

A CAROLINA LEGISLATOR.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter Uses
Pe-ru-na As a Family Medicine.

WHEN a man of undoubted reputation comes out squarely in public print, giving unqualified endorsement to a household remedy there must be something genuine to account for it.

Hon. W. G. Hunter, of North Carolina, well-known in Washington and throughout the Southern States, says of Peruna that he regards it as the greatest family medicine ever discovered.

He does not hesitate to say that Peruna invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body.

Such testimonials as this ought to make Peruna popular.

No advertising known to the arts of man, no commercial management could ever raise Peruna to such a high standard of appreciation as the frank and unqualified statements of such men.

Peruna is an ideal household remedy. It wards off colds and relieves catarrh in all its forms and phases.

By ridding the system of catarrh, it cleanses the body of those conditions which invite chronic diseases.

Cold Affected Head, Throat and Lungs.
Mr. Matthew O'Hare, 145 William St., Fall River, Mass., writes:

"About four years ago I consulted a physician to get relief from a cold which had stopped up my head and also settled on my lungs, resulting in catarrh and also throat difficulties.

"He gave me some medicine, but four months faithful use of the same did me no good. I then tried other doctors, but it was just the same.

"So I decided to try Peruna and after using two bottles my lungs began to heal. I did not cough nearly so much and slept better.

"In six months the cough, catarrh and throat difficulties were all cured.

"I was pleased with the result and wish to write you of it. Seven bottles of Peruna cured me."

A. L. Hewitt, J. P., West Berlin, N. J., writes: "I am happy to be able to write you this letter in relation to what your Peruna has done for my family.

"When I brought the first bottle home, I found my wife and daughter both sick—my wife with indigestion and my daughter with a severe cold. They were both cured.

"I am willing to state that Peruna, taken in the beginning, will cure the worst cold in 24 to 36 hours."

HON. WM. G. HUNTER.

Cough, Colds, Catarrh
Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter, ex-member North Carolina Legislature, writes from the Census Office Building, Washington, D. C., concerning Peruna:

"The greatest family medicine ever discovered, in my opinion, which comes from experience as well as observation, is Peruna. The most common affliction to mankind is a bad cold. Peruna drives it out of doors, wards off catarrh, invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body. I give Peruna my unqualified endorsement."

Mr. G. W. Taylor, Clendenin, W. Va., writes:

"I think that Peruna is the greatest tonic that was ever put on the market. For several years my eyes bothered me so much. The pain was so severe sometimes I would think they would surely burst out of my head.

"I tried Peruna and Manlin and am today a well man. I am sure I should have died had it not been for Dr. Hartman's wonderful medicine, Peruna."

Such testimony as the above has given Peruna a high standard in the estimation of the public.

WILLAMETTE REACHED HIGHEST POINT TUESDAY

(From Tuesday's Guard.)

As predicted by the Guard, the Willamette river reached a higher point some time last night than it has for years. Early this morning the gauge on the bridge showed a height of 21 feet and it was then falling. Indications point to the fact that a height of at least 21½ feet or possibly 22 feet was reached during the night. The hard rain ceased last evening and the water in the river began to fall six or eight hours afterward. The weather still remains very warm and should another heavy rain occur there would be danger of still higher water.

Reports from up the McKenzie and the upper Willamette show that a good deal of damage was done to property along the river bottoms. Fences and outbuildings were swept away and some small stock has been lost. Over in the McKenzie valley the water is spread over miles of territory, it being higher in that vicinity than it has been for 20 years, the flood of 1890 being a small one in comparison. The Willamette, however, did not reach the height it did 17 years ago, and there has not been a fraction of the damage there was then.

Part of Bridge Goes Out.

