COMMERCIAL CLUB AWARDS ITS PRIZES
The Commercial Club's prize essay contest was decided last night. John Roach Straton, of Baltimore, Maryland, was awarded the capital prize of $1000, and Miss Matiel Howe, of Portland, was awarded the second prize of $500. Eighty prizes were awarded, varying in amount from $250 to $10. A total of $5000 was distributed among 80 out of 340 contestants.
Oregon received a tremendous amount of advertising as the result of the Commercial Club's contest, which was carried through by Manager Richardson. Not only were the articles entered in the contest, which were descriptive of Portland and Oregon, printed in newspapers all over the United States, but a number of prize-winning stories were published in foreign papers. The contest was a great success from every standpoint, and particularly in that it aroused widespread interest in this state because of the publicity secured in launching the contest.
Judges in the contest were Professor James Ewing, of the Portland Academy; J. F. Tyler, news editor of the Oregon Journal, and W. J. Cuddy, editor of the Weekly Oregonian. The committee returned its findings last night—Oregonian.

Portland Telegram—C. A. Partlow has discovered a new first baseman, whom he thinks is a wonder, and has signed him to play the first base for Oregon City. He is Bill first baseman for Eugene last year and more recently a candidate for the initial sack on the Tacoma Club of the Northwest league.

WANTS NAMES OF STATEMENT NO. 1 MEN
Editor Guard.—Will you kindly publish a list of the legislative candidates, especially the Republicans, with their standing in regard to Statement No. 1? The primaries are drawing near and we want to make no mistakes.
While The Guard has from time to time mentioned the standing of this or that candidate we want something we can cut out and paste in the hat which we expect to wear April 17. We care not what a candidate's other qualifications may be if he is so un-American in his principles that he is opposed to majority or plurality rule, that alone is sufficient reason why he should be left at home.
Those boys serving time in jail for selling booze do not believe either in upholding law or majority rule, but the judge did not seem to respect their views. Neither should an intelligent public respect a candidate who proposes to turn down the people's choice for senator unless such senator be the man of his individual choice or that of his party.
We received a circular letter from a prominent candidate today, whom we would gladly have supported had he not jugged with the senatorial pledge.
The second plank of his platform states that he stands for the election of United States senators by the people, but he reserves the right to turn down the choice of the people unless such choice falls to a Republican. Such a proposition is inconsistent and is an insult to the intelligence of every voter to whom sent.
Of course he tries to lay it on to our national constitution, but the excuse is so thin it will not stand alone. If the Republican party, with 39,000 votes to spare, cannot put up a man who can beat Chamberlain, then let Chamberlain have it. If it would be wrong to send him to the senate provided he was the choice of the people in June, then it was wrong to seat him as governor.
So give us the list, as we propose to vote only for Statement No. 1 men, both in the Republican primary and also in June.
It is the people against boss rule, and the people will win in the state, so let us see to it that Lane county sends three Statement No. 1 men to the legislature. If there are not three Statement No. 1 Republicans on the ticket in June, a large per cent of the Republican voters are likely to "stultify" themselves by voting for others.

400-ACRE RIFLE RANGE FOR O. N. G. AT TROUTDALE
Salem, Or., April 6.—The purchase of a suitable tract of land near Troutdale for use as a state rifle range is the principal matter up for consideration before the State Military Board, which is in session this afternoon. The tract under consideration consists of over 120 acres, and it is also proposed to purchase an adjoining tract making an aggregate of over 400 acres, which will be used in connection with the rifle range as a camp, and maneuvering ground for the state and government troops. The war department will be asked to purchase the latter tract.
The outdoor range season opens now in about three weeks. Adjutant General Finzer will issue the necessary order during the present week. The Southern Oregon troops will begin their competitions immediately, although the Portland marksmen may have to wait a short time for targets to be constructed in case the new range is secured.
Orders will also be issued at an early date for the state competitions. The meet this year will occur earlier than before, possibly a few days after July 4. This is necessitated by the probability of an August emplacement.

