

ANOTHER ELECTRIC RAILWAY

T. W. Sheridan, president of the First National Bank of Roseburg, has applied to the Portland city council for a franchise for an electric railway to enter that city from the Willamette valley by passing down Front street.

The plan, as stated, is ultimately to construct an electric road from Marshfield to Roseburg and thence down the valley to Portland. If the Portland council will extend permission for the system to occupy Front street with its tracks, according to the Telegram, the first leg of the line is to extend only from Salem, but as fast as men and material can construct the remainder of the road, it is to be finished.

From Roseburg to Marshfield a right of way has been obtained, and much of the route assured down the valley, where the farmers are said to stand ready to give subsidies in the way of free passage across their land if the project is carried out. The proposition of the Citizens' Light & Traction Company, of Salem, to continue its line on to Portland is said to have progressed favorably with five miles of right of way secured north from the Capital City, yet from a reliable source it is known that this line will be abandoned if Mr. Sheridan is successful in his quest for the concessions being requested.

It appears from the above in the Telegram that Mr. Sheridan and the Salem concern may be working in harmony, then again this new proposition may have something to do with that of A. R. Black and his associates, who have applied for a franchise for an electric railway in Eugene, and who have announced that they will ultimately build down the valley.

TREASURE MILL NEARLY COMPLETE

Two big freight wagons loaded with supplies, building material and a smokestack for C. H. Park's Treasure mine in the Blue river district, left here this morning.

Mr. Park says that the quartz mill at the Treasure, which has been in course of construction for some time past, will be ready for operation about November 12. The mill will have a capacity of 100 tons of ore per day and is of an improved pattern. The aerial tramway has just been completed, and everything else will be in readiness for operation by the time the mill is completed. The Treasure will have one of the most complete plants on the coast.

SURVEYORS HAVING A COLD TIME

The Harriman surveying gang under Carl Rankin is having a cold time of it in the mountains up the Military route. With 23 men the work was begun on the summit and the crew is working this way. A foot of snow fell several days ago, and since then the men have been working in it, and it has been cold besides. Some Indians who were hunting in the vicinity lost three horses by being frozen. The men have killed several deer and are having plenty to eat. They are anxious to get down out of the mountains, but that will be some time yet.

MARCOLA ORE ASSAYS WELL

The Guard the other day made mention of a gold discovery near Marcola. The Springfield News says: The News was informed this week that gold has been discovered in the hills above Marcola, only a few yards from Fisher Bros' mill. Ore that has been assayed runs from $14 to $17 per ton. The finding of the ore is causing considerable excitement in and around Marcola and the citizens think they will soon have a wealthy mining town.

Married

Pearl E. McDonald and Miss Pearl Davis, both of Eugene, were married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Humphreys, at Springfield, Justice of the Peace J. D. Humphreys officiating.

In place of the exceedingly heavy passenger traffic which held sway on the S. P. during the last few months, the freight work is now taking the time and attention of the local railroad men. It is said to be heavier than has ever been known in the history of the road.

A SPUR TO THE SAWMILL

At a special meeting of the city council last evening a franchise was granted the Eugene Lumber Company for the construction of a railroad spur from the Southern Pacific Company's track to the mill on the river below of the butte. Construction will begin within a short time. The company will be assisted in the construction of the spur by the railroad company.

The franchise is granted with the provision that no steam locomotives shall be operated on the spur. For a time the cars will be hauled to and from the mill by horse and later an electric motor will be used.

The spur will branch off from the S. P. tracks at Lincoln street, extend to West Third and Lawrence, thence down Lawrence to Cheshire and east on that street to the mill. The track will be planked between the rails and graveled on each side.

A petition from Hampton Bros., asking permission to erect an electric light sign in front of their store was referred to the fire and water committee.

It will no doubt be granted, as the council seems willing to allow such signs to be maintained.

EUGENE MAN'S FORTUNE

A recent issue of the Spokane Spokesman-Review tells of an Alaska mine valued at from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000, in which Ira Petty, of Eugene, is interested. The paper tells how three Lewiston, Idaho, men and one Portland man took a bond on the mine from Mr. Petty, for $100,000, the latter, however, retaining one-tenth interest in the property. He agreed that when any of the payments became due, if the bondholders so decide, they could pay 10 per cent. interest on the payment instead of making the full payment and one-third of the gross proceeds until purchase price was paid.

An expert was sent to Alaska to examine the property, but he returned with a most discouraging report, and the Lewiston men at once dropped the proposition. J. H. Conrad then took up the bond and started work on the property. Some very valuable ore was soon found and it developed that the property which the Lewiston men discarded as no account was worth well up into the millions.

Mr. Petty gets a good sized fortune from the bond on the property, besides retaining one-tenth interest in it. The property is located in the mountains adjacent to Little Windy Arm. Mr. Petty's many friends in Lane county are very much pleased to learn of his success. He is the husband of Mrs. S. F. Petty, formerly Mrs. Whiteaker, who until recently conducted a millinery store on Ninth street.

"Soon after I began to take Wine of Cardui I could see that I was beginning to get back my strength."

That is the comment Mrs. Seymour makes.

If you are sick you can take Wine of Cardui and secure health and strength. If other medicines and other treatment have failed, that will make no difference. Few women have taken Wine of Cardui at first. By far the greater number of Wine of Cardui cures are women who could not secure relief elsewhere. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
