MORE FOREST RANGERS TO BE PUT ON

Special to Guard.
 Washington, March 23.—The United States civil service commission has just announced that examinations will be held for the position of ranger at the supervisor's headquarters at every national forest on April 23 and 24. It is estimated that 300 more rangers will be required during the present fiscal year than were on duty last year, and eligibles to fill these vacancies will be furnished the forest service by the coming examination. The examinations will be held in seventeen states and territories, at the following places in Oregon: Eugene, Grants Pass, Heppner, John Day, Lakeview, Medford, Portland, Prineville, Roseburg, Sumpter, Wallawa.

Applicants can secure information on the examination from the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C., or from the forest supervisor at any of the places mentioned for holding the examination.

Those who wish to take the examination should ask for application form 1993, a copy of the "Use Book" and a copy of "Information Regarding Employment in the National Forests." The papers in the examination will all be forwarded to the civil service commission and the results announced in due time.

Experience, a thorough knowledge of forest conditions, and a sound body, rather than book education, are the qualities sought in examining applicants who desire to become forest rangers. The man must have the ability, however, to make simple maps and write intelligent reports upon forest business connected with the position. A ranger must be able to take care of himself and his horses in regions remote from settlement and supplies. Necessary qualifications of applicants include the knowledge of trail building, construction of cabins, and the ability to ride, pack, and deal tactfully with all classes of people. They must also know something of the land laws, surveying, estimating and scaling timber, logging, mining and the livestock business.

Only those men who are at least 21 years of age, and not more than 40, of good character, temperate, and in good physical condition, are eligible to take the examination. The salary paid to beginners is $75 a month. Compensation runs as high as $1400 per year for rangers who have had some experience and demonstrate their capability. Still better places are open to these men, for it is the policy of the forest service to fill vacancies in higher positions by the promotion of rangers who have proved their capacity.

and should be recognized to be entirely legal. Combinations of working men have a peculiar reason for their existence. The very wealthy individual employer, and still more, the very wealthy corporations, stand at an enormous advantage when compared with the individual workman; and while there may be many cases where it is not necessary for laborers to form a union, in many cases it is indispensable, for otherwise the thousands of small units, the thousands of individual workmen, will be left helpless in their dealings with the one big unit, the big individual or corporation employer.

For Free Wood Pulp.
 "I am of the opinion, however, that one change in the tariff could with advantage be made forthwith. Our forests need every protection, and one method of protecting them would be to put on the free list pulp wood, with a corresponding reduction upon paper made from wood pulp when they come from any country that does not put an export duty on them.

"Ample provision should be made for a permanent waterways commission with whatever power it is required to make it effective. The expectations of the people will not be realized unless congress provides at this session for the beginning and prosecution of the actual work of waterway improvement and control. The congress should realize in the fullest fashion the fact that the subject of the conservation of our national resources with which this commission deals is literally vital for the future of this nation.

"Numerous bills granting water power rights on navigable streams have been introduced. None of them gives the government the right to make a reasonable charge for the valuable privilege granted, despite the fact that these water powers are equivalent to many thousands of acres of the best coal lands for their production of power. Nor is any definite time limit set as should always be done in such cases. I shall be obliged hereafter, in accordance with the policy stated in a recent message, to veto the right of the president or of the secretary concerned to fix and collect such a charge as he may find to be just and reasonable in such case."

 DIED.

Mrs. J. S. Luckey, a pioneer resident of Eugene, died at her home at the corner of East Tenth and Pearl streets in Eugene Monday afternoon, after a long illness from heart trouble.

Mrs. Elizabeth Caroline Luckey was the daughter of Elias Stewart and Elizabeth Stewart, and was born in Buchanan county, Missouri, February 29, 1851, making her age at her death 57 years, 1 month and 3 days.

In 1852, while yet an infant, she came with her parents across the plains to Oregon. The mother of the family was taken with cholera while on the plains of the Platte in Western Nebraska, and Lizzie was thus left an orphan very early in life. They reached Oregon in 1852 and lived on the Calf farm near Springfield until her father purchased her share of the Charnel Mullanigan donation claim, to which they moved, and her home has been in Eugene ever since. July 23, 1871, she was married to Joseph S. Luckey. Besides her husband she leaves two sisters, Mrs. T. G. Hendricks and Mrs. A. O. Stevens.

Mrs. Luckey was beloved by all who knew her, and she was an especially kind and sympathetic person. A large number of the students of the University of Oregon often accepted her hospitality at her splendid home and were always treated as members of the family. She was prominent in Eugene's social life and will be greatly missed at society functions.

The funeral was held this afternoon and the remains interred in the Masonic cemetery, Rev. P. K. Hammond, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, conducting the services. The pallbearers were L. L. and Ray Goodrich, Fred Moulton, Roy Zacharias, George Hug and Gordon Moores.

The services were largely attended and many followed the remains to their last resting place.

In Eugene, March 25, 1908, Mrs. Margaret A. Parks, aged 64 years, 4 months and 3 days.

Mrs. Margaret A. Parks was born in Fulton county, Illinois, November 20, 1840, and in 1852, with her parents, she crossed the plains when but twelve years old. They settled at what was then known as Trent, near Pleasant Hill, where she spent most of her life. She was married in 1858 to J. N. Parks, who died March 10, 1886. There are eight living children, all of whom were present at the time of her death: Samuel A., Albert L., Edwin, Anna V., Lloyd L., Claude C., Mrs. Elsie C. Cooper and Clyde L., all of whom are residents of Lane county.

She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Daniel Baughman, of Cottage Grove; Mrs. S. A. Lawrence, of Nome; Mrs. E. Deering, of Helix, Or.; E. G. Baughman, of Seattle; and Thurston Baughman, of Coosume, Cal.

The funeral was held this forenoon with interment in the Pleasant Hill cemetery, Rev. J. S. McCallum conducting the services.

Samuel Holloway, a pioneer of Lane county, formerly residing in Eugene, died at Goshen March 24, 1908. The funeral will be held Wednesday, with interment in the Eugene I. O. O. F. cemetery. The services will be held in the M. E. church at Goshen and the remains will arrive at the cemetery about noon.

At the home of J. H. Dick, 216 Lawrence street, March 24, 1908, Lydia A. wife of A. J. Adams, aged 66 years. Cause of death, paralysis. She was the mother of ten children and a pioneer of Jacksonville, Or. The funeral will be held Wednesday from 216 Lawrence street at 2 p. m., with interment in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

The Bon Marche A Place to Save Money

WIDOW WOULD SET ORCHARD FREE
 ry Orchard, the self-confessed murderer of ex-Governor Steunenberg. Judge Wood said today:
 "By the statutes of Idaho the common law is made the rule of decision in all cases not inconsistent with the legislative laws of the United States, and of the state. By the common law, when the court or magistrate accepted an accomplice as a witness against a co-defendant, a promise was implied on the part of such court or magistrate to recommend such an accomplice to the merciful consideration of the crown, provided the accomplice thus accepted as a witness was subsequently convicted of the same offense. This right has been declared to be a part of our judicial system by the supreme court of the United States, and by the supreme court of several states.

"The right, however, to secure recommendation for clemency depends upon the accomplice thus accepted as a witness testifying fully and fairly to the entire transaction involved, and it is this fact that makes it necessary for the trial court to review the evidence of the accomplice before judicially determining that such accomplice is entitled to the recommendations of the court for any degree of executive clemency.

"The accomplice, Harry Orchard, having testified fully and fairly when accepted as a witness, the court recommended the omission of the death penalty."
