produce the body of President Meyer of the Western Federation of Miners, and his accompanying statement that before any court could get his prisoner it would have to walk over the dead body of every one of his troops. When, however, the supreme court of the state commanded Meyer's presence in Denver, Bell acceded. The trouble grew out of the miners' strike at Telluride, the putting of that section under martial law and the arrest of Meyer by the military authorities.