CORVALLIS & EASTERN MUST BUY NEW CARS
The railroad commission in a decision, which follows in part, censures the Corvallis & Eastern railroad company for their passenger accommodations on the lines from Albany and Corvallis to Yaquina and Toledo.
"It is ordered that the railroad company defendant, shall in the future supply sufficient passenger cars so that all passengers leaving Corvallis or Albany westbound and Yaquina and Toledo eastbound, may have a seat; and that the second-class coach shall be supplied with ventilators."
The railroad company will have 20 days in which to make the necessary alterations. The case was brought on complaint of B. F. Jones of Independence, formerly of Toledo.—Salem Journal.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH AT MABEL TUESDAY

The two-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Kinman, of Mabel, on the Mohawk, was burned to death at the family home Tuesday. Mrs. Kinman was at the barn milking a cow, her husband being away from home. When she returned to the house, she was grief-stricken to find the little girl dead, her dress having caught fire in some manner. All of her clothing was burned off and her little body was burned to a crisp. Mrs. Kinman ran screaming from the house and neighbors came to learn the trouble. It is thought that the child's clothing caught fire from the kitchen stove or that the child may have been playing with matches and ignited them.
The father of the child was sent for and he arrived some hours after the tragedy.

IRRIGATION SYSTEM NEAR FRANKLIN

N. J. BRYANT AND J. A. RICHARDSON APPROPRIATE WATERS OF SQUAW CREEK AND WILL BUILD TWO DITCHES
N. J. Bryant and J. A. Richardson, of Franklin, today filed with the county clerk a notice of the appropriation of 36 cubic inches of the waters of Squaw creek, a small stream near Franklin, for general irrigation purposes. They will build two ditches, one on the north side of the stream and the other on the south side, and irrigate their farms and perhaps the farms of several others in that vicinity. The headgates and dam of the ditches will be located near the southwest corner of C. C. Smith donation land claim No. 44 in township 16, south of range 5 west. There are already several private irrigation ditches in that part of the county, and they have proven to be such a success in increasing grain crops that several others intend to try it.

NOTED HORSE THIEF IS CAPTURED

Lethbridge, N. W. T., April 8.—Fred Wheatley, a noted Oregon horse thief, who escaped from custody last fall by jumping from a car window, though handcuffed, was captured near St. Marys. He admits he is the man.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT.
Portland, Or., April 8.—What is reported to be a combination of the three sugar companies of the Pacific coast forced the price of sugar from 20c to 30c per hundred pounds higher this morning, the higher figure being for fruit and the smaller for other grades. Since the first advance of 30c on the coast a short time ago, there have been persistent rumors that an amalgamation of the three competing companies on the Pacific coast had finally been effected after several years of constant warfare which at least gave the consumer a chance for his money and the wholesaler a small profit on the stocks he handled instead of trading in sugar at an actual loss. While the head offices of the various companies are located elsewhere, each maintains a selling agency in this city. Local handlers deny that any combination exists, but their mere word does not satisfy the trade or the consumers who have been forced to pay nearly a cent more a pound for sugar than before the supposed combination of interests went into effect. It is reported that the combination is now practically controlled by the American Sugar Refining Company.
The Potato Market.
The potato market today showed a slightly firmer tone, the result of a perceptible improvement in the South but prices underwent no change and dealers generally hold that it is useless for growers to look for better figures than are now offered at any time this spring. Jobbers are buying in a steady way at 45 to 60 cents a hundred, and they say it takes a strictly fancy article to bring the latter price.
"My advice to farmers just now is to sell wherever they can get 50 to 60 cents for their goods," said a dealer today. "Many of the growers, I notice now, are inclined to be a bit bullish in their views of the potato market and this I attribute to the misleading reports that have been sent out by Southern Commission firms soliciting shipments directly from the farmers. The growers now are not sending goods south to any great extent, yet they are inclined to take seriously the reports that reach them and hold off against offers that are made by local jobbers."
Onion Firm at $5 for Best.
Local onion market is very firm at $5 for the best stock, although one or two dealers are talking of asking $5.25 later in the day. The fact that a car of Texas Bermuda onions will arrive here within the next 10 days is causing holders of local stocks to go somewhat slow with their proposed advances. However the best local stock is still in fine shape and will easily keep for a month or so and will be in demand for shipping purposes throughout the northwest until all supplies have been exhausted. The Texas onions cannot be sold here even as low as the present market, so the trade is not fearful of competition. Bermudas are now rolling.

