

REV. TROUTMAN SENDS BEST WISHES FOR PE-RU-NA

Rev. George A. E. Troutman, Mt. Washington, Mo., Writes,

"My Wife and I Are Strong Believers in Pe-ru-na."

Catarrah and La Grippe. Rev. Geo. A. E. Troutman, Mt. Washington, Mo., writes: "My wife and I are strong believers in Peruna."

with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat. It would seize me suddenly and for a few minutes I would be unable to speak audibly, and my breath would be greatly interfered with. I would be obliged to gasp for breath. "I finally concluded that it was some catarrhal affection which probably excited the spasm. It interfered with my vocation as a preacher, attacking me occasionally in the pulpit. "I had heard so much about Peruna as a catarrh remedy that I determined to try it. After taking two bottles, my trouble has disappeared. I feel sure that Peruna has greatly benefited me."

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna Tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

I was cured of a bad case of catarrh when nothing else that I tried had any effect. My wife was cured from a severe case of la grippe, and we feel that the least we can do is to gratefully acknowledge the merit of Peruna.

My wife joins me in sending best wishes for your success."

Throat Trouble. Rev. H. W. Tate, 920 Lincoln Avenue, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "For several years I have been troubled

Ask Your Druggist for Free Peruna Almanac for 1908

University of Oregon News

The Athletic Council met last Saturday and decided that the O. A. C. game might be played in Portland next fall, but that in such a case, the precedent should not bind the place of the game the next season.

No official announcement has been made as to the choice of coach, but a well authenticated report states that it will be Forbes, who handled West Point this year. Forbes is a Yale man, and after his graduation, was offered the head coach ship at his alma mater.

He made the All-American two years. His home for the present is in Bullard, Wash. He was in Eugene last Saturday and talked with the members of the council, and football enthusiasts, including some of the fair ladies at the Freshman Glee.

Forbes is a man of good appearance, large and powerfully built. While talking, he said that the men in the West are larger than those of the East, and that the material seems much better on the Pacific coast than in the East.

In view of this, it is not unlikely that an American championship might fall to some Pacific Northwest team in the future.

Addresses Y. M. C. A. C. W. Converse of the University of Oregon faculty addressed the students of the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on "Romance of History; The Story of the Ten Tribes of Israel."

After considering various aspects of the question, he said: "Some seventy-five years ago, John Wilson developed a hypothesis which has since demonstrated its claim to credence. Wilson discovered that according to the Irish Chronicles, there lived, 2500 years ago, in the north of Ireland, a man named Jeremy (cf. Jeremiah) and a king's daughter. The Bible relates that Jeremiah had the care of the daughter of Zedekiah, who was taken captive by the Assyrians. Previous to this time an invader had conquered Ireland. He is claimed to be of the line of the searid thread, the untraced line from Judah in Genesis. He married the Princess Tophi and the two houses of Judah were united. From this union, through the houses of Ireland and Scotland came the ruling house of England.

"The westward migration of the ten tribes may be traced, because the tribe of Dan, always fond of naming things for itself, exercised that penchant, and we find the route traced by many names of Hebrew origin from the Danube to Denmark.

"That the early name of the Welsh is found on Assyrian monuments, that the Welsh language contains about 5,000 Hebrew words, that the Anglo-Saxon race is fulfilling prophecy by occupying the waste places of a corroborative evidence. Queen Victoria believed this version and hoped to live to give over her throne to Christ.

Oregon Man Certain. Only one candidate presented himself for the Rhode Scholarship examinations, he being Cornelius Beebe, of this city. Two others who passed the examinations last year are eligible, but they are all from the University. Bolton Hamble and Cecil Lyons are the scholars, and the question of who shall go to Oxford, lies between the three, in case Mr. Beebe successfully passes and demonstrates his scholarship. In any case, an Oregon man will win the scholarship of $1500.

Crooks Speaks. President H. M. Crooks of Albany College addressed the student body Wednesday morning on the subject "Morality and Literature." The subject was well handled, and some important thoughts were brought to the minds of the students present.

The President is a fluent speaker, cultured. He is a strong supporter of education.

