

EMBARGO ON LUMBER PARTIALLY REMOVED

From Friday's Daily Guard

The Booth Kelly Lumber Co. received word from the Southern Pacific Co. this morning that the embargo on lumber cargoes to all California points except San Francisco and Oakland had been removed, but received no assurance of relief from the car shortage. While it is practically settled that the company's mills will all shut down within a very short time if a radical change in the situation is not made at once the company has made no final determination on the matter, holding off a few days in hopes the railroad people may offer them some encouragement in the way of furnishing more cars. The night shift at the Springfield mill was taken off last night and similar action will be taken at the Coburg mill tonight. This alone shows a large number of men out of employment, but they will not remain idle long, as there is plenty of work in other parts of the state.

WHAT LOUNSBURY SAYS.

The Oregonian of today says: In discussing the traffic situation yesterday H. E. Lounsbury, district freight agent of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, said that he believed the raising of the embargo on California lumber shipments would afford relief to the Booth-Kelly Company so that it would not be found necessary to close its large mill.

"It is an error to say that a scarcity of cars has seriously hampered the Booth-Kelly or any other Oregon lumber mill," said Mr. Lounsbury.

"We have been able to supply all shippers with cars and there has been no shortage in this line, although cars have been delayed in some cases by the trouble in California."

"We were compelled to issue the order suspending shipments to Northern California cities because it was found that many firms were consigning lumber to those cities and then asking that its destination be changed to some place within a few miles of San Francisco with the object of getting it into that city as soon as possible. In this manner sidetracks on all lines near San Francisco became blocked with cars containing shipments which the consignors hoped ultimately to get into the Bay City."

"In resuming lumber shipments we have taken precautions against a continuance of this condition by allowing only direct shipments. Every firm is warned that the destination of its shipments cannot be changed."

BAD FIRE AT KLAMATH FALLS

A press dispatch from Klamath Falls yesterday says:

At 9:45 a. m. yesterday morning the explosion of a gasoline generator in the Klamath Falls steam laundry set fire to the building and contents. The fire spread rapidly to adjacent buildings. The laundry owned by B. D. Campbell and W. O. Smith, the Klamath Falls Marble Works, owned by Grizzle Bros, together with their dwelling, also the dwelling owned by Mrs. Flater were entirely consumed. Two other cottages, a blacksmith shop and a stable were somewhat damaged. Repeated explosions of gasoline and of ammunition kept in the building added to the danger of those who fought the fire. Two men were knocked down and run over by a housecar and considerably injured. The loss entailed will probably reach $10,000.

Died

From Friday's Daily Guard.

W. H. West died at 9 a. m. today five miles north of Eugene on the river road at the age of 85 years, nine months and 15 days. He leaves a wife and several children, the latter being in the East. The funeral will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. with interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. H. S. Champlin will conduct the services at the residence and the Odd Fellows at the cemetery, the deceased being a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Clearwater, Neb.

Mrs. Stratford died at the home of C. A. Stratford at Creswell, Thursday at the age of 84 years. She leaves besides her son, J. C., two others, Rev. J. L. and Judge E. D. Stratford, the latter in Kansas. The remains will be taken to Dr. Dr. today for burial.

SEWER SYSTEM AT SPRINGFIELD IMMEDIATELY

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening it was decided to put in a sewer system at once. At present the mains will only be laid in the alleys between Main and North A and Main and South A. The street committee was instructed to engage a surveyor at once and get estimates on the cost of the work.

Rev. C. R. Lamar and family will leave Springfield Tuesday, August 28, for Pomona, California, where they will make their permanent residence. Rev. Lamar has been pastor of the Baptist church at Springfield for the past three years, and it will be with disappointment that his congregation will learn of his intended departure.

Professor F. W. Roberts, from Plains, Montana, who has been engaged as principal of the Springfield public school arrived Tuesday and is now making preparations for the coming school year. He will be assisted during the year by the Misses Bernice Chessman, Etta Bowerman, Fannie Higgins, Marion Harper, Edna Doane, Theda Perkins, Elizabeth Page and Mrs. Dickenson.

