able to give bond, and both are now in the county jail at LaGrande. Several Elgin boys, all the way from 12 to 16 years old, had been intoxicated by the stolen whiskey.

New York, Nov. 24.—Gerald Brown was recalled to the stand in the insurance investigation this morning. He produced a list of tenants of the Equitable building in this city, and said that the Equitable Trust Company pays $20,000 a year rent. He said that $20,000 would be adequate rental. Brown said after the committee had completed its work something undoubtedly would be done to secure an adequate sum, and that probably all other tenants' paid fair rentals. Hughes questioned him concerning other real estate matters of the Equitable. The testimony developed the fact that $2,000,000 fire insurance was carried, handled by the Continental Fire Insurance Company at the direction of James H. De, who is a director in the Continental.

A party of four was touring over the site of a proposed branch in an automobile when it left the mountain road, shot into a snowbank and turned upside down.

New York, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Francis Burtin Harrison, wife of the lawyer and congressman who was recently a candidate for lieutenant governor of the state, was killed in an automobile accident at Long Island City this morning. Three others, including the chauffeur, were injured. The steering gear went wrong and the ponderous car, going at a high rate of speed, dashed into the curb. The occupants were hurled in all directions. Mrs. Harrison was a daughter of the late Colonel Charles Frederick Crocker, of San Francisco.

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 25.—Infuriated, the police believe, by gambling losses, Saltee Zetzette, an Italian laborer in the railroad construction camp at Westport Harbor, Wis., between Zion City and Kenosha, early this morning killed two companions, fatally wounded two and seriously wounded another. Zetzette risked a few coins in the game and lost, when he drew a revolver and killed two. Returned privates are being forced to re-enter the service, even though they demand an immediate return home.

Portland, Nov. 27.—United States Judge Gilbert today announced that he had assigned Federal District Judge Hunt, of Montana, to try all the remainder of the Oregon land fraud cases. The newly appointed judge for the Oregon district, Judge Wolverton, will occupy Judge Hunt's place on the Montana bench until the Oregon trials are finally settled. The announcement is a surprise here and is not supposed to be beneficial for the defendants. Many say that the assignment is a direct slap at Judge Wolverton and Oregon, but the cause is an account of the experience of Judge Hunt on the bench, the government believing that in such important cases as these an older judge is better for all concerned.

BIG TIMBER PURCHASE ON ALSEA

Portland, Nov. 27.—Frederick A. Kribs today bought for $300,000 in one body 15,000 acres of spruce timber lands in Lincoln county, near the Lane county line, on the sea coast. The transaction, which has been pending for several weeks, was closed today by the payment by Mr. Kribs of the consideration and the papers are now being made out. Mr. Kribs bought the land from the Alsea Bay Lumber Company.

Plans are forming for the development of the property. In order to handle it to advantage a railway must be built to Alsea bay, a harbor admitting small vessels, or 30 miles distant to Yaquina bay, where deeper draft craft may gain entrance.

In connection with the enterprise is the proposal to construct lumber mills of large capacity and box factories, and the prospect is that industries of great magnitude will be created as a result of Mr. Kribs' purchase. The spruce timber in the tract is about the only virgin body of that sort remaining on the coast. The 15,000 acres cruise approximately 450,000,000 feet, board measure, and the spruce is said to be especially choice in quality.

NEW YORK ELECTION CASES

New York, Nov. 24.—Alton B. Parker, for McClellan, and Austin G. Fox, for Hearst, appeared before Supreme Court Justice Amend today. Fox asked that the case be passed to Justice Giegerich, who is sitting in extraordinary session hearing the election cases.

Amend so ordered despite Parker's objections. Counsel appeared in Giegerich's court, who sent them to the appellate division, which tribunal he said should say who should hear the contest for the opening of the ballot boxes.

MINT CASHIER GONE WRONG

Seattle, Nov. 24.—Geo. E. Adams, cashier of the U. S. assay office here, charged with stealing gold dust, admitted his guilt to Furch and Backus this morning, who immediately withdrew from his bond and turned him over to the United States authorities.

Adams is said to have sums aggregating $30,000 on deposit at different banks, together with $12,000 found on his person. This would indicate a much larger steal than at first supposed. The preliminary hearing was set for December 1.

CABINET APPEALS TO COUNTRY

London, Nov. 24.—It is understood the cabinet has decided to appeal to the country. The suggestion that the cabinet resign is received unfavorably because of the attitude of the liberals.

The cabinet assembled at noon with all members present except Lord Salisbury.

The cabinet adjourned with no announcement of its action. The promised sensation apparently didn't develop.

The sailors ashore at Sebastopol have liberated Lieutenant Schmidt, who was in prison accused of being a rebel sympathizer. Schmidt went aboard the cruiser Otebockoff and assumed command of the squadron. The governor ordered the ships to leave the harbor, but Schmidt refused to obey and notified the governor that if any sailors under a rest were court-martialed he would bombard the city. Schmidt's offense was placing wreaths on the graves of sailors killed in the mutiny last July.

FIGHT RESULTS IN FRIENDSHIP

Annapolis, Nov. 25.—The testimony of Midshipman Yeager in the Meriwether manslaughter case this morning tended to show that fights between cadets usually resulted in lasting friendship between the participants. Yeager, who accompanied Meriwether as his second, was the only man in the academy who ever knocked Meriwether out. They became fast friends. Other testimony tended to show that Branch was continually nagging and hazing Meriwether. A first class man, Carstein, testified that Branch seemed to have some deep-seated grudge against the defendant. He said it a cadet refused a challenge to fight he would be called a cad and ostracized.

Annapolis, Nov. 25.—Admiral Sands received the orders for an autopsy of Branch's body today. It will be held this evening in the academy hospital.

MARVELOUS STEAMER ESCAPE

Eureka, Cal., Nov. 28.—With rudder and stern post gone and under jury rig, the steamer Roanoke is now proceeding to San Francisco. While attempting to cross the bar at four o'clock yesterday afternoon the Roanoke narrowly escaped disaster in the heavy seas, which cut away her rudder and washed entirely over the helpless craft.

Fogs at once answered the distress signals and to the astonishment of the life savers, the steamer drifted broadside over the dangerous bar and out to sea on an ebb tide. The tug and life saving crew stood by while temporary repairs were made to her rudder, and early this morning the vessel started south. No passengers were lauded.

THE KAISER'S AFFLICTION

Manchester, England, Nov. 28.—The Guardian is authority for the statement that a distinguished specialist at London will go to Berlin to operate on the Kaiser's ear, the affection threatening brain trouble.