Great Scarcity of Poultry.
There is a great scarcity of poultry along Front street, although supplies of late have been average ones. The coming of Easter and the Jewish holidays has created a larger call for chickens and this has resulted in prices holding stiff. For the Jewish trade there is a fair demand for geese and turkeys.
Eggs are holding unchanged around 16 1/2-2 with sales of small lots at the latter figure. Receipts are holding about the season. Hatching season is expected to cut down on the arrivals soon. Easter demand is not expected to allow further price concession.
Front Street Brief Notes.
Supplies of crabs are slightly better.
Small fish still very scarce.
A shipment of Florida bell peppers is expected today. Will sell at $3.75 a crate.
Two cars of cabbage were unloaded along the street this morning. Likewise a car of oranges. Fancy navel is scarcer with prices stiffer.
One city creamery which held out for the higher prices yesterday came down this morning. Supplies are too liberal to check the decline at this time.
Cheese demand is better than supplies at this time.
Receipts of California butter are increasing, also.
Local cauliflower receipts are increasing. Prices range from 50c to $1.25 according to size.
Portland Livestock Market.
Cattle and hogs continue in strong demand in the local livestock market at the prices that prevailed yesterday, while sheep are a shade easier. No changes in sheep quotations were announced. Receipts today included 120 cattle, 100 sheep and 90 hogs. The cattle were brought in from Eastern Oregon and the sheep and hogs from Valley points.
At this time of year veal is always plentiful and the market always shows a weakening tendency. The bulk of the veal that reaches the local market is country dressed and shipped to the Front street commission houses. These receipts for a week have been heavy. Board of Trade quotations on veal today were 8 to 8 1-2 cents down to 6 cents for country and heavy grades. Only a small proportion of the veal received is such as to bring the top price. Medium grades are not over-active while inferior stuff still drags at the low prices.
The supply of country dressed pork is still about sufficient for the demand and the market is steady at the previous quotations.

