

LOGGING CAMP FATALITY

Some time yesterday afternoon Arthur Munson, aged about 20 years was killed at Montgomery's logging camp near McKenzie near Walthersville.
At 6 o'clock young Munson's fellow workmen found his dead body lying beside the steep log chute. No one was near him at the time of the fatal accident, but indications pointed to the fact that a log flew off the chute at its rapid descent and struck the unfortunate young man in the back, doubtless killing him instantly.
Munson has no relatives in this part of the country. He recently came from Michigan. Efforts are being made today to inform his relatives of his death.

WORK ON BIG BRIDGE CEASES

Work on the new steel bridge across the Willamette between Junction and Marburg will soon cease on account of the non-arrival of the necessary steel. It seems it cannot be supplied until early in the spring and work will therefore have to be abandoned.
On account of the high stage of water during the winter and spring the false work will have to be removed and the bridge replaced. This additional work will entail an enormous expense, but the company has no other resource. A force of more than 100 men have been employed since early in the spring and it will require almost a year to complete the work.

Obituary

Mrs. Harriet Ordilla Oakes was born July 28, 1834, in Lewis county, New York. When but a girl she gave her heart to Christ and united with the Congregational church.
In 1862 she was united in marriage to Nestor B. Oakes, and from this union was born a daughter, now Mrs.
H. Garrett, of Eugene, with whom she lived for the past 19 years. She had made her home in Eugene, Oregon, since 1888 and joined Mr. Garrett's family in South Dakota. Here she united with the Methodist Episcopal church.
In 1902 she came to Eugene, Oregon, where she had lived ever since and was a devoted member of the United Brethren church.
She died November 10, 1905, aged 71 years, 3 months and 13 days. Grandma Oakes was universally beloved. Her life was that of a Christian saint.

She was ever sacrificing for the comfort of others. She has given new glory to the name "Grandma," and has won her way into every heart in her community. Even during her last sickness her patience and sweetness endured and triumphed over intense pain. She talked much about Jesus and in her heart sweet peace flowed like a river. To her heaven was the strongest reality and in her last days she would repeat like some tired child: "Oh, if Jesus would only take me." Well, He has come, and as we pause to catch the hymn note of her joy we can but thank God that our momentary loss is her eternal gain. For years she had been a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and active in temperance work. She has gone to be with Jesus.
She has won the crown. She is at rest. She chose for her funeral text Gal. vi 14: "But God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified into me and I into the world."

NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS

The enormous sum of $900,000 will be obtained from the government by the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, successors of the Oregon Central Millitar Road Company, if the recommendations of a government agent are favorably acted upon by the interior department. This great sum will be used to purchase alternate sections of the company's lands in the Klamath Indian reservation, now settled on by Indians, and which the corporation claims, by right of a prior grant from the government.

There will doubtless be a big three-cornered fight about the land before the question of ownership is settled.
The state claims about 90,000 acres of it on account of its being swamp land, and therefore originally the property of the state, which the government had no right to grant either to the company or Indians. The company claims the land by grant of the federal government, in return for the construction of a wagon road across the southern part of the state, and terminating at Eugene. The Indians, about 1000 of them, are now living on the land, in accordance with a treaty made with the government, when the Klamath reservation was set aside for their use.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that the land in dispute belongs to the wagon road company or its successors, the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company. The grounds are that the land became the property of the company when it finished its road in 1869, while the treaty giving the reservation to the Indians was proclaimed in 1870, one year later.
The state now proposes to enter the contest for the land, and will likely bring suit to secure about 90,000 acres, swamp land, which should never have been handed over to the company by the government.

The $900,000 will be the award the government agent who has appraised the lands of the company on which Indians are settled, will recommend that the government should make the company, in return for the relinquishment of the lands in question.
Whether the award will be made depends on the view of the matter that will be taken by congress.
If it does not receive compensation for its lands the company declares it will take steps to oust the Indians.
To do this will be a serious matter, as the red men have lived on the land for 35 years, and no amount of reasoning will ever convince them that they do not own it. — Eugene Journal.

Franklin Notes

Franklin, Nov. 20.—The Delphi Debate Society of the Smithfield

Mound Items

Mound, Nov. 22.—R. Johnson has finished logging and is intending to move to Eugene the first of the month.

Roy Blesie and sister Grace arrived home on Monday's stage.

Some of the people from the prairie were at J. W. Doster's dance on the 17th. They report a fine time, and from what they say it was a dry dance.

C. Layne left for the Elmira sawmill Saturday.

H. Johnson and S. Gillespie returned home Monday.

We understand there has been a new mail route established from Mound by the way of Dan Michaels to Smith river.

your WOOL.

MERCHANTS' ANNUAL BANQUET

The first annual banquet of the Merchants' Protective Association at the Hotel Saxe last night was a success in every particular. About 50 merchants of the city were present and all enjoyed the occasion to the fullest extent.

The dinner was the means of creating a more friendly feeling among the business men and of promoting the good fellowship that should exist in all communities. The banquet was a splendid one. The menu was as follows:

- MENU
Oyster Cocktail
Cream of Celery
Olives
Salted Almonds
Celery
Chateaubriand aux Champignons
Pineapple Fritters
Cold Ham
Chicken en Mayonnaise
Imperial Punch
Fried Spring Chicken, a la Maryland English Plum Pudding, Brandy Sauce Apple, Mince and Pumpkin Pies
Nuts
Cafe Noir

BUSINESS MEETING.
At the business meeting of the association, held before the banquet, the proprietors to widen the scope of the organization, taking into membership other lines of business aside from strictly mercantile houses, was taken up and will be discussed at the next regular meeting.

The association is in a very prosperous condition and every proposition to come up so far has been handled successfully. At present there are less than ten stores in the city that are not represented in the membership of the association.

NEWS ITEMS FROM COTTAGE GROVE drawing plans for the remodeling of the C. E. Stewart hotel building, on which Mr. Stewart is planning to spend considerable money.

M. K. Garoutte will build a large barn on Third and Tennessee street and move his business on the west side of the river to the new barn.

Charles Quinn, night clerk in Wilson's restaurant, was shooting at a target near Latham Monday when he accidentally shot himself through the foot. It is very painful and will lay him up for several days.

J. B. Rouse is in town and reports that he is getting along nicely with the preparation of his mill on the Coast Fork. He has practically all of the machinery he is going to use from the old Ales mill moved with the exception of about two tons, and if the weather does not get too bad he hopes soon to have it all ready for use.

Mr. Bartels expects Mr. Nelson, of the American Cement Co., of Eugene, an experienced cement man, here on Monday to commence the work on the floor of the new building. The cold storage machinery is built ready for shipment when the room is prepared. The walls are being covered with cement, which will be painted in order that they may be washed down with soap and water at any time without any danger.—Nugget.
