R. L. Donald left Salem at 1 p. m. in a special car for Portland, the first electric car to run over the new line between the two cities. He made the trip in about three hours with light power. The full current for heavy cars will not be turned on until Wednesday, although the entire line has been formally turned over to the operating corporation, known as the Oregon Electric Railway Company.

Mr. Donald as chief engineer for Barstow & Co., the contracting firm of engineers, who have built the line in less than two years, has handled the entire construction from start to finish, and feels very proud of what has been accomplished.—Salem Journal.

From a social standpoint the past week has been about as quite as any of the winter, but now that the holiday season is about over, society will again liven up and the usual "conventional line" will be followed. This usual routine was varied this week, however, with the splendid concert given by the Stanford Glee and Mandolin Clubs on Thursday evening. The boys were greeted by a very appreciative and enthusiastic, though not over large, audience. The work of the clubs is deserving of the highest praise, as is also that of the soloists, and the stunts were original and clever. The audience were greatly disappointed by the omission from the program of Mr. Gott's violin solo, many having heard of his ability in that line. Mr. Gott is also leader of the mandolin club and is a thorough musician. The young gentlemen made many friends while here and will be heartily welcomed here ... next year. During on their r... when they were entertained by the three ... fraternities and the dormitory club. On Thursday afternoon Miss Therese Friendly graciously threw open her home in honor of the California boys and invited a number of the Oregon students to meet them. College students have a way of easily getting acquainted and in a short time all were gathered around the piano singing popular songs and having a jolly good time. Punch, wafers and candy were served during the afternoon in bouffet style. Besides the guests of honor those present were the Misses Winnifred Cockerline, Pearle Hawthorne, Raechal Vogel, Helene Robinson, Mary De Bar, Adah and Eva Allen, Ruth Duniway, Sue Hayes, Jessie Bacon, Edna Zimmerman, Lou Renshaw, Myrtle and Leone Kays, the Messrs. Gordon Moores, Ralph Robinson, Elmer Paine, Will Kiltz, Tom Burke, Robert Obertauffer, George Hug, Glen Scott.

A number of the students here received invitations to a holiday dancing party given in Salem last evening by the Criterion Club. Among those who attended were Miss Cecil Wilcox, Miss Lucia Campbell, Mr. Curtis Coleman and Mr. Ralph Cronise.

Mrs. John Pipes entertained in her ever charming manner on Thursday evening at her artistic home at 725 Charnelton street. The affair was given in honor of Mr. T. Hutchison of London, an accomplished pianiste. The guests were favored with several exquisite musical numbers by Mrs. Pipes and Mr. Hutchison. Punch was served by the Misses Lucia Abrams and Dorothy Knox. Among the guests were Judge and Mrs. Pipes, Miss Pipes, Miss Harriette Pipes, Mrs. George McCrumb, Mrs. Jerry Bronough, Portland; Mr. and ... Charles Hardy, Judge ... Potter, Mr. ... and Mrs. E. O. Mr. ... and Mrs. Alton Hampton, ... and Mrs. H. F. Hollenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skipworth, Miss Therese Friendly, Miss Lou Renshaw, Miss Ethelwyn Barbour, Miss Stinson, Mrs. Wold, the Misses Emma, Cora and Clara Wold, Miss Louise Yoran, Mr. Marion McClain, Mr. Ce... ...ns, Mr. Harvey Densmore, Dr. T. W. Harris.

Mrs. Charles A. Burden graciously received a number of her friends this afternoon in her elegant new home on West Seventh street, in compliment to Mrs. E. V. Littler of Albany. The hours passed pleasantly with needle work and social conversation followed by a daintily served luncheon. The invited guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. C. V. Littler, Albany; Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. Adaline Church, Mrs. J. D. Fields, Mrs. Betty Humphrey, Mrs. L. N. Roney, Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass, Mrs. Richard Dearborn, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. Lawrence Harris, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. L. L. Whitson, the Misses Louise and Libby Yoran, Mertie Auten, Edna and Hazel Humphrey, Helene Robinson, Maude Kerns, Ruby Hendricks.

The display of handicraft work which has been on exhibit this week in the rooms of the Fortnightly Club was well worth seeing and great interest has been taken in it by those interested in arts and crafts. It would be hard to give any one particular article special mention, but the writer was especially interested in the pottery and stencil work, of which there were some very pretty pieces.

