

JUNCTION FAVORS ORGANIZING A COUNTY FAIR

The Junction City Times says: Eugene has finally taken steps toward the organization of a county fair. A county exhibition will not be a money maker as an organization would be a great developer of the county's varied resources and would have a tendency to develop new ideas of a new venture in all lines of cereals, fruits, stock of all kinds, and would really rally one industry or enterprise against another as to which could produce the best results.

It would also be the means of increasing all lines of trade in Eugene, not only during the fair, but for many days previous.

Lane county is about the third county in the state in wealth and population, and the best in average yields and resources, and why should we not have an exhibition of our products?

The Times can be depended upon to do its part, and we feel satisfied that such men as C. W. Washburn, G. C. Millett, A. C. Nielson, J. M. Nichols and others will be glad to assist.

However, it is expected that Eugene will take the initiative, secure the grounds and erect the necessary buildings as the business men in that city will derive the greatest benefit.

We would also favor the county making a liberal appropriation for the enterprise.

FELL ON SIDEWALK AND BROKE HIS HIP

Chas. F. Maser, the well-known real estate dealer, while going along the sidewalk in front of the Barker Gun Works on East Ninth street this morning about nine o'clock, stumbled over a coil of hose and fell forebly to the walk. He felt a sharp pain in his left hip and was unable to rise. He called for assistance and was taken to his home at 178 West Eighth street.

Dr. F. W. Prentice and T. W. Harris were called and after an examination announced that the hip bone had been broken. He was placed under the influence of an anesthetic and the bone set. Mr. Maser is 78 years of age.

THE WORLD'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS IN BRIEF

Portland, July 20.—In the land fraud trial today Frank E. Kincart, one of the defendants, turned state's evidence and admitted entering into a conspiracy with the other defendants for locating victims on timber claims under promise of purchase from a mythical company.

W. T. Shoups, one of the victims, testified that he was induced by Defendant Hope to take up a claim.

All yesterday afternoon Defendant Miller held the witness stand, telling the details of the conspiracy.

"All the details of advertising the notices and transacting the land office business incident to the filing was done by Nickell. Olive F. Major is a sister of Dr. Olive Major, and a sister-in-law of Dr. Williams," said Miller. "Some of the contracts were made out in Hope's office," he continued, "and my name was signed to them by Hope and Lockenbach. Even the marshal of Medford got the filing fever and said he had talked with Hope and Nickell about it, but I never could catch him."

On cross-examination the witness said that a taste for liquor had proved his downfall, that he could not tell the truth when under its influence.

Milwaukee, July 20.—Senator La Follette, answering Congressman Hemenway, who said the Wisconsin man was the rate bill's worst enemy, says he will go to Washington at the next session to urge every amendment he proposed. He further declares that President Roosevelt congratulated him on his course, saying that "his amendments were good."

COMERS VISITED.
Washington, July 20.—President Campers in discussing the order of the president to enforce the eight hour law on government work says: "It is what the federation wanted, and tonight many years to obtain. The president is merely carrying out a promise made long ago."

The president's order is to employ the government's own offices to direct and to punish violations of the law of 1902, providing that except in case of emergency work on government buildings, shops and other properties shall be limited to eight hours, each day for each workman.

Salon, Or., July 19.—The delegates appointed to the National Irrigation Congress at Boise, Idaho, by Governor Chamberlain follow: A. D. Stinson, of Pendleton; C. M. Reagle, of Redmond; Zora Snow, of Portland; S. D. Peterson, of Astoria; Will A. Peterson, of Athena; F. N. Sheffield, of Ontario; D. C. Brownell, of Ontario; E. M. Brannock, of Portland; F. A. Tripitt, of Bend; C. M. Mallett, of Grand; F. W. Brannock, of LaGrande; C. W. Nibley, of LaGrande; D. W. Barnes, of Laidlaw; and H. E. Jones, of Redmond.

Victoria, B. C., July 20.—Governor Duncmarri received a cablegram from London this morning, to the effect that the privy council had dismissed the appeal in the Hopper vs. Duncmarri case. This restores the last chance of Ed a Wallace Hopper to obtain possession of Alex Duncmarri's share of the family's millions.

Portland, July 20.—Circuit Judge A. L. Frazier today rendered a decision in the Macleay Junction right of way case over which a pitched battle between the Hill and Harriman forces occurred last winter, holding that the O. R. & N. is entitled to a right of way across the Portland & Seatons tracks, but may pay $500 and must lower the grade three and one-half feet.

The Hill line must raise its grade seven feet. Each side must stand its own costs.

New York, July 18.—Just 15 minutes before John Johnson was to have been legally electrocuted for murder Monday, Warden Johnson, of Sing Sing prison, received a message from Attorney General Mayer which postponed the execution. Counsel for Johnson has applied to Judge LaCombe, in the United States court, for a writ of certiorari and writ of habeas corpus, but the judge had refused to grant the same, and Mr. Levy at once filed notice of appeal to the supreme court of the United States. The appeal will act as a stay of execution until the final decision.

Portland, July 21.—The connection of the defendant, Charles Nickell, former land commissioner at Medford, with the conspiracy to defraud the public, was brought out this morning in the land fraud trial in the federal court by the testimony of George Inlow, of Ashland, a victim. His contract with the mythical company was guaranteed by Nickell, who informed him that it was not necessary to know the description of the land to make a filing.

Charles C. Daughy, for man, and F. W. Riggs, a printer, in Nickell's printing office at Medford, testified to printing the books agreements.

Adam Croford told how he, his wife and son filed on claims at the instance of the defendants, who refused to show them the land after their filings had been made.

E. E. Winkler, of Medford, stated that after being victimized he was offered two dollars a head for rounding up other locators.

