Hill on Chinese Exclusion

The importation of fifty to a hundred thousand Chinese every year for ten years is what President James J. Hill is reported to have advocated in an address a few days ago at Spokane. The words which he is said to have used are: "I say to you that if fifty thousand or one hundred thousand Chinese and Japanese come to the Pacific coast every year for the next ten years, this country would not regret it a bit, and your industries would be very much better off."

All told, the Great Northern president would have us make room for a million Orientals within a decade. For the benefit of those who do not see things in just this light, Mr. Hill should have informed us what to do with these hordes when we get them here. Shall we put them to market gardening, as many of their fellow countrymen are employed? Already there are enough to keep our tables well supplied with provisions and to cultivate the soil that others would be willing to till. Shall we make of them laundrymen to take away the trade of American steam laundries, which do just as good and just as cheap work as the celestials? Shall we turn them into section hands to keep our railroads in condition? We venture to say that even Mr. Hill, at the head of as big a railroad as the Great Northern, could hardly make use of a couple of thousand, and what would become of the rest of the million? Shall we have them set up Chinese restaurants? Heaven forbid!

While the Union has nothing to say against the Chinese we are emphatically opposed to flooding the country with them as Mr. Hill proposes. A million of them would not only prove degenerating to the high class of American labor, and the wages paid to the laborer, but it would glut the labor market, with prospects of causing the most bitter kind of racial strife.

We are willing to take for granted almost anything Mr. Hill says about running a railroad, or about the commercial condition of the country, but when he talks of as important an industrial and economic question as the importation of Chinese, we believe he should give us more proof of his position than his own say so. We cannot agree with him until he tells us where the country would be benefited and it what way our industries would be in a better condition.—Walla Walla Union.

The recent accidental shooting which took place on Monday is a lamentable affair, and while the young man who did the shooting is almost crazed with grief, it ought to be a lesson for every hunter to be sure of his game. Every license issued ought to have a caution printed on it that would be a constant reminder to the hunter to exercise the greatest care.

From a report made by the sheriff it is shown that it costs the city about $30 a day to keep each prisoner in Ludlow street jail, Brooklyn, N.Y. The expenses are $100,000 a year and nine was the greatest number of prisoners in the place during the past year. There are a warden, 11 keepers, two engineers, two cooks and a laundress to look after the incarcerated persons. It must keep the force extremely busy. Perhaps the people will now get busy looking into the matter with the view of cutting off the graft.

The practice of the killing of robins and other song and insect-destroying birds by young boys on the outskirts of town should be effectually stopped. A few prosecutions for this savagery on the part of youthful hordes might be of great benefit.

The jury in the case against J. C. Barco, who was on trial for the murder of William Graham, in the circuit court at Roseburg, brought in a verdict of guilty in the first degree. It is now up to Judge L. T. Harris to pass sentence of death for the first time upon a prisoner at the bar. The evidence seemed indisputable and only three witnesses were put on in defense. It is possible that Judge Hamilton may relieve Judge Harris of this unpleasant duty.

The changeable weather of fall is responsible for a great increase in the number of cases of catarrh. It is now that Hyomel, the only guaranteed treatment for catarrh, that cures without stomach dosing, should be used in every home.

For more than a century physicians have been sending persons suffering from catarrh to Egypt, Colorado or Australia, where the pure, healing air would cure the disease. For one person who could take this trip thousands have been compelled to stay at home and continue their daily toll. To these sufferers who could not change their climatic conditions we offer Hyomel, a method by which pure air, impregnated with Nature's own remedies for the cure of catarrh, can be inhaled by every sufferer in his or her home. Breathing through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches the lungs and air passages as no stomach dosing possibly can do. It gives immediate relief and makes lasting cures.

The complete outfit, consisting of the inhaler, medicine dropper and bottle of Hyomel costs only one dollar, and extra bottles of Hyomel, if needed, can be procured for fifty cents.

Proof that the Hyomel treatment will do all that is claimed for it is found in the guarantee under which Hull's drug store sells it, an agreement to pay back the price if the purchaser can say that Hyomel has not given satisfaction.

Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." W. L. DeLano, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

BAD BLOOD INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began to use it, and am now pleased with the result after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I do not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARLEY, Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Poisoned Blood, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

Free Booklet. On Brights Disease And Diabetes. We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Brights Disease or Diabetes a 36-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases. This booklet is for thoughtful people—people who can discriminate between common patent medicine literature and a carefully prepared report of the patient, serious and profoundly important investigation. The specialties employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dread diseases so long feared have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. Lion Drug Co., Local Agent. When to suspect Brights Disease—weakness or loss of weight; puffiness ankles; back or eye-ache; kidney trouble after the third month urine may show sediment falling after drinking; or more of these. In Diabetes the distinguishing feature is, weak stomach with great thirst at times voracious appetite.

SARGENT A CHILD AGAIN

Earl A. Sargent, the Oregon university man, and thief, must begin life anew as a little child. He cannot express the simplest sentence, though he can think. He has been snatched away from all his past so far as expression is concerned. Now the doctors are trying to give back the power of expression to his lips the high things or low things his other self may feel.

The doctors will try to make him remember the phrases of an educated philosopher and forget the phrases of an educated rascal. He is the man who was. His past is a nightmare, his present is a blank, his future is a problem.

Earl A. Sargent, educated at the University of Oregon, ambitious, young pressed by necessity stole a bicycle from a student of Stanford University a few days ago. Police man McCredie shot him through the head. He fought for all that, but was subdued and taken to the hospital.

McCredie's bullet has cut a furrow that keeps Sargent's thought on one side of a belt and his words on the other side. The two have no mingling. That he can think is certain from the fact that he is ever alert to escape. That he cannot talk is evidenced by the mumbbling gutters that strain his tongue when he attempts to give utterance to his wants. Physicians say he is practically a child again. He will have to learn again everything he once knew. He is in a precarious condition still, as part of his brain has been shot away. If he recovers an attempt will be made to drive out the side of his nature which led him into crime.

The fact that O. I. Dr. W. L. Cheshire, assisted by Dr. D. A. Paine, operated on Lee Heselton's arm at the hospital Thursday, taking out splinters of bone that will probably shorten the arm about two inches. It is thought there will be no trouble in having the ends of the bone unite again. The patient was too weak from loss of blood to endure anaesthetics long enough to operate on the jaw, but it was put in splints and made comfortable. Should it not do well, another operation may be necessary to put it in perfect condition.