Debate Changed. The final preliminaries for the Interstate debate tryouts will be held Saturday night in Villard Hall instead of tonight. More interest is being taken in debate than ever before, not alone in Oregon, but in Idaho and Washington. From every indication the final debate the last of March, will be a very hard battle.

Varsity Notes. O. A. C. defeated Willamette at basketball last week.

The University of Washington will have six debating coaches this year, one for every man.

Dr. James Gilbert, of the economics department, went to Albany Friday, where he acted as judge of the debate between the Albany and Brownsville high schools.

Merle Chessman has been ratified as Assistant Manager of the track team. Next year he will be the manager. Chessman is a well known boy here, having graduated from the local high school.

"Cramming" has begun for the first semester examinations. At last Friday's meeting of the Etaxian Literary Society the following officers were elected: President, Caroline Dunston; vice-president, Jennie Lilly; secretary, Frances Young; assistant secretary, Helene Hughes; treasurer, Ailie Beebe; censor, Ethel Johnson; editor, Elsie Davison; sergeant at arms, Mary Fosbury. At the first meeting of the society next semester the following program will be given: Current events, Ethel Johnson; recitation, Ruth Baldwin; a paper, Mary Fosbury; and a reading, Helene Hughes.

BORN. In the will contest case of John M. Hays et al vs. Robert and Lola Brady, contesting the will of Robert Hays, deceased, the defendants today filed an answer. Their attorneys are Thompson & Hardy, Woodcock & Porter, John M. Pipes and Geo. A. Piper.

Hickory Bark Congo Remedy, made by the Hickory Bark Congo Remedy Company, of Salem, Or., guaranteed to be pure, guaranteed to cure your cough or money refunded. Guaranteed to make a friend of you. For sale by Hull's Red Cross Drug Store and first-class dealers everywhere.

CASTORIA. The Kidney and Bladder Remedy. Signature of Chas. H. Peterson.

WEEK'S NEWS OF BUSTLING SPRINGFIELD

NEW SHINGLE MILL ALMOST READY FOR OPERATION—MR. SHAW STARTS NEW CONFECTORY STORE—OTHER INTERESTING ITEMS CULLED FROM THE NEWS

The new shingle mill that the News made mention of some time ago as being one of the prospective manufacturing industries for this city in the near future, is now under construction and is nearly completed. The president of the company, W. E. Warner, informs us that the machinery has nearly all arrived, and will be placed ready for operation within a week or ten days. The mill will have a capacity of 40,000 every ten hours, and when in operation will probably run to its full capacity. The main building is 22x36 feet, and a large dry shed will be built on the west side.

New Building Accepted. Wednesday was the day set for the building committee to meet with the contractors and accept or reject the Odd Fellows' new building. Architect John Hanzicker was over from Eugene and of course attended the meeting. After thoroughly going over the building the committee were satisfied that a whole job was satisfactory, with the exception of a few minor details, which were not exactly as the specifications called for, though they can be easily remedied when the weather settles so as to permit. After considering the weak points the committee and contractors came to an agreement and the building was accepted and is now the property of the Odd Fellows.

New Confectionery Store. A. S. Shaw, who has been in the employ of Hull's confectionery store at this place for the past year, has severed his connection with Mr. Hull and will go into business for himself. He has leased the Kepner building, east of the one he now occupies, and will fit it up for an ice cream parlor and confectionery store. He was in Portland the first of the week ordering his fixtures and stock of goods, which have partly arrived. He informs us that he expects to be ready to open for business in about ten days with one of the neatest stores in Lane county.

"Missouri" Is Back. Jeff Rae, better known as "Missouri," the notorious baseball umpire and fan, arrived in the city Tuesday from California after an absence of nearly a year. He has been working for the Southern Pacific Company, and on account of a lay-off returned to Springfield for a short visit.

The family of John Kestley is moving back into their hotel, the Springfield, again. The News is informed that it is their intention to get some one to run the kitchen and dining room, while they will have charge of the sleeping apartments on the upper floor.