The Booth-Kelly mill at Wendling closed down Tuesday night on account of the pond running dry. A log got fast crossways under the waste gate, letting the pond run entirely dry. It is claimed that it will take several days to get enough water to float the logs to the mill.

The water is now turned on for good and the business men can use the hose to their heart's content in sprinkling down the street. It is a great relief to find something that will keep down the dust.

The Springfield barbers have formed an agreement to close their shops promptly at 8 o'clock each night in the week except Saturday night, which hour for closing will be at 11:30.

Seth McAllister has severed his connections with the Willamette Valley Co. His place is now being filled temporarily by Abe Gilbert.

Finley Roberts got his commission yesterday morning and now he is a full fledged servant of Uncle Sam.

COUNTY BOUNDARY FIGHT ON AGAIN

The Journal correspondent at Albany writes: County Judge C. H. Stewart left today for the Calapooia mines. He will be joined by Senator M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, and Representative Brown, of Brownsville. The purpose of the journey is to look over the field together with a representation from Lane county and endeavor to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of the boundary dispute between Linn and Lane counties.

For years this has been a great bone of contention between the delegations from the respective counties and has become so of late years on account of the valuable mines discovered in the locality. During the last session of the legislature an effort was made to settle the question, but without avail.

It is thought by holding a conference over the matter while being on the grounds that possibly a satisfactory disposition can be made of the controversy. Some of the most valuable of the mines are located near the boundary line of the two counties and neither side is willing to forego their rights to the same without a contest.

Married

John E. Campbell, of Prineville, and Miss Julia Lassen, residing four miles west of Eugene, were united in marriage by Rev. E. A. Child at his camp on the Booth lot Saturday at nine p. m. The ceremony was one of the most ancient ones ever used by Christian people, taken from the scriptures, brief and impressive. If any of our young people would like to know more about it let them tie to the tent of Mr. Child and get the knot tied in primitive and proper style.

Tillamook Headlight: As the sacred opera "Belshazzar" was such a success, Professor M. E. Robinson, at the request of a number of citizens, is now making preparations to give the opera "Queen Esther" on Friday and Saturday evenings, during the fair, at the courthouse. Some fresh musical talent will be introduced, and Mrs. Lee M. Travis, of Eugene, has consented to take the part of Queen Esther. The sacred opera will be another fine attraction for the fair.

MILLION FEET OF LUMBER DESTROYED

Special to Daily Guard.

Cottage Grove, Aug. 18.—Word reached here this morning that on Wednesday night fire destroyed the lumber yard at the mill of D. W. Huffer, located near Divide, five miles south of this city. The loss aggregates 1,000,000 feet of good, clear and dressed lumber, which was worth, on an average, $14 per thousand and, hence, the loss falls quite heavily on Mr. Huffer. No insurance.

The fire is thought to have originated from a smoldering yellow-jacket's nest which was burned out during the previous day in order to destroy the little pests, which annoyed the yard men, but it was thought the fire in the nest was entirely extinguished before the men quit work in the evening.

NEWS ITEMS FROM LOWER SIUSLAW

Glenada, Aug. 14.—Charles E. Harwood is glad to get back to the Siuslaw again after spending several months in Portland.

W. Goodwin met with an accident Monday morning, while at work in Hurd & Co.'s mill. He made a quick jump in the doorway to get out of the way, missed his footing and fell several feet, bruising his face and breaking a small bone in his wrist. He was taken to his home in Glenada and attended by Dr. Edwards, who informs us it will be some time before he is able to run the planer again.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Emmons met with a very serious accident while up the river to meet her daughter Clara, who had been out to the teachers' examination in Eugene. She fell from the sidewalk on the way to Mrs. Workman's, where she was going to visit, spraining her shoulder, breaking her arm and otherwise injuring herself. She was attended by Dr. Edwards and moved down to her home in Florence on the boat, where he could give her more attention.

