COUNTY GRANGE HELD PICNIC AT LONDON SPRINGS

(Special Correspondence.)
London, June 15.—The county grange picnic at London Springs is now a thing of the past. But the speakers and the program will long be remembered by all present.
The extremely wet weather kept many people away and made it necessary to assemble at the grange hall, over the London store, which was filled to overflowing. And to say the picnic was a great success is putting it very mildly.
I never saw any crowd of people seem to enjoy themselves better than during the two days that they were together, and well they should, for the speeches and program would honor the most able of earth, both in point of knowledge and mirth. There were several noted speakers expected and several programs from the different granges and other places of education and amusement that were not there.
But among the crowd that assembled on the 12th were the state lecturer, Mrs. Waldo, and Dr. Sharples, both of whose hearts are filled with love and affection for our country and mankind, and especially for the state of Oregon, and her people, without a bit of selfish ambition, and their minds filled with a store of knowledge that would do honor to the most learned of any nation, with tongues that did express in the most simple and favorable terms the mental, physical, moral, spiritual, financial and mirthful needs of the people, and I think I am safe to say that those who missed the picnic at London missed an opportunity that they seldom have a chance to enjoy.
Among other things the people's minds were impressed with the fact that our chief aim and ambition should not be too see how much labor we could perform or how much wealth we could gain, but to strive for a higher and nobler man and womanhood, a clean heart, and a pure conscience.
The grange as an organization is friendly and has a good feeling toward all reasonable and just business interests, political and religious organizations and all social orders, but will resist all unreasonable and unjust laws, monopolies and unjust taxation, always working for the general betterment of every class and calling.
The grange is not a selfish or narrow organization, but is composed chiefly of the tillers of the soil from which have sprung our most noble statesmen of wealth and our brightest business men, and we can safely say that the grange has within its organization some of the most intelligent men and women of our nation.
And we should urge every one who is interested in agriculture to become a member and assist in educating one another in the best methods of farming and stock raising, and how to get the best results of our labor. Our occupation is the oldest and noblest of earth, and has a right to a place above every other.
Come, let us join together in one general organization and assist each other and our labor will be lighter and we can live on the fat of the land.
Celebration of the Third.
There will be a celebration on the third of July at London Springs, and fireworks at night. The program is not completed yet, but don't forget it will be a big time, as London never fails.
The time is set for the third on account of the celebration at Cottage Grove on the Fourth. The committees are all at work in good earnest. Look for the program a little later and don't forget the third at London Springs.

The new bathhouse at the Springs will soon be completed, then you can get the most thorough course of bathing of any place on the coast.

S. P. CO. WORKING ON BIG POWER SITE
A party, said to be Southern Pacific surveyors, were in Roseburg Thursday evening, after finishing trail improvement work and making a permanent survey of a power site on the North Umpqua river, filed with the federal government in August, 1906, and situated in the Cascade national forest in what is familiarly known as "Caps Illahe" district, and about 15 miles east of Bill Bradley's cabin, says the Roseburg Review. The particular spot where the water is appropriated is known as Big Fall, where the main stream has a drop of about 700 feet in a couple of miles. The purpose of the appropriation, as stated in the papers on file, is to generate electrical power for general commercial purposes. A canal and flume one and two-thirds miles in length and a power house are among the building work set forth. No special significance is attached to this appropriation, however, as the Southern Pacific Company, during the past few years, has been filling on power sites in reserves in all parts of the state. We understand they have also made application for permission to build a wagon road through the reserve to the site, which would indicate that they expect to do some construction work on the proposed plant in the near future, but this is uncertain.

ORCHARD CONSPIRED WITH HAYWOOD TO DECEIVE WIFE

Boise, Idaho, June 14.—Steve Adams was produced in court at 2:14 p. m., accompanied by the sheriff. He identified J. B. McIntire, special officer of the Southern Pacific railroad, who arrested him at Ogden in June, 1903.

Boise, June 14.—The prosecution of the Steunenberg murder case devoted itself this morning to further corroboration of the testimony of Orchard relative to the two attempts, one with strychnine and the other with dynamite, on the life of Fred Bradley, at San Francisco, and in its endeavor to directly connect Pettibone with the operation at Orchard.

It was shown that Orchard hung around the Bradley home and engaged in a room in that vicinity, and met the servants of the Bradley household. He was seen moving his effects the night before the explosion, and was traced to the house again after the explosion occurred.

