FRIDAY — — — APRIL 27

If Schwab doesn't want the Nevada atorship, other millionaires will not let it go begging.

Massachusetts Republicans want tariff revision, but they want it all headed toward Massachusetts.

Bowie knows how it feels to have to submit to a dictator. He has been in the dictator business himself.

Eugene cannot afford to let a gold-
so opportunity to secure a first-class system of street railways go by.

A California convict has made $1-000,000 while serving a two-year service. The man on the inside gets the money usually.

Probably the Chinese have observed
that it takes a great deal of missionary work to save Niagara Falls from destruction.

We wonder if the Texas towns are struggling over the problem as to whether Sarah Bernhardt is a circus
or a dramatic performance.

It is not surprising that Senator Elkins should pose as a grabber in the Philippines. He has grabbed about everything in sight in the way of railroads and coal lands in West Virginia.

Sealedale, Ia., recently elected a mayor 80 years old, but the inhabitants might have been under the impression that they were voting for a United States senator.

The new battleship New Jersey made 19.48 knots per hour on her trial trip. While not the biggest fighter afloat she could run away, but the chances are that she wouldn't.

Let's see; did Mr. Roosevelt say specifically that he would be the candidate of "neither" the Republicans nor Democrats next time? Or was it merely the Republican nomination?

Eugene has reached a point where she must have a street railway system to help her expand. Some kind of a franchise which insures the construction of a line at once should be granted
without delay.

It is estimated that 6000 saloons in Ohio will close as a result of the new license, which goes into effect
ten days after the bill is signed by the governor. This is not prohibition, but it prohibits considerably.

That is a pretty bad story that comes from St. Joseph, Missouri, of a crowd of white boys killing a 16-year-old negro boy with clubs and stones, the murder being the result of race prejudice agitation in the community. The fathers talked, the sons acted.

The Oregonian seems to take a good deal of satisfaction referring to Eugene
as now over typhoid experience,
genetically asserting that the cases
run up "into the hundreds." There seems to be method in the Oregon-ian's unkindness, and, by the way untruthfulness. There is another very good paper in Portland. We suggest that as the Oregonian seems bent on hurting Eugene, Eugene should reciprocate by hurting the Oregonian.

Portland was on the point of losing Jim Hill's north bank railroad because of the dilatory tactics of the Port of Portland commission in granting a franchise for the bridge across the Willamette. The newspapers and the people of that city in general made a big "holler" and just as Hill was about to withdraw from the field the commission granted a favorable franchise. Eugene might lose the valley electric railroad by tactics
similar to the Portland commission's.

California's Catastrophe

The dreadful destruction of San Francisco and other towns in that vicinity is the worst calamity known in the history of the Western hemisphere. The Galveston tidal wave, Johnstown flood, Chicago and Boston fires are small and insignificant when compared with our sister state's awful, nearly incomprehensible catastrophe.

The Bay City and surrounding country has our sympathy. We of the coast are bound together by ties of relationship, friendship and business. Our interests are identical and we extend our sympathy, but our aid is what is needed now.

Thousands of poor persons are suffering for want of provisions, and the railroads and express companies will transport free of charge all offerings of provisions or money.

Eugene should act immediately. We should not wait until we get a carload, but send donations as they are received daily. This is the true sympathy which we should give to our afflicted brothers and sisters in the Golden state—the sympathy which shows our heads, hearts and hands are with them.

No human agency could have prevented the San Francisco conflagration—there is no way by which the water supply could have been rendered immune from the earthquake that left the great city helpless before the flame.

A United States senator is credited with the remark that affairs are so bad that when the roll is called he doesn't know whether to say "present" or "not guilty." The Washington Post thinks it is hard to see how he could plead "not guilty" if present.

And Senator Aldrich, too—he is very much exercised over the constitutionality of the rate bill. It would break his heart to have the rate bill declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, after his arduous efforts to have it enacted into law.

On the morning of April 22, 1889, there was not a white man in Oklahoma except soldiers and government agents. Before night there were nearly enough people in there to make a good state. But after seventeen years Oklahoma is still waiting, and the statehood conferees are taking a rest.

With the sun shining brightly above us and gentle breezes, it is hard to realize that the pioneer and greatest city of the coast, but six hundred miles south of us has been practically destroyed by fire. And human imagination cannot begin to conceive of the woe that envelops the hundreds of thousands resident of San Francisco.

Many are speculating as to whether San Francisco, after the fire, will again be built up into the same magnificent city it was a few days ago. We predict that the indomitable push and enterprise of the Californians will prevail, and that the city will rise above the smoke and ashes better and bigger than ever.

