

SHORT ROUTE TO KLAMATH FALLS FROM NATRON

Carl Rankin, civil engineer in charge of the permanent survey of the Harriman road being run from Natron to Klamath Falls, spent Christmas in Albany, says the Albany Democrat, being accompanied by his wife and family. They will go to San Francisco on a short holiday visit. Mr. Rankin has now been in the field along this line for eighteen months. He has run a temporary line to Klamath Falls and a permanent line fifty-five miles. His headquarters are now at Hazel Dell, just this side of the snow line. Too much snow beyond for work. The road is being made with a first-class road bed in view, one that will mean a good deal to the Harriman system on the coast. Particular attention is being made to the securing of a low grade, and a 1-5 grade is prevailing. The distance from Natron to Klamath Falls will be 157 miles, about half the distance now around by Thrall, something that means a good deal in the future. A fine section of the country is being tapped, but the route means more than that as a part of a big transcontinental line. Mr. Rankin, in charge of this important work, is a native of Albany, where his mother resides.

MARTIN GETS FREE PASSPORT TO SALEM

Marvin Martin, under a two-year parole sentence for the crime of horse stealing, could not keep out of trouble and was taken to the penitentiary today by Deputy Sheriff Harry Graham.

Judge Harris arrived home yesterday, and after consulting Justice Bryson in reference to the boy's latest trouble, the facts of which were published in yesterday's Guard, issued commitment papers to Sheriff Fisk and as a result he will now have to serve out his full time. At the trial today Martin appeared to be very unconcerned and laughed and chatted with friends as if nothing unusual was taking place.

CHAIN OF WIRELESS TELEGRAPH STATIONS

Vallejo, Cal., Dec. 27.—Master Electrician Hanson, of Mare Island Navy Yard, with five assistants, left today for Ilwaco, Wash., to establish a wireless plant at North Head. It will be completed within a month, and another station will be fitted up at Cape Blanco, 20 miles south of Ilwaco, completing a chain of wireless telegraph stations in the Pacific coast.

EUGENE GOOD MARKET FOR CORN-FED HOGS

E. C. Stitzer marketed a couple of pigs, eight months old, in Eugene, that weighed 840 pounds each. Watkins & Miller's meat market paid 6 1/2 cents live weight for these hogs, which made it a very profitable transaction for the grower.

Mr. Stitzer's hogs were corn fed, and he is a believer in corn-fed pork, having found by experience that it pays best for the farmer.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Near Las Anas, Colo., Henry Latz, a well-known farmer, was murdered by a tramp giving his name as Lawrence Leberg. The crime was very brutal because the farmer protested against the burning of his haystack by the tramp. Being arrested soon after, Leberg boasted of murdering the farmer and drinking his blood. At night a mob attempted to lynch the prisoner, but after storming the jail all night were followed by the sheriff.

Near Lexington, Ky., Hiram Mullins and son, William, were slain after a hard battle with their feud enemies, the Littles.

For six hours yesterday a maniac

General Debility

Day in and day out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh. It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers. For this condition take ran the switch yards at Cavanaugh, Ind., a junction point near Hammond, where the Lake Shore tracks cross those of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad. He gained possession of the tower house, flagged every passenger and freight train that passed, and with a coupling pin put to flight every train crew that made a protest. In four hours he discharged 24 brakemen and six conductors, and to fill the vacancies hired any "Wearry Willie" that showed up. The maniac was finally overpowered and taken into custody.

NEW MECHINERY FOR BLACK BUTTE

The Electrochemical and Metallurgical Institute Magazine for November contained an exhaustive article on W. R. Dennis, of Black Butte, new mercury furnace, and his process of distillation. The patents are applied for are a process patent and an apparatus patent, and are both defined as processes entirely new in the distillation of ores. The new furnaces being constructed on the principle as outlined will be put in operation within a few months. Considerable delay is being encountered in getting the large tile to cover the floor of the condenser, as they are of an unusually large size. The electric power plant will be installed in the spring, and by that time Assistant Superintendent Cooper expects to have the new ore houses, crushers, r-ills, etc., all ready for operation. W. B. Dennis is in New York attending to the affairs of the company at that end.

BUSY TIMES ON CLASSIC MOHAWK VALLEY

(Thursday's Daily.)