The state, by records of the United States postoffices at San Francisco and Denver, traced a registered letter from J. Wolff, 1725 Stout street, Denver (the address of Pettibone's store), to J. Dempsey, San Francisco, sent in August, 1904, when Orchard was there to kill Bradley. Dempsey was the alias of Orchard while in San Francisco.

The defense did not examine the witnesses, but contented itself with a general objection to all testimony offered and showing that the Pinkertons had arranged for the attendance of all witnesses.

The witnesses who appeared this morning were: L. B. Gulliburn, a San Francisco grocer; Hull, McClaughey, Assistant Postmaster at San Francisco; Frank Isaacs, registry clerk at the San Francisco postoffice; Miss Pearl Moore, of the Denver postoffice, registry department; Clarence L. Harrah, who worked in the vindicator mine at Cripple Creek, who corroborated a portion of Orchard's testimony regarding the vindicator explosion, Harrah being the cage man who was shot at.

Counsel for the state and defense had a wrangle over Harrah, Darrow claiming that the witness was trying to shield the Pinkerton's connection with his testimony. Harrah denied his intention to dodge anything. During the examination some woman spectators in the audience hissed, and Judge Wood threatened to clear the room if it was repeated.

Harrah was recalled after luncheon and after a few inconsequential questions was excused.

Charles Johnson, another cage man of the vindicator, in the mine when Superintendent McCormick and Shift Boss Beck were killed, told of the effects of the explosion, which occurred in the sixth level.

J. F. Pender, a city detective of Ogden, stated that Adams asked Pender, a Mason, to help him and he secured the release of Adams, who was under arrest on the charge of trespassing. He afterward identified Adams at the Western Union when he sent a telegram addressed to Haywood, at Denver, Col., asking for money.

Boise, June 15.—The prosecution in the Steunenberg murder case won its fight for the admission of the contents of the telegram Steve Adams sent from Ogden to the defendant, Haywood, at Denver in June, 1903, and Detective Pender, of Ogden, was permitted to testify its contents this morning. The message was an appeal from Adams to Haywood for money.

The state also produced and secured the admission of six drafts sent by Haywood to Jack Simpkins, at various times in 1904-06. One was sent just before and one just after the Steunenberg murder. They were introduced to show the relations between Haywood and Simpkins, who aided Orchard in his first attempt to kill Steunenberg.

The state produced the fragments of a pistol and device by which the infernal machine placed in the vindicator mine was set off. This led to a general digression and brought out the whole story of the Cripple Creek strike in 1903 and 1904, in which the defense sought to show violence and incitement to violence by agents and officers of the Mine Owners' Association, and high-handed injustice by the militia after martial law had been declared. Then the play went back to the Peabody bomb to prove its recovery from the Coeur d'Alene river. Former Governor Peabody, Mrs. Peabody and Miss Peabody, who had seats within the rail, intently watched the introduction of the bomb casing which so long held a tragedy for them.

Chas. T. Roach, a plumber, testified that he made the casing of what is known as the Peabody bomb to order. He identified the bomb. He said he did not think he could identify the person who ordered it and did not know Orchard.

Miss Cora May Peabody, daughter of the former governor, testified to seeing two men near her carriage during her father's term of office. Her mother and sister were with her at the time. Orchard has testified that one night he waited to shoot the governor, but the ladies got out of the carriage.

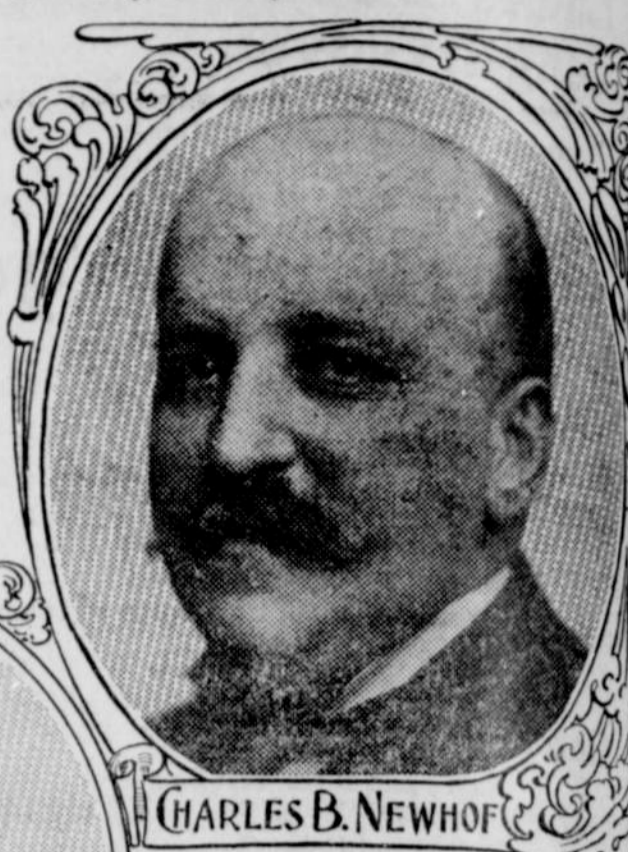

Governor Peabody was the last witness called this morning and testified to seeing Orchard at Canon City at the time Orchard said he went there for the purpose of killing the governor.