Mrs. Rufus Langley and daughter testified as to being victimized by the conspirators.

Washington, July 21.—The government has been officially notified that the Central American belligerents have signed a treaty of peace on board the cruiser Matibele on the high seas. The three republics have agreed to disarmament within eight days, to exchange prisoners and release political prisoners, also to recognize treaties of friendship, commerce and navigation within three months and any difficulties over the treaty and all future complaints among the three countries are to be arbitrated by the presidents of United States and Mexico.

Costa Rica and Nicaragua have also approved this arrangement and will be bound by it in the future.

New York, July 21.—It is stated on good authority that the friends of Standford White will cooperate with Harry Thaw's mother in an effort to suppress a trial and incarcerate Harry in an insane asylum. Should the prisoner persist in the retention of personal counsel and oppose the endeavor of his mother it is likely that Mrs. Thaw will apply for guardianship papers, declaring her son incapable of caring for himself.

It is thought that White's friends do not care to have the life and character of the dead man exposed in open court.

Chicago, July 20.—The National Livestock Exchange, in session at the stock yards, declares that the enforcement of the post mortem inspection law will ruin the business of its members. It appointed a committee this morning to make recommendations as to the method necessary to protect its interests.

Corvallis, Or., July 20.—President Thomas A. Gareh, of the State Agricultural College, has formally given notice of his resignation. He is 73 years old and has been engaged in educational work for 50 years. He desires to take a rest.

Denver, July 20.—The new ritual was finally adopted by the Elias today and will now be sent to the subordinate lodges. The grand lodge installed officers at its final session today. Clayton Banks, of Cheyenne, won the broncho busting contest.

Paris, July 20.—John D. Rockefeller, accompanied by his physician and family, occupied a private car in the special steamer train and sailed this evening for America. He declined to discuss the Standard Oil inquiry.

Ambassador and Mrs. McCormick were on the same steamer on a short vacation home.

Fort Worth, July 21.—E. J. Mather, of Ohio, an official of the Mexican National railroad, is here, enroute home, taking his family to safety. He says that war between the United States and Mexico is inevitable. He says that Americans, Germans and Englishmen hold the best positions, and that if jealousy of the natives has been aroused and their hatred of foreigners is growing, the government being unable to cope with the situation.

Mather declares that these conditions will cause a war within six months.

Toledo, O., July 21.—Prosecuting Attorney William David says that if John D. Rockefeller reaches Ohio he must submit to arrest or appear and give a bond to answer the charges against him. He says he will arrest the oil magnate, even on his own golf links.

Washington, July 21.—Secretary Shaw will today make partial allotments of the Panama canal bonds to all national banks that bid higher than 103. Fifty of these will be designated as government depositaries.

Fisk & Robinson, of New York, get the bulk of the bonds.

Lisks' anti-rust tireware is the cheapest in the end. Every piece guaranteed.

ANOTHER ELECTRIC PLANT FOR EUGENE

The Guard is informed that a company of Michigan capitalists are figuring on establishing a large electric light and power plant in Eugene in addition to the one operated by the Willamette Valley Company, and that they will be here some time this summer for the purpose of looking over the city and surrounding country.

One of the men interested in the project is an uncle of a resident of this city and it is through him that the Guard received its information. This gentleman says that the Michigan men are entirely able to build and operate such a plant and if the outlook suits them they will lose no time in putting it in. By request names are withheld from publication for the present.

It is said these capitalists have heard of the splendid water power of the McKenzie river and it is probable that if the plant is established here one of the many sites on the river already filed upon will be used.

M. V. Bork, of unsavory memory in Oregon as a preacher and politician, shows up in public again as a member of the Peoples' Party Clubs in national conference. He made a bitter speech in denunciation of Bryan and said that the party which took him would commit political suicide. Bork was a political agitator in the parts of Oregon in 1890 to 1894, when he suddenly departed and was not heard of for a long time.—Salem Statesman.

NOTES AND PERSONALS FROM SPRINGFIELD

Springfield will soon have water running down main street for fire protection. The mains are now laid from the pumping station to Third street.

J. W. Smith, living four miles east of Springfield, sold his farm last week, and with his family left for a few days' outing at Newport, after which they will go to Grants Pass to reside permanently.

Dr. R. A. Jayne and sons expect to leave for Portland Monday, where they will be joined by Mrs. Jayne. From there they will go to Washington and will spend three weeks on the doctor's ranch.

J. J. Bryan, Chas. Bowman and J. L. Clark, of Springfield, and Nat Borch, of Hickreal, started on their recreation trip across the mountains Monday morning. They expect to be away about six weeks and will visit Klamath Falls before returning home.

It has at last been decided by the council to let the S. P. Company complete the crossing on Mill street as first intended. The crossing instead of making an over grade will be a long cut. It makes but little difference how the crossing is fixed now, as the street is ruined for travel anyway.—News.

Wm. R. Troxell, aged 44 years, died at his farm home a mile and a half south of Eugene early this morning of acute throat trouble. He leaves a wife and two children. The remains will be taken to Corvallis Monday for interment.

Jefferson J. Howard died Wednesday evening, July 18, 1906, at his temporary home on the Test farm some four miles southwest of Junction City. He was living alone and was almost dead when discovered by W. M. Pitney Wednesday forenoon, who owns a farm adjoining.

The immediate cause of his death is unknown, but he had been failing for some time past and his death was not unexpected. He was 75 years of age and had always been rugged and hearty until a few months ago. He was in town some ten days ago and appeared quite active.

He was one of the sturdy pioneers. He came to Oregon in 1853, and has been a resident of this county ever since. His wife and four grown children survive him.

Services were held at the residence of J. M. Howard, brother of the deceased, Friday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. N. J. Harbit. The remains were interred in Young's cemetery.—Times.
