FINDING OF TOOTH POINTS TO MRS. GUNNESS' DEATH

LaPorte, May 12.—A gold crown tooth was found in the debris of the Gunness home today. It is believed to be from the head of Mrs. Belle Gunness, indicating that she was one of the victims of the fire.

LaPorte, May 12.—Louis Schultze, employed by the sheriff to sluice the ashes of the Gunness home and pan for gold, completed his apparatus today and began his tests.

Additional evidence of the methods by which the persons whose corpses were found on the Gunness farm were killed, was unearthed today in the finding of about two dozen pairs of scissors, bent and curved in the fashion of surgical instruments, and three knives, two of a surgical character and the third unmistakeably a dirk. In the absence of evidence to the contrary it is believed the dirk may have been the chief weapon employed in the series of murders. The knives and scissors are thought to have been used in dismembering the bodies.

Further Mystery

Further mystery in the Gunness case is revealed by the report of Dr. J. Lucius Gray, who performed the autopsy on the body which the authorities steadfastly claimed to be that of Mrs. Belle Gunness. Dr. Gray tells of three rings found on the corpse and reveals the fact that the right hand, hitherto declared to be missing, is still in existence. The two rings bear the inscription "P. S. to J. S., Aug. 22, '94," and the other "P. G. to J. S., March 5, '95." Mrs. Gunness' husband was Peter Gunness but the identity of "J. S." is a puzzle which the authorities are apparently unable to explain.

HUGHES WOULD SERVE IF ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT

New York, May 12.—Governor Hughes will not accept the nomination for the vice presidency. In a letter to General Stewart L. Woodford Hughes says:

"For reasons which are controlling and which leave no room for discussion, and though I would be deeply sensible of the honor thereby conferred, I should not be able to accept, and will not, in any contingency, accept the nomination for the vice presidency, and even were I elected I could not serve."

Washington, May 11.—Senator Rayner today introduced a resolution authorizing the president to convene a court of inquiry to consist of five officers of the army to investigate the charges and accusations against Col. William F. Stewart, of the army, who had been detailed to serve until his retirement at the abandoned military post of Fort Grant, Arizona.

Rayner will speak on the resolution tomorrow.

For Larger Homesteads.

By a vote of 139 to 74 the house passed the Mondell bill providing for homestead entries of 320 acres, instead of 160 on non-mineral, non-irrigable, unreserved, non-appropriated public lands of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California and other western states.

WANTS ROOSEVELT TO STOP KNOCKS

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Insisting that the president "let up" on the railroads and that no opposition be made to the proposed increase in rates, representatives of the "Prosperity League" called on the president this morning.

Although the committee declared that it represented the most influential merchants of both east and west, it is believed here that the railroads influenced the movement to create sentiment in favor of higher rates.

PUBLISHERS SLOW IN TESTIFYING AGAINST COMBINE

Washington, May 12.—In connection with the wood pulp tariff investigation Chairman Mann, of the house committee, today made a sharp complaint because the newspaper publishers fail to come forward and supply evidence to back up their charges. He said this may result in preventing the committee from reporting at this session of congress.

EX-SHERIFF SMITH GETS PRISON TERM

Portland, May 11.—A special dispatch from Prineville to the Evening Telegram says that C. Sam Smith, who was convicted yesterday of burning the shearing plant of Representative Williamson, and Larkin Elliott, principal witness against Smith, and who pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring with Smith to burn the plant, were each sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

Prineville, Or., May 11.—After deliberation covering more than 15 hours the jury in the case of C. Sam Smith, charged with burning J. N. Williamson's shearing plant, brought in a verdict of guilty, at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon.

The verdict was a huge surprise to the people here, most of whom were expecting a disagreement. Wagers were freely offered at two to one that if the jury reached a decision at all the verdict would be an acquittal. This opinion was owing to the bad reputation of Larkin Elliott, the alleged accomplice and principal witness for the prosecution, for truth and veracity, the unreliability of whose statements was thought to be clearly established by five responsible witnesses. Evidence was also offered to show that within the last year Elliott had remarked, "We will have to burn Sam Smith's house and run him out of the country."

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY ARE DOWN TO WORK

(From Monday's Daily Guard.)

The members of the state grange, which opens its first session here tomorrow morning, are flocking in on every train. A number came in as early as last night, but the majority will be here this afternoon or tonight. Altogether two hundred people are expected from the state at large, including the Lane county granges.

The first business session will be held tomorrow morning in the Odd Fellows temple at 10 o'clock. Tuesday evening the main public event of the week will be held at the Armory under the auspices of the Commercial club in honor of the State Grange.

The military band will be present to furnish the music, it also having two special numbers. The address of welcome on the part of the city of Eugene will be delivered by Mayor Matlock, who will probably be followed by Judge L. F. Harris, on the part of the Commercial club, and soon after Master J. A. Youngreen, of the Springfield grange, and Master J. A. Hemphill of the Pleasant Hill organization.

The response for the delegates will be by Austin B. Buxton, of Forest Grove, master of the State Grange.

Mrs. Clara Waldo, of Portland, who is lecturer of the state for the grange work, will deliver an illustrated address, and Superintendent Alderman will also give an address on "Industrial Education."

The University Glee Club will sing a couple of its popular numbers in the program.

On the following morning—Wednesday—the members of the State Grange will probably visit the University and hear W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural College, address the student body. Luncheon will be served on the campus by the girls and ladies of the University and by the Women's Auxiliary of the Commercial club.

