FIFTEEN YEARS OF ECZEMA

Affected Hands, Arms and Legs—Endured Terrible Itching and was Unable to Sleep—Would Tear the Bandages to Scratch the Skin—In less than One Week

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema nearly fifteen years. The affected parts were my hands, arms and legs. They were the worst in the winter time and were always itchy, and I could not keep from scratching them. I had to keep both hands bandaged all the time, and at night I would have to scratch through the bandages as the itching was so severe, and at times I would have to tear everything off my hands to scratch the skin. I could not rest or sleep. I had several physicians treat me but they could not give me a permanent cure, nor even could they stop the itching. After using the Cuticura Soap, one box Cuticura Ointment and two bottles Cuticura Resolvent for about six days the itching had ceased, and now the sores have disappeared, and I never felt better in my life than I do now. Edward Worell, Band 30th, U. S. Infantry, Fort Crook, Nebraska."

The most torturing and disfiguring humors, eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations, and inflammations of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair of infants, children, and adults, are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the Cuticura Remedies, when all else fails.

GOPHERS SAGE RATS AND PRAIRIE DOGS

"I had one hundred acres of land near Union, Oregon, and the squirrels came in from the hills in such numbers that it seemed impossible to do anything with them. Hearing good reports of "Woodlark" Squirrel Poison I purchased six cans which killed off the entire drove completely. The squirrels lay dead over the field by hundreds. Now I have a great crop on the land, the best I ever raised. "Woodlark" poison kills them all. You may be sure I shall use no other."

S. S. BOOTH, Union, Oregon.

The above letter explains what "Woodlark" Squirrel Poison does.

It is certain death to Ground Squirrels, Prairie Dogs, Gophers and Sage Rats.

Joseph Wells of Weippe, Idaho, killed 150 squirrels with the contents of a single can.

It costs a little more than some others because it is better.

THE RIVER GIVES UP ITS DEAD

After Four Months Body of S. W. Mulkey, Drowned n Skagit County, Wash., Is Found.

Guard readers will remember the drowning of Sink Mulkey, a former Lane county man., near Sedro-Woolley, Wash., last October. His body has just been recovered. The Skagit County Courier, published in that city, of March 14, tells of it as follows:

The body of S. W. Mulkey, who, with two other men, was drowned in the Skagit river near Birdsview on October 26 last, was found in a pile of drift on the sand bar a short distance east of the ferry on Tuesday morning. The discovery was made by Guy Manser while fishing, and he lost no time in making the fact known to Constable R. K. Dunham. Coroner Wainwright was at once notified and he arrived here in the course of the afternoon and removed the remains to Denver's undertaking parlors, where it was prepared for burial.

The body was in such a condition that it could not be recognized by the features, but it was fully identified by several persons, intimate with the deceased by the clothing which he wore and a scar upon one of the legs. An inquest was deemed unnecessary as the circumstances attending his death are well known, a detailed account of which was published in the Courier at the time.

The body probably floated down the river during the next freshet, the place in the drift pile where it lodged being at least four feet above the present level of the river.

It was reported that Mr. Mulkey's life was insured for several thusand dollars and that the companies have refused payment until absolute proof of his death could be obtained.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 this afternoon from Denver's undertaking parlors and interment took place in Union cemetery. Mrs. Mulkey was visiting friends near Anacortes when news of the finding of her husband's body reached her, and she hastened with all speed to this city. Rev. Michener had charge of the services.

ARCHIE LIVERMORE LEAVES EUGENE POSTOFFICE

Archie Livermore, who has been employed as clerk in the Eugene postoffice for eight or ten years, a good part of that time as head clerk, has resigned his position, the resignation taking effect last Saturday evening. He has accepted a position in the Eugene Loan & Savings Bank and will assume his duties there in about a week.

Mr. Livermore has served the government well and faithfully, and has filled his position at the postoffice to the entire satisfaction of the public. He will be greatly missed there. His resignation will necessitate the appointment of an additional clerk at the postoffice, but Mr. Page has not yet made his choice. There are two men eligible for the appointment.

DR. C. E. LOOMIS ON WITNESS STAND

Puter's homestead claims, and that he had received a like amount from Puter as expense money for examining and reporting on these claims. Puter has been convicted in the case, which is known as the "seven-eleven" case. He is now here to testify for the government in the present cases.

In cross-examination Dr. Loomis said he had not informed Hermann that he had received this money.

"I would not have dared to," he exclaimed. "I would have been glad enough not to let any one know about it."

Negotiated for Immunity.

In a series of questions by Mr. Worthington for the defense to ascertain if the witness had been promised immunity by the government's attorneys for testifying, it was ascertained that negotiations to this end had been carried on, but had come to nothing so far as the witness knew. He said an attorney named Hardy had approached him in Oregon during the pendency of the "seven-eleven" cases and said he could "fix it." Hardy saw the government's attorneys and witnesses several times. Finally Hardy told Loomis that the government attorneys 'did not care a d—n about the 'seven-eleven' case, but if you can tell them anything about Mitchell or Hermann——"

Objection by United States Attorney Baker interrupted the conclusion of the remark.

STABBED AT A DANCE AT WENDLING

(From Monday's Guard.)

During the progress of a dance given by the Lincoln Annuity Union at Wendling Saturday night Frank Gordon, organizer for the order, was stabbed in the head by Robert Lane, a sawmill hand. The injury is not serious and Gordon is able to be around.

The dance was attended by respectable people of the town, and was going along nicely when a number of mill hands and loggers, who had been drinking during the evening, entered the hall and began to raise a disturbance. Organizer Gordon expostulated with them several times and at last threatened to have them put out of the hall, whereupon Lane became enraged and attacked Gordon with a pocket knife. He made several vicious lunges at Gordon's head and struck him twice, inflicting two wounds in his scalp. The wounds bled profusely and at the sight of the blood some of the women fainted and great excitement ensued. It was soon learned, however, that the injury as not serious, and quiet was again restored.

Lane was placed under arrest and will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Freeman at Wendling tomorrow. The following who were creating a disturbance at the dance were also arrested and fined $10 each on the charge of disturbing the peace: H. Cronize, Harry Armstrong, Roy McCready, Paul Robley, Charles Tyler, Harry Shear and E. Lane.

BIG BUSINESS IN POULTRY SUPPLIES

We notice that McClanahan, the incubator man, 72 West Eighth street, is now working three men putting up brooders. He is shipping these all over the country, and he informs us that he is still behind with his orders. These brooders are shipped here in a knocked down form, and are put to gether in his factory.

We notice that Mr. McClanahan is carrying a full line of poultry supplies and stock food, and he has just shipped in two tons of oyster shell, the same amount of grit, and has a big shipment of chick food. He carries a full line of poultry netting and wire fence of all descriptions.

This is a new industry for Eugene, one that the city has long been in need of, and we think that Mr. McClanahan is the man that will bring it to the front and make it a permanent business for Eugene.
