

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters By Using Pe-ru-na.

"I Attribute my Extreme Old Age to the Use of Pe-ru-na."

Mr. Isaac Brock, 119 Years Old Last Birthday.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan county, Texas, has lived for 119 years. For many years he resided at Bosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says: "After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so. "One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 119 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States. "I have always been a very healthy man, but, of course, subject to the affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature. "As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Pe-ru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy. "It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine. "When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease. "I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Pe-ru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh I tried Pe-ru-na for la grippe and found it to be just the thing. "In a later letter, Mr. Brock writes: "I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. I would not be without Peruna."

Yours truly, Isaac Brock.

GETTING READY TO BEGIN WORK ON POWER CANAL

PORTLAND, EUGENE & EASTERN RAILWAY CO. MAKES NEW FILING ON MCKENZIE.

PROFILES OF CANAL AND POWER SITE BEING DRAWN AND DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT OF BEGINNING OF WORK WILL BE MADE IN SHORT TIME.

Alf Walker and Engineers Simon Klodahl and James R. Thompson returned last evening from Martin's Rapids, on the McKenzie river, where they went to look after the new filing on the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway Co.'s water power site. Engineers Klodahl and Thompson are now drawing profiles of the site and proposed canal and will forward them to the Portland office of the company as soon as completed. Soon after that it is expected that definite announcement of the time of beginning of work on the canal and power station will be made. The new location is different from the old, in that the notice is posted at Martin's Rapids, while the former notice was posted some distance above. The papers filed with the county clerk today state that the name of the canal will be the Railway Power canal and that it will be a mile in length, 40 feet wide at the bottom and 20 feet deep. The point of diversion is on the north bank of the McKenzie river in section 36, township 16 south of range 2

sonal against Bristol in making the change of district attorneys. Schuebel said that while he had no experience with federal court practice, still he was confident that he could fill the position with dignity and credit. Also he would like to have the use of Bristol's library and Bristol's advice. This is where Bristol turned loose the first of the pyrotechnics. "If you are so confident you can fill the position, why don't you take the oath and qualify?" demanded Bristol. "Why would you want to borrow my books and have my advice?" "But you are to clean up the office for me, so that all I will have to do will be to begin the routine work," observed Schuebel. "The dickens you say," or words to that effect, gasped Bristol. "You will get the office just as I did. There was no cleaning up for me and there will be none for you. You say you have had no experience in federal practice. Well, you will find that there is a lot of midnight oil to be burned. You will want to study and digest (and here Bristol rattled off a list of authorities and text books, or something of that sort, on Federal practice, that must have made Schuebel's eyes open as wide as it did those listening to the dialogue). This will take you months, and then it will be only the start. "Well, I don't understand things were in this condition," said Schuebel. "I was informed that you were to dispose of the work of the office before you left." "You supposed the district attorney's office was a bed of roses and a soft snap, eh?" demanded Bristol. "Who told you I would clean up?" "I was told in Washington. You are an ass-kicker in the land fraud cases, aren't you?" "None of your business." "But the president told me so. Said you had to." "He did, eh? Well, let me inform you, Mr. Schuebel, that I won't be bluffed and bulldozed. And I don't have to do anything I do not want to." "Then things are not as represented to me," observed Schuebel. "If you were told that I was to help you and make everything nice and soft for you by the crowd who have been fighting me in Washington, then you are mightily mistaken." "Well, you won't help me?" "Not by a jugful; and you can't use my library." After a quantity of similar repartee Schuebel said he understood that Bristol had been carrying expense accounts for telegraph, telephone and other bills. "I won't advance any money for such things," declared the newly appointed district attorney. "You will," declared Bristol with equal fervor. "You've got to. There are eighty districts, and you need not imagine that one-eightieth can attempt to tell the government how to run its business. Furthermore, there is a blue book which you will have to read and know by heart, and follow the letter or you will be jacked up by some dinky department clerk in Washington, and this book tells you what you must and what you must not do as district attorney." "Gimme the book," said Schuebel. "I'll give you—nothing. You are not a government officer yet and you won't be until you qualify, and you are not entitled to see the book until you are sworn in. Then, if you want to see the book, look for it in my office somewhere. And don't think for a moment that as district attorney you can go into court and file complaints as easily and in the way you would before a justice of the peace."

WINIFRED KELLY FOUND AND IS HOME AGAIN

WENT TO ALBANY AND REGISTERED AT HOTEL UNDER HER OWN NAME

LEFT HOME THROUGH FEAR OF SCOLDING FROM HER MOTHER FOR SOME TRIVIAL OFFENSE— BROUGHT BACK HOME BY HER UNCLE TODAY

(From Thursday's Guard.) Miss Winifred Kelly, who disappeared from her home in this city on Tuesday evening, was found at Albany last night and she arrived home on this afternoon's train with her uncle, William Cheshire of Springfield, who went down on this morning's train after her. Sheriff Fisk, after attempting to reach by telephone the conductor of the north bound flyer which passed through Eugene Tuesday evening, succeeded late in the afternoon and learned from him that a girl tallying exactly with the description given by Miss Kelly boarded the train here and got off at Albany. The sheriff of Linn county was then asked to look out for her and he located her at the Russ Hotel between 8 and 9 o'clock last evening. She registered at the hotel shortly after the train arrived under her own name. The only explanation given by Miss Kelly's action is that on the impulse of the moment she concluded to run

