Junction City, Nov. 27.—The little 2-year-old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lemon, who live eight miles northwest of town, was scalded to death Monday evening by falling backward into a dishpan full of boiling water. The child's mother had placed the pan of hot water on the floor and stepped into the next room to get a mop and immediately returned, just in time to see her baby fall into the scalding water. She grabbed the child from the pan, but it was so badly burned that in removing its clothes the flesh came off with them. The child lived about four hours, when death came to its relief. Mr. and Mrs. Lemon are prostrated with grief, it being their only child.

Gwin, a well-known civil war veteran and before he was taken sick employed as the county park and courthouse ground tender, died at his home on West Eighth street this morning at 5 o'clock from cancer of the stomach after a long illness. He was born in Wayne county, Indiana, in June, 1813, and was married February 14, 1884. He came to Oregon in 1887 and first resided at Lebanon, but a year afterward he came to Eugene, where he resided three years and then went back to Kansas. He leaves a devoted wife, one daughter, Miss Vera, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Jennie M. Williams, of Eugene; C. A. Gwin, of Salem; S. M. SAY KIENSCHEIDT IS ANOTHER DURANT

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—That Harry Kienkschmidt, the young University of California student who is suspected of the murder of Frank Bellows, a fellow student, is a monster only second to Theodore Durant is the conclusion to be drawn from the statement made to the officials by Blanche Kiedfoot, the girl for whose affections the men were vying.

He is accused by the police of having repeatedly assaulted Miss Kerfoot, blackened her character when she turned against him, and finally poisoned Bellows.

TROPHY PRESENTED TO COMPANY E

COLONEL YORAN GIVES COT-
TAGGE GROVE MILITIA COMPAN-Y CUP

Cottage Grove, Nov. 27.—Company E, O. N. G., held a competitive drill at the armory Monday evening in the presence of a large audience. There were four vacancies for the staff of corporals and six entries in the contest. Privates Cochran, Bartels, Simmer, Potts, Baker and Goulet, all of whom passed a creditable examination for efficiency in the order named. There only being four vacancies the first four names were immediately appointed to their positions, the other two passing so good an examination, on recommendation of the colonel will be appointed corporals as soon as vacancies occur.

After the contest Colonel George O. Yoran presented the regimental trophy to Company E, which was won by them in the recent rifle contest. Colonel Yoran in his presentation speech said that he did not believe in taking the cup from Roseburg, where it has been kept so long, but he was very much pleased to hand it to the youngest company in the regiment. Captain Johnson received the trophy for the company in a few words of pride that were shared in by the company.

The banquet which followed was attended by the members and invited guests.

Speeches by Colonel Yoran, Major C. C. Hammond, Captain Johnson, J. S. Medley and others passed away several hours in a pleasant manner.

EUGENE POISON FACTORIES

You Will Be Surprised to Learn How Many There Are

Did you ever feel stupid and dull after eating a hearty dinner?

When food is retained too long in the stomach, because of stomach weakness, the poison factories work overtime and there is giddiness, constipation of thought, despondency, heartburn, sleeplessness, nervous troubles and other forms of indigestion.

The general use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets puts within the reach of every one a reliable and positive cure for all stomach weaknesses. Mi-o-na quickly cures the worst case of indigestion, and the pain and distress which is often felt after meals will soon disappear, such is the wonderful curative power of this little tablet.

Mi-o-na acts upon entirely different ent principles from any of the other remedies that have been used in stomach trouble, and has a specific strengthening action upon the muscles of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive juices and making the stomach get to work and digest easily and naturally the food which is eaten.

Hull's drug store has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na that they give a guarantee with every 50-cent box that the remedy costs nothing unless it cures.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT

Portland, Or., Nov. 28.—Receipts of turkeys up to yesterday have been heavier than were ever known before, according to a number of the leading dealers, and more are coming in by every train from the south and east, though dealers say that the larger part of the shipments have already arrived. Some of the produce men have advised shippers to hold back in the hope of saving so far as possible a market that seems to be rapidly going to pieces.

Southern Oregon has been the heaviest shipper so far, Douglas county having already unloaded about 16,000 birds on this market, but other parts of the state have sent in immense quantities and it is impossible to make more than a random guess as to the amount of the receipts to date.

Many Sales of Hops.

During the past few days sales of hops have been very heavy, according to reports which come from this country today. Usually at this time of year there is a lull in the hop trade, but shorts are so anxious to buy and prices are so low that the trade is several times as great as it usually is at this time. Prices rule generally around 7 cents for best stock, with primes correspondingly lower. Growers are still determined to further enrich the pockets of the shorts and are selling whenever given a chance, even though they do not receive the cash for 60 days or more. Consignment schemes are being hatched on every side, but it is not likely that any of them will prove beneficial to the growers for the reason that hop supplies are enormous and growers are running.