The University of California buildings at Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco, were not damaged by the earthquake in the least—with damaged structures all about a seeming miracle. They stand on an elevation.

The Portland automobile ordinance allows a speed of eight miles an hour. Policemen got their stop watches out the other day and timed some of their brethren with the result of nineteen complaints. The slowest speed was sixteen miles an hour, double the speed limit, and the highest thirty miles. About speed, the driving horse that does not easily make eight miles an hour on a good road is hardly worth having.

It appears doubtful that the combination chemical engine and hose wagon will be purchased by the city. While there has been no vote upon the matter it seems that a majority of the councilmen favor the purchase or the hiring of a team to be ready at all times to haul the apparatus to fires and retaining the old chemical engine. All favor an increase in the number of hydrants and the purchase of more hose.

NEWS ITEMS FROM SPRINGFIELD

We understand that J. E. Stewart sold his corner lot opposite the Hotel Springfield to a Eugene man this week. We were unable to learn the gentleman's name but are informed that he will erect a large building thereon.

The large 100 horsepower capacity boiler that was pulled through town Saturday by six horses was being taken to the Mohawk Lumber Company. It was formerly used by the electric light plant at Eugene.

On Odd Fellows Day, next Thursday, April 26th, a game of ball will be played between the Springfield Grays and the E. H. S. Outlaws, on the local grounds. The game is expected to be a fast one, as it is the third game played between the two teams this season, each team having won a game.

At last the caisson in the centre of the river, that has caused Engineer Freeland so much trouble, has been pumped dry and the work of building the pier will be started at once. It is expected that the pier will be finished within two weeks, unless something unforeseen happens to prevent.—News

SELL NO TICKETS TO SAN FRANCISCO

Agent Adair, of the S. P. Co., today received a message from headquarters ordering the sale of tickets to San Francisco to be discontinued, as no passengers are permitted to enter the city. All persons going to the stricken district should purchase tickets for Oakland.

JUST BREATHE IT.

Hyomei Cures Catarrh in Natural and Rational Way.

No dangerous drugs or alcoholic concoctions are taken into the system when Hyomei is used in the treatment of catarrh. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the balsamic healing of Hyomei penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, healing the irritated mucous membrane and effecting a complete and permanent cure.

No medicine taken into the stomach can possibly reach the remote cells of the air passages, or give the immediate relief that follows the use of Hyomei. A few days' treatment is usually all that is necessary to show how quickly this remedy will cure catarrh.

So successful has Hyomei been in the cure of catarrh among their customers that Hull's drug store sells it under a positive guarantee that it costs nothing unless it gives satisfaction. The complete outfit sells for one dollar, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents. a13 24 m4

Dexter Items

Dexter, April 20.—The school here observed Arbor Day with appropriate exercises and several trees were planted on the grounds. Miss Helen McKinney, of Woodburn, is teaching the school.

Mrs. Ganing, of Eugene, is visiting with Mrs. E. W. Fenton.

Mrs. D. S. Hunsaker is visiting with relatives here.

The appraisers, Messrs. Jas. Parvin, Wm. Mannley and Frank Ginsan, of the estate of the late Robert L. Williams, have appraised the camp up the river, where he was at work when he was taken sick.

The Sunday school here chose as delegates to the convention at Trent Mrs. W. H. Fenton, A. W. Jacobs and Jennie Parvin, and Maggie Templeman.

Trevi D. Fenton left Monday for North Yakima, Wash. He expects to be absent some time.

D. M. Parvin and Cruzan brothers are busy hauling logs to saw out a bill of lumber for a Chicago company. They are to begin delivering to Goshen the first of May.

The eldest children of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bristow are visiting with their aunt, Mrs. J. M. Keeney.

The earthquake at San Francisco has caused quite a little alarm here on account of friends who are living there. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hunsaker, formerly of this place, are residents of the city. It is to be hoped that they will escape.

A Jack Rabbit Race

Messrs. W. J. Johnson, Henry Veatch and Henry Farming were out near Suganaw last Sunday with Mr. Farming's two hound dogs and there saw one of the most exciting races they ever witnessed. The dogs ran the rabbit for about one and one-half miles, but the last stretch of about half a mile was in the open and there seemed to be no advantage in either dogs or rabbit, but when the fence was reached the rabbit dodged one of the dogs and fell into the mouth of the other one, which was a few feet behind. The men who saw the race say that while it was not long it was very exciting. Mr. Veatch had with him a .22 rifle, and a rabbit jumped up and Henry fired five shots and struck it three times, which he thinks is good shooting when a rabbit is running.—Cottage Grove Western Oregon.
