OUTING TRAVEL UP THE M'KENZIE VERY HEAVY

Frank Minney, proprietor of the Gate Creek Hotel, a popular stopping place on the McKenzie river, is in the city today purchasing supplies. He says the travel to the springs and other upper McKenzie resorts is now very heavy, several parties passing his place every day. From present indications this year's tourist business promises to be greater than ever before. Last year was a quiet one, because nearly everybody went to the Lewis and Clark fair instead of taking their usual outing in the mountains.

Mr. Minney says there are a large number of California and Eastern people on the river and more are expected as the season advances. Fishing is said to be first class above the logging districts this year and even where the logs are floating in the river some very good catches have been made.

Mr. Minney says he will erect a big addition to his hotel next winter to accommodate his rapidly growing business. The hotel is now crowded and he is turning people away daily.

Reports from Foley and Belknap Springs and McKenzie Bridge say that the outing season has opened at those resorts with a rush. All three of the places have been improved since last season and the buildings and camping grounds are all in first-class condition.

class of trade is being shown. Every business shows a good increase in trade. Strangers are here daily looking over the town and country and making investments. Cottage Grove is one of the towns that is giving local option a fair show, and is going to make a record for itself while the town is "dry." Even those who thought the town would go to rack and ruin before its dryness are beginning to think it may not be so bad after all. Practically everyone agrees that the thing to do is to keep pushing and keep the good times going. Cottage Grove is the centre of a good trade and has a future before it. The mines promise to do much to help out this year.—Leader.

NEW LOGGING CAMP FOR BROWN COMPANY

The G. & S. E. is putting in a spur on Cage Van Schoelack's land where the Brown mill will have a new logging camp, to cut the Van Schoelack timber. Most of the timber is across the river from the railroad, but a chute will be built across the stream and the logs dragged across by the donkey engine. The upper camp has about cleared the timber where they are out, and will move down to the new camp. Fred Thomas came down from the lower camp Thursday morning to direct the work.—Cottage Grove Leader.

Irving Items

Irving, July 10.—E. E. Awbrey's new residence is completed and presents a neat appearance.

Mrs. J. J. Montgomery of Wilbur, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Andrews, near Irving.

Quarterly meeting services were held at the M. E. South church at eleven o'clock, Sunday.

Mrs. A'ice Wilson, of Almira, Wash, is the guest of relatives and friends here.

Quite a number of Irving's citizens spent the 4th at Junction City and report a fine time.

Word was recently received from Rev. Crawford that they did not stop at Fresno, Cal., as expected but were at Los Gatos and not located. They may return to Oregon.

Greenleaf Items

Greenleaf, July 11.—Everybody is haying. A good many have finished and some are just cutting. There is a fine crop of hay on the creek this year.

Andy Almasi and G. S. Woolridge expect to go to Mapleton next week and commence work for Louie Hanzelcher, who is logging near the head of tide.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker spent the fourth in Junction City. They report a good celebration.

Fred Peplot and wife left for Leaburg this morning, where they intend to care for Mr. Peplot's mother indefinitely.

Albert Reed moved his household goods down to his rented ranch on Deadwood the first of the week. His family is still at the lake.

A. J. Beeson and family, of Eugene, are camping at Fred Peplot's place and having a fine time in general.

Died

At Pleasant Hill, July 7, 1906, the four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stroud. Interment next day in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

At Wendling, July 9, 1906, Mrs. R. J. Dugan, aged 80 years, mother of A. W. Dugan. Interment in Marcola cemetery today.

Sweet Pea Day

Saturday, July 14th, will be Sweet Pea Day at Hall's drug store. Three prizes to ladies. First, for the biggest bouquet of sweet peas; second, for the prettiest bouquet; third, for the bouquet containing the most varieties. Every lady who is growing sweet peas may enter the contest. Everybody is invited to call and see the display. j12

Revival Meeting

The revival meeting that began at Crow Tuesday evening will continue ten days, with dinner served in the hall and two services on Sunday. Charles McAllister and daughter will assist in the meeting. Let everybody attend these meetings.

D. E. BAKER.

Dont' forget sweet pea day. Bring in your sweet peas and compete for a prize Saturday, July 14th. Hall's drug store. j12

ELI BANGS SELLS QUARTER BLOCK FOR $35,000

Tuesday's Daily

Eli Bangs, Eugene's pioneer liveryman, today sold to G. M. Bonnett, a well-known farmer residing in this city, a quarter of a block of land at West Ninth and Olive streets on which is situated this livery stable buildings, including the new two-story brick and the old barns. The consideration is $35,000. Mr. Bonnett took possession of the property this afternoon.

This is one of the largest real estate deals ever made in Eugene, and shows the faith which Mr. Bonnett has in Eugene's future. He is one of the state's most progressive farmers and has made his money entirely at farming and stock raising.

Mr. Bangs secures in the deal a 900-acre farm in Harney county and about 80 head of cattle. The remainder was paid in cash. He will place his son, Abraham, in charge of the farm, and purchase a large number of cattle for the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Bangs and daughter, Miss Addie, will leave Eugene within a short time, probably locating at Portland or Spokane, not yet having decided which.

Mr. Bangs came to Eugene about 25 years ago without a dollar and began the livery business, which he continued until a few months ago, when he sold out to Bernard & West. By careful business methods he has succeeded and now is able to retire from active business for the remainder of his life. Eugene people regret to learn that he is going to leave.

