HENEY ROASTS FULTON BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE

Portland, Or., April 13.—Four thousand people at the Exposition hall last night listened to Francis J. Heney tell of the political record of Senator Charles W. Fulton and discuss the political tendencies of the day.

Good citizenship was the keynote of Mr. Heney's address in which he paid his compliments still further to Senator Fulton. In his argument Mr. Heney showed the bribery of Representative Hauser, of Jackson county, during the hold-up session of 1903, and the attempted bribery of Representative Kruse, of Clackamas county.

He also went into the election frauds of Portland in 1904 in which Whitney L. Boise, T. Cader Powell, John P. Sharkey, C. A. Burkhardt and others were implicated. From these incidents and many others formerly noted in the career of Senator Fulton he founded the argument that the senator was not a fit man for the office of United States senator.

He contended that Senator Fulton was one of the old-time corrupt ring, that he was now being backed by Jack Matthews and the remainder of the old corruptionists, and urged that no man so tainted and bound should be sent by the people of Oregon to represent them in the senate. He urged that the people should hold fast to the initiative and referendum, the primary law and to the power to elect as the means by which they could free themselves from corrupt officials and unfair laws.

During the address the speaker brought out still more clearly the corrupt conditions prevailing in Oregon politics during the regime of the old machine, and with illustrations of the bribery of Representative Hauser, of Jackson county, who was paid $3,500 for his vote, the attempted bribery of Representative Kruse, of Clackamas county, who was offered $3500 and then $5000, but who refused the money, and the notorious election frauds of Portland in 1904 in which Whitney L. Boise, T. Cader Powell, John P. Sharkey and others were involved.

In his address Mr. Heney contended that his interest in making the appearance at the present time was not that of politics, for he had no interest in who the people of Oregon selected for their representative in congress. His interest, he contended, was that of good citizenship and his desire to see the people of the country cast off the shackles which were binding them closer and closer in slavery to a few interests and special corporations.

Mr. Heney exhorted the people against allowing the rule of the old machine to prevail in the state, and to mind the corruption of the past, when Jack Matthews was the political boss and when the old Mitchell machine ruled the state, and warned his audience that Matthews and the old-time leaders were still in the battle, back of Fulton, making one more effort to regain the power wrested from them by the initiative and referendum, the direct primary law and Statement No. 1.

During the onslaught of Mr. Heney on the old conditions Jack Matthews, I. L. Patterson and some other members of the old regime stood in the front of the hall paying strict attention to the address. After the relation of the 1904 election frauds of Portland they left the hall.

Mr. Heney went over the points of his former addresses, dealing with the record of Senator Fulton, showing his connection with the defendant in the land frauds of the state, and his effort to shield these men from criminal prosecution. He brought up the fact that the senator had worked at the request of W. N. Jones to expedite the fraudulent claims filed by Jones, and persisted in his efforts to secure favorable action on the claims until near the conclusion of the session.

Fulton knew of the connection of Cader Powell with the election frauds, and of his having embezzled $3000 from Multnomah county before his appointment as United States marshal at the request of Senator Fulton. Because of all these disclosures the speaker contended that Senator Fulton was not the right man to represent Oregon in the United States senate, and urged the people, if they were convinced of the truth of his representations, not to return him to office.

Senator Fred Mulkey introduced Mr. Heney, and occupied a place on the platform during the course of the address.

William Twilley and Henry Jones were bound over by Judge Bryson of the justice court today in the sum of $500 each to appear for trial at the next term of circuit court on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Not being able to raise the bail, they will probably remain in the county jail till court meets again. Twilley and Jones, together with Shell Coffman, were arrested Saturday evening and spent that night and all day yesterday and last night in the county jail. At the examination before Judge Bryson this morning Coffman was released from custody, the evidence against him not being sufficient to warrant binding him over.

Harvey Jones, brother of Henry, Mauffie Woolwine and Fred Craig, are also wanted on the same charge, and warrants are out for their arrest, but the officers have as yet been unable to find them.

