

HOW GEORGE WRIGHT MET HIS DEATH

(From Saturday's Guard.)
A press dispatch from Bellingham, Wash., to the Portland Journal as follows tells of the death of George Wright, mentioned in yesterday's Guard:

"Tossed high in the air by the spring of a log on which he had been standing, George Wright, of Junction City, Oregon, of the Lake Whatcom Logging Company, fell to his death this morning in a most remarkable way.

"Wright had completed an undercut in a tree that was to be cut down. Two others started to work with their saws and Wright stepped out on the end of a small cedar log, balanced on another timber, to get the lay of the ground around him and determine on the best way to fall the next tree.

"The two men with the saws completed their work and the cry of 'timber' was given. Wright presumably heard the cry, but thinking he was at least ten or fifteen feet from the place where the tree would fall, considered himself safe. The log struck the opposite end of the cedar log on which Wright stood, causing the end on which he was to fly upward, tossing the man high in the air."

HARRIMAN LINES ORDER 16,000 CARS

The associated lines of the Union Pacific, Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific have placed orders with Eastern freight car builders for 16,000 new freight cars, and with the locomotive builders for 350 new locomotives, delivery of the equipment to begin next January. This significant statement was made today by J. P. O'Brien, general manager of the Harriman lines in the Pacific Northwest.

The orders for the new equipment have been submitted and approved in conference of the chiefs of departments and Mr. Harriman, president of the various companies. It is said the carbuilders are almost swamped with these and other large orders for new equipment from nearly every railroad company in the country. Today there remain 2690 freight cars yet to be delivered to the Harriman lines from last year's orders. The 2600 cars, if they could be delivered at this time in the Pacific Northwest, would not take care of one-half of the shortage in the lumber business alone.—Portland Journal.

BURNS AND O'BRIEN FOUGHT BLOODY DRAW

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns last night fought twenty terrific rounds to a draw. When the end came it found both men in the center of the ring engaged in a terrific struggle. The whole upper part of their bodies was covered with blood. While Jeffries held up the gloves of both fighters a shout of disapproval went up from Burns' admirers, who believed their man had won.

Burns, who fought like a bulldog from beginning to end, was always on the aggressive, crowding his opponent to the ropes and frequently rushing him across the ring. Burns landed many more blows than his opponent and they seemed to show greater force.

O'Brien's footwork, however, was fast and clever, and his ducking gave him time and again from severe punishment. Burns, however, landed many stiff blows on O'Brien's face and had the latter's nose bleeding and right eye laid open early in the fight. Burns, too, was severely punished about the face, his nose being lacerated and his left eye completely closed at the termination of the fight. The men showed evidence of bitterness toward each other throughout the fight.

It looked in the middle of the fight as though Burns would win easily. O'Brien was almost groggy and a knockout seemed not improbable. In the sixteenth round O'Brien, who had rested in the clinches, appeared strengthened and for awhile carried the fight to his opponent.

WILL SHIP POTATOES AS LOCAL FREIGHT.

Scobert & Dodge Determined to Get Their Stock to Market, Will Stand Additional Expense.

Scobert & Dodge, of this city, announce that owing to the car shortage they are unable to move their large stock of potatoes in carload lots, but as the railroad company will accept potatoes as local shipments, they will ship them to the markets in California that way, paying the additional expense. They have at least ten carloads on hand now and all will be shipped as local freight, and will reach their destination within a few days, whereas if the firm waited for empty cars to ship them in carload lots, it might be several weeks before even the first shipment was made.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Cure Catarrh by breathing Hyomei. Sold Under Guarantee.

The only scientific and common sense way to treat catarrh of the nose and throat is by a local application that will kill the catarrhal germs.

Ordinary stomach dosing is worse than useless. Taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the head can have no good effect, and often leads to serious derangement of the digestive organs.

By breathing Hyomei three or four times daily through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its medicated, healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills all catarrhal germs, and soothes and heals any irritation of the mucous membrane.

Mr. Hull has such faith in the wonderful merit of Hyomei as a cure for catarrh that he gives with every Hyomei outfit that the money will be refunded unless the treatment gives satisfaction.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a medicine dropper, costs but $1, extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, 50 cents. Mr. Hull gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if Hyomei does not relieve, so that you run no risk at all in buying this reliable remedy. n23 30 d7 14

ORGANIZING FIGHTING SHIPS FOR SERVICE

Washington, Nov. 30.—The completed plans for the organization of the fighting vessels of the navy into two fleets for service on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States in such a manner that the whole force may be readily mobilized in case of emergency, is announced by Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, in his annual report made public today. Concentration of the battle fleet in American waters and the assignment of all vessels therein to the command of one flag officer will be completed about January 1st next. The assignment of ships of the battle line is to Atlantic waters and of cruisers and gunboats to the Pacific waters, in accordance with present strategic requirements.

The grade of vice admiral will be revived if the navy department adopts the recommendation of Rear Admiral Converse. He says at least two vice admirals should be created for commanders of the Atlantic and Asiatic fleets, who will soon have under them subordinate rear admirals and a large number of ships.

In his annual report the rear admiral says it has been a matter of deep consideration whether it would not add to the efficiency of the naval service if marines were withdrawn from all battleships, leaving the work now assigned to marines to blue jackets. It is said the presence of marines suggests to the enlisted men that the marines are there for police duty and this is resented.
