GIRL DROWNED IN MILL RACE WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon Miss Edna Yarnell, daughter of J. E. Yarnell, of this city, was drowned in the mill race. She and Miss Vesta Davis were canoeing, when the boat capsized. Miss Davis succeeded in reaching the shore, but Miss Yarnell sank to the bottom. The drowning occurred just below the island. Grappling hooks were sent up and efforts are now being made to recover the body.
The body was recovered at 10 o'clock last night.

FAIRDANKS BOOMED FOR PRESIDENT BY INDIANA

which should be changed in the interests of a sound economy demand with reasonable dispatch. It is not wise to enter upon the work of wholesale demolition, nor is it wise to make changes where they are not required.

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE

by good business or some well-founded public demand.

Speech by Beveridge.
A feature of the opening session of the convention was a speech by Senator A. J. Beveridge, who aroused much enthusiasm among the delegates. He strongly defended the policies of President Roosevelt and endorsed the candidacy of Fairbanks as Indiana's favorite son.

Kennedy's Lavative Cough Syrup acts promptly, yet gently on the bowels, through which the cold is forced out of the system, and at the same time it allays inflammation. Sold by all druggists.

MUCH SNOW LOW DOWN ON MOUNTAINS

(Special Correspondence.)

Lowell, April 1.—We are having all kinds of weather. Snow has fallen of late low down on the hills and in a chinook wind should set in (which at this time of the year is likely) we may see the river as high as at any time this season.

The logging camps five miles above Lowell of Joe Hills, McBoe's and Mac Crow's are making preparations to push work along as fast as men and money will admit after the first of April, as the bark will be easily removed by that time.

Mr. Delp is making preparations for a big time at the skating rink Saturday, the 9th of April. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Michael returned home last week from Eugene, where he had been attending circuit court as a petty juror for two weeks.

Ernest Hyland, the Lowell merchant, made a flying trip to Eugene and Mabel last week on business.

The political hot bed to have as the days go by and canvassing letters are being sent to fill the mail sacks as all the candidates want to be heard from before the primaries are held. Some are doing some lively figuring and making great promises in case they are elected, putting us in mind of the darkey in the South that was carrying his brother's books home. Bestanders, seeing that he had a large number of books, made the inquiry: "Going to school, eh? Do you study all those books?" "No, sar; dey's me brudder's. I use a ignorant kind o' nigger side him, boss. He has gone an' ciphered clean through addition, partition, distraction, abomination, justification, creation, amputation and adaptation, an' specks to graduate soon."

Joseph Dire and family, of Mabel, are visiting among relatives near Rush Island.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a chess call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and that death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung diseases in the world." Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kaykendall's drug store. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.
