WEDDING WITH EUGENE

Fred Nutting, a prominent member of the Albany Democrat, spent Sunday in Eugene. His first visit here in many years. Monday's Democrat was full of Eugene. Among other things he says:

The Democrat man and wife spent Sunday in Eugene, the guests of Mrs. Kate Cundiff and daughter Margaret, pleasantly situated in their pretty home at the corner of Patterson

Just a minute of your time!

How about face powders? Almost every woman uses face powder, despite the fact that some self-appointed advisors, in matters relating to health, decry the practice as one fraught with danger.

Ask any woman why she uses powder on her face and she will give you a hundred good reasons. She knows it keeps the skin cool and comfortable, and takes away that greasy appearance of the face that makes a woman look ugly.

One of the best powders ever applied to the face is Ed Pinaud's Comtesse, a scientific and harmless preparation. It is your street and the famous mill race, a great place for boating and swimming. One can plunge into the or six feet of water from the edge of Mrs. Cundiff's three lots and sport through the city's best water.

Eugene is one of Oregon's most progressive cities, a beautiful place. One can roam with the big lots, the big maps and fir trees, and the big and handsome residences. The city has had a rapid growth and will continue to spread itself out over the country, a fine business and educational centre.

Among those seen was Mike Gross and his genial family, who recently returned from San Francisco, where they were burned out with the rest. Mike is clerk at the Smeede, and traveling men find him the same pleasant genius with his original remarks and ways as of old.

Mrs. H. C. Watson, her three energetic sons and handsome daughter, are nicely situated only a block from Mrs. Cundiff, directly opposite Professor Straub's famous residence.

Eugene has one thing that is certainly commendable, a park covering two blocks in the middle of the city, with a small rest house for farmers and their families where they can clean up, and plenty of hitching posts for their teams.

Even one policeman dressed in regulation suit gives Eugene a metropolitan appearance among strangers, who never inquire whether the others are or are not.

When it comes to immense fir, oak and maple trees Eugene can give the other towns whole groves and have forests left.

MITCHELL DISCHARGED BY JUSTICE BRYSON

James A. Mitchell, who was arrested a few days ago as he arrived here from Florence on the stage, charged with stealing the rudder brass from the schooner Bella which is stranded on the beach south of Florence, was acquitted of the charge in Justice of the Peace Bryson's court this forenoon. The evidence tended to show that while Mitchell was seen to be working about the vessel, others were seen there, and these others could have taken the brass. J. M. Williams and L. E. Bean represented the state in the case and E. O. Potter appeared as counsel for Mitchell.

Yesterday's Albany Democrat: Professor B. J. Hawthorne and family and W. H. Hoffman, wife and niece, prominent Eugene people, were in the city this forenoon on their way to Seal Rock, on the Pacific, where they will spend the summer.

SOME EXCELLENT PICTURES TAKEN

Julius Padell, the Southern Pacific Company's official photographer, accompanied by Passenger Agent J. P. Jones and Dr. L. L. Whitson, was driven through the city and out into the country by F. L. Chambers in his automobile this morning. Mr. Padell secured photographs of the principal buildings in Eugene, including the university, the public schools and the Carnegie library, besides several residences. He also secured pictures of buildings in Springfield and of scenes along the Willamette and McKenzie rivers.

Mr. Jones, who is accompanying the photographer up and down the state, said he enjoyed the forenoon better than any he had at any other time on the trip. He was very much struck with the appearance of the country surrounding Eugene and Springfield.

The special car carrying the photographic outfit was taken to Chemawa this afternoon and will be back here probably within two weeks when more photographs will be taken.

WEINHARD WILL ERECT LARGER ICE PLANT

Tuesday's Daily

Jos. Pironi, manager of the Weinhard ice works in this city, returned last night from Portland, where he was called to discuss with the owner the advisability of keeping the plant in operation.

It was decided to operate the plant all summer, as the demand for ice here and at adjacent cities, aside from the saloon trade which is now cut off, is sufficient to justify keeping the plant going.

