The New York Situation

The morning paper doesn't want to see Hearst elected mayor of New York. It would prefer to see that city in control of the life insurance and other trusts of the country, which are united in Tammany, the rottenest political combination on the face of the earth.

The New York situation is this: Hearst stands for reforms and is fighting the trusts and the rotten political combinations, while Tammany stands for everything that is corrupt. Tammany is the Democratic party of New York, and is virtually supported by the political machine of the Republican party of that state. Is it any wonder that the people of New York are fleeing for a harbor of refuge such as Hearst and his ticket offer the people?

The Register has continually held up for the corrupt ring in Oregon, headed by John H. Mitchell and Blinger Hermann, who have caused all the world to tremble on Oregon, and believe on the same theory that the ring methods of New York should succeed against an honest desire of the common people for a square deal. Men of the Roosevelt-Hearst calibre may be dangerous citizens in the eyes of a few people who think the government should not prosecute such men as have been indicted and even convicted for the timber steals in Oregon, but they have the best public sentiment behind them.

Here in Oregon we need a similar case. The gang that has manipulated ring politics for 20 years should be cast aside, but it cannot be done except by casting aside the politicians of the Mitchell-Hermann gang. Any other method would be a continuation under the same old "love feast" idea.

Note and Comment

M. J. Walling, a negro, of course, writes the Portland Telegram protesting against the use of a small "n" to write negro with instead of a capital, asserting that "every nationality gets one." As the negro represents no nationality his contention falls. As well write "white" for the white race with a capital, which no one does.

The English playwright, Bernard Shaw, whose "Mrs. Warren's Profession" was suppressed in New York the other day, as an excuse for the suggestiveness of his production says he would rather be tried by a jury of women experienced in slum work rather than by the general public, asserting that "they know how society makes vice by refusing to pay virtue decently." Just as if there should have to be any award to induce a woman, or man either, to lead a decent life.

"Horrible" does not fully express the Russian situation. But just now a few lives more or less make little difference. Humanitarians may exclaim, but it takes blood-letting to cure sorely diseased national life. It has been the experience of all countries, ours with the rest.

NSOMNIA

I have been using Cascarets for insomnia, with high success. It does not irritate, but gives me a good sleep and restores my appetite. I have tried many other remedies, but Cascarets is the only one that has given me relief. All certainly recommend them to my friends as the best all they are reproducible.

Annual Sale, Ten Million Boxes

An Albany judge is reported as having decided that a dead Mongolian pheasant is no longer a pheasant in the eyes of his law when it comes to inflicting a penalty for killing. It was a Eugene recorder who, afraid of the man before him for trial on the officer's complaint that he was lying drunk on the sidewalk, released the prisoner on the ground that as he was lying lengthwise and not across the sidewalk he caused no obstruction to travel, therefore had committed no offense. That decision was quoted for many a day by the legal fraternity.

W. J. Bryan's Commoner remarks that three-fourths of the Oregon delegation to congress has been sentenced to jail, but in a way saves over our state pride by adding that "this may be because the interior department began on Oregon first."

WORK ON CAMPBELL'S PROJECT

J. H. Cunningham, civil engineer, associated with J. C. Kelsey, who has the contract for the construction of the municipal electric light plant, left here this morning with a force of eight or nine men for Wallowa, to make surveys for the proposed power plant which W. T. Campbell and his associates intend to erect in that vicinity.

The fact that Mr. Campbell recently filed on a power site on the McKenzie river, near Wallowa, is fresh in the minds of the public, a full account having been given exclusively by the Guard. It was also stated that Mr. Campbell and associates had made a proposition to the city to furnish power for the proposed electric light plant at $5000 per year. Complete surveys will be made of the proposed power canal near Wallowa, after which, it is stated, the crew will go to the site filed on by the city further up the river and make surveys there.

There is considerable speculation as to who Mr. Campbell's associates are. A prominent citizen who has kept in close touch with recent electric power matters today informed a Guard reporter that a responsible company is behind this project, and if it is found to be feasible and a contract with the city can be secured, the canal and power plant will be built.

