

Good Men Attacked

Sample arguments appearing in the prohibition "Issue" May 24, 1906:
"If you want to save a party, vote for GOOD men who are candidates."
"By all odds the great issue in this campaign is this: 'Shall the SALOONS or the CITIZENS rule the state?'"
The inference is that the league has picked out the good men for office, and that the candidates who have not been endorsed by the league are bad men, who are controlled by the saloons.
The Guard would ask the "Issue" if the league can say one word derogatory to the characters of L. R. Edmondson, Jas. Hayes, or B. A. Washburne, the three candidates for the lower house of the legislature who have not received endorsements?
Would further ask if the characters of these three young men will compare most favorably with those endorsed?
What right has this campaign "organ" to brand these worthy young men as men who are controlled by the "SALOON" power? What member of the league ever saw any one of these young men frequenting a saloon? These young men were raised in our midst, and their many friends take deep offense at the publication of such trash, and only a paper without an editor or other person willing to publish his name as responsible for such arguments would dare to accuse these young men as being controlled by the "saloon power."
The radical prohibitionists who are responsible for such literature forget that there is a large and conservative class of citizens who never go near a saloon and who are most temperate in their habits, who DO believe in RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF THE PROHIBITION, and who do NOT agree that PROHIBITION is the proper way to solve this question.

Leon R. Edmondson, on the Democratic ticket, and B. A. Washburne, of the Republican candidates, are receiving enthusiastic support in every part of the county. Both are excellent young men of high personal integrity and good business qualifications. Their candidacy has appealed to the progressive elements of all parties, who recognize in them the proper men to represent Lane county in the next legislature. Mr. Edmondson is a lawyer of splendid attainments, with a fine career opening before him, and would be an ideal man to have in the law-making body because of being especially equipped for the proper and legal framing of laws. Since all the legislative candidates of both parties have signed statement No. 1, which leaves the selection of United States senator to the people, it takes the office of representative out of politics and invites the election of such men as Edmondson and Washburne by the voters of all parties.

Hon. J. D. Matlock is a representative of the plain people of Oregon, a pioneer who has endured the strenuous struggle of all those to whom the state owes its splendid development. He is a man who has been tried in many positions of trust and has proven faithful at all times and under all circumstances. Lane county knows and recognizes the sterling worth of his citizenship, and as the only local candidate on either state ticket, will give him a rousing major vote on June 4. If all the state knew Mr. Matlock as well as he is known at home there would be no question about his election to the office of state treasurer.

All next week Dr. Lowe, the oculist, will be in his Eugene office. The best is done too good for your eyes wear his glasses. Free tests.

Prohibitionists Endorse

Senator—R. M. Veatch, Democrat.
Representatives—Allen Eaton, Republican; L. N. Edwards, Republican; J. J. Walton, Democrat.
NOT ENDORSED BY PROHIBITIONISTS.
Senator—I. H. Bingham, Republican.
Representatives—L. R. Edmondson, Democrat; Jas. Hayes, Democrat; B. A. Washburne, Republican.

HON. R. M. VEATCH HAS SPLENDID RECORD

On next Monday the voters of Lane county will make a choice for state senator. Both candidates have signed Statement No. 1, thereby eliminating every vestige of partisan politics from the office for which they are contesting. So there is nothing left to guide the intelligent voter but the honesty, honor and fitness of the man for the office. These qualifications should be carefully considered by every voter in the county before casting his ballot.

Mr. Veatch has resided in the county for more than 40 years and is well and favorably known by all the old settlers. He has grown up with the county and is familiar with the people's wants. By good business management he has accumulated considerable property. He has served twelve years in the house and eight years in the senate, and was noted for his uncompromising opposition to grafts of all kinds. About Salem and among politicians he was known as the watchdog of the treasury, and among his neighbors as Honest Bob Veatch. During all his public career no one has ever doubted his honesty. For ability he ranks among the foremost men of the state.

Sheriff Fisk

(Cottage Grove Leader, Rep.)

The sheriff's office is an office of importance and at its head must have a man of good judgment, business tact and executive ability. In his manner of handling the sheriff's work both criminal work and office work, Sheriff Fisk has proven himself competent. He has been tried in all of the various tests of a sheriff, he has stood the tests, proven himself true blue and made out of the right kind of stuff for a sheriff. Fred Fisk is a painstaking servant of the people, accommodating, respecting the rights of all an diserving with fairness regardless of politics. He is honest in the discharge of his duties, economical, competent inside his office and competent outside his office. He has made a good sheriff, satisfactory to the people, and on June 4th will receive the support from the people that will again make him sheriff of Lane county.

Fisk's Clean Record

(Junction City Times, Rep.)

There are but few people who do not sometime during the year either directly or indirectly have business transactions with the sheriff's office. Being the tax collecting office makes it connected with a majority of the citizens and being directly connected with all court work brings many in contact with that office. It is an important office, an important trust, and should be in charge of one competent and able to perform the requirements of that trust. Fred Fisk as sheriff has served the people well and good. He has a good record for official industry and has been successful both in the office work and in the work outside of the office. He is an efficient and accommodating official, fair and just in all matters, and is deserving of the trust placed in his keeping two years ago by the voters of Lane county and which he again seeks.

To the Taxpayers

At the coming election you will be asked to vote for or against an amendment giving cities and towns exclusive power to enact and amend their charters. This is at present done by the legislative assembly.

You have a voice in the election of representatives to that assembly who can safeguard your interests. If you vote for the amendment you will transfer the power from the legislative assembly to city councils. In the election of members of these councils you have no vote, neither will you have any representative.

In your own interests you will do well to vote No to the amendment.

