KILLED IN LOGGING CAMP

James Bay, a well-known citizen of the western end of Lane county, was accidentally killed in Fellman & Nicolle's logging camp on Indian Creek yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock.

According to the meagre particulars received in Eugene Mr. Bay was on a sloping hill when his fellow workmen started to roll a log down. Mr. Bay was given the usual signal to get out of the way, but it seems he became confused and ran toward the approaching log instead of away from it. The log rolled over him and stopped on his body, crushing his life out instantly.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday, with interment in the Masonic cemetery at Acme.

Brevities

Judge Waiton some 26 years ago planted some shellbark hickory nuts on his residence property, with first results this season, having picked up a dozen or so nuts.

Mrs. E. B. Linton has sent to E. Clemens Horst and Co. 160 bales of hops, her 1905 crop. The price is not given out, but it is understood to have been 10 cents.

B. F. Russell, of Thurston, has just purchased a fine Trowbridge piano from the Morris Music House. Mr. Morris states that he has sold seven pianos and several organs in the past few days.

Henry Brochman, employed in Montgomery's logging camp on the McKenzie, was quite badly injured yesterday by a log rolling on him. He will be held up for some time, but the injury is not considered serious.

Eugene camp, Modern Woodmen of America last night elected new officers as follows: E. O. Palmer, V. C.; A. E. Wagoner, W. A.; David Link, clerk; J. L. Gades, backer; A. F. Chezem, singer; J. B. Willoughby, watchman; Claude Jackson, secretary; Dr. E. E. McLaughlin, physician; M. L. York, trustee for three years.

Rev. W. S. Gibber, of the Calvary Protestant church, Portland, and formerly of Eugene, is in receipt of a call from the First Presbyterian church, of Astoria, and if he is released by his congregation at Portland he will probably accept the call and be at his new post of duty by the first of the new year.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen elected new officers last night as follows: E. K. Chapman, M. W.; C. W. Stair, foreman; A. C. Jennings, overseer; W. O. Ziegler, recorder; Geo. W. Dixon, treasurer; F. W. Osburn, receiver; A. H. Smith, guide; James McClaren, I. W.; J. D. Meyers, Q. W.; Drs. W. Kuykendall and Geo. O. B. DeBar, medical examiners; E. K. Chapman, trustee; Geo. E. Dorris, installing officer.

W. W. Shaw, a cook, was arrested last night for having a big open knife on his person. He had previously threatened to cause trouble for Oscar Parson. Shaw explained to the officers this forenoon that he had left the knife at the Hazelwood, where he had been working, and was going to put it in his grip preparatory to going to Cottage Grove when he was arrested. The officers accepted the explanation and turned him loose. He went to Cottage Grove this afternoon.

A few days ago the Guard mentioned that the S. P. railroad company now charges $1 a front foot per year for rental of warehouse property. A railroad official from Portland called at the Guard office and said he did not believe the statement true, and said the railroad people were anxious for warehouses on their lines for shippers, and did not want to discourage them. The party who furnished the information being from Missouri, proved his assertion. The railroad also now charges for shipping receipt books for large shippers. What next?

The citizens and business men of Springfield met in the city hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a development league. The meeting was a success, both in point of attendance and enthusiasm and was presided over by M. M. Peery. Different committees were appointed to draft by-laws, solicit members, arrange an original plan of advertising, etc. Several short speeches were made by members present, ideas suggested and plans put before the league which will aid in its future success.

Twelve carloads of Oregon apples will be shipped from Portland to Oriental markets this fall, a larger quantity than the figures on the other side have before taken. The fruit will be distributed between the various parts of Japan, China and Manchuria. Most of the apples are of the Ben Davis variety, which are chosen because of their excellent shipping qualities. The Manchurian order of apples began coming in the day the peace treaty was signed, showing the market was ready for the fruit and was only waiting for the resumption of shipping facilities.

Burgess F. Ford, a well known athlete, formerly of Willamette University at Salem, was elected to the presidency of the City Union of Epworth Leagues at the organization's meeting at Taylor street Methodist Episcopal church last night. Today's Oregonian.

