and plied between Columbia river points. She was on the dock being repaired at St. Johns. A visitor threw a lighted match into the oil tank, which exploded, killing the second engineer and his fireman.

RATHER PERISH THAN GO HOME

Roseburg, Or., Jan. 23.—Jesse L. Langley, the 47-year old Martinez contractor, who was arrested here Sunday night on the train on which he was accompanying a 14-year-old girl calling herself Theresa Mayer to Portland, where the two were to be married, says he would rather kill himself than go back to California, if he thought he would have to serve a term in the penitentiary for his act. He is now in the Douglas county jail, awaiting the arrival of Sheriff Veal from California. It is not yet known whether he will fight extradition proceedings. The charge against him is felony, and the officers here suppose it is kidnaping.

GENERAL WHEELER IS WEAKER

New York, Jan. 24.—General Wheeler is weaker today, but there is still hopes of his recovery.

ANOTHER VOLCANO DISASTER

FEDERAL CASES IN CHICAGO

District Attorney Morrison's Theory of Immunity Law

Witness Can't Claim Immunity Unless He Testifies Under Oath in Court—Ruling of the Judge

Chicago, Jan. 24.—In the federal court this morning District Attorney Morrison expounded the common law which provides for immunity for persons who turn state's evidence. Morrison's understanding of the law is that a witness cannot claim immunity unless he testifies under oath in court, and must claim their constitutional privilege in open court. The court disagreed with the main point of Morrison's plea.

TACOMA LOSES FRANCHISE

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—At a meeting of the directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League today the baseball franchise of the Tacoma team was taken from that city by a vote of 5 to 1. Some California city will secure the franchise. The claims of several cities seeking admission to the league are being considered. Fresno has a strong delegation and apparently has good prospects of getting in. Pasadena and Bakersfield also presented claims. The arrangement of the schedule for the coming season will require considerable time and the decision will probably be made in the next few days.

STEAMER VALENCIA WRECK

Every One Aboard the Vessel Reported Drowned

Vessel Struck Rocks in Straights of Fuca—Bound From San Francisco to Seattle

Victoria, Jan. 24, 2:54 p. m.—A message just received from Bamfield says that the Valencia is a total loss and that everybody on the boat was drowned, not one being rescued.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—The Valencia is breaking up fast. The loss of life is now estimated at 75. All will be lost if the boat breaks up.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 24.—The steamers Queen City and Salvor, sent from Victoria yesterday to rescue the passengers of the Valencia, have returned, having failed to make connections. All hope of saving the lives of the passengers is now gone. The returning boats say the storm will break the Valencia up in a few hours. The Queen saw nothing of her and met no lifeboats. The passengers were thrown into the water and there is no hope of escape, as the shore is a precipice, affording no foothold for even a goat.

Victoria, Jan. 24.—The two rescuing steamers which went from Victoria are standing by the Valencia but it is impossible to reach her or give her aid on account of a hurricane and heavy seas. The Topeka is standing by but cannot reach her. Cape Beale reports that but fifteen persons were saved, six at Cape Beale and nine are ashore fifteen mile from there.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 24.—The only news concerning the Valencia wreck this morning is to the effect that the weather conditions were such last night that there is but little hopes that anything is left of the steamer now. No word has been received yet as to whether or not the rescue ships reached the place. The vessel struck the rocks at the base of the cliff of the Straits of Juan de Fuca early Tuesday morning with 94 passengers and a crew of 60. It is feared most of these are lost. The steamer was enroute to Puget Sound from San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—Officials of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, owners of the Valencia, report that up to noon today not a single telegram had been received from the scene of the disaster. No news is expected until some time this afternoon when the steamer Queen City or City of Topeka, which left Seattle yesterday, returns. The Queen City should have reached the scene of the wreck about 11 o'clock last night. Many anxious people are besieging the offices of the steamship company by telephone and in person.

NEWS FROM NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, Jan. 24.—The senate committee on foreign relations has decided to report in favor of the treaty confirming Cuba's title to the Isle of Pines.

In the house the galleries were crowded and the members were nearly all present in anticipation of the battle for statehood, over which there has long been skirmishing, which will be fought out on the floor today.
