ARGUMENTS BEGIN IN HAYWOOD CASE

Boise, July 18.—The defense in the Haywood trial rested immediately after court opened this morning without calling a single witness in sur-rebuttal. Judge Wood then announced that the opening argument for the state to the jury would be made tomorrow morning by Mr. Hawley.

The jury was not brought into court today, the day being given over to the consideration of instructions to be given the twelve men who have the life of the defendant in their hands.

Attorney Drarow occupied the morning session in behalf of Haywood and argued that the showing of deportation from Cripple Creek during the strike period and the connection of the Pinkerton detectives and hired gunmen should be allowed to go to the jury. Darrow reviewed the Colorado situation. He charged the mineowners and detectives with planning a fake wreck on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad, with blowing up the Independence depot, and with fostering riot and disorder through hired thugs.

Darrow was impassioned and hurled invective without stint at the detectives and at Orchard. He closed with a whirlwind appeal for the right to show a conspiracy against the Western Federation of Miners.

Borah will reply to Darrow's argument this afternoon.

Borah began his argument before Judge Wood as to the materiality of the Colorado evidence in the Haywood case at 1:40 p. m.

Borah said the counsel for the defense in his opening address to the jury claimed that a conspiracy existed between the Pinkertons, the Mineowners' Association and the Citizen's Alliance to drive the Western Federation of Miners out of Colorado; that many of the crimes charged to the Western Federation of Miners were in fact committed as incidents of the conspiracy to get rid of the union miners.

"But when we sift the matter out what do we find? That conspiracy had nothing to do with the Vindicator explosion, where Beck and McCormick were killed. That was an accident. The conspiracy had nothing to do with the attempt on Bradley. That was a gas explosion. The conspiracy had nothing to do with the death of Steunenberg. That was personal revenge of Orchard. The conspiracy had nothing to do with the death of Lyte Gregory. That was the result of personal difficulties. The conspiracy had nothing to do with the attempts on Justice Gabbert and Governor Peabody. They were the results of personal feeling."

Borah contended that the defense had not proven its charges.

LONG TRIAL WEARING ON EVERYBODY'S NERVES

Boise, Idaho, July 17.—The warm weather, the close atmosphere of the court room and the strain of the trial, now well in the middle of its tenth week, are telling on the nerves of the counsel. Mr. Richardson is sarcastic and Mr. Hawley aggressive. Senator Borah is smilingly impassive, but Mr. Darrow, losing some of the suaveness of his manner, no longer pours oil upon the troubled waters. Judge Fremont Wood shows impatience with the continual sparring between counsel. Objections have been incessant during the three days and a great part of the time is taken up in minor arguments. Judge Wood is almost uniformly good humored, however, and generally prevents a serious clash by turning the laugh on counsel.

Threats of more perjury proceedings are in the air. It is even intimated that as a result of some of the evidence the old indictments in connection with the Coeur d'Alene troubles in 1899 will be taken out of the pigeon holes, as these indictments were for murder, and as one has confessed to having had a share in it and others implicated are in Boise, the rumors may be well grounded. Prosecuting counsel in the Haywood case, says, however, that this is not a matter that is within their province, and that any action must come from the regular authorities of the state.

It is pointed out, however, that the cost to Shoshone county, where the crimes were committed has already been very heavy, that previous prosecutions in the same connection brought the county to the verge of bankruptcy and that evidence to convict would be difficult so many years after the event.

Boise, July 19.—Judge Wood announced at the opening of the Haywood case this morning that he would give his decision on the questions argued yesterday afternoon. The court adjourned until 2 o'clock, when Attorney Hawley will open for the state.

James McParland, the detective whose name has so often been mentioned in connection with the securing of evidence against the Western Federation of Miners, was in court today for the first time. He came to listen to the arguments. Governor Gooding was also present for the first time.

To preserve the record Richardson again today moved that the jury be instructed to return a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the defendant, Haywood, has not been connected by the evidence with the crime alleged. The motion was denied.

This afternoon Judge Wood announced his decision withdrawing from the jury the evidence bearing on the deportations and employment of detectives in Colorado. He admitted the evidence as to the Vindicator mine and Independence depot explosions.

