HERE'S A PROBLEM: WHO PAID FOR THE WHISKEY?

A London paper, which is far enough away to be safe, started a Mary Ann problem, thus: In the United States the Mexican dollar has an exchange value of 90 cents. In Mexico the American silver dollar has the same value. On the frontier of the United States where Texas joins Mexico, there are two saloons, one on each side of the frontier. A cowboy buys a 10 cent drink of whiskey at the American saloon and pays for it with an American silver dollar, receiving a Mexican dollar as change. With this he crosses the border, goes into the Mexican saloon for a ten-cent drink and receives an American dollar as exchange. It is evident that the limit of his purchasing power is the length of time he can stand. He finally wakes up with a bad headache and the American dollar with which he started. Who paid for the whiskey?

Mr. London writes: "If I owned your Tea, I would guarantee a cure or refund their money. I say it's Nature's cure and the only one for the blood." Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea cured him where other remedies failed. "Nuff said."

WOODWARD, DRUG & CO., PORTLAND

PLAIN WORDS FOR MODERN WOODMEN FROM CLERK HAWES

Salem, Or., Jan. 27.—That the adoption of the adequate rate and reserve fund system is recognized as the solution to the question of the permanency of the order is shown by a lengthy document prepared by Head Clerk Charles W. Hawes, of the Modern Woodmen of America, with headquarters at Rock Island, Ill., and sent out to the Insurance Commissioners of the different states of the country. This letter goes into an exhaustive discourse on the subject of adequate rates, and an expression of opinion from the Insurance Commissioners is respectfully invited. Such a letter has been received by Secretary of State F. W. Benson, ex-officio Insurance Commissioner, but, since the insurance laws of Oregon do not embrace or include fraternal insurance societies, Oregon's commissioner has no jurisdiction over their regulation, so Secretary Benson made no attempt to comment upon it.

The Modern Woodmen of America have a total membership of approximately $10,000 and operates in all states. The news of this contemplated change in assessments will be of interest to the entire membership of this order, as well as to all similar fraternal insurance societies.

The total amount of insurance in force in the M. W. A., according to statistics made up for 1923, was $1,233,392,500. The total assets of the organization were $4,666,476, and its liabilities amounted to $935,051.

Head Clerk Hawes, in his letter to the Insurance Commissioners gives an exhaustive review of the history of the order, with statistics covering its financial and membership conditions, and unequivocally endorses the adequate rate and reserve fund system. Excerpts from this letter to Oregon's Insurance Commissioner, which is on file in the office of the Secretary of State, voice his views upon the subject very clearly. He says:

"It is shown conclusively that within the limit of 12 assessments per year and collecting the present rates from beneficial members, we cannot hope to meet our future obligations; that, in fact, our beneficial members, measuring their contributions by the lowest mortality standard, and by our own experience, are paying for only a minor portion of the whole life insurance represented by the certificates they hold.

"I do not submit as a part of this report any compromise rates, or half-way plans or measures of any kind. As I see it, our society is required either to make provisions to meet its future obligations in full, as they will mature from year to year, or when the time comes, confess its inability to do so. The consideration of compromise rates or rates would simply be a way of deferring the day of judgment.

"Only the adoption of rates and plans that will enable us to meet every obligation we have assumed, or may assume, in the future is worth while, if we are to retain our position as a society entitled to the confidence of its member and the insuring public. Especially is this true, since it is a fact we are still in a position where we may adopt plans and rates that will prove acceptable to the great mass of our members, when the necessity for their adoption is proved to them.

"I trust that what follows will bring home the conviction to every member of our executive council—if, indeed, doubt on the points treated exists—and to every fair minded and honest neighbor, that not only do the facts of our history prove our inability to meet our obligations on present plans, but that the time to adopt sound rates, permitting the society to redeem every promise it has made or will make, is now.

"It is to be remembered that every day our assumed obligations approach that much closer the dates of maturity. The longer we delay, the more years we waste in debating inevitable conclusions, the larger must be each member's individual contribution toward the amount we must provide to meet our losses—if we are to meet them.

"Must Cover Insurance Cost.