Former Governor Peabody was called to the stand again this afternoon and further corroborated Or-

Catarrh of the Bladder.

CHARLES B. NEWHOF

Catarrh of the Bladder.
Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delaware street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes: "Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced age. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided, and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."

Catarrh of Stomach and Kidneys.
Mr. David L. Jaycox, Chaplain Clarinda I. O. G. T. and Chaplain G. A. R., 865 Broadway, Oakland, Cal., writes: "I am an old war veteran. I contracted severe bladder and kidney trouble. I spent hundreds of dollars and consulted a host of doctors, but neither did me any good.
"Finally some of my comrades who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it. I at once bought a bottle, and found it helped me so much that I kept using it for nearly four months.
"Peruna has proven the best medicine I ever used. My pains are gone and I believe myself to be cured. I feel well, and would not be without a bottle in time of need for ten times its cost."
Mr. Robert E. Hanvey, Treasurer Knights of Industrial Freedom, also a well known writer and lecturer, writes from 11 South Nicholas St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:
"I was in good health until about four years ago, when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing, with severe twitches and slow exhaustive aches. Urine was highly colored and passed with great irregularity. I knew this must be inflammation of the bladder.
"Having read of Peruna I decided to try it. I found relief from the pain within ten days. The aches gradually diminished, and it was a blessing that I can assure you. My appetite returned, nervousness and irritability were things of the past, and for two years now I have been a healthy man. I give all thanks to your Peruna, and believe that it is a blessing to mankind."

H. L. EMERY

Mr. H. L. Emery, Vice Chancellor and Master of Arms, K. P.'s, of Omaha, Neb., writes from 203 North Sixteenth street, the following words of praise for Peruna as a tonic. He says:
"It is with pleasure I recommend Peruna as a tonic of unusual merit. A large number of prominent members of the different orders with which I have been connected have been cured by the use of Peruna in cases of catarrh of the stomach and head; also in kidney complaints and weakness of the pelvic organs.
"Peruna tones up the system, aids digestion, induces sleep, and is well worthy the confidence of sufferers of the above complaints."

chard's testimony. The defense declined to cross-examine him.

Yesterday's Evidence.
This is a story behind the appearance of Steve Adams and the man known as the vindicator, Fred Williams at Ogden, as testified by witnesses from that place yesterday, and the finding of four revolvers and a pair of field glasses on them was particularly suggestive. That was on June 3, 1903. The men were beating their way East in a freight car—a car of fruit. The story of that trip does not come out in this case, it was told by Adams in his confession, which he has repudiated. The two men were sent to San Francisco that spring to kill Fred W. Bradley, so it is alleged, but they did not succeed, and they were on their way back to Denver. For some reason they could not get at their intended victim.

He was outfitted for his work in regulation manner, and with the glasses he could spy upon persons or places from a distance, thus avoiding the danger of attracting attention.

Jailed Ogden, he called on Haywood for assistance, sending the telegram which has been proved in court and saying that the money was required for his purpose. A singular feature of the matter is that the pair of glasses was stolen and was not recovered until some time later, shortly before the beginning of the trial of this case.

The reader will ask: "What connection is there between this testimony about Adams—graphing to Haywood from Ogden in 1903 for money to get him out of his scrape (which money, it will be shown, he received in response to his message), and the murder of Governor Steunenberg?"

This evidence is for the purpose of proving the general conspiracy in which, it is alleged, Haywood was engaged. It is proposed to show that Haywood was sending money to Adams because Adams was a murder agent of the conspiracy.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The city has again assumed the appearance of a night detachment of infantry and cavalry were arriving and long lines of transport wagons with camp equipments passed through the main streets all this morning. Every railroad station is occupied by two companies of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry, and armored military trains are in readiness for possible trouble over the dissolution of parliament.

Will Be Dissolved.
The second Russian parliament, the Associated Press is informed by a ministerial authority, will be dissolved by imperial edict which will be promulgated as soon as the lower house acts on the premier's ultimatum.

