IMPROVEMENTS AT LOWELL AND VICINITY

Several new Houses and Barns to be Erected in That Neighborhood—General News Notes. (Special Correspondence.) Lowell, March 20.—The spirit of improvement pervades the atmosphere in the vicinity of Lowell. Wilbur Hyland will build a new dwelling house and barn at considerable cost. Mrs. Cain, of Rush Island, five miles above Lowell, will also build a dwelling and barn. Clarence McBee a dwelling house and barn, and other improvements will be general in the vicinity of Lowell during the coming season. Spring plowing is being pushed by the farmers and gardens are being planted. The early planted gardens are beginning to show above the ground and quite a number of young orchards are being sprayed. Roy Humphrey, of Unity, is starting a logging camp on the Bert Kelsey place, six miles above Lowell. Mr. Sharp is fencing a poultry yard and garden on land he just purchased of Clarence McBee. The right-of-way for the Oregon Eastern Railroad (Natron extension) is about complete and dirt may be before a great while.

Willie Michael has been laid up for four weeks with a badly cut foot, but thinks he will soon be able to be around again. The Rush Island school has not started yet, as the directors have not been able to employ a teacher. There seems to be a scarcity of teachers in Lane county this year. Mr. Goodman has sold his fine horses for a good price and made another purchase. The river at the old ferry changed its channel and spread to be nearly three hundred yards wide. It is shallow enough to be forded and traffic is going on while Mr. Howard, the ferryman, is kept busy with the skiff. Business Property Chance A good piece of business property on Willamette street paying good interest, rented monthly, and repairs kept up by the tenant, offered for sale. A steady renter for years occupies the premises. For particulars see Ed Howe at Court House Lodging House. m20 wtt He had no coat upon his back, But had one on his tongue, And Rocky Mountain Tea, 'tis said, Kept him from being hung. MRS. RISDON'S REMAINS WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

The remains of Mrs. P. G. Risdon, widow of the late D. M. Risdon, a Eugene pioneer, will arrive here tomorrow afternoon for burial. Mrs. Risdon died at Lewiston, Idaho, Tuesday, March 19, after a long illness. The funeral will be held at the Episcopal church Friday at 2:30 p. m. with interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery besides the remains of Mr. Risdon. The body will be accompanied by Mrs. Ella Davis, daughter of the deceased, and her husband, John Davies, the well-known former Eugene tailor. LISTEN and remember the next time you suffer from pain—caused by damp weather—when your head nearly bursts from neuralgia—try Ballard's Snow Liniment. It will cure you. A prominent business man of Hempstead, Texas, writes: "I have used your liniment. Previous to using it I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism and Neuralgia. I am pleased to say that now I am free from these complaints. I am sure that I owe this to your liniment."

ROBBERY AND JAIL BREAK AT SPRINGFIELD

A robbery, the subsequent capture of one of the robbers and his escape from the city jail are three chapters in an exciting occurrence at Springfield last night. About 8 o'clock in the evening, while the proprietor was in the rear room of the place, three men entered the cigar store of Walter Wilmot and took therefrom two boxes of cigars. Mr. Wilmot heard the click of the lid of the cigar case and emerging from the rear room he saw the men running out of the store. He and Frank Smitson gave chase, and after running quite a distance overtook one of the men. Seeing that he was "up against it" he turned and "landed on" Wilmot, breaking his glasses. Smitson then knocked the fellow down and a minute later City Marshal Shaban arrived and took the robber to the jail. Later in the night the man's two accomplices broke into the railroad switch house and taking some tools therefrom broke open the door of the jail and liberated the prisoner. The trio has not been seen since, but the officers have their descriptions and they will be arrested if found by the officers of any of the cities up and down the line. The cigars taken by the thieves were thrown away by them as they were running from Wilmot and Smitson, and were found later.

COTTAGE GROVE ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Monday several passengers, while waiting for the train at Daston, witnessed the shooting of logs down the mountains at J. J. Jones' logging camp. One elegant specimen of the forest, about thirty feet long and five feet in diameter, without a knot or blemish, proudly slipped along, taking the end out of the cook house, its mate swiftly following, taking the front end off of the new cooking range, to the interest and amusement of all except Mr. Jones, who will have to repair the damage. Leg Broken. Wm. Pierson, employed at logging by the Chambers Lumber Company at Dorena, got caught by the rope yesterday, breaking one leg and receiving other injuries. Dr. Job was called. Postoffice Settled. The postoffice has now settled itself down for awhile, but is not permanently located. We understand that it is waiting for the new building that is to be erected on the site from which it was removed.—Nugget.