C. H. Pickett spent the early part of the week in Portland attending the meeting of the retail hardware dealers, which was held Monday. On his return home he stopped off at Salem for a short visit with his father, who is dangerously ill.

Harry Stewart commenced moving into his new quarters, the Odd Fellows building, Wednesday afternoon. He has his stock about all moved and will soon have it in its proper place.

Will Chrysler has opened a saddle factory and harness repair shop in the Wenzelreid building opposite the livery stable.—News.

POOR COOKING DRIVES HUSBANDS TO DRINK. New York, Jan. 21.—That most women cook so badly that they drive their husbands to drink was the statement made yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum, in an address at the Hebrew Technical School for girls. After describing the excellent work being done by the school the justice said:

"In this country, the cooking is far from what it ought to be, particularly for the country districts, where nature has endowed the soil with all that should make for ideal conditions as to food. Yet, the average woman there knows nothing about cooking. The cooking is vile. Children are nourished improperly. The wage earner, the bread winner, does not receive proper food to sustain him. I have no doubt that many men go to the saloons at night just because they are improperly nourished at home.

MISSING BOAT REPORTED SAFE. Hook of Holland, Jan. 24. The missing boat containing 23 passengers from the steamer Amsterdam is safe. It was picked up by the steamer Songa, which was unable to land them because of the dense fog prevailing for the past two days.

In the will contest case of John M. Hays et al vs. Robert and Lola Brady, contesting the will of Robert Hays, deceased, the defendants today filed an answer. Their attorneys are Thompson & Hardy, Woodcock & Porter, John M. Pipes and Geo. A. Piper.

MEMBER OF WALSH COUNCIL IS DEAD. Chicago, Jan. 24.—Samuel R. Hamill, of Terre Haute, Ind., one of the council in the Walsh case, and at whom Mrs. Metcalf fired several shots, died today of pneumonia.

MEXICAN CONSUL KILLED BY ROBBER. Tacoma, Jan. 24.—Mexican Vice Consul A. W. Hornely, shot by a highwayman, died this morning. A reward of $1000 has been offered by the state and county for the arrest of the murderer.

After four years' residence in Portland, T. Aiba, Japanese vice-consul at that place, will return to Japan February 1. Several months ago he requested his recall in order that he might be with his family which awaits him in his native country.

ASTORIA HIGH FINANCIER FACES TERM IN JAIL

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Word was received here today by the Pinkertons of the arrest at Jacksonville, Fla. of one Norstrom, wanted here for passing forged checks for $15,000 on the First National Bank of this city. Norstrom was a bank clerk at Astoria, Or., and came here with a draft for $3 from the First National Bank of that place. He raised this draft to $15,000, obtaining part in cash and part in drafts. He was arrested while cruising on a small yacht he had purchased at Brunswick, Fla. He admitted his identity and confessed to the forgery.

HENEY DRAGS FULTON'S NAME INTO EVIDENCE

Portland, Jan. 24.—In the Hall-Mays case the political phase was reached this morning when Prosecutor Henev endeavored, through ex-State Senator Stelwer, to connect Senator Fulton with the case. According to the contention of the prosecution, Fulton saw Hall on behalf of Stelwer and exacted a promise from Hall that a civil action would be brought against the Butte Creek Land, Livestock & Lumber Co. Instead of a criminal prosecution of the individual members of the corporation, the prosecution contends that Fulton wrote Stelwer, telling him of his arrangement with Hall, but this alleged letter is not in the possession of the government. Stelwer testified today that Fulton had requested him to bring all correspondence that had passed between them to Portland and while here Fulton had selected this particular letter and either destroyed it or still has it in his possession.

Mr. Henev also elicited the statement from Stelwer that Fulton had not attempted to recover the communication until after Stelwer, Hall, Mays, Hendricks and various federal officials and homesteaders had been indicted.

Shortly before court adjourned yesterday afternoon W. W. Stelwer, president of the Butte Creek Land, Livestock & Lumber Company, pleading guilty to the conspiracy indictment, and was immediately called by Henev as a witness for the government against his co-defendants, Hall and Mays. Stelwer related the substance of a conversation he had with Hall in Portland in 1900, when the district attorney told Stelwer that it would probably be necessary for him (Hall) to prosecute the Butte Creek Company for maintaining unlawful fences.

