PRELIMINARY SURVEYS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED

Simon Klovdahl, the engineer in charge of the Willamette Valley Company's surveys, yesterday completed the survey for the electric railway to Springfield. There are three distinct routes south of the river, one running around Judkins' Point, to the Judkins homestead, thence east of the Laurel Hill cemetery, thence north to the river bridge. Another route begins a few chains south of the Swarverud residence and thence through the south side of Hendricks' park, connecting with the Judkins' Point route near the Laurel Hill cemetery. The other route is still further south of the one running through the park and goes through some pretty rough country on the Fairmount Heights, converging with the park route at Judkins' Canon. Mr. Klovdahl will begin the survey of the route up the McKenzie in a few days.

THAW JUROR'S WIFE DIED OF PNEUMONIA

New. York, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Bolton, wife of the Thaw juror, died of pneumonia today.

The entire jury was on hand at the opening of the Thaw case this morning. Dr. Evans, recalled for further direct examination, stated that in his opinion Thaw's mental condition was partly based on essential oral statements of the defendant.

Owing to the illness of the wife of Juror Bolton, the examination of Evans was cut short to enable Bolton to go to his wife. Court then adjourned until this afternoon.

Adjourned Until Monday.

New York, Feb. 14.—The trial of Harry Thaw has been adjourned till Monday, owing to the death of Juror Bolton's wife. The other eleven jurors were released from confinement during the interval.

It is learned that Mrs. Bolton, who was unconscious all the forenoon, died just as her husband reached her bedside

Washington, Feb. 14.—Representative Wharton, of Illinois, introduced a resolution in the house today authorizing the president to exclude from the mails any and all publications "containing the revolting details of the Thaw case and cases of a similar nature."

LEADING NEWSPAPERS UNDER INDICTMENT

Lebanon, Ky., Feb. 14.—The county grand jury last night returned indictments against the Cincinnati Inquirer, Louisville Herald, Louisville Times and Evening Post for printing and circulating the offensive and indecent testimony of the Thaw trial.

NO WOOD FAMINE NEXT YEAR

The wood famine in Eugene still continues, and the dealers are practically out of business for lack of it. The prices are at the top notch. Next year, however, the situation promises to be better.

A Guard reporter was in the hills south and east of town the first of the week and found the woods littered with cord wood. It is learned on good authority that nearly everybody who has timber within marketing distance of the city is cutting wood to haul to town next summer. Notwithstanding the unpleasant experience of many residents of Eugene this winter they should not be in a hurry to buy their next winter's wood too early, as there will be an abundance of fuel on the market next fall and it is safe to say that it can be had at reasonable prices.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF LOWELL AND VICINITY

(Special Correspondence.)

Lowell, Feb. 14.—The freshet is over and the damage pretty well surveyed, and no one is seriously hurt from Lowell to the big prairie and Hazeldell . In two places the road was damaged by the river bank caving in, but it is now repaired so teams can pass. Some fencing on the farms of Mr. Winfrey, John Crall McBee, Miss Cain, Mr. Blakely and others was washed away, but no damage to amount to anything by washing of soil and cuts by water.

We are having spring weather and plowing is being done. Work of all kinds is being pushed along and everything has a lively appearance. The logging camps of Hills Bros. are making up for lost time.

Our ferry sunk during the freshet and has nat been raised, as the river bed changed at the ferry. It is likely filled with gravel in deep water, as the cable is attached to it and it cannot be moved. We greatly need a bridge between here and Dexter, and nothing else will give satisfaction. During the summer months there is a good deal of travel over the mountains, and only one direct way, and that the Pleasant Hill route, as the Fall Creek route is further and rougher. Besides, it cuts us off from our nearest railroad station, which is Goshen.

Thomas Blakeley and Mr. McBee of Rush Island made a trip to Eugene last week.

Nearly all the farmers along the river above Lowell are getting phones, so there are plenty of "Hellos" now in this vicinity.

He informs us when the move is made he will have the partition extended to the ceiling and the office will be kept open at all times and those having lock boxes can get their mail whenever it suits their convenience. A remonstranc is being circulated and numerously signed remonstrating against the removal. It is up to the department whether the move will be made or not.