FISHING GOOD AT BELKNAP BRIDGE

Belknap Bridge, July 9.—We take it for granted that a few items from up this way would be acceptable, so we will give you a few news items, as follows:

There are three families camped just above Mr. Belknap's house. Mr. Matthews, from Boston, Mr. Dunn, of Eugene, and C. L. Inman, of the Great Northern mine. Also Mr. and Mrs. Kress have come out from Eugene for their usual summer's outing, and are installed in their summer home.

Mr. Terwilliger, Mr. Hannaman and others are up on the south fork of the McKenzie working on their mining claims. Mr. Terwilliger is constructing a wagon road to his mining property and has a crew at work clearing the right of way.

Great place for fishing up here. C. L. Inman caught a Dolly Varden trout this morning which tipped the beam at 25 lbs., thus breaking the record for the upper McKenzie. He had quite a struggle before he finally got it landed. He was not prepared for such an enormous catch and was caught off his guard and nearly pulled into the river. Besides the large fish there were three basketful of redeye trout brought in today, making something over 75 lbs. of fish brought in in one day.

Lowell Items

Lowell, July 11.—Lowell and vicinity showed their patriotism by celebrating with their neighbors of Springfield, Thurston and Winberry, where all report a good time. At Winberry there was a fine dinner and free lemonade, with something more than one hundred people of the surrounding country of Middle Fork, Egypt, Upper Winberry, Fall Creek and Lowell present.

Tony Mathews is on the road to Waldo Lake with a load of provisions for the Southern Pacific surveyors. He will have to cross the Cascade range and come in to the Lake from the Eastern side. The surveyors of the Oregon Short line are camped near the Rigdon station this side of the summit ten miles.

Mae Crow of Rushisland has taken his witnesses to Eugene to prove up on his homestead, proof will be made before Judge Walton.

STANDARD OIL TRUST ESCAPES INDICTMENT

Cleveland, July 10.—It was discovered that the Standard Oil trust has probably eluded indictment on at least one point. The grand jury's investigation today developed the fact that since the Lake Shore's storage rates have gone into effect the Standard has shipped no oil from Cleveland to Chicago. This fact will probably remove the case from Cleveland jurisdiction on storage and relating and transfer it to Chicago.

TEDDY'S BODYGUARD FINED FOR ASSAULT

Oyster Bay, July 9.—The president's secret service bodyguard, James O. Sloan, pleaded guilty this morning to assaulting Clarence Legendre, a New York newspaper photographer, on July 1, when the plaintiff took a picture of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, despite Sloan's order to desist. He was fined $10, including the costs, and dismissed, much to Legendre's chagrin, who hoped to air the case and secure free advertising through it.

CONGRESSMAN DIED RETURNING HOME

Chicago, July 9.—Congressman Henry C. Adams, of Wisconsin, died at the Auditorium Hotel this morning. The end was hastened by his work in congress, he having suffered from intestinal trouble for a long time. He was taken critically ill a week ago while enroute home from Washington.

Lewis-Felix

July 3, 1906, at the home of the brides' parents Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Lewis, their daughter Miss Lennie V. Lewis and Benjamin Felix, by Rev. H. J. Blair, in the presence of the family and a few friends.

The bride was dressed in pale blue and white, the groom in the conventional black. They start out in their married life with the best wishes of their friends. They will reside near Donna.

The officers of the Springfield lodge, Fraternal Brotherhood, installed here Monday night are as follows: Past president, Mrs. Alta Chappell; president Dr. R. A. Jayne; vice president Mrs. Juna McPherson; treasurer, W. T. Clark; secretary, Elzina Korn; chaplain, Mrs. Tom Cotton; sergeant-at-arms, Tom Cotton; mistress-at-arms, Stella I. Rutledge; inner door keeper, James R. Chappell; outer door keeper, Lewis Jones.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD JOINT INSTALLATION

Tuesday's Daily

Joint installation of officers of the Eugene and Springfield lodges of the Fraternal Brotherhood was held in the local lodge's hall last evening. W. J. Hangcock, of Portland, state deputy supreme president of the order, was present as installing officer. After the work was completed the assembly sat down to refreshments and voted the meeting a successful one, both socially and fraternally. The officers of the Eugene lodge, as installed, are as follows, the list of officers of the Springfield lodge not being at hand:

Past president, Joseph Sansuc; president, Robert S. Huston; vice president, Dora Barker; chaplain, Catherine Brunner; treasurer, W. E. Barker; secretary, Bessie D. Rohne; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Rohne; mistress-at-arms, Dilla Rohne; inner doorkeeper, Rudolph Yargel; trustees, O. J. Hall and Dora Barker.

REPORT OF OREGON WEATHER CONDITIONS

The first five days of the week were very warm and temperatures of one hundred degrees and over occurred in the Willamette valley, Southern Oregon and in the Columbia river counties east of the Cascade Mountains. The winds during this hot spell were generally light, and the damage, therefore, was less than otherwise would have been the case. The last two days were not so warm, although the temperatures continued above the normal. Between the Coast and the Cascade ranges of mountains dry weather prevailed during the entire week. Local rains occurred in a few of the coast counties, and the weather generally in this portion of the state was cool, with considerable fog at night and for a few hours in the early forenoon. During the last three days the weather was partly cloudy in the eastern counties, and thunder showers occurred in many places, but the precipitation attending them was too light to be of any benefit, except over very limited areas.

OREGON HOUSE CHANGES HANDS

Tuesday's Daily

John Abbott and W. M. Teal, who have conducted the Oregon House in this city for several months past, have sold the business and fixtures to Howard McCusick, who has been employed as cook there for a good while. He took charge last evening.

COTTAGE GROVE NOT HURT BY PROHIBITION

Cottage Grove merchants declare their business is steadily growing larger each month,