Stelwer's confession and his appearance as a witness for the prosecution is another move by Henev by which the government expects to convincingly fasten the conspiracy charge against both Hall and Mays. The alleged conspiracy has been proven against Stelwer, Zachary and Hendricks, officers of the Butte Creek Company, but the testimony of those three witnesses is relied upon by the government further to associate Hall and Mays in that conspiracy. While the testimony of Hendricks was material to the prosecution's case, Stelwer is considered a more important witness, since it is expected to show by him that Hall declined to prosecute Stelwer and his associates in consideration of a political obligation to Stelwer.

CHIEF CONSPIRATOR MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Lisbon, Jan. 24.—The town is filled with disturbing rumors, but there are no new developments in the abortive attempt to overthrow the monarchy.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD GIRL MAKES FINE PASTRY

Little Elsie Griffin, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Griffin, of the People's restaurant at the corner of West Seventh and Olive streets, sent to The Guard office a fine sponge cake and a cream pie which she made without any assistance after school hours last evening. Elsie is a very bright little girl and can cook as well as many grown girls and much better than most girls five or six years older than she. Her pastry is especially fine, as the Guard force can testify to by sampling the cake and pie which she sent to this office. Mr. Griffin says he will put his daughter up against any girl of her age in the state for cooking, and thinks she could easily win in any contest of that kind. He says the culinary art should be taught in the public schools.

MEMBER OF WALSH COUNCIL IS DEAD

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Samuel R. Hamill, of Terre Haute, Ind., one of the council in the Walsh case, and at whom Mrs. Metcalf fired several shots, died today of pneumonia.

MEXICAN CONSUL KILLED BY ROBBER

Tacoma, Jan. 24.—Mexican Vice Consul A. W. Hornely, shot by a highwayman, died this morning. A reward of $1000 has been offered by the state and county for the arrest of the murderer.

After four years' residence in Portland, T. Aiba, Japanese vice-consul at that place, will return to Japan February 1. Several months ago he requested his recall in order that he might be with his family which awaits him in his native country.

FRANKLIN MAYS TESTIFIES AGAINST JOHN F. HALL

BROTHER OF CO-DEFENDANT PUT ON STAND TO STRENGTHEN GOVERNMENT CASE—FORMER STATE SENATOR BROWNELL GIVES TESTIMONY THAT CONNECTS SENATOR FULTON WITH CASE IN AN UNFAVORABLE LIGHT

Portland, Jan. 25.—Following his policy of bringing over to the prosecution individuals who were indicted with John H. Hall and Edwin Mays, and using them as witnesses against the two men on trial in the conspiracy case, F. J. Henev today dismissed the case against former State Senator Franklin Pierce Mays and put him on the stand as a witness against Hall. E. P. Mays' evidence was not directed against his brother Edwin, now on trial.

Three witnesses were on the stand today, Stelwer, for cross-examination, Mays and James R. Rennie, formerly government agent. None of these witnesses brought out damaging evidence against Hall, and Stelwer and Mays were decidedly reluctant in giving evidence. There was a sprinkling of state politics under the old regime brought into the trial today but Henev did not succeed in connecting up the senatorial flight of Fulton as clearly as he expects to next week.

Senator Fulton yesterday was unfavorably connected with the Hall-Mays conspiracy case by the testimony of George C. Brownell, ex-president of the Oregon state senate, and for years a prominent Republican of the state. Brownell testified that he was forced to withdraw from the contest for appointment as United States attorney for Oregon in 1903 because of the insinuations of Hall that the government controlled Stelwer's vote for senator in which Brownell's indictment for complicity in the Oregon land frauds was probable. The dethroned boss of Clackamas county politics further testified that in return for the endorsement of Hall for reappointment, which he was forced to make Senators Mitchell and Fulton exacted a promise of immunity for Brownell the latter's former law partner, J. E. Campbell, also of Clackamas county.

