

OREGON STILL HAS PLENTY OF RAIN

From the weekly bulletin issued by the Oregon section of the United States weather bureau at Portland for the week ending June 4:

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The week opened and closed showery and cool, with an intervening period of from two to three days with mild temperatures and clear skies. The rains on Tuesday and Wednesday were excessive over limited localities in the northeast section of the state. The Umatilla river overflowed its banks and did considerable damage to the streets in the city of Pendleton and the bridges and fences along its course from that city to its mouth at Umatilla. In a few other localities in that section farm lands were badly washed by heavy rains, but the good done in the larger territory where the rains were only moderate, much more than compensated for the damage done in the few limited areas where they were excessive. Friday morning the temperature was dangerously near the frost mark, both in the eastern and western portions of the state, but no frosts were reported. The winds during the week were generally light and mostly from the west, but some of the rain squalls were attended by wind rushes of short duration.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY.

Portland, Multnomah county.—The middle of the week was sunny and warm, while the opening and closing days were showery and cool. No high winds occurred.

Aurora, Clackamas county.—Fair weather prevailed generally. The prevailing winds were from the northwest.

Corvallis, Benton county.—Partly cloudy weather prevailed during the first four days of the week, with light rain all. The latter part of the week was clear and warm. No frosts or high winds occurred.

Forest Grove, Washington county.—The weather during the week was cool and cloudy, except on Friday and Saturday, when it was warm and clear. There was but little rain and no high winds.

WILL AID SCHOOLS OF SAN FRANCISCO

The school teachers of Eugene and Lane county have each received a circular letter from State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman relative to donations for the stricken schools of San Francisco.

It appears that 34 school buildings were destroyed and that it will cost about $6,000,000 to replace them. The donations are to make up a reconstruction fund for the purpose of rebuilding the schools. The purpose is "that whenever contributions from a given state shall reach a sufficient amount to construct a building to name that building after the state giving the money. In any event, tablets showing the source from which the building fund came will be placed upon the buildings, and it will doubtless be a matter of pride for the rising generation in their visit to the new and more glorious San Francisco to visit the building which stands as a monument to their generosity and sympathy."

In view of these facts the state superintendent says: "I would respectfully suggest that your respective schools devise ways and means by which contributions, either great or small, may be made to this very worthy cause."

MISS INEZ PITNEY WINS FROM DIRECTORS

Several months ago the report came from Pine Grove, where Miss Inez Pitney, of Junction, had trouble with the school board and the report also stated that she had slapped one of the directors. There are times no doubt when certain members of a school board deserve to be slapped and it seems that this was one of the times. From the Hood River Glacier we learn the result of the trouble and Miss Pitney scores a victory. That paper says: The case of Miss Inez Pitney against the Pine Grove school board for salary claimed to be due, also damages, was tried before Judge Nickelsen and a jury Monday and Tuesday. A verdict resulted for the plaintiff for $214 salary, $100 damages, and costs amounting to about $150. The case attracted a good deal of attention, it being necessary to use the opera house to accommodate the crowd and witnesses. A good deal of feeling among the school patrons present was also manifest, which is the most deplorable part of the matter.—Times.

GREEN STAMPS WILL BE THING OF PAST

It is understood that after June 15 the green trading stamp store in this city will go out of business, and those Eugene merchants who are giving the stamps to purchasers of goods will thereafter do without them.

The stamp business did not flourish here from the start. Only a very few merchants contracted for them and one by one they dropped off until now there are only two or three.

The Merchants' Protective Association recently took the matter up and it is said all members agreed to withdraw.

W. C. YORAN.

GEORGE DRURY DIED IN MINNESOTA

George Drury, who departed this life May 11, 1906, was born near Sheffield, England, June 21, 1830. He came to America in 1845, settling with his parents in the state of Wisconsin, where they remained until the year 1854, when they moved to Minnesota, where he engaged in farming. He was married to Miss Catherine Premer July 4, 1858. In 1863 he enlisted as a private in Company K, Sixth Minnesota Volunteers and served in the war of the rebellion until its close. He was discharged in Fort Spelling in 1865, returning to his farm, where he lived until the fall of 1881. Coming to Oregon that year he purchased a farm in the Mohawk valley, where he resided until a few months before his death, when he decided to make a visit to his old home in Minnesota, where he died.