There is no hope that the house will agree to the suspension of the 55 social Democrats, but the parliamentary committee, which has been examining the indictment of the social Democrats, will ask the house to give it until Monday to report.

Boise, June 18.—With Harry Orchard recalled to the stand, first to be formally prepared by the defense for impeachment, and then to be re-directly examined, the state produced this morning a number of letters written by Orchard and one by the prisoner, Haywood, which was for the purpose of showing a conspiracy to deceive Mrs. Orchard, of Cripple Creek, as to the whereabouts of Orchard during the spring and summer of 1905. The defense vigorously protested against the introduction of the matter on re-direct examination, but the court ruled that it was improper on re-direct examination he would permit the state to reopen its examination.

Orchard swore that Haywood said in the spring of 1905 that Mrs. Orchard was repeatedly writing to him as to Orchard's whereabouts, and Haywood suggested that he write her a series of letters and date them at San Francisco and have them delivered through agents of the Western Federation of Miners. Two were thus written and the state producing them secured their admission. One was written dated at Nome, Alaska, and given to Marion Moore, then an organizer for the Western Federation of Miners, to take to Alaska and mail. The state produced the letter and over the objections of the defense secured its admission.

Next the state produced a letter written by Haywood himself to Mrs. Orchard, showing that the prisoner had knowledge of the Alaskan story, and this, too, was submitted in evidence.

The impeaching questions propounded by the defense all indicated the purpose of the defense to show that at times Orchard had threatened to kill Steunenberg because of his desire to be revenged for the loss of his one-sixteenth interest in the Hercules mine.

He Fired the Stick.
"I have fired the walking stick I've carried over forty years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. LOOKING FOR SCANDINAVIAN COLONY SITE

E. M. Cederburgh, consul for Norway and Sweden at Portland, was here yesterday and today to investigate the price of land in Lane county for colonization purposes. His object is to induce Scandinavian people from the East to come here and buy small farms, from 20 to 40 acres each, and settle on them. It is a well-known fact that the Scandinavians can make as much off of a farm of that size as the average Pacific coast farmer under the old methods can off of a farm of 200 or 300 acres.

Mr. Cederburgh called on several prominent real estate firms in the city, also the Chambers-Bristow bank, and received much encouragement. In company with R. O. Belland, state manager for the National Life Insurance Company, he drove out to Junction and McGroves, and was very much impressed with the appearance of the land and considered the price asked in most instances very reasonable.

Mr. Cederburgh left this afternoon for Portland and may be back to Eugene in the near future and close a deal for the purchase of one of more large tracts of land for his proposed colony.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO SELECT BOOKS JULY 8

Superintendent J. H. Ackerman is sending out a circular letter to all the clerks of the district boards of the first class, that is districts where 1000 or more children of school age are enrolled, stating that July 8 is the time set apart for all school boards of the first class to choose supplementary text-books to those already selected by the state board of text-book commissioners. The circular is as follows and is self-explanatory:
"This is to say that the attorney general on June 8, 1907, rendered a decision to the effect that on the second Monday in July, 1907, and on the second day in July every six years thereafter, and at no other time, the board of directors in districts of the first class may, when in their judgment more systematic grading of their schools require it, choose text-books in addition to those authorized by the state, and the result of their choice shall be regularly reported to the state board of education to be by them adopted."

Marshfield, June 13.—A meeting of the incorporators of the Douglas & Coos Electric Railway Company was held in this city Wednesday afternoon at the office of Judge Schibren, and there were present President E. L. Simpson, of North Bend; E. L. Wheeler, of Myrtle Point; F. L. Phalen, of Bandon, and J. H. Flanagan, of Marshfield. Vice President A. C. Marsters, of Roseburg, was unable to attend.
The matter of stock subscriptions was taken up by the company, and it was resolved to open the books at Myrtle Point, North Bend, Bandon, Coquille, Marshfield and Roseburg, and at each place, excepting Coquille, the books will be placed in the hands of the incorporator of the company who lives there.
The first block of stock in the electric railway company sold on Coos Bay was purchased by L. J. Simpson, of North Bend, for $10,000.
The next important work will be the securing of franchises and terminals, after which the construction work will shortly commence.
Donald Fitzgerald, of New York, has written the promoters, asking the privilege of financing the railroad, papapapa mou si spuna sumpasa pa as a matter of small difficulty.
The appraisers of the property of the estate of Harry W. Jones, of Jasper, deceased, was filed in the probate court today. Property valued at $2461 was reported. T. S. Hills has been appointed guardian of the person of the children of the deceased.