"If our society is to live and prosper, it must provide for its members rates high enough at every age, but not too high, at any age, and the plans of collection, coupled with the promised benefits, must be such as to meet the needs of the masses of the people. It would be idle to adopt rates, no matter how adequate, if they were so high they could not be paid by our members. If the society is to live, its rates and the terms of payment must cover the costs of the insurance carried and be within the reach of the masses of the people. Therefore, the question of plan to be adopted is of importance, for the character of the plan determines the rates to be charged—how they are to be distributed between the ages and over the full tabular period.

"I have given careful study to this feature of the rate question, and in formulating the suggestions embodied in what follows in this report, I have had the able actuarial assistance of Dr. G. E. West, chief of the record department of the head clerk's office, whose ability and responsibility in actuarial work is known to every member of the council. I do not hesitate to endorse, as absolutely correct, the rates tabulated in this report. The several plans submitted for the council's consideration and I am sure that these rates will be found correct by every competent actuary.

"Pocket Reserve" System Falls.

"A reserve in the pocket of the members is never available when needed, by the way. It does not earn interest and makes possible, still lower rates for the members, and, under the reserve investment

WILL ADVERTISE FRUIT OF OREGON THROUGHOUT WORLD

(Special Correspondence.)
Portland, Or., Jan. 27.—Working in connection with several commercial bodies over the state, and aided by individual fruit growers, the Portland Commercial Club has issued a fruit bulletin composed of four pages of the New Year's Oregonian. Each paper sent out bears a paragraph, conspicuously stamped in two places, telling the reader that he can buy his ticket on the road most convenient to him at a remarkably low colonist rate between March 1st and April 30th. The $30 rate from the great Middle West is made a striking feature of the stamp. Of course mention is also made of rates from other sections. The bulletins are prepared in advance for the use of agents employed by the various railroads, localizing the rate for their own particular line.

The mid-winter livestock show at Denver, just closed, was a tremendous success, and many of the exhibitors expressed a determination to be present at the livestock show in Portland this fall. The Portland Country Club and Livestock Association has promised the Hunt Club that accommodations will be ready for them in June, and an army of men and horses are at work at the present time to make this pledge good.

The Pacific Coast Ad Men will hold their next annual convention in Portland during the rose festival.

The Oregon Development league is exceedingly prosperous. The past two weeks have added three members to the organization—the Stayton Commercial Club, W. L. Freres, president, R. A. Elwood, secretary; the Commercial Club of Mosier Valley, with Dr. David Robinson, secretary; the Scio Commercial Club, T. J. Munkers, president, and A. G. Prill, secretary.

The Hood River Commercial Club will hold its third annual banquet Friday evening, January 31st. Delegations will be present from Portland, The Dalles, and other cities throughout the state.

Newberg will have a housewarming, under the auspices of the Newberg Board of Trade, on February 1, celebrating the opening of their fine new Imperial Hotel.

The executive committee of the Portland Commercial Club is appealing for additional funds to advertise the resources of Oregon, and at no time during the active work of that committee have responses been so generous. New subscriptions are coming in former contributors are either doubling or materially increasing their subscriptions, and every cent of it is devoted to advertising the state and not the city.

Complete plans have been decided upon for the Oregon building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and up to date it is the most attractive building yet shown in America upon the grounds of a great fair.

KILLS CATARRH GERMS.

Sufferers Will be Interested in Special offer of Hull Drug Co.

The unusual offer made by the Hull Drug Co. to refund the purchase price of Hyomet to any person it fails to benefit, shows Eugene confidence in the remedy, and should dispel all doubts as to its curative powers. You do not risk a cent in testing the healing virtues of Hyomet, for Hull Drug Co. takes all the risk of its giving satisfaction and leaves you to be the judge as to whether it costs you anything or not.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomet is used. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every $1.00 outfit, its healing balsams destroy all germs even in the most remote air cells and quick recovery follows.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, sneezing, fits, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings from the throat, or any other catarrhal symptoms, begin the use of Hyomet.

Bud Gillespie, who resides north of the city, has rented the room in the Barthe building, just vacated by Andy Taylor's cigar store, for a meat market and he will begin business there as soon as the interior of the building is rearranged for it. Mr. Gillespie has been in the butcher business here before and is no stranger to the people.