His wife preceded him January 14, 1898. Thirteen children blessed their union. Seven are yet living, three sons and four daughters, who are: Mrs. Lizzie Broadwater and Mrs. Mary Broadwater of Preston, Minn.; Mrs. Anna Ogg, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Geo. A. Drury, of Coburg; Robert L. and Marion J. Drury, of Marcola, and Mrs. Minnie L. Fisher, of Marcola.

THE GATE CREEK ROAD TO THE MINES

The Blue River mining district has established its reputation as a steady producer of wealth to that extent that Lane county cannot afford to be remiss in any matter of road building that is demanded by the mining interests there.

Gate creek, which empties into the McKenzie thirty miles east of Eugene, furnishes a natural water grade for a wagon road to a good part of the district now supplied by the road up the hill from Blue River City not only at the expense of considerable extra mileage, but of heavy grades. Here are some very convincing figures: From Gate creek to Blue River it is fifteen miles, then five miles up the mountain—twenty miles in all; up Gate creek it is but twelve miles, and that on the easy grade of the stream, where the present road has a continuous heavy grade for the five miles up the hill.

In those twelve miles there are twenty-one ridges running down to the river that would have to be graded around, then a bridge to cost probably two hundred dollars across the north fork of the creek. The entire cost of this very desirable road is estimated by experienced road builders as not above three thousand dollars, and most of the way it would be on the northerly side of the creek, where it would get the sun, a no little item in a mountain road.

GRAND PICNIC AT COAST FORK BRIDGE

A grand picnic will be held at the Coast Fork bridge, three miles east of Goshen, Saturday June 9. The forenoon program will consist of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, address by President Briggs, of the Drain Normal School, and County School Superintendent Dillard, of Eugene. The Pleasant Hill band will furnish the music for the occasion.

In the afternoon there will be a foot race for girls under six years old, race for boys under six, race for girls under twelve, race for boys under twelve, race for boys under 16, baseball game between the first nine of Pleasant Hill and the married men and bachelors.

Everybody is invited to attend and have a good time.

Florence Items

Dr. J. C. Gray, of Eugene, was a passenger to Florence on Wednesday's boat.

The schooner Hugh Hogan came in from San Francisco Wednesday evening and is loading at the Oregon & California Lumber Co.'s wharf.

Mr. Hewitt, a prominent mill owner of Puget Sound, was in Florence yesterday. He spent several days looking over the timber on the upper river and is much pleased with it.

From a Cotswold ram owned by Jared Scott, of North Fork, was sheared this year a fleece weighing 25½ pounds. At the present price of wool this sheep brought its owner from this source alone an income of about $7. Pretty good returns on the money invested.—The West.

SPRINGFIELD BLUES BEATEN BY MAROONS

The Brainard Co. Maroons, a crack amateur baseball team of Portland, defeated the Springfield team at the new Springfield park yesterday afternoon by the score of 10 to 3.

The Springfield boys seemed to suffer from stage fright in this, their first game with a city team, or it was an off day for them. At any rate they failed to play their usual good game. Errors were responsible for most of the runs made by the visitors.

The Portland boys showed that they knew the game thoroughly and had had plenty of practice.

The usual big crowd was in attendance at the game, quite a number going over from Eugene. The score by innings was as follows:
Maroons 2 0 1 0 0 2 3 2 0—10
Springfield 1 0 0 0 0 1 1 0—3

The university team was downed again Saturday afternoon, this time by the Multnomah team, by the score of 6 to 4. Both teams played a ragged game.

The Eugene Grays did not go to Albany yesterday to play the Colts, as scheduled, because of the heavy rain Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Saturday's Coast League scores: Portland, 2; Oakland, 1. Seattle, 9; Los Angeles, 8. San Francisco, 5. Fresno, 0. Sunday's scores: Oakland, 4; Portland, 1. San Francisco, 9; Fresno, 3.

MONUMENTS UNVEILED AT PLEASANT HILL

Monday's Daily Guard
The Woodmen of the World of Eugene yesterday unveiled the monument erected by them over the grave of A. Gaine Mathews in the cemetery at Pleasant Hill. About 35 members of the camp drove out and participated in the services, which consisted of the ritualistic work of the order and an address by Attorney Lee M. Travis. The address was eloquent and touching.

At the same time the members of Eugene Circle, Women of Woodcraft, unveiled the monument over the grave of Mrs. Rose Pools. Some 30 members were present. The services were simply those prescribed by the ritual of the order, in charge of the officers of the circle.