The most important phase of the decision was that of striking out of the case all relation to the deportation of the miners from the Cripple Creek and Telluride districts and that portion of Orchard's testimony relating to what Pettibone told him of a trip on which he sent Steve Adams to get rid of claim jumpers in Northern Idaho. This matter, the court said, had not been connected pu in any way with the defendant Haywood.

Attorney Hawley in opening congratulated the jury upon the beginning of the end of the long trial. He dwelt eloquently upon the reasons for Orchard's confession, which he said was to bring to justice the worst set of conspirators that ever infested any section of the United States.

Boise, July 20.—Continuing his argument and analysis of the evidence in the Haywood case today, Attorney Hawley took up Orchard's story of his experiences and criminal record in Colorado, his trip to Wyoming and attempt on the life of Fred Bradley in San Francisco. With the utmost deliberation the leading counsel for the state, charged willful perjury against several witnesses. He argued for the truth of Orchard's story and said that two men in particular might have been brought to contradict him, but the defense was afraid to produce either Pettibone or Adams, and he said Adams had been brought to Boise from the jail in Shoshone county in order that the defense might use him as a witness. White to the lips, Clarence Darrow sprang into action.

J. H. HAWLEY.

"That statement is false and counsel knows it!" he shouted.

Hawley took a step closer to the defense table, and shaking his finger close to Darrow's face he said:

"When counsel says that he utters a deliberate falsehood."

The atmosphere was charged with danger. Sheriff Hodgkins stood alert and the deputies drew closer, but Judge Wood, with a sharp command and insistent warning, patched up a temporary peace.

Hawley's argument this morning was lacking in all attempts at oratory. It was a dispassionate review of the evidence with a bold denunciation of the methods of the defendant's counsel and the testimony of the witnesses for the defense.

Resuming his argument after recess, Hawley traced Orchard's movements after the Bradley explosion, showing how he changed his costume to a soldier's clothing in order to get out of San Francisco. The change was accomplished in the room of C. D. Copley, a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners.

McKENZIE STOCK FARM SOLD TO W. O. STARBUCK

C. R. Mead has sold the well-known McKenzie stock farm above Springfield and seven miles from Eugent to W. O. Starbuck, recently from Iowa, for over $12,000. This is one of the best farms in the county and consists of 256 acres. The name of the farm would imply that it is devoted to the exclusive raising of stock, but this is not so. Besides plenty of pasture land for stock there is a great deal of grain land and some of the finest wheat and oats ever seen in the state are harvested there. Mr. Mead will devote his attention to the slabwood business at Springfield.

C. P. CHURCH BUILDING AND LOT ARE SOLD

The old Cumberland Presbyterian church building at the corner of East Sixth and Pearl streets has been sold by the Central Presbyterian church to M. D. Mitchell and Hall & Shumway, who purchased the whole quarter block on which the building stands. Mr. Mitchell takes the building and Hall & Shumway the lot next the alley. The price paid for the property is not given out. Mr. Mitchell has not yet decided what he will do with the church building, he having several things in view at present.

BLIND PIG OPERATOR IS FINED AT DRAIN

Drain, Or., July 18.—C. C. Case, formerly a saloonman at Cottage Grove, pleaded guilty before Recorder Krewson to the charge of selling liquor without a license and was fined $75 and costs. Case is the third person to be fined for this offence during the past year, and it is likely that this will be the last attempt to run a blind pig in this town or precinct, as each of the offenders was threatened with a jail sentence if arrested again.

WORK OF THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' AID SOCIETY

SUPERINTENDENT W. T. GARDNER UP FROM PORTLAND VISITING MEMBERS OF LOCAL ADVISORY BOARD.

Looks Into Records at Courthouse and Compliments Officers for Fine System of Filing, Enabling Him to Look Up the Number of Cases from this County.

Superintendent W. T. Gardner, of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at Portland, is in the city visiting members of the local advisory board of the society, also assisting in any way needed in the juvenile court of this county, over which County Judge Chrisman presides.

Mr. Gardner spent yesterday in the company of Chief Probation Officer John M. Williams. All the departments of the court house were visited and Superintendent Gardner says that great credit is due Lane county officials, especially the county clerk's department, for their fine system of records and filing. It is an easy matter to take the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society's file and look up the number of cases committed to the society from this county. Some of the children have grown up and are married, while others are still under the care of the society.

A representative of the society will be here at least every 60 days to assist with any matters needing attention. In the meantime the local board will look after the society's interest.