This forenoon shortly before 11 o'clock one bent of the north approach to the Eugene wagon bridge fell, the piling which held it up having been undermined. This same bent was damaged by the high water in January, but new piling was put in and it was thought to be strong enough to withstand another freshet, but it seems that the force of the current centered there was too strong. There were a number of men on the approach at the time the bent began to sink, and a lively scramble to regain the main structure ensued, but there was no danger, as four or five minutes elapsed before it finally went down. The remainder of the approach is also pretty badly twisted out of shape and an entirely new one will have to be built. There is a great pile of logs and debris against the lower end of the approach, and if the river was rising instead of falling the weight of the pile would cause the whole approach to be washed down stream.

Ferry at Jasper Out.

A telephone message from Jasper this forenoon stated that the county ferry there was out of commission, the derricks on each side of the river having gone out last night. The boat was sunk. The line across the river for the government gauge also went out. A report had been received there that the Unity bridge across the Big Fall Creek had been washed out, but later it was learned that the structure is still standing and that it was some other smaller bridge that went out.

Several million feet of logs passed Jasper yesterday and they will be a total loss, as it will be impossible to recover them on account of the swift current taking them out of reach.

The Train Situation.

All northbound trains were late on account of high water. A few rods above Springfield Junction the water last night undermined the tracks for a distance of 20 feet. Southbound passenger train No. 15 was held here till 8 o'clock, the track being repaired by that time. The Cottage Grove local was also some hours late, and it passed through about 9 o'clock, immediately followed by northbound overland No. 16. Northbound overland No. 12, due here at 12:09 this afternoon, was reported six hours late, but it will probably be later than that. Yesterday afternoon's train was reported seven hours behind time, but it was over nine hours in arriving here.

Local Livestock Market

One lone load of hogs coming in yesterday over the Southern Pacific completed the receipts at the local yards up to noon today.

There being nothing to sell, no change in quotations can be made. There was a better inquiry for good cattle today than for a long time past, and if it were possible to get supplies a good many butchers would be made happy.

An effort is being made to bring in something over the West Side line today, but it is problematical whether it can be accomplished. The high water puts a stop to boat shipments, and the outlook for the next few days is pretty bad all around. Another load of hogs will probably get through during the afternoon, but that is everything that can be counted upon with any degree of certainty.

Portland Market Report

Portland, Ore., Feb. 7

Reports coming from San Francisco and through trade papers show that the potato market there is somewhat easier, though no drop in quotations of a considerable character had been made up to yesterday. Early today there was wire trouble and dealers were not posted up to noon on the Bay City situation.

Recent receipts of Oregon potatoes at San Francisco have run up to from 2000 to 3000 sacks per day and these heavy receipts, added to the California product, have kept up the supplies to considerably over requirements.

Locally the market is at a standstill, there being no chance to move stocks from the country—rail trouble, high water, bad roads and recent unfortunate weather combining to cause a stoppage in shipments.

Fortunately stocks in dealers' warehouses are fairly large and are held steady against demands of city trade.

Sweet potato stocks are falling low and but few more are expected.

Good Lots of Vegetables

Trade in vegetables continued brisk this morning and prices were generally well kept up to last week's figures.

A car of Los Angeles cabbage arrived and was practically disposed of before the day's end. Small crate ($5 pounds) sold at 2½c per pound, while the choicer size brought 3c.

Cauliflower was in good demand, and rapidly brought $2.50 a crate.

The street presented a very busy scene this morning, for, in addition to the regular traffic, dealers were moving stocks from the docks, where high water had covered the lower floors early in the day.

Country Produce Slow

There is still no activity in the poultry market, and while receipts were rather light, there was also a small demand that was easily met.

Eggs are unchanged, 40c being top named today at the principal houses, and 37½c as the more usual figure quoted. Receipts below normal.

Injury Reported to Hop Vines

Reports of injury to hop vines in several localities, through alternating cold and thaw, continue to come in.

Growers who have offices in Portland are not inclined to place much credence in the scary character of the freeze news, and claim that so far as can be learned and based upon previous years' experience, there is no reason to fear any considerable loss in the hopyards.