WALTERVILLE NEWS

(Special Correspondence.) Walterville, March 20.—Mr. Brewbaker is getting along nicely with his new house. He expects to move into it the last of this week. Mrs. Wm. Rennie and Miss Fannie Millican came up from Eugene Saturday. Miss Millican returned to Eugene Sunday, but Mrs. Rennie will remain with her husband for a few days. James Sues has taken another contract of logging and may run all summer. We would like to see more camps around Walterville. Mrs. Brownson and son Fay spent Saturday and Sunday in Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trembley, of Chitwood, Or., are here visiting Mrs. Trembley's father, J. D. Maxon. They may remain here all summer. C. L. Inman is running his sawmill regularly and is getting a nice lot of lumber on hand. A few young people spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Miss Adelle Williams last Friday. Dancing was the principal feature. Light refreshments were served. Fred Easton has gone to Southern Oregon to cruise timber for I. H. Bingham. Some people seem to be greatly enthused over the electric railway proposition, thinking it will make a city of Eugene out of Walterville. "We will see." There is nothing like living in hope, if we do die in despair.

Don't Complain

If your chest pains and you are unable to sleep on account of a cough. Buy a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and you won't have any cough. Get a bottle now and that cough will not last long. A cure for a pulmonary disease. Mrs. J. —, Galveston, Texas, writes: "I can't say enough for Ballard's Horehound Syrup. The relief it has given me is all that it is necessary for me to say."

LANE COUNTY PEOPLE DIVORCED AT PORTLAND

Mrs. Minnie Tweed said Her Husband Did Nothing But Sit Around and Read Socialist Papers. The Portland Journal of recent date tells of the divorce case in the circuit court there, wherein the couple concerned are former residents of the McKenzie valley. "My husband never supported me. He sat around most of the time and read Socialist papers." He said if the Socialists were in power he would not have to work. The rich people would have to divide with him and he would have an easy time." This is part of the testimony of Mrs. Minnie Tweed before Judge Sears in the circuit court this morning, on which she based her suit for divorce from Madison S. Tweed. Mrs. Tweed also said that her husband beat their children as mercifully, and when she tried to stop it he choked her until she promised to keep her mouth shut. They lived on a scow in North Portland for a while, then moved to a small farm in Lane county. The country air did not help Tweed's Socialistic tendencies, according to Mrs. Tweed, for when he got on the farm he worked less than ever, while Mrs. Tweed put in three days every week rolling logs and clearing land. Her mother had to support them most of the time, she said. The divorce was granted, along with seven others, and Mrs. Tweed was given the custody of two children, along with $15 a month alimony, which she expects to get when socialism prevails and the rich people divide their spoils with Tweed. They were married in February, 1898.

RAILROAD WORK WILL NOT CEASE

(Continued from Page 1) The branch from Pendleton to Pilot Rock will be built. The project of straightening the main line between Portland and Troutdale will be carried on to completion. What I said was that the forces would not be increased on these projects, and that extra expense in various matters would be cut down. Line into Central Oregon. Asked regarding the Central Oregon road, the Coos Bay line and the extension to the south, he said: "Those projects are under the direction of the Southern Pacific's chief engineer at San Francisco. There is no indication that the work on them will be abandoned." The Coos Bay line is now partly constructed for the first 20 miles, and gangs of tunnel workers have been drilling at various points. The contract with the C. E. Loss Company has been cancelled, but work will be continued under a new contract. The Central Oregon road, on which more than 100 surveyors have been at work for the last eight months, is now being finally located, and maps are being filed with the various authorities of the railroad company and the government. The railroad companies in Oregon have no ground for complaint regarding hostile legislation.

SHEPARD FINED THIRTY DOLLARS

Fred Shepard, the Wendling man who was arrested at that place yesterday by Constable Plank and brought to Eugene, was arraigned before Judge Bryson, of the justice court, this forenoon on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon the person of John Downs, who is now in the Eugene hospital suffering from the injuries received at Shepard's hands by being struck in the face with a bolt. Shepard agreed to plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery, and accordingly the charge was changed. He was fined $30, which was paid.

IMPROVEMENTS AT MCKENZIE BRIDGE

New Sawmill, Bridge Across the River and New Log Hotel Are Being Built at the Famous Summer Resort—George Frissell in the City. "Uncle" George Frissell arrived down from McKenzie Bridge last night and will remain here a few days on business. He reports that a new sawmill, a new bridge across the river and the new log hotel are in course of construction. A Mr. Brooks, of Blue River, is building the sawmill, which will be operated by water power and will be of rather small capacity, although large enough to supply the demand for lumber in that vicinity. L. N. Rooney, of this city, will superintend the construction of the new bridge, the timbers for which are now being gotten out. The new hotel will be located on the same spot on which the old one burned last summer and will be somewhat larger. It will be a story and a half high and built entirely of logs.

Society at Springfield.

A very pretty and informal wedding occurred on Sunday evening at the residence of E. L. Smith, when Miss Mabel Neff and Samuel Handsaker were united in marriage in the presence of about thirty invited guests. The bridal party advanced to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Olive O'Connell, and stood under an arch of ivy and daffodils while Rev. E. B. Handsaker, father of the groom, performed the ceremony. After the words were pronounced that made them man and wife all repaired to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Stansbie presiding and Fay Smith and Gwendolene Nettleton serving.