Mr. Pironi stated to a reporter this morning that the new and larger-ice plant which the Weinhard had contemplated erecting in Eugene and which was mentioned by the Guard a few days ago, will be put in next spring. The owners are hopeful that the voters will have changed their minds two years hence and vote the county "wet" again, but even if they do not it is thought the business aside from the saloon trade will be sufficiently large to justify a much larger plant here.

The new plant will have a capacity of forty tons of ice each day, five times greater than that of the plant now in operation here. A new building will be erected to the west of the present one. New and larger boilers will have to be put in and it is probable that oil will be used as fuel, as wood is getting to be more expensive every year and it is thought oil can be secured cheaper and it is easier to handle.

The plant to be put in is the one formerly used in the old U. S. brewery at Portland. Weinhard has another plant of similar capacity in that city which they intend installing at Medford.

CREDIT TO DR. WHITSON.

A great deal of the credit for the resumption of operations at the local ice plant is due Dr. L. L. Whitson, president of the Eugene Commercial Club. After the plant had closed down he at once went to Portland to see Mr. Wessinger, manager of the Weinhard interests. Mr. Wessinger at first absolutely refused to talk to Dr. Whitson about the matter, declaring that under no circumstances would the plant here resume operations. The doctor was persistent, however, and after a several hours' conversation with Mr. Wessinger convinced him that Eugene could not very well get along without the plant and that it would be a great hardship to ship ice from Portland or other points. Finally Dr. Whitson suggested that Mr. Wessinger wire Manager Pironi to start the plant at once and he did so. This was Sunday about noon. Mr. Pironi did not get the message till three or four o'clock in the afternoon, but within an hour or two after receiving it the machinery was in operation and today the first ice is being turned out.

MONUMENTS WILL BE ERECTED IN FALL

The Native Daughters have decided that in view of the fact that the matter of erecting monuments to mark the early historic spots in Eugene is a greater undertaking than they anticipated, the exercises announced for tomorrow will not be held, being postponed till some time in the fall. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon and it was decided to go no further with the matter until after the heated term.

The plan, as announced recently by the Guard, is to procure columns of basaltic rock from Skinner's Butte and erect them on the sites of Eugene's first school house, first place of holding court, first residence and others.

FIRE ALARM AT SPRINGFIELD TODAY

Tuesday's Daily

The people of Springfield were aroused this forenoon about 11 o'clock by the ringing of the fire bell. A small blaze had been discovered in the old sawmill on the river bank, where some one had probably thrown a cigarette stub. The firemen ran to the scene with the engine, but their services were not needed, as the fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water before they got there.

CHANCE FOR NEW INDUSTRY FOR EUGENE

H. B. Williams, representing a firm operating a wood-distilling plant in Portland, has been in the city the last few days and expects to remain a few days longer before going for Coos Bay, where he goes in business connected with his firm.

Mr. Williams was in Eugene some months ago, expecting to locate a plant here, but he was induced to go to Portland and built there. He has other plants and has a proposition from a Washington city to build a large one there. Here may be an opportunity for Eugene to secure considerable money and one that would be of benefit to the community.

A wood-distilling plant uses the refuse lumber from sawmills and manufactures turpentine, tar, and other materials. The gas manufactured in this manner is said to be superior to the ordinary coal gas and the same amount can be made out of a cord of wood as out of a ton of coal.

The plant at Portland which is a small one, with a capacity of eight cords of wood each day, is being used as an experiment, but it proved a success and now the firm is looking for other locations. Mr. Williams is staying at the Hoffman House while here.

The Commercial Club or Merchants Protective Association should look into this matter and ascertain what can be done towards securing for Eugene such a plant.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S PROPOSED COAST ROUTE

A Southern Pacific Co. party of 30 men left Roseburg today last week for Marshfield to survey the connecting link of the road between Coos Bay and Eureka, Cal. The party consists of seven regular surveyors, the being University of California students, who are working during vacation.