Pineus Makes a Prediction.

Harry Pineus, of Pineus & Co., of Tacoma, was in the city yesterday and was in a very good mood. He said:

"In October I predicted that prime Oregon hops would sell at 6 cents a pound by January 1. The prediction, generally, was laughed at. However, hops are now selling at the price foretold. While the money situation undoubtedly brought things to pass earlier than expected, the decline is the inevitable result of overproduction."

"All this talk about bears and shorts is the veriest nonsense. Bears did not make the market what it is today. Over production makes dealers bearish. Any man who is honest and well informed must of necessity be a bear as far as the future is concerned."

Speaks of Three-Cent Hops

"I will make a further prediction, and that is the longer a man holds hops the more money he will lose. Prime hops will sell at 3 cents per pound by February—possibly earlier. The old talk that hops cannot go much lower will again be refuted. Why can't they go lower? They have gone lower before, why not again? There will be 50,000 bales of 1907's carried over as brewers will not need them. Put this aside and in six months compare it with the predictions of the bulls who have been wrong absolutely for the past three years. At this time we find the following amount in the hands of growers: Oregon, 80,000; Washington, 90,000; California, 60,000; New York, 25,000 bales."

Brief Notes of the Trade

Coast cocoa is down 2 cents a pound today.

Another condensed milk manufacturer cut prices 40 cents a case today.

The winter prices on package coffees are today in effect with the freight advance of 13 cents per 100 pounds. This puts Arbuckle at $16.63 and Lion at $15.88.

Dressed meats are scarce with prices firm, though unchanged.

Grape supplies are better. Demand better.

Locally there continues quite a good demand for potatoes and onions. Local trade nominal and then only at low figures.

WILL SEND MONEY FOR MOVING CROPS

Washington, Nov. 26.—A more confident tone in regard to the success of the new loans prevailed at the treasury department today than at any time since the announcement of the loans a week ago. The visits of J. P. Morgan on Friday and Saturday were followed today by a visit from James B. Forgan, president of the First National Bank of Chicago. Mr. Forgan saw the president, Secretary Cortelyou and Treasurer Treat, and expressed his belief that the banks throughout the country would soon be in a position to resume cash payments.

The reports at the treasury department today from New York, Chicago and Boston are that currency payments by the banks are on the increase and that the situation at those cities, and in fact at all other points, is rapidly improving. It is learned that New York and Chicago are at present making daily shipments of large sums of money to the crop shipment centers of the West and South, and it is confidently believed that these shipments will be continued in increasing amounts until normal conditions are again reached or until the necessity for them has passed.

In addition to the discussion of cash resumption, Mr. Forgan left tangible evidence of his visit in a subscription by the Chicago clearing house banks for $2,500,000 of the new one-year certificates. Additional amounts of these certificates are steadily coming to the treasury as security for banknote circulation. These represent allotments made by Secretary Cortelyou about the middle of last week.

LITTLE GIRLS SWEEP FROM SHIP'S DECK

SAD FATE OF THREE CHILDREN EN ROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO ON STEAMER PRESIDENT

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Unseen by passengers or crew, three little girls at play on the deck of the steamer President were swept overboard to their death in the ocean during a heavy sea off Grays Harbor on Friday afternoon, while their parents were below in the cabins.

In broad daylight, a score of men within call on deck, the children were carried over the lee rail by a boarding sea. Yet no one saw them go; no one heard their cries, and it was not until two hours later that their parents were told of the cruel fate which had befallen their little ones.

Rita and Ada Schotte, 12 and 4 years, respectively, were on their way from Australia to San Francisco with their parents, the father having resided with them at Victoria.

Florence Burkham, aged 13 years, was coming from Seattle with her mother, Mrs. John Burkham.

The children were playing on the deck when the full force of a wave higher than the others struck the steamer on the starboard side. At that instant no one thought of the children and when the steamer righted itself and forged onward, among all those on board there was but one man to whose mind came a thought of the children.

Jesse Duryea, a passenger, was the man. He instituted a thorough search of the vessel, but no trace of the children was found.

JEFFERSON BANK SETTLES WITH DEPOSITORS

A well-attended meeting of the depositors of the Oregon State Bank was held at the Masonic hall yesterday. J. T. Jones acted as chairman. A report of the committee appointed to examine the condition of the bank showed the amount of deposits to be $81,000 and the bank assets to be $108,000, thus showing that the bank was all right. In addition to all this the president of the bank, Mr. Aupperle, offered to put up the splendid property of the Jefferson Mill Company as additional security for the depositors, provided the said depositors would accept four per cent certificates of deposit, payable on or before one year from date, for money now on deposit. This proposition was accepted.—Jefferson Review.