The purpose of Brownell's testimony, which was admitted over the vigorous objection of counsel for the defendants, was to corroborate the charge of conspiracy alleged against Hall in the indictment in that Hall controlled Stelwer's vote for senator in return for his failure to prosecute Stelwer and his associates for inclosing government land, by showing that Hall had used his office as district attorney to intimidate others and to force them to endorse and support him for reappointment. This contention by Henev has been supported by the testimony of Stelwer and Hendricks in the Butte Creek Company's operations, and by that of Brownell yesterday, and Henev proposes by the introduction of other witnesses to show that Hall, together with the connivance of Fulton, prostituted his office as district attorney by protecting violators of the law in two other specific instances.

BANK BURGLARS MAKE A UNIQUE CONFESSION

Chicago, Jan. 22.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Jackson, Miss., says: A unique confession was made yesterday by A. F. Thomason, president of the National Bank of Hattiesburg by James Harper and W. T. Smith, bank robbers, brought back from Seattle, Wn., where they were caught after a long chase. Harper says the bank president walked in his sleep. He and Smith watched the bank for several nights, according to their confession, and frequently witnessed Thomason enter with the aid of his doorknocker. They never dreamed that he was not in full possession of his senses until they saw him under an electric light with his eyes closed. Then the robbers say they conceived a plan to enter the bank with Thomason and to gag him if he came out of his trance. They declare that Thomason gave them the combination of the safe, which they looted, and that they left, leaving Thomason asleep in the bank.

O. A. C. HAS SIXTY DISTANCE RUNNERS OUT

Corvallis, Or., Jan. 23.—Many candidates are turning out each evening at the Agricultural College for the cross-country runs. Yesterday 60 men were out and covered the four miles of country roads, and Trainer Heater is well pleased with the showing. Men from all classes are practicing, and February 22 the final try-out will be held. At that time the first three winners from each of the four college classes will run against each other, and the three winners will be the men to represent the college in the intercollegiate track meet to be held this spring.

NEWS NOTES

Thomas K. Campbell has filed his declaration of candidacy for railroad commissioner. The commissioners will now be elected by the people.

Presiding Judge Cleland in the circuit court of Portland yesterday denied the motions of J. Thurnburn Ross, T. B. Burkhardt, George E. Hill and John E. Atchison, officials of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., to quash the indictments against them. They will now assail the information by filing demurrers, alleging the matters against them do not constitute a crime.

News of the death of Mrs. Della Woods, of Parker, Kas., was received today by J. Broad ad family, of this city. Mrs. Woods was formerly Mrs. Dow Hopewell, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Brent, now residing at Weiser, Idaho. The remains will be brought to Eugene for burial. The funeral notice will be given later.

MARRIED

January 23, 1908, at the courthouse by County Judge Chrisman, Samuel W. Brown, of Blachley, and Mrs. Belle Scott, of Eugene.

FIERCE BLIZZARD BRINGS DEATH AND SUFFERING TO EAST

New York, Jan. 24.—Yesterday's snowstorm developed into a blizzard and today the streets are piled deep in places with drifts, and street car traffic is delayed. There is much suffering among the poorer classes on the East Side and a rush to the charitable institutions for shelter. The body of a man was found under a porch, where he had crawled for protection and frozen to death. In Brooklyn nearly every line of travel is blocked with snow and no effort is being made to move cars. Hundreds of unemployed have been put to work clearing the streets. At Sand Hook a northeast gale is blowing, and the swirling snow makes navigation hazardous.

PORTLAND, MAINE, HAS MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Portland, Maine, Jan. 24.—Fire which did property damage to the extent of $1,000,000 early today destroyed the city hall and police buildings and endangered the lives of more than 700 persons. More than that number were attending the Knights of Pythias' jubilee, gathered in the auditorium of the city hall, but only a few were hurt. Chief Engineer Melville being the only one seriously injured, and he was able to remain and direct the fight against the flames. Not included in the financial loss is the loss of the papers and documents in the registry of deeds office, where everything was destroyed. The city clerk's and city treasurer's offices were swept clear of everything, although the money and securities in the latter office are believed to be intact. It will be impossible to ascertain definitely regarding this, however, until the vaults have cooled.

