McKinley's many friends in Eugene are pleased to learn that he will not have to go to the United States prison at McNeil's Island. The announcement of his comparatively light sentence was received with considerable interest here, as he carried on some of his land operations in Eugene.

candidates the Republicans can name," was the declaration of M. E. Ingalls, chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad, and former president of the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Big Four lines. "In 1896 and 1900 I voted against Bryan on account of his free silver views, but now since he has recanted that Democratic heresy and has been broadened by travel and ripened by age, I believe he is the available Democrat for the presidency at this moment. I believe Bryan could better carry out what is good in the Roosevelt policies than the president himself. There were certain evils existing in the country that needed the brutality of treatment given by Roosevelt, but we have come to the point where the continual cry 'Watch what I will do' is simply ruining business and urging us nearer and nearer to the brink of panic. I believe that Bryan can defeat any man the Republicans can nominate, even if that man were Roosevelt."