M. J. Arnel, of the firm of Arnel & Evans, who have the contract for furnishing meat for the S. P. mills on the Mohawk, was transacting business in Eugene today. He says that times are pretty lively in that little valley. Mills Nos. 1 and 2 of the S. P. Company are running to their full capacity and that No. 3 is well under construction. No. 3 is situated near the head of Cartwright's creek, about three miles from the town of Marcola. The lumbermill is flumed to Marcola from this mill, the bridge across the Mohawk for their flume having been completed last week. It crosses the river on the old Evans place a few hundred yards above the town. Mr. Arnel predicts that Marcola will be the busiest little lumbering town in the state next summer. People are arriving daily to make permanent homes in different sections of the valley and the price of real estate, especially in the town of Marcola, is steadily on the increase.

The Booth-Kelly mill at Wendling is undergoing repairs during the holiday season, but operations will be resumed early in the year. The Hyland mill still continues to grind away and the Brookmeyer and Mohawk Lumber Companies' plants will start up at the close of the holiday season.

CAPTAIN ALBERT R. COUDEN, U. S. N.

Captain Albert R. Couden, commanding the battleship Louisiana, which took President Roosevelt on his Panama trip, is a native of Indiana. He entered the Naval Academy before his seventeenth birthday and has been in the service nearly forty-four years. After his graduation in 1867 he served for two years aboard the famous old ship Franklin, which had been Admiral Farragut's flagship in wartime and which was then the flagship of the European squadron. He has been general inspector of ordnance for the navy.

HUNDREDS ARRESTED IN CZAR'S CAPITAL IN THREE DAYS

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—The "flying section" of the secret police, according to the report of Prefect Von Der Launitz, has made 588 arrests in this city during the past two days. The prisoners, who include 37 women, are charged with "revolutionary activity and illegal election activity." Further arrests and searches are proceeding vigorously.

The activity of the police is due to the recent attempt on the life of Vice Admiral Doubasoff, ex-governor of Moscow, and the assassination of Count Alexis Ignatoff at Tver December 22.

The leaders of the revolutionists, by an overwhelming majority, have resolved "ceaselessly to pursue their just campaign of removal, intimidation being the only effective weapon against the iniquitous regime."

The more moderate members of the revolutionist party have been won over to the side of the extremists through the action of the authorities in prohibiting electoral meetings of the opposition parties.

Governor Murdered.

Omsk, Asiatic Russia, Dec. 28.—General Litvinoff, governor of the province of Akmolinsk, was assassinated in the street close to his office today by two unknown men.

AWFUL CRIME CAUSED BY INSANE JEALOUSY

Portland, Dec. 28.—A terrible tragedy was enacted in the kitchen of the little home of Arturo Bignami at Harrison and Water streets, South Portland, today, when Luigi Savignana, an Italian, stabbed and killed Mrs. Julia Bignami and probably fatally stabbed Mrs. Bignami's aged mother-in-law, Mrs. Annini Vismora. Savignana, after committing the horrible deed, went to a drug store at 67 North Third street, North Portland, and shot himself in the head. He will die. The Bignami family recently came here from Los Angeles, Cal., where Savignana also lived for a few weeks, although his home is in Portland.

Savignana entered the kitchen of the Bignami home this morning while Mrs. Vismora was bedding over a wash tub and Mrs. Bignami was preparing her nine-months-old baby

MORE FOREST RESERVES HAVE BEEN CREATED

Washington, Dec. 27.—Assistant Commissioner Pollock, of the general land office, today notified the land officers in the territories directly interested that 118,760 acres in the northeastern section of Oregon, located in Willamette and Union counties, of that state, and adjoining the Chesnimusk and Willamette forest reserves, were withdrawn from any disposition whatsoever in order to add to the reserve above mentioned.

Also that for forest purposes 600,000 acres in Idaho and Wyoming, of which 592,000 are situated in the southeastern part of Idaho, in Bingham and Bannock counties, had been withdrawn from entry.

MANY FREEZE TO DEATH IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Dec. 28.—Nine persons have been found frozen to death on the roads in England during the past 24 hours, and the continuing snow-fall has created practically an unprecedented situation, and the worst known in thirty years in Great Britain. The conditions existing here apparently prevail throughout Europe also.

Railroad traffic is greatly hampered and several trains are imbedded in the snow, the British railroads being poorly equipped to meet such unusual and extraordinary conditions.

Major Geo. O. Yoran, Captain J. M. Williams, Captain C. C. Hammond, Lieutenant Geo. Willoughby and Lieutenant Henry Hunter are in Portland, where they will attend an O. N. G. banquet tonight.

BIG FINANCIERS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

New York, Dec. 28.—George W. Perkins and Charles S. Fairchild were today indicted by the grand jury on the charge of forgery in the third degree, in connection with the insurance investigation.