The Thursday Afternoon Club has now definitely decided upon the date for their charity ball. It will be given on the thirty-first of January and will be a society ... to the one given ... last year. The ...air similar cause is a ... deserving one and the people of Eugene should readily respond to the call ... for charity.

About seventy-five members of the Baptist church invaded the home of their pastor, Rev. O. C. Wright, last night and made Mr. and Mrs. Wright guests in their own home for the evening. Allowing sufficient time for the embarrassment of the first surprise to pass away a second surprise was perpetrated by C. P. Devereaux, representing the church, by an appropriate speech, presenting Mr. and Mrs. Wright with a beautiful silver set, sonsisting of a bread plate, salad fork, berry spoon and ladle. Mr. and Mrs. Wright both responded, expressing their appreciation not only for the presents, but especially for the affection and esteem which the members of the church continue to bestow upon them. A most delightful social evening was spent. Elaborate refreshments were served.

NEW YEAR'S MASK BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Company A's masquerade at the armory last night was one of the most successful in the history of the company. When that organization first began giving these affairs on New Year's eve they were more largely attended than any function of its kind during the entire year, but until this year for two or three years past the interest seemed to have lagged. However, the attendance of the maskers and spectators last night proved that the young people are taking more kindly to the annual affair. The number of maskers was larger than for several years and there was also a record-breaking attendance of spectators.

The music by the theatre orchestra was excellent, and as every one seemed to be in a mood befitting the occasion, jolity and mirth reigned supreme till the last number on the program was finished.

The committee of judges awarded the following prizes:

Best group, $10—Russell, Puckett, Cummins, Bonney, Horn, Dimond, Densmore, as a baseball team.

Second best group, $5—Andy Taylor, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Wright, Miss Knott and Mr. Siepman—Salvation army.

Best-dressed lady, $7.50 cut-glass dish—Honors divided between Mrs. Oscar Faust and Mrs. Roy Deal.

Best-dressed gentleman, $5 hat—Welby Wilkins.

Best dancing couple, each a pair of shoes—John George and Mabel Johnson.

Best sustained character, $3.50 umbrella—Mrs. S. E. Chapman, Indian squaw.

Most comical character, fountain pen—D. C. Bartholomew.

BREAD AND WATER DIET FOR CITY PRISONERS

Sherbondy and McCoy, the loggers who are doing time in the city jail for drunkenness, were told to go out with the street commissioner to work on the streets this morning, but they refused to do so. Chief of Police Farrington has put them on a diet of bread and water and will give them nothing more until they consent to work, or if they can stand it until their sentences expire.

AS TO ACUTE DISEASES

In many quarters of the country osteopaths are not very numerous; as a result, the news of their good work having spread, they are kept busy treating patients who come to their offices suffering from diseases that have become chronic, so that the impression has grown that osteopaths treat chronic diseases only.

In mentioning the ministers who performed marriage ceremonies in Lane county during the year 1907 Rev. J. S. McCallum should have been credited with 23 instead of 22.

GRANDMA DAVIDSON CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Halsey, Or., Dec. 31.—Children, grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren assemble yearly for the birthday of Mrs. Sarah Davidson, who yesterday was 83.

Quite a remarkable woman is this pioneer of 1852. She does her own housework, and belongs to that now small school of housekeepers which prides itself on not having a speck of dust from cellar to garret. She is as young appearing as many women 30 years her junior. She is also a woman of good works and a giver of many alms.

Mrs. Davidson held the attention of all in the room yesterday as she told of pioneer times, how she, her husband and six children started from Indiana for Oregon in 1852 with two yoke of oxen and one cow. One child died at St. Joseph, another took cholera and for days lay in his mother's arms with no sign of life except the fluttering of his pulse. Through all this they dared not stop but must keep on with the train because the Indians were hostile. Once they were called upon to defend themselves from a band of 600 redmen. They reached The Dalles in seven months, where their cow died, which was no small loss in those times. They did not see a house between St. Joseph and The Dalles. They came to Halsey and took up land near here, where they lived until Mr. Davidson's death, 14 years ago, since which time Mrs. Davidson has lived in town. There were among the most prosperous farmers of this vicinity.