On the third Wednesday in September Mr. Gardner will lecture here on the work in caring for dependent and indigent children of the state.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society now has under its immediate care between 500 and 600 children, placed out in family homes throughout the state. At the Receiving Home in Portland they have on hand about 45 children, both boys and girls, most of whom are to be placed for legal adoption or on indenture. Among this numebr is a most desirable little girl, aged five years, for whom a first-class home is sought, also a number of small boys. Applications can be made through John M. Williams, secretary of the local board in this city.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SHANNON AT SALEM

The First Congregational church in this city was well filled yesterday morning by the friends and relatives of the late Mrs. Wesley Shannon, of Eugene, who assembled to pay a last tribute of respect to her memory, says Thursday's Salem Statesman. From various parts of the state relatives and friends were in attendance, among them being the following: Hon. T. G. Hendricks and wife, of Eugene; Mrs. Robert M. McMurphey and A. E. Wheeler, neices of Mrs. Shannon, from Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Simmons, of Portland (Mr. Simmons being a brother of the deceased); John Simmons, a brother from Mt. Angel; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settlemeier, of Portland, Mrs. Settlemeier being a neice of Mrs. Shannon; Mrs. E. Johnson, a niece, from Silverton; Grover Simmons, a nephew, from Howell Prairie; Redford and Fred Simmons, nephews, from Oregon City; and Mrs. R. O. Thomas, from Turner.

In an impressive service Rev. P. S. Knight, who was for many years her pastor, recalled the many Christian virtues of the deceased, whose life work was finished, and who went to her final rest with the consciousness of having lightened the burdens of others, and of having shared her world's goods generously with her less fortunate neighbor.

A quartette, composed of Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Mrs. Ida Babcock and Messrs. G. A. Forbes and William Staiger, rendered several appropriate selections, while Mrs. F. E. Dell presided at the organ. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Messrs. John Bayne, W. J. Culver, A. M. McCorckle, D. F. Brunner, J. M. Ringo and R. J. Hendricks. At the I. O. O. F. cemetery, where Mrs. Shannon was placed beside her husband, the services by Rev. Knight were very brief, being the beautiful rose ritual, that so fitly typifies the brevity of life and the hope of the resurrection even as the rose fades, but with the coming of spring a fairer blossom breathes upon the world.

HARRISURG NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

C. W. Murphy was at Eugene on a short business trip the latter part of the week.

Mrs. M. E. Hearn has been appointed assistant agent at the S. P. station here.

Dr. T. C. Mackey was at Eugene on a short business visit last Wednesday evening.

Miss Millie Peters was down from Eugene on a short visit with friends last Friday afternoon.

M. C. Bond, of Coburg, was here a short time Monday evening on a business trip. Mr. Bond is now one of the members of the Coburg Mercantile Company, and reports business very good at the sawmill city. Mr. Bond was in the employ of the S. P. Co. as station agent for fourteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, of Junction City, were here the latter part of last week visiting with relatives. They have disposed of their property in Junction and left here Saturday evening for Los Angeles, where they will reside in the future. They take with them the best wishes of a host of friends in this section.

Silas Leonard, of Coburg, who has been ill in this city for severay weeks past, died Monday shortly after noon and the funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church, south, Tuesday afternoon, his remains being laid to rest in the Lewis cemetery north of Coburg. The services at the cemetery were conducted by the Harrisburg and Coburg Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges, he having been a member of both organizations. The services were largely attended. Deceased leaves a wife and two sons, besides a number of other relatives and a host of friends, all of whom deeply sympathize with the surviving relatives in their sad loss.

Many of our people were somewhat surprised to see Tom Kelly's picture in the Telegram one day last week, together with the announcement that his true name was Driscoll and that he had been sentenced to the penitentiary for robbing a drunken man at Salem Tom Kelly, as he was known here, lived in the old sawmill office above town for a couple of years, and those who knew him best declare that he never did a day's work, but always had money and had no hesitancy in showing it. He stated that he received money from a sister, but he was never known to get a letter while here and never had a check or draft cashed. He would sometimes go away and be gone a week or so and most generally had plenty of money upon his return. He was quite a hand to dispose of red liquor and stated that he allowed himself $1 per day for booze, and as he always bought it by the quart this would indicate that he put away about seven quarts a week. It is now supposed that while he lived here he would go away and perhaps

He was a good talker and had a good many yarns to relate, but none of our people ever thought of him as a holdup artist. There is a bare possibility that he may have had a hand in cracking the S P. safe some months ago. No one would put it past him now that his record has become known. —Bulletin.

