

SLEEP BROKEN BY ITCHING ECZEMA

Skin of Whole Body Covered for a Year—Awful Itching Kept Sufferer Awake Half the Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies but They Had No Effect.

CUTICURA REMEDIES A PERFECT SUCCESS

"I wish to let you know that I have used one set of Cuticura Remedies—one case of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura, but two vials of Cuticura Resolvent Pills—which cost me a dollar and twenty-five cents in all. For a year I have had what they call eczema. I had an itching all over my body, and when I would retire for the night it would keep me awake half the night, and the more I would scratch, the more it would itch. I tried all kinds of remedies, but could get no relief. A friend of mine told me to try the Cuticura Remedies which I did, and am very glad I tried them, for I was completely cured. If any of my friends should be troubled with the same disease, I will cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies, and if I know any one who wants to know how I cured myself, I shall be glad to tell them. Walter W. Pagnusch, 207 N. Robey St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8 and 16, 1906."

MILK FACTORY AT SPRINGFIELD SEEMS ASSURED

LOCAL CAPITALISTS WILL PUT UP $50,000 FOR PLANT—BRASS BAND HOLDS FIRST PRACTICE. OTHER NEWS ITEMS FROM SAWMILL CITY.

It seems to be the general opinion that the prospects of locating a milk condensing factory in Springfield is not likely to materialize in the near future, but if reports that are now current are to be relied upon there may yet be some surprises for our citizens that be gladly welcome. We are not in a position to make public the names of the parties who will invest in the enterprise, but information that we have received is authentic. Most of the capital will be put up by local men, and to build a factory of the capacity that has been planned will require an investment of about $50,000.

A number of our citizens got together last Saturday night and so nearly completed the organization of a brass band that a night was set for practicing and as a result about a dozen of the members were gathered at the city hall Tuesday evening to take in the first rehearsal. The instrumentation of the band is not yet completed, but before another week will have passed the organization will be so far perfected that we will be able to give the complete "line up." There will be several old players among the membership, in fact, nearly all have played in bands before. Professor Baughman, principal of the public schools, will be instructor. It is said that he is a fine musician and an able instructor.

Banker E. E. Kepper informs us that he has changed his mind about erecting a new building on the vacant lot where the bank building formerly stood. The new structure, instead of being brick as was first planned, will be made of lumber. He first intended erecting a two-story brick, 27x60, but the latest plan will be but a one-story frame.

The familiar face of Grant Roberts is again seen at the delivery window at the postoffice. Grant is one of the most accommodating assistants that Postmaster Roberts has ever had and no doubt the many patrons of the postoffice will be glad to have him there to attend their wants.

The city fathers have again employed Levi Revere as overseer of the streets. His duties are to build sidewalks, crosswalks, etc., and he is the proper man for the place. Mr. Revere is a faithful employe and looks after the interests of the city better than any man who has ever attempted to fill the position. Our councilmen are fortunate in securing his services.

must give up at last, went to the cellar and with a razor cut his throat from ear to ear. Climbing up a narrow ladder from the cellar where even a man with no impediment could scarcely go, he then went out into the back yard and secured a piece of clothesline.

Knocking the ends together he mounted a fruit box, placing the loops in the gashes already made with the razor throwing the rope over the cross-arm, he kicked the box from under his hand and was found hanging from the support about 6:30 o'clock this morning by the servant, Miss Elsie Read, of Harrisburg.

Claxton bled profusely from the gash in his throat and on his way to the yard stumbled over a pile of loose boards and boxes. It is supposed from the amount of blood on the pile of lumber he must have laid there some time before rallying enough strength to carry out his determined effort to destroy his life. His wife and child are still ignorant of his rash act. Both are gradually recovering from the severe attack of the disease.

Claxton was in the employ of the Journal. He was traveling agent, covering the district in eastern Oregon, and was one of the ablest and oldest men in the service of the paper. His accounts with the Journal Publishing company were straight to the smallest detail. He had returned last Friday from a special trip in the interests of the anniversary edition.

PUSH ELECTRIC LINE ON TO PRINEVILLE

A. WELCH RETURNS TO PORTLAND AND TELLS REPORTER OF PLANS OF EUGENE & EASTERN—SIXTEEN MILES OF RAILS ARRIVE HERE WITHIN 60 DAYS.

Prineville is the destination of an electric railroad that is being constructed by Portland and eastern capital from Eugene and Springfield, via the McKenzie river. The company has acquired right of way for 40 miles up that stream, has begun construction of its line from Eugene to Springfield, a distance of four miles, and is about to let the contract for a $40,000 bridge across the Willamette river at that point, says the Portland Journal.

Behind the railroad are the Story-Bracher Lumber company, A. Welch and associated capitalists. A new railway system has been completed at Eugene, and this is to form the nucleus of the electrical development eastward from the Willamette valley to Central Oregon.

The project is well along toward the stage where electric power development on the upper McKenzie will be commenced, and when the line from Eugene to Springfield is completed it will be pushed over the mountains. Next year will witness the complete unfolding of the company's plans, it is said, for an electric line connecting the Willamette valley with central Oregon and the irrigated region in the Deschutes river basin.

The linking of Portland with Eugene via Salem, by electric railroad transportation, will naturally follow completion this fall of the Portland-Salem electric line of the Oregon Electric Railway company. Within the next three years it will be possible, say the railroad prophets, to get on an electric sleeping car at Portland in the afternoon and disembark at Prineville next morning.

The proposed bridge over the Willamette at Springfield will be about 400 feet long and will probably be built by Contractor N. L. Roney of Eugene. President Welch returned to Portland today from a trip up the McKenzie river, where he inspected water power sites filed upon by the company, from which power will be developed to operate trains over the McKenzie river line.

Construction of the dam and canal for the first plant will be commenced within a few weeks. It is expected to complete the powerhouse by next spring. Sixteen miles of rails for the McKenzie river line have been purchased, and will be delivered within the next 60 days at Eugene. The road will be built 16 miles to Prineville, during the winter, and the McKenzie river will be bridged at that point next summer.

EXAMINATION OF GUY CRUZAN IN PROGRESS

YOUTH CHARGED WITH BEING ACCESSORY TO MURDER OF GERT NUNN BEFORE JUDGE BRYSON TODAY—LARGE NUMBER OF WITNESSES FOR BOTH SIDES EXAMINED.

(From Thursday's Guard.)
The preliminary examination of Guy Cruzan, the Marcola youth who is charged with being accessory to the murder of Bert Nunn, who was shot and killed a week ago last Saturday by Charles Crowley at Marcola, is being held today before Judge of the Peace Bryson. A large number of witnesses for both the state and defense have been examined and it is probable that the examination will not end today.

FOUR DAGOS ARE HANGED FOR MURDER

MURDERED COUNTRYMAN FOR PURPOSE OF ROBBERY—ALL PRESENTED FIRM FRONT ON SCAFFOLD AND ASSERTED THAT VICTIM WAS KILLED IN SELF DEFENSE.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 3.—Four Italians, Antoni Delose, Steven Caroll, Siverio Rodoli and Joseph Celloni, were hanged here today for the murder of Plato Albamaze, on the night of August 30, 1906. Albamaze was killed because he would not give up his money to them. He was stabbed more than twenty times. The men were hanged simultaneously in the jail yard and all presented a firm front except Caroll, who weakened, but braced up on the scaffold. Delose made a statement denying they intended to commit robbery, but said Albamaze attacked him with a razor and that in self defense he shot his assailant; that Cellone responded and also in self defense stabbed Albamaze.