The blaze was caused by crossed electric wires in the city electrician's office, these making it impossible to ring in a fire alarm, when it was discovered by a newspaperman on his way home. He rang in a call, but the alarm rang only at the station nearest the hall, and considerable time elapsed before the whole department could be summoned by telephone. When the chief arrived he saw it was hopeless to try to save the building and confined his efforts to the surrounding property. When the flames were discovered by Chairman Turner, of the Pythian body, calmly told the assemblage of the existing fire and a panic was averted. Earlier in the night over 1500 persons were in the auditorium. The city prison contained only petty offenders and these were set free.

Aid was summoned from neighboring towns but Lewiston was the only one to get her apparatus to the city before daybreak.

DISTRIBUTING TIES FOR ELECTRIC ROAD

Albany Herald: A. Welch, of the Willamette Valley Company, was in town last night, but left this morning for Portland. Mr. Welch says the electric road from Salem to Albany is now under way and the work will be rushed as fast as possible. Mr. Welch says: "We are now distributing ties between this city and Salem, and expect to do much work this summer. The connecting line between Albany and Salem will be taken up as soon as we can get it."

PORTLAND PEOPLE LOYAL TO VARSITY

At a banquet of the Portland Association of the Oregon Alumni Association, held in that city Tuesday night, a vigorous campaign in favor of ample support for the University was inaugurated. Tom Richardson, secretary of the Portland Commercial Club, made an earnest plea for the support of the University. He said that the referendum on the appropriation was unfortunately and must be combated. "The appropriation is less than 1 per cent of the amount of money left in the state last year by the dairy industry, less than 3 per cent of the fruit crop and 1 per cent of the wheat yield of Oregon," said Mr. Richardson. "The first question asked by people who expect to come to this state is about the schools. The University is worth several times its cost as an advertisement."

STATE SENATOR BEACH, ASSISTANT SECRETARY MOSESSEHN, OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, ZERA SNOW, DR. F. C. LEONARD, CHARLES F. CLARK, C. A. WOODY, COLONEL R. A. MILLER, F. E. BEACH, DR. J. D. FENTON, COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ROBINSON AND W. G. OBERTOFFER MADE SUGGESTIONS AS TO THE LINE OF ACTIVITY TO BE PURSUED ON BEHALF OF THE APPROPRIATION, AND THE CIRCULATION OF A SUBSCRIPTION PAPER RAISED $224 TO BE EXPENDED IN PAYMENT OF THE COST OF PRINTING ARGUMENTS IN THE PAMPHLET TO BE ISSUED BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE. THEODORE B. WILCOX HEADED THE LIST WITH $50.

President Campbell said that careful computation estimated the cost to the taxpayers of the state at 25 cents on each $1000 of assessed valuation.

MEETING OF COLLEGE HEADS IS FRUITLESS

NO DECISION ON UNIFORM ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS IS REACHED—O. A. C. REQUIREMENTS NOT UP TO STANDARD.

Because the standard of entrance requirements at the Oregon Agricultural college does not equal that of the other Oregon institutions, and because there seems no immediate prospect of raising the entrance requirements at the Corvallis school, the perfecting of a state inter-collegiate association which shall fix the entrance requirements in all the Oregon universities and colleges on a uniform basis as possible, will not be consummated for probably another year at least. At a meeting of the committee of college presidents yesterday afternoon in Eugene, the matter of uniform entrance requirements in the Oregon colleges, was discussed, but the result of the meeting was apparently fruitless as far as accomplishing the purpose for which it was called. The committee was named by the State Teachers' Association last May, and consists of President H. M. Crooks, Albany College; President Campbell, University of Oregon; President Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College; President Coleman, of Willamette University; and President Riley, of McMinnville College.