George H. Coulter left for the cape last Wednesday with L. H. Campbell, engineer of the Oregon Coast Eastern Railroad and expects to be gone a week or two.

Mrs. Coulter and family spent Sunday at the home of Charles Vanderberg of North Fork. Had a very enjoyable time and was much pleased to see the improvements along the river especially the dyking. There seemed to be miles of it.

Master Dale Harwood left Monday for Eugene to visit his relatives there. Quite a crowd of young folks went down the river on the tug L. Roscoe to go over the bar Sunday.

Leon Harkleroad came back from Washington today said he enjoyed his trip and had all the work and money he wanted in that state.

STABBED BY HOBO WHOM HE HAD BEFRIENDED

Patton, a resident of Row River, east of this place, was stabbed by a hobo at Alca Wednesday. Patton had paid the tramp's fare from Yoncalla to Comstock, then went with him to Alca, to the Chambers sawmill. The hobo went in the cookhouse and used some bad language to the cooks. Patton ordered him out. The hobo went out and Patton followed him out and knocked him down. When Patton turned his back the hobo stabbed him in the back, striking the fifth rib, which stopped the knife from going its full depth, which would have killed Patton. The wound is not serious.

Doctor Best, of Cottage Grove, was called to dress the wound. The millmen tied the tramp in the mill and telephoned for a constable. They talked of lynching. The constable brought him to Cottage Grove for confinement. Prosecuting Attorney Brown, of Douglas county, will investigate before there is any trial. Patton says he will not prosecute him, as he made the assault himself.

The hobo gives his name as John Dakussand. He was taken to jail at Roseburg.

THE LUMBER CAR SHORTAGE SITUATION

The lumber car situation is no better today than it has been for a week past and there seems to be no promise of any improvement for some time to come. The night force at the Booth-Kelly mill at Springfield, which had been temporarily laid off pending developments in the car situation, was paid off today and the men told that their services were no longer needed. There has been no definite decision in regard to closing the mills down altogether.

IRA LEE SAYS WIFE DESERTED HIM

Ira L. Lee has instituted suit in the circuit court against his wife, Ipha, whom he married at Junction City, July 24, 1901. They have one son, Lindsey, aged four years. Lee alleges that his wife, without cause or provocation, deserted him on July 1, 1905, and has since refused and neglected to live with him. Kissinger & Hooker are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Assessed Valuation Higher

The assessed valuation of property in Lane county will be fully 65 per cent higher this year than it was in 1905, according to an estimate made by Assessor B. F. Keeney, whose office is now working on the 1906 rolls. The first fifteen pages of the roll already footed up show an assessed valuation of $235,300, as compared with $140,055 for the first fifteen pages last year. At this rate the total valuation would be nearly double that of last year, but the assessor hardly thinks this rate of increase will continue throughout the 200 or 300 pages on the roll. However it may be considerably greater than his estimate of 65 per cent.

For the year 1905 the total net valuations were $8,806,030, with exemptions of $732,655 deducted. This year with no exemptions the totals with a 65 per cent increase would be $14,618,948.50.

As an indication of the rate of increase in the assessed valuation this year, a comparison of this year's assessment with that of last year on the property of a few of the largest corporations is given below, the rate of increase, however, being much greater than upon farm property and other real estate:

	1905.	1906.
Telephone Co.	$ 11,465	$ 53,585
Postal Tel. Co.	2,160	10,220
S. P. Co., road bed and rolling stock on main line only	203,800	774,540
First National Bank of Eugene	81,500	150,000
Chambers - Bristow Bank	25,000	60,000
Loan and Savings Bank	50,000	100,000
The Willamette Valley Co. will pay taxes this year on $103,550 and the First National Bank of Cottage Grove on $25,000. The footings on other big corporations have not yet been made.

ED STILES' NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Edward Stiles, a former Eugene boy, a son of the late Chief of Police J. S. Stiles, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted while working on an electric light pole in Portland yesterday. He received a shock and was rendered partially unconscious. He would have fallen to the ground had not the strap around his body been a very strong one and held him to the pole.