Yours faithfully,
F. V. KNOX.

Will preach at Elmira Saturday, June 2, at 2:30 and 8. At Crow Sunday at 11 and 7:30, with dinner served at the hall. Central schoolhouse Sunday at 8.

ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS SCORE MEAT BARONS

Chicago, May 23.—It is said that the Neill-Reynolds report of the packing houses in this city consists of notes of testimony and affidavits of employees and patrons. Some of the allegations, backed up by affidavits, are very damaging, the report says:
"Lard is made from hogs which die of cholera and the sanitary conditions of the packing houses are revolting. Meat that Europeans refuse to take is sold in America. Oil from hogs dying in transit is used for 'sardine oil' and lump jaw cattle are butchered, while there is no inspection for trichinosis in hogs sold in this country. The so-called 'potted chicken' is composed of the flesh of bob veal, and 'lean lard,' exploited for its purity, contains twenty per cent of cottonseed oil."
One concern has a chemist to perfect a process for deodorizing decayed hams, and its meat is doctored with borax and other dangerous chemicals after having been spoiled. Dangerous chemicals are used for "smoked meats." Many employees suffer tuberculosis and are unclean. They spit on the meat, walk over it and drag it on filthy floors.

Chas. P. O'Neill and James B. Reynolds are President Roosevelt's appointees to investigate the packing houses.

London, May 23.—The newspapers generally accept the called statements that bad meat was sold mainly in the United States in referring to the tainted meat report. The Evening News says:

"A people which permits corruption certainly suffers for its sins. Its comfort is to know that the ruffians who are responsible for the Chicago packing house scandals will suffer severely. Their pockets is the only spot where they have any feeling."
Dealers in this city are apprehensive that they will have trouble in disposing of the existing stocks of American meats. Buyers are all now demanding English products.

PRESS TAKES UP THE CRUSADE.
New York, May 23.—The intimations that bad meat has been served to consumers in this country has brought forth a cry of horror from the public and a general protest from the press. Some newspapers demand that the whole truth be given to the people immediately. Others are more cautious and are inclined to a disbelief of the allegations and call for an authoritative investigation to ascertain the facts.

SULZER WANTS REPORTS.
Washington, May 23.—Sulzer introduced a resolution in the house today calling on the president for the reports of Commissioners O'Neill and Reynolds. He says that the president has been withholding the report as a club to force the passage of the Beverage meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM DEXTER VICINITY

Dexter, May 30.—Monday was the rainiest of many rainy days. About three and a half inches fell during Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. C. M. Parker and Mrs. C. L. Hunsaker spent several days last week at the bedside of D. S. Hunsaker, who is ill with paralysis at Hugh Hampton's, near Crow.

Messrs. Parvin and Cruzan have just finished delivering 100,000 feet of lumber on board the cars at Goshen for Chicago parties.

The road on Pleasant Hill near Klugore's gate is nearly impassable. These late rains are tough on summer fallowed road.

Despite the inclement weather for several days past a few Dexterites attended the picnic at Pleasant Hill Saturday. They reported a very nice time.

Fred Parker was over from Wendling, returning to that place Monday.

George Whitney is moving his belongings to Irving, where he expects to reside in the future.

Henry Tilton has received a letter from Illinois announcing the marriage of his son Asa in that state.

Mrs. D. C. Mathews, who has been visiting relatives in Washington, returned to her home at June Tuesday.

R. L. Edwards is building a stage barn on his place near Zion potatoes.

Some one writing to the Register from June takes occasion to advise Republicans to "vote it straight" and tells great things of what the yellow jacket is doing in putting Democrats out of commission. We have very serious doubts as to whether this person ever cast a ballot or ever will unless woman suffrage will carry in the coming election. As regards this this yellow jacket, as one man expressed it, "It is not fit for good decent hogs to sleep on." Better not talk politics too strong, Mrs. June, you're not out of the woods yet.

E. A. Wegner, who had his arm broken at Parson's sawmill a few days since, is improving nicely.

The closing exercises of the Trent school will be held next Friday, when if the weather permits a grand outdoor picnic will be held. Graduating exercises will be held at that time. Superintendent Dillard will be present. Rev. H. N. Mount will deliver the address. A good additional program will be rendered, beginning at 10:30 a. m. Come and enjoy a day of pleasant recreation.

We note that the Pleasant Hill Telephone Company is making a metallic circuit of their line, the work being nearly completed.

MORE RAIN UP COUNTRY THAN IN THIS VICINITY

Wednesday's Daily Guard
E. P. Williams, of the Pleasant Hill country, who is in the city today, informs the Guard that much more rain fell in that vicinity the past several days than here.

While Eugene had no rain at all yesterday rain fell east of Goshen in torrents nearly all morning. It was about the same way the day or two previous. Mr. Williams came down in a covered buggy yesterday and was compelled to seek the shelter of fir trees because of the storm. The rain belt extended this way only as far as Goshen, this side of that place the road being comparatively dry.

Notice W. O. W.

The ceremony of unveiling the monument of our late neighbor, A. G. Mathews, will take place at the Pleasant Hill cemetery Sunday afternoon, June 3, at 1:30 o'clock. All neighbors and the public invited to attend. Those wishing transportation please report at the camp Friday night or to the committee before Saturday night.

GEORGE K. MUNROE,
P. E. SNOODGRASS,
W. S. MOON,
Committee.

The Allen cannery may not work on strawberries this season, the crop being short on account of the rains of the past month. However, W. G. Allen, manager of the cannery, is not fully determined in the matter. Several growers have asked him to can their crop, but he thinks there will not be enough offered to justify him in handling the crop. Cherries will soon be coming in. They are quite plentiful this year.