Every winter more or less freezing out of roots occurs, they say, and is to be expected now.

Several large lots of '07s were reported as changing hands yesterday at from 9½c to 10½c.

BEWARE OF "DIGESTIVES."

The Only Way to Cure Stomach Disorders is by Strengthening the Digestive Organs.

The ordinary pepsin tablet has ruined more stomachs than all other causes combined. While it gives temporary relief it leaves the digestive system weaker than ever, and the tablets must be continued with increased frequency.

The only way to permanently cure stomach troubles is by strengthening the digestive organs with a Mi-o-na stomach tablet taken before meals. In this way the remedy prepares the stomach for the food, and excites the secretion of gastric juices, so that when the food is eaten, the stomach is prepared to digest it.

If Mi-o-na was a mere digestive, it would be taken after eating, so as to mix with the food, but then permanent relief would not be gained.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box, convenient for the purse or pocket, and cost but 50 cents. Mr. Hull has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction. You run no risk in using Mi-o-na, for you are sure to be cured at a trifling expense, or else your money will be returned.

GUARD WINS SUIT AGAINST NEW YORK FIRM

Judge Harris in the circuit court today gave the Guard Printing Company a decree against the Conner-Fendler Company, of New York city, who recently sold the Guard a press that was not at all as represented. The Guard Printing Company asked for the money held by the First National Bank of this city in payment for the Conner-Fendler bill and for damages, etc.

The court decreed that the money held by the bank be paid over to the Guard Printing Company. In the matter of damages and freight payment the court ordered a continuance and it will be decided at a later date.

The Conner-Fendler Company failed to put in an appearance.

PLAN PRESENTED FOR NEW STATE OF LINCOLN

A special dispatch from Spokane says that a convention will be held in that city in March to discuss the plan of the new state of Lincoln is definitely proposed by F. H. Mason and C. H. Moore, very prominent business men, who ask that the Spokane Chamber of Commerce issue a call to all commercial bodies. The plan contemplates extending the southern boundary of Washington through Idaho, thus constituting the south boundary of the new state. Montana would be the east boundary, British Columbia the northern boundary, and the west, instead of being the Cascade Mountains, would be an extension of the East boundary of California, the 120th parallel of latitude. This would leave Wenatchee and North Yakima and Ellensburg in the state of Washington, of which Olympia is the capital.

Possibly opposition from Idaho to the proposed plan will be met by extending the present Idaho boundary west to meet the same parallel that now constitutes the eastern boundary of California. Thus all that portion of the present state of Oregon bounded on the south by Nevada would be added to Idaho. Idaho would gain more territory than she loses and be more symmetrical. No opposition is anticipated from south Idaho on the proposed basis, as it would give it such cities as Baker, La Grande and Pendleton.

Oregon and Washington would be the only states to suffer serious loss of territory and opposition from the west part of each of these states would have to be overcome by the promoters of the state of Lincoln.

DRAIN ROAD PLANS
MAY BE CHANGED

It is rumored that the S. P. Co., feeling that the people of Coos Bay are manifesting unreasonable hostility and not willing to grant suitable inducements for the building of the new railroad to the bay, has concluded to miss the bay towns entirely by about six miles. Another rumor is to the effect that the railroad company intends to abandon the Coos Bay harbor and build at the mouth of the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, one of the finest harbors on the Pacific coast. Without a dollar being expended the bar at that place is deep enough to admit the largest ships afloat. It is an ideal harbor site as well for a great and flourishing city, which would be named Winchester. In such an event it would not be such a constant drain on the government to keep the harbor open for ships.—Drain Nonpareil.

THAW TRIAL HAS OPENED IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 4.—The trial of Harry Thaw, accused of the murder of Stanford White, was begun in Justice Fitzgerald's court this morning.