George W. Perkins was formerly vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company and is now a member of the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., and Charles S. Fairchild was formerly secretary of the treasurer and trustee of the New York Life Insurance Company. The indictments were based on what is known as the Prussian bond transaction, in which it is charged that a false statement was made by the New York Life insurance Company in order to satisfy the government of Prussia as to the securities held by that company.

One of the transactions investigated by the grand jury in this connection and the one in which the indictments were found was what was alleged to be the dummy sale of ten thousand shares of Chicago & Northwestern preferred stock and 3500 shares of St. Paul stock to the New York Security and Trust Company. As far as appeared on the books of the New York Life this transaction was a complete sale of the securities. The New York Security and Trust Company, however, regarded it as a loan. Later these shares were sold by the New York Security and Trust Company at a profit to the New York Life Insurance Company of about $155,000. This alleged false statement of sale had for its object compliance with the rules of the Prussian government that a life insurance company doing business in that country should not include corporation stocks in its assets, but may include bonds in such assets.

CHICAGO PLANS GREAT FARMERS' SHOW

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The Chicago Commercial Association is planning the greatest agricultural exposition ever held in this country. The fact developed through a conference held with the executive committee of the Western Passenger Association, with a view to ascertaining what rates the railroads would give for such an event. The railroad men were also asked what the railroads would give toward promoting and carrying through the exposition.

The plan is to hold a harvest home festival next October or November. The railroad men said there was no doubt that the railroads would do all in their power to aid the movement, providing it is in accordance with and is made of national character, and was on a comprehensive plan. The opinion was expressed that now is the time to promote a national prosperity jubilee and to favor it in the metropolis of the Middle West.

AMERICANS KILLED BY SAVAGE YAQUIS

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 28.—Business men of Sonora, Mexico, recently arriving here, state that the news of Yaqui murders there are not surprising, in fact, it is not news below the line. They say that within the last two months sixteen Americans have been killed at one point or another. Most of them were settlers who had fled three years ago during the Indian troubles, but recently returned, believing that railroad building had progressed to a point where they would be protected and safe from the murderous bands of savages.

MRS. AYERS MURDERED BY YOUNG SON

Portland, Dec. 29.—A special dispatch to the Evening Telegram from St. Helens, Oregon, says that Elbert Oleman, the thirteen-year-old adopted son of Mrs. Sarah Ayers, has confessed to the murder of his mother, which occurred last night on the Ayres ranch near Warren, in Columbia county, Oregon.

The boy stated that he had killed his mother because she punished him for not faithfully performing some of the duties assigned to him.

Young Oleman was adopted by the Ayres family five years ago. He lived at Lebanon until his parents died. Two sisters of the scattered family live at Salem and another at Silverton, Oregon. He had been rather a good boy, the neighbors say, and at the sheriff's office here is pronounced intelligent and bright. At Warren, too, near where the Ayres family lived and where the family is well known, the boy was counted smart. The Ayres family had never adopted him.

Young Oleman's dreadful deed took place last night. Mr. Ayres was absent in the hills and the youth had been working around the place. Mrs. Ayres upbraided him, he says, and when she finally sent him upstairs he was slow about retiring. Mrs. Ayres kept calling up: "Why aren't you in bed yet? Why don't you go to bed?" but after a time the boy came down stairs again. More hard words were exchanged.

"She said she would beat me to death," exclaimed the boy when he confessed to the killing. "I turned away as if to go up stairs, but instead picked up the rifle. She wasn't looking. She was sewing and her head was the other way. I lifted the rifle and pulled the trigger."

The boy went from the house to the residence of Lou Davies, a neighbor, a quarter of a mile away, where, he said, an assassin had shot through the window.

"I was unlacing my shoes upstairs," he said. "I was just going to bed when I heard it. I ran down and there was Mrs. Ayres dying. I opened the door and saw a man running near the barn. I don't know who he was and he didn't say anything."

A few minutes later the boy told the same story to another neighbor. Men hurried to the Ayres place and the lad's tale looked good at first, but on the floor lay the family rifle, a 40-6 calibre affair, which had been recently discharged, and when the officers arrived on the scene and looked for the footprints around the barn none were found. Neither did the boy's attitude seem real, and sheriff White began to question him. He stuck by the story for several hours, but finally broke down under the "sweating" and told all.

Young Oleman sits unconcerned in the Columbia county jail today. He has a book and entertains himself by reading.