BOUGHT 200,000 POUNDS PRUNES AT CRESWELL

Sanford Laselle, of the prune packing and shipping firm of Laselle Bros., returned last night from a trip to Creswell, where he bought 200,000 pounds of dried prunes from Dr. Scarborough. This is considered quite a large deal at this season of the year, when nearly all the prune crop is contracted for. Mr. Laselle says that he has several other orchards in view, which e expects to contract for the output.—Albany Herald.

MARRIED

At the Wald house in Eugene, today, July 18, 1907, at 11 a. m., Fred J. Wells, of Mapleon, and Miss Rebecca Acheson, of Deadwood, Rev. J. S. McCallum officiating. The couple left on the afternoon train for Portland and other northern points on a honeymoon trip.

OBITUARY

Mrs. James Campbell, one of the states earliest and best known pioneers, died at her home on Camp Creek, Tuesday morning, July 16, 1907, after a very short illness from paralysis. She was stricken early in the morning and died at 12 o'clock the same day.

Mrs. Campbell, whose maiden name was Mary Jane Starr, was born in Belmont county, Ohio, December 10, 1830. When at the age of eight years her parents moved to Van Buren county, Iowa, and it was in this state, that she grew to womanhood. In the year 1853, and on the 15th day of March, she was united in marriage to James Campbell. She still continued her residence in Iowa until 1858, when with her husband she moved to Benton county, Oregon. At this place they reside for fourteen years. In 1872 she came to Lane county and settled about ten miles east of Springfield, on Camp Creek, where she lived till her death. Mrs. Campbell was the mother of eleven children, seven of which are still living. They are G. W. and W. G. Campbell, of Spokane, Wash., O. A. Campbell, Mrs. Laura Brattain, Mrs. Mary Male, Mrs. Alice Patterson and Mrs. Clara Male, all of Lane county.

COMMISSION ORDERS NEW DEPOT AT ALBANY

HEARING OF COMPLAINT OF CITY BEFORE RAILROAD COMMISSION HELD IN THAT CITY YESTERDAY

Fact Brought Out That $12,000 Has Been Set Aside for Eugene Depot and Only $6000 for Albany—Railroad People Say Intention Is to Build During 1907

The much anticipated depot hearing before the railroad commissioners was held at the council chambers in Albany Wednesday, with a crowd in attendance.

Attorney Fenton appeared for the railroad and J. H. McNary, W. R. Bilyeu and Gale S. Hill for the city.

In order to enable the railroad men to leave on the noon train their evidence was taken first. William Boilons, division engineer, M. J. Buckley, general superintendent, and Superintendent Fields testified, making out a splendid case for the city.

The fact was brought out that during the last of 1906 the budget was made out for 1907, and in it was an appropriation of $6000 for a depot at Albany, $5339 for a 60,000 gallon water tank on iron standards, and $5000 for a rearrangement of the depot, which had been approved by the Chicago office. But on account of the negotiations for the C. & E. and the probability of the need of a union depot the matter had been delayed, but it is the intention to carry out the plans, and Mr. Buckley assured the commissioners that it would be done during 1907, and the present talk is to have a union depot this side of the yard, that always being the policy of the company where possible.

Upon being asked Mr. Buckley candidly remarked that "it is a damn poor arrangement," referring to the present location of the depot beyond the tracks.

All the men upheld the Grants Pass sand walks, and denied the unsanitary condition of the depot. When the new depot will be begun will depend upon the instructions of Manager O'Brien, not present, said the witness.

Commissioner West discovered the fact that $12,000 had been set aside for [illegible] at Eugene and only $6000 [illegible] asked why, but could get no answer.—Democrat.

Order Made by Commission.

At 3:30 this afternoon the hearing of the railroad commission regarding the alleged inadequate depot facilities in Albany was closed and the commission made an order requiring the Southern Pacific Company to erect a new and modern depot in this city with the tracks on the side opposite the passenger platform. This is to replace the one now in use. The construction is to begin by the first of Jaunary, 1908. It is also ordered by the commission that the railroad at once place an arc light in the depot yards and install and keep lighted incandescent electric lights about the depot platform.—Herald.