FOUR PERSONS MURDERED AND BODIES CUT UP

Florence, Colo., Jan. 9.—That Ercole Buffetti, Dominisk Menchiello, Joseph Menchiello and Mrs. Frank Palmetto, who mysteriously disappeared from this city, were fouly murdered and their bodies chopped to pieces is the positive opinion of the police. The disposition of the bodies is believed to have been revealed by the finding of human lungs and other portions of a body in the Arkansas river. Tony Boveri, arrested charged with the murder of the Menchiello brothers, is said to have confessed that he killed a man in Italy before coming to America. The Menchiello brothers were gardeners, and Buffetti was their assistant. The woman was Boveri's housekeeper, but had refused to marry him. She was a divorced woman. All her clothes were found in Boveri's cabin.

NO DANGER OF WAR WITH JAPAN

Paris, Jan. 9.—The Matin today, referring to the American-Japanese situation, declared that President Roosevelt spoke to a diplomat a few days ago in the following words: "All will be arranged in the most satisfactory manner. The last memorandum received from Japan was expressed in most conciliatory terms, and there is not the slightest apprehension of a conflict."

LIVESLEY COMPANY LOSES CASE AGAIN

Salem, Jan. 8.—A noted hop case was brought to a termination if a jury trial can settle anything, by a verdict yesterday afternoon for J. W. Myer, a Polk county farmer, for the amount asked on a hop contract, $1185, for which amount he sued Livesley & Company, of this city. This case has been to the supreme court twice on legal points involved, and will probably be appealed there again, although the jury was out only ten minutes. It was admitted that Myer made his contract under a void lease, and

JAPAN RUSHING WAR MEASURES SAYS GUNMAKER

Washington, Jan. 9.—"Japan is rushing precautions for war and may strike us at any minute." This was the startling announcement made today by Hudson Maxim, a member of the big company that manufactures arms, who is visiting in Washington. "It is a sad mistake to think that Japan is financially embarrassed," he continued. "It's Japan's old game, to rush war preparations and complain about being poverty stricken at the same time."

GOING AFTER INDIA.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—Men high in Russian court and army circles, as well as the St. Petersburg press, are openly ridiculing Okuma's repudiation of the version of his Klobe speech in which he is quoted as urging India to rise against British rule. The reports of the speech fell into the hands of Russian diplomats directly after Okuma delivered his utterances and were forwarded to the capital. It is said they do not agree with the press reports, in which Okuma says he is misquoted.

MARRIED.

TERRORISTS RESUME ACTIVE OPERATIONS

Warsaw, Jan. 10.—Terrorists have resumed their operations. A bomb was thrown at a post car at Sokolow, which killed two and injured ten. The terrorists booted the safes and escaped with a large sum of money.

CAREY MARTIN WINS IN LEGAL BATTLE

Salem, Or., Jan. 9.—Carey F. Martin, the Salem attorney indicted on a charge of subornation of perjury, won a victory in the circuit court today and may go entirely clear. After the jury had been drawn and the introduction of evidence had begun, Judge Burnett rejected introduction of the documents upon which the charge of perjury was based, and in this situation District Attorney McNary could not proceed, so moved to dismiss the indictment. Attorney M. L. Pipes, for the defendant, insists that since a jury has been sworn, Martin has been placed in jeopardy and cannot be brought to trial again for the same offense.

SCHUEBEL FINDS JOB NOT BED OF ROSES

Christian Schuebel, newly appointed United States district attorney, is having a lot of illusions shattered, and is discovering that the conditions in the district attorney's office are not and will not be as they were represented to him when he was in Washington, says the Portland Telegram. Schuebel was told by President Roosevelt that Bristol, who holds the job until Schuebel qualifies, would help F. J. Heney in the land fraud cases, and some one else at Washington informed Schuebel that Bristol would clear the office and leave it in apple-pie order, so that Schuebel could step in. It was in a red-hot interview with Bristol last night that Schuebel discovered that things are not as they seem, and that being United States district attorney will not be the snap he had anticipated. Furthermore, he said that had he known what Bristol unfolded to him he would not have tried to secure the position. The interview began in a pleasant, conversational manner, but before the finish the fireworks were set off so that one or two persons who happened to be in the hall outside didn't know whether to call for the police to prevent a fight or remain and listen. It appears that Schuebel is unfamiliar with the practice of the federal court and expected Bristol to remain in office and coach him, or else that James Cole would do this work. Bristol declined point blank, and as Cole resigned as assistant United States district attorney Tuesday, he would not remain in the office under Schuebel, as it pays but $125 a month. A lawyer qualified to practice in the federal court can do better than that with private practice, and Cole only remained with Bristol through a sense of loyalty. On meeting Bristol, Schuebel assured him that there was nothing per-

PORTLAND WOMAN KILLED IN WRECK

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 9.—South-bound train No. 19, Sunset express, on the Southern Pacific railroad, was wrecked early this evening at Ruckeer, 2 1/2 miles below here, and Mrs. A. P. Boyd and her little son, of Portland, Or., were killed. An unknown train, stealing a ride on a brake-beam, was also killed. Twelve injured have been taken to the Gilroy hospital, where their injuries were treated.