Contrary to expectations there were no further changes in the jury, but this was due to the obdurate stand of the attorneys for the defense, who would not surrender to the appeals of District Attorney Jerome for the dismissal of some of the jurors.

District Attorney Garvan delivered the opening address for the prosecution, speaking ten minutes. He congratulated the jurors and outlined the purpose of the law, which was not seeking vengeance, but to uphold the security of the state. He reviewed the scenes the night of the tragedy on June 25, 1906, and told how, while watching the production of "Mamselle Champagne" White was shot and killed by Harry K. Thaw.

District Attorney Jerome asked the court to exclude all witnesses in the case except the experts, and by doing this he disclosed the fact that Mrs. William Thaw and Mrs. Harry K. Thaw will both take the stand for the defense. May McKenzie also left the room. Thaw appeared greatly downcast at the exclusion of his mother and wife.

Lawrence White, son of the dead architect, was the first witness.

Young White was on the stand but a few minutes. He told of accompanying his father to the Cafe Martin for dinner, and said that when he left there to go with his chum, A. D. King, to the roof garden, that was the last time he saw his father alive. Thaw's attorneys did not cross-examine the witness.

Warner Paxton, engineer of the Madison Square Roof Garden, was an eye witness to the shooting and arrest of Thaw. He went down in the elevator with Thaw, who admitted the killing, saying:

"He ruined my wife."

A woman whom he thought was Thaw's wife replied to this:

"But look at the fix you are in now," and Thaw replied:

"Well, dearie, I have probably saved your life."

The witness was not cross-examined.

Meyer Cohen, a songwriter and manager of the house which produced "Mamselle Champagne," was the third witness for the state. He related Thaw's manner in approaching White just before the shooting. He was briefly cross-examined.

Gleason asserted that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, when first asked by Harry K. Thaw to be his wife, refused because of an "experience in her life connected with Stanford White."

Henry S. Plaese, of the publishing company owning "Mamselle Champagne," saw the defendant fire at White, and saw him looking around the theatre previous to the shooting.

The pistol with which the shooting was done was brought into the case during the examination of Paul Brudik, the fireman who disarmed Thaw.

He reported Thaw's conversation and that of Mrs. Thaw practically as did Witness Paxton. Brudik said Thaw wore a startling look after killing White.

Policeman Debes, who arrested Thaw, quoted Thaw as admitting the killing, "Because he ruined my wife or life." He could not distinguish whether he said wife or life.

Coroner's Physician Lehart testified as to the condition of White's body.

Debes was recalled and stated that Thaw's wife said:

"Harry, why did you do it?" and he replied:

"It will be all right."

"The people rest their case," announced Garvan, and the court adjourned for noon recess.

At the afternoon session Attorney Gleason addressed the jury for the defense. He declared that Thaw was suffering from insanity of a hereditary nature when he shot White; that Thaw believed he was acting upon the word of Providence when he killed White; that he acted without malice and did not know the nature of quality of his act.

The court then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

BADLY AFFLICTED WITH ECZEMA

For More Than Two Years—Tries Physicians, Patent Remedies, Old Women and Quack Cures and Found No Relief.

USES CUTICURA AND IS SOON SOUND AND WELL

"I was very badly afflicted with eczema for more than two years. The parts affected were my limbs below the knees. I tried all the physicians in the town and some in the surrounding towns, and I also tried all the patent remedies that I heard of, besides all the cures advised by old women and quacks, and found no relief whatever until I commenced using the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. In the Cuticura Remedies I found immediate relief, and was soon sound and well. C. T. Beltz, Tippecanoe, Ind., Nov. 15, '05."