Besides the grandchildren and great grandchildren who yearly celebrate Mrs. Davidson's birthday are her children—Mrs. Lucretia Murphy, of Corvallis; Theodore Davidson, of Eugene; Mrs. Mary Cunningham, of Lebanon, and William Davidson, of Brownsville.

CRESWELL ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.)

Creswell, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Myron Johns, of Creswell, gave a grand Christmas dinner and oyster supper to her children, their wives and husbands, her grandchildren and their husbands and wives, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ingraham, of Saginaw, their daughters and husbands, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bainbridge and family and several other guests partook of the good things. After dinner a goodly number of presents were given. Some were useful as well as ornamental and some were quite valuable. After supper we had recitations and singing until the time came for the Cottage Grove local, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ingraham and family departed for home, wishing the rest a happy New Year.

Mrs. Bainbridge went on the 11:10 the next day to Springfield.

Dr. George, of Creswell, is very sick with the measles at this writing.

ALL-OREGON FRUIT SHOW AT PORTLAND

Portland, January 14-16, 1908, will be the scene of the greatest horticultural meeting yet held in the state. Not only will an interesting and instructive program be presented, including talks by the most successful growers and shippers in the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and California, but there will be the finest display of winter fruits ever witnessed in the Northwest. A splendid set of cups and awards will be given for the best fruit shown, and the judging will be done by a government officer of national repute. The competitive premuim list will be announced shortly.

The regular reduced rates will be accorded by the transportation companies, provided fifty are present, and the occasion will be one of wide interest to the fruit growers of this entire Northwest.

At this time we want to call the attention of every producer of choice winter fruit to the subject of exhibiting and the importance of filing his request for space at an early date.

The exhibit already exceeds, in promise, that made last year, so that it is important that exhibitors file their request for space at an early date with J. H. Reid, Milwaukee.

It is not every year that we have an opportunity of having our products passed upon by a national expert. The occasion ought to be one of great value to our growers. Bring or send your unknown, or new varieties as well, so that they may be named.

E. R. LAKE,
Secretary.

ELMIRA ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.)

Elmira, Jan. 2.—Of all sad things of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, "It might have been." There might have been two weddings, instead of one at Elmira on Christmas, but—there wasn't.

Lee Harhberger, of Hubbard, is visiting with old friends in these parts.

Miss Anna Conant has been quite sick the past week.

Professor Gilson has gone to McMinnville to visit his parents through the holidays.

Miss Florence Quinn has gone to Portland to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Mathews, of Ivison, had the lucky number that drew the big doll on Christmas eve at Mr. Colgaard's.

The Sunday schools of Pleasant Hill, Santa Clara and Elmira have been having a contest for the past three months. We understand that Santa Clara came out ahead.

Married—At Mr. Bradford's on December 26, 1907, John Bentley, of Springfield, and Mrs. Mary McCormick, of Eugene.

J. F. Inman and family, of Eugene, spent Christmas with their son Cary on their farm.

Fred Walters, our sawmill man, has a large drive of logs in the creek and if the present high water continues will have no trouble in bringing them down to his mill.

Lawrence Taylor, who is attending the O. A. C. in Corvallis, is home spending the holidays.

NEWS NOTES

There is a reliable report that the land contest cases involving some fine homesteads up the Calapooia, in the Blue River district, have been decided against the homesteaders in favor of the contestants. The testimony was taken in these cases before County Clerk Miller several months ago and submitted to the department. —Albany Democrat.

More than 1000 teachers, members of the Washington Educational Association, are gathered in Seattle for their annual meeting. The sessions began yesterday at the University of Washington and will continue until Friday. The program is filled with interesting features, chief among which will be an address by President Harry Pratt Judson, of the University of Chicago.

Jewell lodge No. 32, Degree of Honor, of Harrisburg, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Chief of honor, Mrs. Ethel Murphy; lady of honor, Mrs. Effie Gleason; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. Viola Wright; financier, Charles H. This is entirely wrong. It must be obvious to any one that it is easier to cure a disease which has only recently attacked a patient than to get good results in a case which has been steadily growing worse for years. In fact, any osteopath can get quicker and better results in acute diseases than in chronic ones.