According to the statement of one of the committee who attended the meeting yesterday, the majority of the representatives of the various Oregon schools were agreed on the qualifications for students who entered the different schools. The only bar seemingly which prevented any definite action being taken was the fact that at the state agricultural college there are one or two courses which make it possible for persons who have not gone further than the sixth or seventh grade in the public school to enter. These courses are said to be in the mechanical department. The other remaining Oregon colleges feel that they cannot compete on an equal basis with the agricultural college, since many of the other schools require a much higher standard of scholarship for any prospective student. President Kerr, of the agricultural college, since coming to the head of this institution, has raised the admission standard in some courses, but there are said to yet remain one or more courses where the entrance standard required is not very high. As a result of the difference found to exist, it was thought impossible to do anything at the meeting yesterday, and it was therefore decided to call a meeting of representatives from all the Oregon colleges and universities before the state teachers' association, and to further take up this problem.—Albany Herald.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON NEWS

The Athletic Council met last Saturday and decided that the O. A. C. game might be played in Portland next fall, but that in such a case, the precedent should not bind the place of the game the next season.

No official announcement has been made as to the choice of coach, but a well authenticated report states that it will be Forbes, who handled West Point this year. Forbes is a Yale man, and after his graduation, was offered the head coach ship at his alma mater.

He made the All-American two years. His home for the present is in Bullard, Wash. He was in Eugene last Saturday and talked with the members of the council, and football enthusiasts, including some of the fair ladies at the Freshman Glee.

Forbes is a man of good appearance, large and powerfully built. While talking, he said that the men in the West are larger than those of the East, and that the material seems much better on the Pacific coast than in the East.

In view of this, it is not unlikely that an American championship might fall to some Pacific Northwest team in the future.

Addresses Y. M. C. A. C. W. Converse of the University of Oregon faculty addressed the students of the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on "Romance of History; The Story of the Ten Tribes of Israel."

After considering various aspects of the question, he said: "Some seventy-five years ago, John Wilson developed a hypothesis which has since demonstrated its claim to credence. Wilson discovered that according to the Irish Chronicles, there lived, 2500 years ago, in the north of Ireland, a man named Jeremy (cf. Jeremiah) and a king's daughter. The Bible relates that Jeremiah had the care of the daughter of Zedekiah, who was taken captive by the Assyrians. Previous to this time an invader had conquered Ireland. He is claimed to be of the line of the searid thread, the untraced line from Judah in Genesis. He married the Princess Tophi and the two houses of Judah were united. From this union, through the houses of Ireland and Scotland came the ruling house of England.

"The westward migration of the ten tribes may be traced, because the tribe of Dan, always fond of naming things for itself, exercised that penchant, and we find the route traced by many names of Hebrew origin from the Danube to Denmark.

"That the early name of the Welsh is found on Assyrian monuments, that the Welsh language contains about 5,000 Hebrew words, that the Anglo-Saxon race is fulfilling prophecy by occupying the waste places of a corroborative evidence. Queen Victoria believed this version and hoped to live to give over her throne to Christ.

Oregon Man Certain. Only one candidate presented himself for the Rhode Scholarship examinations, he being Cornelius Beebe, of this city. Two others who passed the examinations last year are eligible, but they are all from the University. Bolton Hamble and Cecil Lyons are the scholars, and the question of who shall go to Oxford, lies between the three, in case Mr. Beebe successfully passes and demonstrates his scholarship. In any case, an Oregon man will win the scholarship of $1500.

Crooks Speaks. President H. M. Crooks of Albany College addressed the student body Wednesday morning on the subject "Morality and Literature." The subject was well handled, and some important thoughts were brought to the minds of the students present.

The President is a fluent speaker, cultured. He is a strong supporter of education.

Debate Changed. The final preliminaries for the Interstate debate tryouts will be held Saturday night in Villard Hall instead of tonight. More interest is being taken in debate than ever before, not alone in Oregon, but in Idaho and Washington. From every indication the final debate the last of March, will be a very hard battle.

Varsity Notes. O. A. C. defeated Willamette at basketball last week.

The University of Washington will have six debating coaches this year, one for every man.

Dr. James Gilbert, of the economics department, went to Albany Friday, where he acted as judge of the debate between the Albany and Brownsville high schools.

Merle Chessman has been ratified as Assistant Manager of the track team. Next year he will be the manager. Chessman is a well known boy here, having graduated from the local high school.