Dr. James Withycombe, director of the State Agricultural College, will hold a farmers' institute in the opera house on Friday, February 22, afternoon and evening. A feature of the evening session will be a stereopticon illustrated lecture of breeds and topics of livestock and the Agricultural College. Various subjects will be taken up pertaining to general agriculture, dairying, etc. There will be four members of the institute staff present. Farmers should make it a point to attend this institute, as matters in which they are deeply interested will be handled by experts.—Times.

EUGENE-SPRINGFIELD ROAD WORK NEEDED

With all the travel between Eugene and Springfield a good smooth road should be maintained. In all the tmo miles from the university to the river bridge at Springfield, about the only decent piece of road is that just beyond Judkins' Point where ths flood swept it clean of mud and loose rock. There is an immense travel over this road—the greatest in the count yby big odds—and much of the teaming is heavy, lumber, mining supplies and wheat product loads, giving a road its most severe test. There should be no low road in the middle, with wheel ruts as with this about its entire length. Round it well up and you have a good road winter and summer.

With the first subsidence of the river so fine gravel may be obtained, this work should be done. It is better that there should be rain on it soon after it is spread and that it should have the softer bed of the rainy season. Then the gravel will not shift about and will soon make a smooth, hard road.

SENATOR KNOX DEFENDS SMOOT IN SENATE

Washington, Feb. 14.—Senator Knox today addressed the senate in opposition to the resolution reported from the committee on privileges and elections that "Reed Smoot" is not entitled to a seat as a senator of the United States from Utah. He was accorded the closest attention because of his discussion of the legal questions involved on the point of expulsion, which would require two-thirds of the senate, or exclusion, requiring only a majority of the votes. He contended that nothing less than two-thirds of the entire membership of the senate could unseat the Utah senator.

Mr. Knox asked: "Should the senate expel Senator Smoot, and why?" and answered his own questions, saying:

"He should not be expelled for believing in the Mormon religion. The irrevocable ordinance expressly, and with Mormons in view, guarantees religious toleration in the state of Utah. He should not be expelled for being a member of officer of the Mormon church for the same reason. He should not be expelled for the vindication of Utah's law, violated by certain Mormons continuing polygamous relations with Senator Smoot's consent or approval, supposing he did consent or approve, for Utah, without being ignorant of the facts, elected him, and the senate would not be justified in going out of its way to enforce respect for the formerly expressed will of Utah, embodied in its law against polygamous relations by defeating its latter expressed will shown in electing Smoot."

After arguing that there is no federal law against polygamy or polygamous cohabitation applicable to Utah, now that Utah is a state and when she was admitted to the union of states it was known that there would be and could be none, Mr. Knox again asked and answered his pointed question. His answer was:

"Because, first, it is claimed he is wicked in this, that some of his friends having cohabited with several women before Utah became a state, are continuing to do so until death and that he approves of them as officers of the church and does not chastise them for so doing; and, second, bcause he is a Mormon, and the Mormon church is a hierarchy, disloyal to our institutions, whose will he is bound to obey."

Subject to the limitations imposed by the constitution, said Mr. Knox, the states ore left untrammeled in their right to choose their senators. He recited the fact that the constitution enables the senate to protect itself against improper characters by expelling them by a two-thirds vote if they are guilty of crime, offensive immorality, disloyalty or gross impropriety during their term of service. He specified these reasons,, he said, because he could not imagine the senate expelling a member for a cause not falling within one of them.

Concerning Senator Smoot's tolerance of the continued polygamous relations by certain Mormon officials, Mr. Knox said:

"The only thing alleged against Smoot is that he lets this sleeping dog lie. If this disqualifies him every citizen of Utah, Mormon and Gentile, is likwise disqualified, who likewise refrains from prosecuting the old Mormon polygamists, and they all do."

Declaring that polygamy is dying out and that polygamous marriages have ended in Utah, Mr. Knox said:

"We are all sworn to support the constitution of the United States. Personally I construe this to mean that I have solemnly obligated myself not to vote to deprive any person or state of any right guaranteed by that instrument.

"Entertaining this view and for the reasons I have stated, I could not yield to the importunities and in some cases the demand, that I cast my vote for the expulsion of Senator Smoot without deliberately violating my oath of office; without yielding my judgment to others as it is alleged that Senator Smoot will yield his to the Mormon church; and without converting my place here from one of honor to one of shame."