The first intimation his folks in Eugene had of the occurrence was conveyed to them in a telegram from him received last evening about 7:30 o'clock. It read: "Don't worry. Am all right. Papers exaggerated." They did not know what had happened to Ed, and eagerly sought the Portland evening papers upon their arrival here at nine o'clock. The telegram gives the following account:

Edward Stiles, a General Electric Company line-man, escaped an awful death this morning only because the strap around his body was a strong one and had been securely fastened. Stiles was working on a pole at the corner of Second and Alder streets about 45 feet above the pavement, when one of his tools accidentally touched a 2300 voltage wire while he was hauling another light with his right hand. The instant the tool touched the wire Stiles dropped.

"My strap was a good one, that's why I'm here now," he said after the accident. "That's about all there is to it."

Stiles' right hand is burned in several places and there is a deep burn about two inches in diameter on his hip. He will not be able to work for several days, but declares that the accident has not unnerved him and that he will return to work as soon as his hand heals. James Welch was working on the pole with Stiles. When he saw his companion slip Welch grabbed for him and pulled him out of danger and back onto the cross arm. Here Stiles rested until he recovered from the shock, and then came down the pole unaided. After his burns were dressed he walked to his home at 282 Taylor street.

"The whole affair was purely accidental," said Stiles. "I simply wasn't paying attention to the way my tools were hanging from my belt, and one of them touched a 'live one' at the wrong time. My strap did the rest. I felt I was falling but I knew Welch would get me if possible, so I didn't get weak nor worried."

Stiles was working with Wallace Sherrad last Monday when Sherrad was electrocuted on a pole near Third and Alder streets.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. GROUSBECK

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. David Grousbek was celebrated at Creswell, August 10. Friends and relatives of the aged couple gathered from miles around, and a pretty ceremony was performed at the house of the aged people. The house was beautifully decorated and in one corner was suspended a wedding bell of gold and green. Rev. Stratford made a happy talk to the party assembled and afterwards a poem written especially for the occasion was recited by Mrs. Edith Morris. The old people then stepped forth their place under the wedding bell and their positions were taken by their youngest, Gertrude Lillas, and Edson L. Barnett, who were then themselves united in wedlock by the Episcopal service. This part of the programme was a surprise to some of those present, but congratulations were all the more sincere.

David Grousbek was born in the Green Mountains of Vermont, and his wife was raised in Ohio. They were married at Iron Mountain, Wis., and about 1888 came West to Oregon, where they have had their residence since. Ten children have been born to this union, nine of whom are still living.

Louis Reizenstein's aggregation of ball tossers from Roseburg went down to ignominious defeat at the hands of our neighbors, the Springfield Blues, at Springfield yesterday afternoon to the tune of 20 to 1. The Roseburgers were outclassed from start to finish and the Springfield boys declared they could have made nearly twice as many runs as they did.

TO HARNESS THE WATERS OF HORSE CREEK

S. W. Curtis, of San Francisco, this morning filed with County Clerk Lee a notice of a water right location on Horse Creek, the stream on which the Foley Springs are located. The notice states that 20,000 miners' inches, under a six-inch pressure, of the waters of the north fork of Horse Creek are appropriated, the water being in volume a continuous flow of 500 cubic feet per second. The water is appropriated for the purpose of developing the mineral resources of the state of Oregon and to furnish electrical power and energy for light, heat and other purposes. The canal, to be known as the Warren canal, will be 15 feet wide on the bottom and six feet deep.

The point of diversion is on the south bank of the stream at or near the head of the Horse creek falls. The whole length of the canal will be in the Cascade forest reserve and the general course will be in a southwesterly direction. It will be three miles in length, discharging near the mouth of the south fork of the creek. Two reservoirs are planned, one near the lake and will consist of a dam 50 feet high, to be extended across the creek. The other will be located hereafter at a point deemed advisable or convenient.