SABBATH DAY IS DISCUSSED AT LOWELL

(Special Correspondence.)

Lowell, July 18.—Thomas Crayle, of Lebanon, and wife are looking after their farm near the Middle Fork school house.

On Sunday, the 14th inst., at the Rush Island school house, Mr. Sharp, Methodist Sunday school superintendent, and Mr. Sprague, Seventh Day Adventist, had a lively discussion about the fourth commandment. Mr. Sharp argued that the Christian Sabbath needed no argument to sustain it; that it was ushered into existence at the resurrection of Christ; that it had been observed by Christians and taught wherever the gospel or Christ was preached and denied that Constance of the Catholic church had anything to do with the change from the seventh to the first day, and that God only was holy, not a day, and that the Hebrew Sabbath was buried in the ruins of the dark ages and had ceased to be observed by Christians and would never again be resurrected Mr. Sprague argued that the seventh day was the Sabbath of the Bible; that God had made it the holy Sabbath; that the statement of the dark ages was all bosh; that Constance and the Catholic church made the change and that the Christian Sabbath, or Sunday, was not observed by the apostles. We would be glad to have the local correspondents give their ideas of either side of the question or their approval or disapproval, or any one that might feel disposed to do so.

WOMEN ARE OF AGE AT EIGHTEEN YEARS

In January last the Chronicle published a ruling of the local land office rejecting the timber application of Miss Emma M. Keep, of Portland, for the reason that she was under the age of 21 years. An appeal was taken in her behalf to the commissioner of the general land office, in which it was contended that as she was 19 years of age she was qualified to make timber entry, and that the provisions of the state law govern in which women are declared of legal age at 18 years.

By decision of the commissioner of the general land office, received in The Dalles this week, the decision of the register and receiver was reversed, and it was decided that in the state of Oregon women may make applications at any time after reaching the age of 18 years.—The Dalles Chronicle.

TWO BOYS DROWNED IN WILLAMETTE

Frank and Henry Bayne, 11 and 8 years of age respectively, sons of Frank L. Bayne, of Peoria, were drowned at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were playing on some logs in the Willamette when they both fell in and drowned before help could be secured. The whole neighborhood turned out and began a diligent search for the bodies, and one was found at 11 o'clock. The search for the other was continued today.

The body of the second boy was found just before noon after a long and diligent search.

The report is the younger boy fell in and the older boy tried to get him out, when both went down struggling together. A young Githens boy was present and say the drowning, but

WM. RENSHAW BUYS TOM BROWN LOT

A great deal of Eugene real estate has been changing hands recently and the values are gradually going up. The latest transfer is the sale of the Tom Brown residence property at the corner of West Eighth and Lincoln streets, across from the old Presbyterian church building, now the Woodman hall, to W. M. Renshaw, proprietor of the Hotel Smeede. The price paid is $2250. Mr. Renshaw has not decided yet whether he will build there soon or not. While the lot is an ideal one for residence purposes, it will be valuable in the near future for a business building.

GIVES BACK MONEY HER LOVER STOLE

Roseburg, Or., July 17.—The first chapter in the interrupted elopement of Mrs. Williams, of Looking Glass, and S. Vickers, who was arrested at Cottage Grove last week on a charge of larceny, was ended today when Mrs. Williams appeared before District Attorney Brown and returned to him $15 of the money Vickers stole, stating that he had given her the money to deliver to Mr. Smith, from whom it was taken, and that she was returning to her husband at Looking Glass. As Mr. Williams refuses to prosecute Vickers on a charge of illicit relations, Vickers will be released. Smith claims that there is yet $1.65 of the stolen money to be accounted for, and will not consent to the release of Vickers until that amount is returned.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS IN BREVITY FORM

A bloody riot with guns and pistols took place at Muskogee, when Henry Asp, a railroad attorney, attempted to take charge of the Republican county convention. Many were wounded, but Deputy Marshal Bud Ledbetter, a Democrat, finally appeared and practically took charge of the convention, thus saving Asp from being mobbed.

Senator Levi Ankeny, of Washington, has announced his candidacy for re-election.