LOWER SIUSLAW ITEMS CULLED FROM THE WEST

W. Fisk, of Eugene, arrived at Mapleton last Wednesday. He is pruning fruit trees for his brother, H. H. Fisk.

Forest Ranger Young is back at Mapleton, after spending a short time with his family in Eugene.

The Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors held a joint installation of officers at Acme the evening of the 11th and the following were installed for the M. W. A. by Past Consul G. R. Mills: Geo. Gibbs, consul; Mr. Hasbrouck, advisor; W. H. Weatherstone, clerk; G. R. Mills, banker; Lawrence Derrin, escort; Roy Carns, watchman; Ray Saubert, sentry.

State Oracle Clara Mills installed the following officers of the B. N. A. for the year 1924: Mrs. E. Saubert, orator; Mrs. M. Gibbs, vice orator; Mrs. Belle Severy, recorder; Mrs. Myra Gibbs, receiver; Mrs. Sarah Gates, chancellor; Mrs. Clara Mills, marshal; Mrs. Mary Hewitt, I. S.; Mrs. Ellen Mills, O. S.; Mrs. F. ### BOHEMIA MINER'S VALUABLE INVENTION

Suren J. Brund, one of the best known mining men in Bohemia and this city, who has spent the last ten years of his life in active work in developing his mining properties in Bohemia, has turned his attention for the time being to inventions, and has already secured patents on two contrivances that bid fair to be of great value. The first of these is known as a wire holder, supporting electric wires, particularly adapted for telephone and electric wires through forests and mountainous districts where it is necessary to fasten said wires to all kinds of supports.—Cottage Grove Western Oregon.

The grandmothers of the old Dutch Dunkard families in Western Pennsylvania have made and used "Hickory Bark Cough Remedy" and raised their families on it for a hundred years. Now you can buy it of your dealers. Ask for it and use it, because it's pure; because it will stop your cough; because it is the best cough remedy made today. Try it. For sale by Hull's Red Cross Drug Store and all dealers everywhere.

E. M. Warren has just completed the work of installing a fine exhibit of grains, grasses and fruits in the office of M. S. Parverud, real estate broker. A part of the exhibit is from the Lane county exhibit at the state fair which won second premium last fall and a part is from Mr. Warren's private collection. He had previously installed exhibits in the offices of the Hollenbeck Real Estate Company and E. J. Frasier in Eugene, and J. J. Bryan at Springfield, and will probably place others in several more offices in the city.

DAN KELLY BEATEN TWICE IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 27.—Harry Hillman, champion hurdler of the New York Athletic Club, conquered H. P. Ramey, the Western half mile champion and member of the Chicago Athletic Club, tonight in the 600-yard special race at the Pastime Athletic Club games at Madison Square Garden. Hillman won by a scant yard, his time being 1:18 3-5.

Dan Kelly, the world's champion sprinter, was beaten in two dashes. He started from the scratch in the 60-yard sprint, and was unable to overcome the handicap allotted to his opponents. It was Kelly's first race on a board floor and he ran finely. In the 220-yard dash the field was so large that he was unable to get past the handicap men and was again beaten.

NEGRO CAUGHT WITH MONEY IN HIS SHOES

Roseburg, Or., Jan. 27.—The negro who is alleged to have stolen over $190 in money from the dining car conductor on the southbound overland train No. 15 early last Saturday morning was captured without difficulty late in the afternoon of that day by Constable Nels Jones and lodged in jail. His clothes yielded $191.65. Of that sum $55 in currency was sewed in his underwear, $135 in gold was concealed in his shoes, and the balance, $6.65 in silver, was loose in his trousers pocket. The negro also had a bunch of dining car keys. He sullenly refuses to even give his name. His examination will be held probably tomorrow, when the dining car conductor is expected to reach here on return from his run to San Francisco to give testimony. As circuit court is now in session, the negro's case can be disposed of in minimum time.

Foreman Utterbach has four or five men at work building the switch at the car barn for the extension of the electric line toward Springfield. It is said a large force of men will be put to work about the first of the month and the line to Springfield rushed to completion.

Rev. T. S. Handsaker, pastor of the Christian church at Corvallis, arrived here this afternoon, bringing with him Mrs. Sears, a lady who will enter the old folks' home which the Christian church has established in Eugene. The old lady is a cripple and can hardly get around, being compelled to use crutches.