The minor to whose delinquency these young men are accused of contributing is Addie Waters, a girl of 15 years, who has been here for some time past, and her folks are said to be respectable citizens residing near here. According to the testimony in court today, Twilley, Craig, Jones and others drove out to Twilley's place, three miles west of town, with the Waters girl and another girl and spent the night there carousing and drinking heavily.

The penalty for the offense of which these men are accused is a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment not more than a year.

HARRIMAN GRABBED ANOTHER BIG PLUM

New York, April 13.—That E. B. Harriman grabbed off the biggest haul on record, even in these days of Wall street barings when he came to the rescue of the Erie railroad in such a spectacular manner yesterday, was made plain today, when stock market operators had had time to analyze the deal. All Mr. Harriman was required to put up was $1,500,000 of borrowed money. Here is some of the things he got in return:

Control of the Erie railroad, a $400,000,000 corporation.

A through freight and passenger line from San Francisco to New York, for which he has been working and dreaming and scheming for years.

Renewed prestige in the financial and railway world, which compensated in a great measure for his loss as a result of the "big stick" vigorously wielded for several years by President Roosevelt.

Five million dollars in new Erie 100-cent short-term notes, which he controlled of the road will enable him to meet when they mature three years hence.

Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars of actual cash, handed back to him for use as pin money at a time when many millionaires are having a hard struggle finding money to finance lobster and champagne suppers.

MCAFRLAND WINS OVER BRITT BY KNOCK-OUT ROUTE

Coima Arena, Cal., April 11.—Paeky McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, made short work of Jimmy Britt this afternoon in the scheduled fight between the two.

McFarland was sent to the floor three times in the sixth and last round by powerful right wallops on the point of the jaw. He took the count of nine twice and after the time keeper had counted five Britt's father jumped into the ring and waved McFarland away. It was practically a clear knockout. McFarland outclassed Britt from start to finish.

Classified Britt from start to finish. It was easily seen early in the contest that the Britt who faced McFarland this afternoon was not the Britt of old, and that he had deteriorated greatly in every respect. He did not seem able to gauge his blows; he was very wild at times and displayed much weakness in the clinches and at close range fighting.

McFarland on the other hand had remarkable speed, his judgment of distance was infallible and he displayed great punching powers. McFarland showed also that he was wonderful as a two-hand fighter. He started for his man from the very outset and when the first round had terminated, Britt went to his corner with an anxious look on his face. In the second round he seemed to realize that he had met his master. McFarland outboxed, outpunched and outgeneraled him completely and Britt began to break ground and at times stalled for protection. McFarland gave Britt no chance to rest in the third, fourth and fifth rounds. He hammered him mercilessly, his principal blows being right to the jaw.

Toward the close of the fifth round, a right smash to the jaw sent Britt to the mat and only the timely clang of the gong saved him from being counted out. His respite was temporary. McFarland went for him again in the sixth and it was only a question of time before the Californian must succumb. Finally McFarland unhooked a wicked right that caught Britt on the point of the chin. He dropped like a log.

DOCTOR'S ORDER WAS: 'CUTICURA'

For a Bad Case of Eczema on Child—Suffered for Three Months—Disease Reached a Fearful Stage—Pain and Itching were Terrible.

CURED AFTER OTHER PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a stage that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedies which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I have used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can only say that Cuticura did a lot for me. I am, Ansel Wilson, North Branch, Minn., Oct. 20, 1907."

ITCHING CURED With Cuticura Remedies in Three Days After Six Months of Suffering.

"I suffered fully six months. The trouble began on my arms. Little red pimples and it was not long before it was all over my face, limbs, face, and hands. It was so bad that I could not rest night or day and during the six months, I did not get a good night's sleep. I doctored for three or four months and spent at least twenty dollars trying to find a cure but none could be found. Then I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and the next day I purchased some for seventy-five cents. I used them for three days and I was relieved of the itching in three days, and I have never had a sign of any skin disease since. The Cuticura Remedies are the only ones that I have used and they will cure others in the same way. J. W. Bloom, R. R. Telegrapher, Holyoke, Mich., Nov. 20 and Dec. 29, 1906."