COUNTY TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS FINISHED

Superintendent Dillard and assistants finished the work of examining the applicants for county teachers' certificates today. The subjects presented were geography, mental arithmetic, Oregon school law and civil government. They will finish the work of those trying for state papers tomorrow. The results of these examinations will be made known early next week, as Mr. Dillard has a reputation of being a record breaker for keeping the work of his office up to date.

$100 REWARD—$100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive catarrn cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

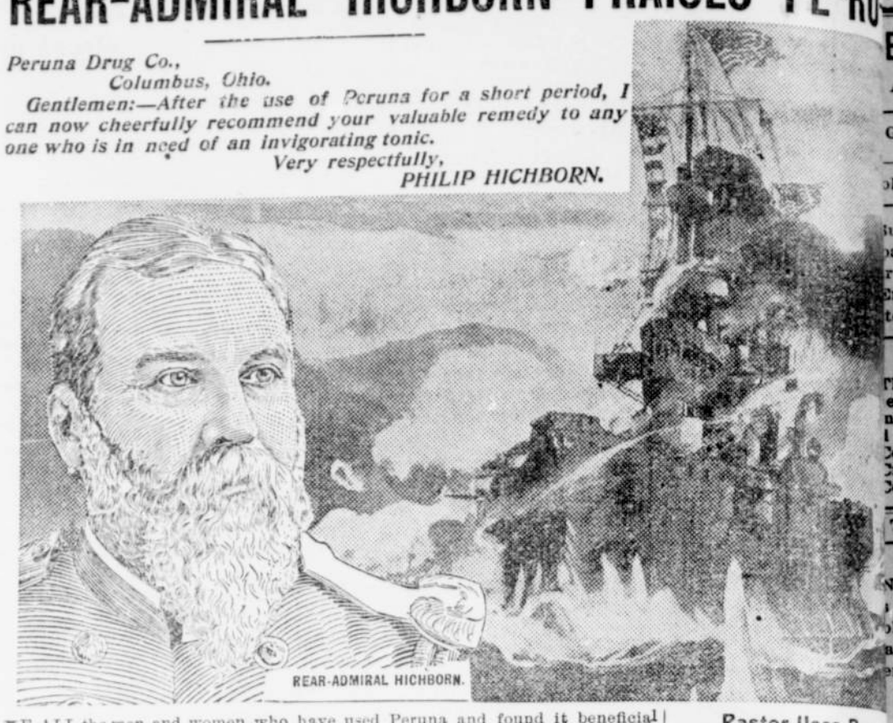
REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN PRAISES PE-RU

Peruna Drug Co.,
Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic.

Very respectfully,
PHILIP HICHBORN.



REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN.

IF ALL the men and women who have used Peruna and found it beneficial should write testimonials giving the plain facts, we would be overwhelmed with certificates.

But only now and then one who has been benefited by Peruna stops to give any public acknowledgement of a cure.

Various considerations prevent people from writing testimonials for publication. Inordinate modesty, oversensitiveness and business considerations forbid many people from writing testimonials who otherwise would be glad to do so.

All Classes Represented.

But in spite of all these considerations, thousands of people without any solicitation whatever do write testimonials for Peruna.

We receive these from men of high degree and low degree, from the army and the navy, from the hall of congress, from the colleges, from high officials in the church, from the society belle and the washerwoman, from the military man and the civilian.

We have never put into print but a small per cent. of those actually received.

Sincere Testimony.

In presenting the testimonial of Admiral Hichborn we appreciate the high rank of our testifier.

We feel sure that his testimonial will appeal to others as it does to us, that nothing but a genuine wish to do others good would have impelled a man in such honorable rank to give public testimony to any remedy, however valuable.

The Admiral is altogether too busy a man to answer letters of inquiry, but the reader can rest assured that his testimony is given in his exact words, over his signature.

Genuine Endorsements.

Our testimonials are and always have been given in the exact language of the testifier, with which we take no liberties whatever in adding to or changing them.

In the use of testimonials we have always received them properly signed, in good faith, have published them in good faith, and if there has arisen a slight misunderstanding concerning them, it has been some unavoidable complication occurring after the testimonial has been furnished us.