SHALL LANE COUNTY HAVE A REPUBLICAN SHERIFF?
To the Republican Voters: Eugene, Ore., April 9th, 1908.
There is no reason why Lane County should not have a Republican sheriff, and if the Republican party will stand together at the June election, we will easily elect our man.
On the 17th day of this month the Republicans will nominate at the primaries the one they wish to run for this important office. As one of the aspirants for nomination I wish to impress upon you the necessity of selecting the man that will command the greatest number of votes at the June election. This is a matter of great importance to the Republican party, and I urge you to exercise care in your selection as to who shall be nominated for sheriff.
The Republican party is entitled to this office, and in order to be victorious it behooves us to select the very best man we can to make the campaign.
I firmly believe that I can command a larger number of votes for this office than any of the aspirants in the field, having been closely identified with the business interests of Lane County for the past fifteen years. I naturally have a large number of friends and acquaintances that will work for my nomination and election, and I am perfectly capable of giving the office a thorough business administration. As to my standing in this community, any bank or business firm in Eugene can give you the information if desired.
If nominated I am sure of election. I would appreciate your earnest, active support at the primaries.
We must elect a Republican Sheriff this year.
Very truly yours,
I. T. NICKLIN.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT.
Portland, Or., April 8.—What is reported to be a combination of the three sugar companies of the Pacific coast forced the price of sugar from 20c to 30c per hundred pounds higher this morning, the higher figure being for fruit and the smaller for other grades. Since the first advance of 30c on the coast a short time ago, there have been persistent rumors that an amalgamation of the three competing companies on the Pacific coast had finally been effected after several years of constant warfare which at least gave the consumer a chance for his money and the wholesaler a small profit on the stocks he handled instead of trading in sugar at an actual loss. While the head offices of the various companies are located elsewhere, each maintains a selling agency in this city. Local handlers deny that any combination exists, but their mere word does not satisfy the trade or the consumers who have been forced to pay nearly a cent more a pound for sugar than before the supposed combination of interests went into effect. It is reported that the combination is now practically controlled by the American Sugar Refining Company.
The Potato Market.
The potato market today showed a slightly firmer tone, the result of a perceptible improvement in the South but prices underwent no change and dealers generally hold that it is useless for growers to look for better figures than are now offered at any time this spring. Jobbers are buying in a steady way at 45 to 60 cents a hundred, and they say it takes a strictly fancy article to bring the latter price.
"My advice to farmers just now is to sell wherever they can get 50 to 60 cents for their goods," said a dealer today. "Many of the growers, I notice now, are inclined to be a bit bullish in their views of the potato market and this I attribute to the misleading reports that have been sent out by Southern Commission firms soliciting shipments directly from the farmers. The growers now are not sending goods south to any great extent, yet they are inclined to take seriously the reports that reach them and hold off against offers that are made by local jobbers."
Onion Firm at $5 for Best.
Local onion market is very firm at $5 for the best stock, although one or two dealers are talking of asking $5.25 later in the day. The fact that a car of Texas Bermuda onions will arrive here within the next 10 days is causing holders of local stocks to go somewhat slow with their proposed advances. However the best local stock is still in fine shape and will easily keep for a month or so and will be in demand for shipping purposes throughout the northwest until all supplies have been exhausted. The Texas onions cannot be sold here even as low as the present market, so the trade is not fearful of competition. Bermudas are now rolling.

Great Scarcity of Poultry.
There is a great scarcity of poultry along Front street, although supplies of late have been average ones. The coming of Easter and the Jewish holidays has created a larger call for chickens and this has resulted in prices holding stiff. For the Jewish trade there is a fair demand for geese and turkeys.
Eggs are holding unchanged around 16 1/2-2 with sales of small lots at the latter figure. Receipts are holding about the season. Hatching season is expected to cut down on the arrivals soon. Easter demand is not expected to allow further price concession.
Front Street Brief Notes.
Supplies of crabs are slightly better.
Small fish still very scarce.
A shipment of Florida bell peppers is expected today. Will sell at $3.75 a crate.
Two cars of cabbage were unloaded along the street this morning. Likewise a car of oranges. Fancy navel is scarcer with prices stiffer.
One city creamery which held out for the higher prices yesterday came down this morning. Supplies are too liberal to check the decline at this time.
Cheese demand is better than supplies at this time.
Receipts of California butter are increasing, also.
Local cauliflower receipts are increasing. Prices range from 50c to $1.25 according to size.
Portland Livestock Market.
Cattle and hogs continue in strong demand in the local livestock market at the prices that prevailed yesterday, while sheep are a shade easier. No changes in sheep quotations were announced. Receipts today included 120 cattle, 100 sheep and 90 hogs. The cattle were brought in from Eastern Oregon and the sheep and hogs from Valley points.
At this time of year veal is always plentiful and the market always shows a weakening tendency. The bulk of the veal that reaches the local market is country dressed and shipped to the Front street commission houses. These receipts for a week have been heavy. Board of Trade quotations on veal today were 8 to 8 1-2 cents down to 6 cents for country and heavy grades. Only a small proportion of the veal received is such as to bring the top price. Medium grades are not over-active while inferior stuff still drags at the low prices.
The supply of country dressed pork is still about sufficient for the demand and the market is steady at the previous quotations.

SHALL LANE COUNTY HAVE A REPUBLICAN SHERIFF?
To the Republican Voters: Eugene, Ore., April 9th, 1908.
There is no reason why Lane County should not have a Republican sheriff, and if the Republican party will stand together at the June election, we will easily elect our man.
On the 17th day of this month the Republicans will nominate at the primaries the one they wish to run for this important office. As one of the aspirants for