Mr. Curtis and his wife, who have been enjoying an outing at Foley Springs, arrived in Eugene on last night's stage and left for San Francisco this afternoon. Mr. Curtis, when seen by a Guard reporter this morning, declined to make a statement concerning his new water but it is understood he is a representative of the Pittsburg Reduction Co., of Niagara Falls, manufacturers of aluminum. It may be possible that within the next few years an aluminum plant will be built in Eugene and the electric power to operate it furnished from the site just filed on by Mr. Curtis.

MANY ANIMALS BURNED IN FIRE UP SANTIAM

Detroit, Or. Aug. 17.—The forest fire is still running on both sides of the Santiam river, near here, and it is difficult to estimate the amount of damage done. The railroad bridge on the C. & E. R. R., leading up Breitenbush creek to the logging works of the Curtis Lumber Company, was burned yesterday, also the flume and all the buildings located at the Curtis Lumber Company's dam.

Sixteen pack horses belonging to different packers here were burned to death Monday, and people camped at the Hot Springs are unable to get out. The fire is checked, however, between Detroit and the springs, and the campers are in no real danger.

Many cows and pigs belonging to mill hands have met death along the path of the fire, and several families barely escaped from their homes with their lives. Mills and logging camps have suspended work, and all hands are fighting fire. One party was working at the dam a couple of miles below here when the fire closed in on them and the only means of escape was to wade up the river.

The fire on the north side of the river is about all extinguished, but is burning rapidly on the south side. Not much damage can be done there, however, except to the timber, and this is falling fast as a result of the flames. It is said to be the most destructive fire ever known in this part of the state.

LIVELY BLAZE IN PORTLAND SATURDAY

Portland, Aug. 18.—Flames of unknown origin, breaking out in the Lewis bakery, caused a spectacular fire at an early hour this morning, swept clean the greater portion of the block bounded by Burnside and Couch and Fourth and Fifth streets, occupied by frame buildings.

Thirteen business houses were totally and several others partially destroyed. Nineteen horses in a livery stable were incinerated.

There was a panic among the guests of the Quimby hotel, a four-story frame building, which was partially gutted. One hundred and fifty lives were endangered and there were many narrow escapes.

The loss will be from $15,000 to $20,000.

J. H. FLOWER DEFIES MOB AT DALLAS

Dallas, Or., Aug. 17.—J. H. Flower who was ordered out of Dallas by a mob recently, has returned to his home here, and declares his intention to remain. Flower was arrested on a statutory charge, preferred by Charles Ross, a liveryman of this place, in connection with the latter's little daughter. At his preliminary hearing Flower proved his innocence. He was dismissed, no evidence sufficient to hold him having been adduced. Notwithstanding that the court cleared him, a mob gathered which threatened to do him bodily injury. The mob was induced to desist on promise of Sheriff Grant that he would send Flower out of town. This Grant did, but it is alleged that although the sheriff acted in good faith the members of the mob did not, but later went to Flower's house and demanded the privilege of searching for him.

After a parley two of the members were admitted, and it is claimed that some of the windows were smashed during the search. Mrs. Flower called one of the mob by name, and it is alleged that she was commanded not to repeat any names on that occasion.

Flower says that he is prepared for any emergency, that he is innocent and will not be driven away. At present there are no signs of violence. Influences are at work to prosecute the persons engaged in driving him out of town.

COULD OUTWITS HARRIMAN IN OREGON COUNTRY

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—By a piece of strategy which has started railroad circles the Gould lines have obtained an entry into Oregon and will eventually have access to all northern cities and ports of importance except Coos Bay. A. B. Hammond, president of the Corvallis & Eastern and Astoria & Columbia railroads, says that the first named road will be extended from Idanha, Linn county, across Central Oregon to some point on Snake river, probably Ontario.

Work will also be started on the Astoria & Columbia connection and will be pushed south along the coast from Seaside to the Nehalem and Tillamook districts.
