January Red Tag Sale

The success of this sale has been stupendous, almost phenomenal, for bargains. Eugene has never seen anything to compare with it. We now start on the second week, and it will be the greatest of the sale, from a bargain standpoint.

We have again gone through the lots, replenishing them from higher priced lines, determined that the many people who come next week will find just as tempting values as were offered during the first day of the sale.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT

Portland, Or., Jan. 23.—Trade in poultry continues dull and there is small prospect for any improvement before the end of the week. Receipts yesterday and today were light but at the same time the demand generally was far from strong, indicating that at the time of the recent slump retailers stocked up in a large way. For hens and chickens the prices are the same as yesterday. Dressed turkeys are weaker, quoted at 16 to 17 cents, while live stock is hardly wanted at all. Ducks move in a slow way, and there is practically no demand for geese. Eggs are weak and lower quotations for ranch stock being 25 to 27 cents.

Hops Damaged by Mildew

Local hop dealers have within the past few days received many reports of damage done to hops by mildew in the various districts of the valley, and the holders of stocks that are in danger through improper storing are urged to investigate the condition of their hops without delay. Otherwise it is feared that large holdings in some quarters may in time become so affected that they will not be salable. The mild is said to be largely due to the mild, moist weather that has prevailed thus far this winter.

Low-Grade Apples Scarce

A feature of the local apple market is the comparatively small size of stocks of inferior fruit now offered. Up to very recently a large part of the fruit in the market ranged from inferior to common stuff, with the better grades of apples in rather light supply. The situation is now reversed, the inferior stuff having been largely worked off. Prices are of course higher and the market is steadily stiffening. Among the leading sorts offered today are Arkansas Blacks, Newton Pippins, Black Twigs, Rome Beauties, Jonathans, Spitzbergs and Winesaps. Prices for good quality fruit run generally from $1.50 to $2.50 a box.

Celery Plentiful but Firm.

Levy & Spiegel and McEwen and Koskey are in receipt of a carload of Southern California celery today, the entire shipment being of first quality. Prices quoted are $3.50 to $4 a crate. Stocks of celery in the front street market generally are of fair size, and prices are well maintained. Other vegetables are in moderate supply and prices for the most part the same as for several days past. Two cars of oranges and one of sweet potatoes came in today. Sweet potatoes are firm at $3.25 to $3.50 per hundred.

Dressed Veal is Very Firm.

A very firm tone is ruling in the dressed veal market, along Front street. With the weather cooler there is an increase in demand and consumption, while receipts are not so liberal according to the trade. Along the street today the best stock is selling at 5 and 9 1/2 cents a pound. Dressed hogs are in rather liberal supply at this time, and the market is rather slow and dragging, but not thoroughly weak. The top today seems to be 7 cents a pound.

Brief Notes of the Trade.

Wheat market is holding steady at unchanged figures, despite the recently cut figures abroad. There is nothing doing in export flour at the moment. Local trade fair.

Potatoes are not very active, although a sale or two is reported for the Southwest. General purchases at country points range around 60 cents per 100 pounds. Takes something select to bring higher figure.

Onions remain firm, with dealers paying from $1.90 to $2.10 per 100 pounds. Price on the street is $2.50 for the best.

Hop movement continues heavy at low figures. Sales at this time range between 5 and 6 cents a pound. Demand just now mostly in medium to prime quality.

Portland Livestock Market.

Excepting for hops the local livestock market is still strong. Hogs are slightly less firm than for some time past. Quotations, unchanged, are:

Cattle—Best steers, $3.75 @ $4.25; medium, $3.25 @ $3.75; fair to medium cows, $2.50 @ $2.75; bulls, $1.50 @ $2.25; calves, $3.75 @ $4.25.
Sheep—Good sheaved, $1.25 @ $1.75; full wool, $4.50 @ $5.00; lambs, $4.50 @ $5.25.
Hogs—Best, $5.10 @ $5.85; lights, fats and feeders, $4.75 @ $5.25.

WALTERVILLE NEWS

(Special Correspondence.)
Walterville, Jan. 20.—Another wedding in this place has taken away one of Walterville's fairest daughters. On Wednesday, January 15, Marion A. Brubaker and Miss Ada M. Millican were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Millican, Rev. H. N. Mount officiating. Miss Millican has been a Lane county teacher, but kept house for her brother, an extensive rancher, the last few years. Mr. Brubaker was formerly interested in mining at Gold Hill, but is now a conductor on an electric line in Portland. Both have made Walterville their home for a number of years, and have a host of friends here who wish them happiness and prosperity. As they passed through the village their friends greeted them with a rice shower. They go to Portland to live.

On January 16th the I. O. O. F. organized at this place with six old members belonging to different lodges and twenty-seven new members. Those previously belonging were Miles Stacy, Zara Potter, Claude Campbell, Mr. Farnham, Pleasant Hartwig and Lawrence Millican. There were about fifty visitors from Eugene, Springfield, Cottage Grove, and Colburg combined. At 12 p. m. the ladies of this place had supper for the crowd of visitors and members of the new order, and at 4 o'clock a. m. they had breakfast for all who wished to partake. This was especially for those who had to take the long ride back to their several homes. All who attended had a very enjoyable evening.

John McNutt is recovering from a long siege of pneumonia. His wife, Mrs. Stella Stoment is in Eugene for medical treatment.

John Fountain and family are wrestling with the measles.

It Is Prudent to Insure.

Your life or your property.

Why is it not as important to insure against adversity in the future by keeping your funds in a bank account? Allow it to accumulate until a time comes when you need it badly—that is when you will appreciate its true worth. Just as the value of your life insurance increases as you grow older, so will your bank account grow as you add to it weekly or monthly.

In fact, the possibilities of your bank account are limited only by your earning and saving capacity.

An account with this bank is good insurance.