WORK ON HARRISBURG BRIDGE

Work at the railroad bridge across the Willamette above Harrisburg, is progressing rapidly and all the piers except the centre or draw pier are about completed. The old wooden spans are being placed in position on the new piers and unless the steel for the new structure arrives shortly the work for the present season will soon be completed. The work of putting up the steel spans can not be done in the winter season, therefore that part of the bridge will not be completed until next summer. The delay in the arrival of the steel will be quite expensive to the railroad company, as most of the false work will have to be taken out and then replaced next spring. It was first thought that the steel would arrive in time to be put in place this fall, but so far it has failed to show up.—Harrisburg Bulletin.

A Quick Divorce

A Salem dispatch tells of a quick divorce proceeding in that city in department two of the circuit court. In the case of Dr. William Hughes, formerly of Gates, now government physician at Ft. Wrangle, Alaska, against Mrs. Hughes, now in the East, two hours after the beginning of the case, a divorce was granted. An appearance was made for the defendant, a demurrer filed and overruled, default declared and the case heard at once, and the divorce granted.

EASTERN MAN WILL INVEST

J. C. Lee, financial agent for the Great Northern mines at Blue river, arrived down from the district last night and left this morning for Salem. He was accompanied on this trip by an Eastern capitalist, who will probably invest $30,000 in the Standish stock at 75 cents a share.

The company has just ordered a 150-ton Blake crusher to go with the Huntington mill, which is to be used to do fast work, then being good for 50 or 60 tons a day, where it can handle only 20 or 30 mixed ore that has to be sorted. Two more Huntington mills will be ordered, but it is not known whether they can be gotten in this winter or not.

DID HE KILL HIS FATHER

Last September Clarence Branton came to the Guard office with a friend from Pleasant Hill, in this county, and asked this paper to give his side of the case regarding his father's mysterious disappearance, which we did. The Guard's report was just as stated by Mr. Branton, but it seems subsequently Mr. Branton has played double and has stated that he did not furnish the information published by the Guard.

The statement was made personally by Mr. Branton to one of the Guard proprietors, and was exactly as published, notwithstanding his denial of the same. The following letter is self-explanatory.

Sisters, Oregon, Oct. 26, '05.
Editor Eugene Guard:—Some time during the month of September last your paper printed what purported to be an interview with Clarence Branton about his father's drowning in the Deschutes river here. This interview was reprinted in the Prineville Review afterwards. Being thoroughly conversant with the facts in the case and knowing therefore that if said interview with Clarence Branton was correctly quoted, he had been guilty of wilfully perverting the truth in the case, I denounced his statements as untrue in the Prineville Review of September 28th. On October 19th this man Clarence Branton denied having furnished any such statement to your paper as published by you, and declares my statement as false. Now, in the interest of justice, I request your paper to again publish said interview with Branton, and to fix the status of same as true or otherwise.

The absolutely true version of the case, positively known to Branton's neighbors, is that he, Clarence, placed his father at the mouth of "Deep Canyon" on July 24th last, that he, and he only, was the last man that saw his father alive, and that within a couple of hours after he left the canyon his father was not seen any more. Forty-eight hours later Clarence, and not Sidney West, first announced his father's disappearance to myself on July 26th, about 5 p. m. All his talk about arranging on Tuesday, July 25th, with Mr. West, who is my neighbor across the street from my place at the Lower Deschutes bridge, is simply falsehood. Nor did Mr. West announce to Clarence or any one else that the "old man" was missing. It was Clarence who was last seen with his father alive. As nothing was found in the river, which is very low this year, one can only come to the conclusion that the "old man" did not drown in the Deschutes. Considerable more can be said in the matter, but it is not necessary just here. What is now desired in order to assist in fathoming the mystery, if possible, is publicly. Therefore kindly comply with my request herein so that Prineville papers may copy, and if lies are being told by some one in this written controversy it can be definitely learned who the liar is and what his purposes are.

Very respectfully yours,
C. W. ENSAN.