DANDRUFF KILLS HAIR

Cuticura Soap Kills Dandruff

"I was troubled with dandruff on my head ever since I was twelve years old. I had beautiful hair up to that time. The dandruff destroyed my hair. I tried everything I could hear of. I had no doctor, but I went into a drug store where I was well acquainted and asked the druggist if he knew of anything that would be good for me. He said: 'Of course I do. Just get a cake of Cuticura Soap.' I got it, and it did my hair good the first time I used it. My sister-in-law couldn't keep the dandruff off the top of her baby's head, and the hair wouldn't grow. I was there, had a cake of Cuticura Soap with me. I told her about it, and gave her the Cuticura Soap, and in about three months I went there again, the child's head was covered with hair and not a sign of dandruff. My sister said it was the Cuticura Soap. The child is not past three years old and has a lovely head of hair. Mrs. E. W. Shigley, Columbus, Kan., Oct. 25, 1905."

IRVING ITEMS.

(Special Correspondence.)

Irving, Feb. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grupp went to Eugene this afternoon to be in attendance at the Catholic fair.

Miss Emma Aubrey was a passenger to Eugene this afternoon.

Our R. F. D. carrier, H. A. Inwall, started out on his route, but did not proceed far, as bridges had been washed out, necessitating his returning. The patrons of the route were of course disappointed, but as this is the first day he has failed to deliver them all during his term of service they might have feared worse.

B. H. Dunlap, Paul Zumwalt, Clay Zumwalt and Wm. Pearson were in Irving Tuesday afternoon. How they came we know not, but presumably on the crest of the flood.

Charles Boqua, Ross Zumwalt and Vern Withrow were visitors in our burg.

D. J. Switzer is in Portland this week buying new goods for his store. He is making many improvements about the building.

The sick about Irving are about all recovered. The little girl of M. N. Gents is able to be out again.

The high water caused quite a little inconvenience among the residents of Irving, but the water is subsiding and things will soon resume their normal condition. In such instances, one feels his faith restored in the inclination of mankind to assist those who are unfortunate.

Amid the busy whirl of life one often loses sight of the good side of humanity and often becomes cynical regarding his fellow man, and it takes some disaster, however slight, to bring out the noble qualities therein.

DIED.

In Eugene, February 4, 1907, at 10:15 p. m., Grace Lorella, the 11-months-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Wright, of a complication of a gripe and pneumonia. The funeral will be held at the Baptist parsonage, 255 East Ninth street, Wednesday at 10 a. m., the services to be conducted by Evangelist J. A. Pettit. The remains will be interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

A Valuable Lesson.

"Six years ago I learned a valuable lesson" writes John Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. "I then began taking Dr. King's New Life Pills, and the longer I take them the better I find them." They please everybody. Guaranteed at W. L. De Lano, druggist, 25c.

THAW DEFENSE CALLS EXPERTS TO PROVE INSANITY

New York, Feb. 5.—The first witness called by the defense in the Thaw case was Dr. C. C. Wiley, of Pittsburg, the Thaw family physician, who is connected with the Dixmont insane asylum. Wiley said he had devoted much of his life to the study of insanity, and told of an incident in which Harry Thaw figured in a street car of Pittsburg in 1903, which Wiley declared was the act of an irrational man. Attorney Gleason then asked Wiley a hypothetical question in which he outlined Thaw's act in killing White, and Wiley declared the killing to be the act of an insane man.

In response to interrogations by District Attorney Jerome the witness declared that he was an expert, and would go on record as declaring that Thaw did not know he was committing a wrong when he killed White; though he might have known just what he was doing; that he was acting under impulses over which he had no control. He admitted that in answering Gleason's questions he had taken into consideration conditions and knowledge of the case not involved in the questions, whereupon, on motion of Jerome, Justice Fitzgerald ordered all his answers stricken out and the questions asked over again in order to make the record clear.

Attorney Jerome took Wiley over a very thorny road and both men became angry at times. Wiley said that he believed the killing of any person in a jealous rage an act of insanity.

Jerome asked Wiley if in each case on the night of the tragedy he thought Thaw's acts were those of an insane man, and Wiley replied:

"Taken alone, they do not impress me so; but taken together they do."