Miss Leta Winzenreid entertained a few of her friends at her home last Friday in games and music, after which a dainty luncheon was served. Those present were: Miss Mary Dowling, of Eugene; Miss Bertie Kester, Miss Bernice Chessman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Winzenreid, Dr. A. K. Turner, Walter Wilmot and Alex McKenzie. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

THE RAILROAD SURVEYORS REACH GATE CREEK

(Special Correspondence.) Vida, March 20.—The members of the electric railroad surveying party for the Willamette Valley Company are now stopping at the Gate Creek Hotel. Their survey crosses the McKenzie river below the McKenzie fish hatchery, and again on the south side of Gate creek. They have been making good time and have now reached a point some 32 miles from Eugene. The McKenzie river fish hatchery has come to stay and is to be a permanent thing. The master fish warden, Mr. Van Duzen, has forwarded to B. F. Finn the plans and specifications for the new buildings, and they will be quite elaborate when finished. They will be built by contract let to the lowest bidder. Any one willing to make a bid can call on Mr. Finn and see the plans. The Gate Creek union, No. 287, Order of Washington, made a donation for the benefit of their comrade, Adrian Wycoff, who had the misfortune to have one of his legs broken a couple of weeks ago. He is now staying at Eugene at the Wiley lodging house, and it will be appreciated by the Gate Creek union if some of the Eugene comrades will call upon our unfortunate brother. Our schoolhouse has had added new blackboards and new patent seats, making it modern in all respects. A petition has been circulated by the postmaster of Vida, Benj. F. Minney, who has resigned his office, in favor of our merchant, F. E. Clayton, the petition being necessary in order to move the office.

FISHER ROCK ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.) Fisher Rock (near Lowell), March 19.—C. L. Williams has just returned from a trip made to Portland for the purpose of securing extras for the donkey engine. Charlie McBee had the misfortune to cut his foot, which will necessitate his laying off for some time. Barney Williams and Byron Dunton have the donkey now in place and will be pulling in logs with it in a few days. The scaler says there will be 750,000 feet of logs over the dump before this reaches the printer. "Dad" Faust is the man of all work usually called flunky. He is getting along fine, although somewhat lame from a hurt he had some time ago. Sam Stiers and Marion Withrow are the chief teamsters and the way they can make logs come out of the brush is a caution. Audley Drury and Ed Schultz have been home for a few days, but are now back in camp swinging the axe and pulling the saw. Fred Wallace is feeling somewhat indisposed and took a layoff for a few days. Soul stirring music, accompanied on the banjo, is often heard of evenings when all are gathered in the bunkhouse.

SPRINGFIELD ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.) Springfield, March 19.—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rawson and daughter are up from Salem visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Rice and family. Frank Lauffin made two trips to Fall Creek last week. Miss Fairy Wicks, from Star, who is visiting friends in this vicinity, returned home today. Mrs. Emma Damewood, who has been teaching school at Jasper, was home over Sunday with her family. Raymond Churchill took suddenly ill last evening but is able to work this morning.

DIED.

At Cottage Grove Sunday morning, March 17, at 12 o'clock, James Hart, aged 60 years, 4 months and 3 days. Mr. Hart became a resident of Cottage Grove early in 1898, and made many friends who sincerely mourn his loss. He became interested in mining, which he followed up to the illness which proved fatal. He leaves a wife, three sons and two daughters to mourn his loss. James, Jr., and John are residents of California; Harry lives in this city; Mrs. Jennie White resides at Grants Pass, and Mrs. H. B. Brehaut is a resident of this city.—Nugget.

MARRIED.

At the residence of Rev. W. C. Sale in Springfield, March 17, 1907, Melvin Covett and Miss Winnie Walsh, Rev. Sale officiating. D. P. Sheridan, of Walker, was in the city today, returning on the afternoon train. Rev. J. L. Stratford, who has been doing photographic work in this vicinity for some time past, returned to Creswell this afternoon. He will leave in a few days for Palo Alto, Cal., where he will do similar work.

John F. Kelly, of the Booth-Kelly Company, today instituted suit in the circuit court against Charles Hamlin to determine the ownership of a certain 160 acres of timber land in section 30, township 20 south of range one west. The plaintiff alleges that he is the owner of the land, but that the defendant claims an interest in the same. A decree of the court declaring the plaintiff the owner in fee simple of the premises and to enjoin the defendant from claiming an interest in them is asked for.

BORN.

On Saturday, March 2d, at Saganaw, to Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Reeves, a nine-pound son. PROGRESS OF BINGER HERMANN'S LONG TRIAL Washington, March 18.—Today opened the sixth week of the trial of Binger Hermann on the indictment charging him with the destruction of 35 letter press copy books alleged to have contained official correspondence of the general land office. The prosecution will probably conclude by the end of the week, and it is expected that the defense will occupy two weeks with its witnesses before the case goes to the jury. To date approximately 1,000,000 words of testimony have been taken. Today the prosecution divided on the stand seven chiefs of divisions of the general land office who served under Hermann, and all identified original official letters which were answered in person by Hermann as commissioner. All testified that they have been unable to find in the files copies of the replies of these letters, the memorandum in each case stating specifically that the letters were answered by the commissioner. There were no such letters.