A Captain's Letter.

Rudolph B. Schwickardi, Capt. 39th N. Y. Vol. Inf., writes from Washington, D.C.:

"Having the fullest confidence in the efficacy of Peruna, both as a tonic and as a remedy for catarrhal trouble, I commend its use in the strongest possible terms. It should be in every household."

HICTHCOCK'S RULING PUT TO ONE SIDE

Washington, Feb. 15.—The president has practically revoked Secretary Hitchcock's order suspending all public land entries until they can be examined by special agents. Homestead and timber entries may now pass to patent when the entrymen have complied with the law and submitted proof thereof, and examination is unnecessary.

The modification follows suggestions made by Senator Fulton, and entirely removes the objections that have been made by the timber entrymen in Oregon. In the following classes no examination by a special agent is required:

1. Final five-year homestead entry hereafter made, where proof is satisfactory and complete.

2. Final sertificates and receipts in final five-year homestead proofs heretofore or hereafter made, when proof is satisfactory and complete.

3. Homestead entries commuted on ceded inland lands on which annual payments are required.

4. Entries where the claimants' compliance with the law has been established by contest or other regular adverse proceedings.

5. Entries confirmed which may have been confirmed by virtue of any act of congress.

6. Selections and entries in which no residence or improvement is required by law when land embraced therein is located in non-mineral localities as shown by records of the geological survey, when the character has been fixed by investigation and classification made in accordance with law.

7. Reissuance of patents because of some clerical error occurring in patents heretofore issued.

8. Military bounty land warrants and other similar warrants when request for proof has been made.

Where timber lands are situated in "mineral localities" referred to in section 6, there may be some possibility of delay; examination might have to be made.

FOUR IMPORTANT BILLS ARE NOT APPROV

Guard Special Service.

Salem, Feb. 16.—Four vetoes were filed by Governor Chamberlain this morning, and each of the four vetoes has been made a special order for Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the house. It is believed that at least two will not be sustained.

The most important of the vetoes is H. B. No. 241, by Freeman, providing for the compulsory transportation of all officials by the railroads The veto says that the act is a direct subterfuge to avoid the wish of the people as expressed at the polls last year that no officials ride on free transportation.

The governor also vetoes H. B. 80, by Driscoll, raising the salary of the Multnomah county auditor from $2000 to $2400, and raising his deputies. The reason of the veto is that the business of the office does not justify the increase.

He believes that H. B. 115, by Slusher, would be the entering wedge to restore the old and nefarious system of fees.

Appropriation of $125,000 for the state university vetoed. This sum is stipulated in H. B. No. 37 for annual maintainance.

The governor also filed with the secretary of state the following bills, which will become laws without his signature:

H. B. 142, by Gray—Creating a board of trustees for the Burbank trust fund.

H. B. 317, by Pike—Creating the twelfth judicial district and providing for the appointment of a judge and prosecuting attorney.

H. B. 20, by Chase—Protecting crabs in Coos Bay.

H. B. 314, by Driscoll—Providing payment for deficiencies for which past appropriations were insufficient.

H. B. 243, by Driscoll—Giving the sheriff of Multnomah county custody of prisoners.

H. B. 75, McCue—providing clerk for fish warden.

H. B. 262, by King—Fixing the salary of the assessor of Harney county.

H. B. 97, by Steel—Providing flags for school buildings.

H. B. 61, by Jones—Providing conventions for district school ...

H. B. 328, by Merriman—... ing deputy for Klamath ...

H. B. 101, by McCue—... for Columbia river.

H. B. 295, by Jackson—... ing trout.

Cuts Down Appropriation.

The senate committee on ... ture has reduced the appropriation contained in Carter's house bill ... new buildings at the Corvallis ... cultural College from $75,000 ... $70,000 each for the years 1907 ... 1908. The report of the committee was adopted.

Water Code Bill Dead.

The amended irrigation and water code bill of the Portland Chamber of Commerce was killed in the senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of ... ayes to 31 noes on final passage. Friends of the measure admit that they have not only failed in their effort to pass the bill as introduced by Representative Perkins, but have failed to get even the "half a loaf" they tried to save. The senate bill, similar to the Perkins bill, will now be called up, and the whole matter will probably be dropped.