By November 1 the last spike will be driven in the Portland & Seattle railroad between Kennewick and Vancouver, and within a few days after that date trains will be in operation over that section of the line, which means its entire completion with the exception of the bridges to span the Columbia and Willamette rivers and the tracks into Portland.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Fred J. Wells, of Mapleton, and Miss Rebecca Acheson, of Deadwood.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Milton A. Nicolle, of Eugene, and Miss Clara Emmerson, of Florence. The marriage will occur at Florence in a few days.

RICH STRIKE MADE IN HIAWATHA QUARTZ LEDGE

MINERS BREAK INTO SPLENDID ORE IN BOHEMIA PROPERTY ABOUT TWO WEEKS AGO

Interst in Sunrise Mine Sold by Lovelace, of Dakota, for $10,000— New Owners Arrive, Bringing a Mining Engineer—Future Plans of Company Formulated.

The miners drifting in on the Hiawatha quartz ledge in Bohemia broke into very rich ore about two weeks ago, the strike being kept from the public until this week. The owners of this mine are conservative, and never become excited when a body of good ore has been uncovered, but ploddingly continue drilling and blasting. Ore from the new strike has not been assayed, but expert miners put a good estimate on the value.

The Hiawatha has always been a favorite mine, and could have been made a producer long ago if the owners had cafed to instal a reduction plant, but they chose rather to continue development work. The ore is base and must be concentrated and smelted.

The future plans of the company are not disclosed, yet it is understood that work will be carried forward. People well acquainted with the lead say that already there is $150,000 worth of ore blocked out. The owners refuse, however, to confirm or deny the statement. They have a good mine, though, and are putting money into it.

Interest in Sunrise Sold.

Mr. Lovelace, who formerly lived here, but is now a resident of Dakota, has sold his interest in the Sunrise mine, Bohemia district, to Eggen and Sweet, of Fargo, North Dakota, receiving therefor $10,000, as rumor reports. The new owners stepped off the train at this station Sunday night bringing with them a mining engineer. A meeting of the stock holders was held Monday and new directors chosen in place of those who have sold the stock. James Ostrander was re-elected. The party went up to the mine Tuesday morning. Assays of ore will be made through the whole length of the 500-foot tunnel. The ore body is large and the ore carries some free gold, but mainly base values. On the return of the party plans will be formulated for the future management of the mine. John Sweet, who worked in the camp for several months about four years ago, is one of the visitors, and will probably remain here for the present, at least.—Western Oregon.

JUNCTION CITY MAN HAD A BLIND PIG

Junction City, Or., July 19.—J. B. Andrews, an old soldier, who came from Lebanon last ftll and located at this place, started a feed store, was arrested yesterday for selling whiskey in a dry county. It has been known for several months that he was shipping in cases of bottled beer, and it was generally understood that he was selling it to those whom he knew to be "true blue." It was impossible to get any one to "peach" on him, but he was caught napping on Monday night, when he sold a pint bottle of whiskey to Tom Uttinger, a man about town. Uttinger has always pretended to be a friend of Mr. Andrews, enjoyed the comforts of his warm fires during the rainy and stormy winter days, and made himself so agreeable that Mr. Andrews had confidence in his pretended friendship.

About 9 o'clock Monday evening Mr. Uttinger pretended to be suffering intense pain and wanted a pint of good whiskey to take home. He told Andrews he did not have the money to pay a doctor for a prescription and get the whiskey too.

Mr. Andrews, not knowing Uttinger had been sent by the marshal, who was watching through the front window, sold the bottle of whiskey, and as soon as the money was paid the marshal walked in and demanded the bottle of whiskey, which was handed to him with the compliments of Mr. Uttinger.

District Attorney W. S. McFadden was sent for and Andrews pleaded guilty and was fined $150, which he paid.

COTTAGE GROVE BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE AT 6

The following places of business at Cottage Grove, by mutual consent, have agreed to close their respective places of business on and after August 1, at 6 p. m., Saturdays excepted: Wheeler-Thompson Co., Compton & Wallace, Metcalf & Brund, Croner & Cochran, Garman-Heminway Co., O. Serious Accident.

John Taylor was quite seriously hurt at Disston on Monday last. He was lineman in the logging camp. A log shooting the chute jumped and knocked down two saplings. Taylor saw one and dodged it. The other that he did not see struck him on the back of the head and right shoulders. At first his associates thought him dead, but after an hour he regained his mind, and was resting fairly well when Dr Job arrived in answer to a call. The surgeon found no fractured bones and looks for a speedy recovery.—Western Oregon.