J. W. Geary Post, G. A. P., elected officers Saturday night as follows: C. H. Baker, commander; Wm. M. Sherman, Sr. V.; G. E. Kress, Jr. V.; Rev. Crum, chaplain; R. E. Eastland, O. D.; G. W. Courtwright, O. G.; R. H. Miller, adjutant; Frank Bowers, Q. M.

Silver Lake Central Oregonian, Dec. 7: Alec Davis and Horace Dunlap drove about 100 head of cattle, purchased in Chewaucan, to Silver Lake Saturday. They picked up about 25 more in this valley, and started the bunch for the Klamath Marsh.

PARTY OF RAILROAD MEN HERE

A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the O. R. & N. and S. F. lines in Oregon, J. P. Jones, traveling passenger agent of the S. P., Paul Shoup, assistant general freight agent of the S. P., and H. E. Lounsbury, traveling freight agent of the S. P., were in Eugene today visiting among the business men. Messrs. Craig and Shoup were here for the first time during the Portland business men's excursion, and they state they liked the city so well they were determined to come back and get acquainted.

Born

In Eugene, Sunday, December 10, 1905, to Ed Farrington and wife, a daughter, weight 10 1/2 pounds.
To Wm. G. Martin and wife, Dec. 11, 1905, a 3-pound girl.

THE CITY DADS IN SESSION

At the regular meeting of the city council last night nothing of any great importance was transacted.

Petitions for street lights on West Eighth and West Ninth streets were not granted upon report of the fire and water committee.

A screen was ordered placed in the end of the sewer on East Thirteenth street, between Willamette and Oak, to prevent rubbish from entering the sewer.

The claim of Mr. McClelland for damages to his horse, caused by stepping into a sink hole at East Twelfth and Ferry streets, was not allowed.

The cribbing that protects the mouth of the sewer emptying into the tail race below the mill district, was reported in bad condition. The matter was referred to the sewer committee, with power to act.

Street Commissioner Turner reported that he had used 10,455 feet of lumber during the month and that 45 loads of gravel had been hauled.

The matter of declaring J. F. Berger's saloon license as being forfeited was discussed at length. The motion to so declare it was lost.

The matter of the city's liability to R. McMurry for payment for use of certain land as a dumping ground was discussed.

Mayor Wilkins made a report that sewer bonds numbered from 6 to 9 inclusive had been sold at par.

The next meeting will be held December 20.

A Fearful Fate

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Massachusetts, Ia., "that for blood, itching, itching and protruding piles Bocklen's Anus Ointment is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, sores and injuries. 25c at W. L. De Lane, druggist.

RYAN ON THE STAND

New York, Dec. 12.—Ryan took the stand this morning in the insurance investigation. He assured the committee that he didn't mean any disrespect to the committee by refusing to answer questions in regard to conversations with Harriman when the latter wanted to participate, but didn't want to answer them unless he was obliged to do so. He said the district attorney had told him he must answer and he would do so to the best of his recollection.

He said: "I had a number of conferences with Harriman. He said he had devoted much time to the Equitable, and didn't think it was right for me to enter it without consulting him. He wanted an equal voice in the management. I declined to accede to his demand for half of the stock. He objected to the trustees plan and didn't want me to go on without his aid. He wanted to name two trustees besides Cleveland, O'Brien and Westinghouse, and wanted my support for Harriman and everybody else, but I intended to carry out my own plans despite his objections.

"Harriman said as I wouldn't agree to his plans, he would use all his political influence against me. My understanding was there would be legislative action. I told him I proposed to go on with my plans and didn't want him nor anybody else for partners. He telephoned me many times and I finally told him it was useless, that I would not change my mind."

Ryan said that Harriman used no names in speaking of political influence. The conversations were strenuous. Harriman didn't want any outsiders brought into the situation. The committee thanked Ryan. United States Senator Dryden, president of the Prudential, was the next witness. According to a statement read by Hughes, contributions aggregating $22,000 were made by the Prudential to the Republican National committee in 1898, and in 1904. Dryden testified the Prudential expended $15,500 for legislative expenses in 1899.