The rest of the time of the session will be taken up by the business meetings. On Friday, according to present plans, the Sixth Degree of the grange work will be conferred upon a number of applicants, and on Wednesday the officers for the coming year will be elected.

Master Youngreen, Mrs. Tobey and Mrs. McPherson of the Springfield grange, Master Hemphill of the Pleasant Hill, and two other members of his grange, and the masters of the other county granges, in conjunction with the committees of the Commercial club and others, are looking after the entertainment of the city's guests.

The lodging capacity of the town has been taxed to its utmost, and students of the University have been canvassing the town for rooms to take care of the grangers. Seventy-five additional rooms will be needed and so far some difficulty has been met in getting a sufficient number. As Eugene's reputation for hospitality is at stake, the committee requests any who can have rooms to spare to telephone Manager Hartog of the promotion department of the Commercial club. Fifty cents a night will be paid for each room.

Some of the Grangers.

Among the grangers already here are the following: C. L. Moore and wife; Mrs. Mason, Hood River; J. R. Wells and wife, Condon; Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, Mrs. Abagail Scott Dunniway, Portland; J. D. Carroll, M. J. Carroll, Mosier; J. H. Eubanks and wife, Wanic; Warren Merchant and wife, McMinnville; Eugene Palmer, A. C. Miller and wife, Albany; M. F. Wood and wife, Shedds; C. L. Shaw and wife, E. N. Emery, Montavilla, B. A. Smith, Carlton; W. H. Addis, Montavilla; L. C. Stratton and wife, Albany; J. J. Johnson, Minnie Chapman, Oscar Eaton, L. T. Turner and wife, Wm. Gresenthwaite and wife, Mrs. E. P. Carpenter, Cyrus H. Walker, Albany; Mrs. Durbin, Salem; L. S. Lahbert and wife, Stayton; C. D. Huffman and wife, E. S. Huffman, La Grande; James Parvin, Dexter.

(From Tuesday's Daily Guard.)

The 35th annual convention of the Oregon State Grange convened in the I. O. O. F. hall in Eugene this forenoon with all the delegates in attendance except eleven, four of whom were announced to arrive on this afternoon's train. The hall was well crowded with the 75 or more grangers present, but not over-crowded, and the visitors are well pleased with their meeting place. In fact, the visitors are well pleased with everything they have encountered since their arrival in Eugene yesterday. The local committee from the Commercial Club and the county granges had ample accommodations for all, and there is no complaint from any source in that regard. The delegates are accorded every privilege and are being royally entertained by the city, the citizens vieing with one another in endeavoring to make the visitors feel that they are welcome and that the people of this city are interested in their order and its splendid work.

Immediately preceding the opening session this forenoon the Commercial Club sent the Eugene Military band up to the hall to play a couple of selections. This was highly appreciated and was a surprise to the grangers.

A good part of the forenoon was spent in organizing the convention, and listening to reports of committees. Mrs. Abagail Scott Dunniway, the pioneer in the equal suffrage movement, spoke upon that subject. She was followed by Mr. Rosenberg, of the Columbia River Fishermen's Association, who spoke on the bill prohibiting fish wheels on the upper Columbia river. He says the wheels are killing the salmon industry of the state by catching the fish before they reach their spawning grounds.

President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, extended the grange an invitation to visit the University tomorrow forenoon. An assembly will be held, to be addressed by President Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College. It was also announced that a lunch will be given the visitors on the campus at noon. The invitation was unanimously accepted.

The announcement was made that a special order for 3 o'clock this afternoon would be an address by Hon. J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, on the workings of the local option law.

Before the forenoon session adjourned a resolution favoring equal suffrage was unanimously adopted.

Harris on behalf of the Commercial Club. Masters of county granges will also speak and the response will be made by State Master Buxton.

An interesting feature of the evening will be the distribution of roses to all of the delegates by 16 little girls, who will march into the pavilion and hand a bouquet to each one.

The Commercial Club has arranged with the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway Company for free transportation over the streetcar line, each one being presented with a pass good during their stay in the city. They may ride on the cars at any time while here.

Eugene Palmer, who is one of the leaders of the leaders against the University appropriation, was heard to remark this morning that the Grangers will always retain a warm spot in their hearts for Eugene on account of the hearty reception they have received, for the manner in which the city is decorated in their honor, and for the many courtesies received while here.

The visitors were mare than delighted with the street illumination last night and equally well pleased with the decorations of flags and pennants today. The illumination is seldom equalled outside of cities of Portland's class.

History of the Grange.

The scheme for the organization of the Grange, or Patrons of Husbandry, was devised and formulated by William Saunders and publicly announced on August 5, 1867. Mr. Saunders was then superintendent of the United States government gardens and conservatories in Washington, D. C. Having occasion to visit Western New York, Ohio and other Middle Western States, he took with him the ritual and plan of work under the first degree, which had been formulated in Washington, and interested five others in the new order. Later in the autumn, the work of the second, third and fourth degrees was formulated, and the name Patrons of Husbandry given the order. At Washington in December, 1867, nine persons, who had taken the four degrees, met and organized the National Grange. The constitution provided for the admission of women to membership, and also for the election of four ladies as officers, to be designated as Ceres, Pomona, Flora and lady assistant steward. The chief objects of the organization were stated to be the "promotion of unity and cooperation among the tillers of the soil, and the diffusion of a higher measure of intelligence and culture." Seven years later there were reported about 22,000 granges, with a membership reaching up into the hundreds of thousands. At the present time the membership perhaps reaches three-quarters of a million. The laws governing the order in essential matters originate in the National Grange, from which, also, emanate the charters of all local, county or state granges.

ROBBERS ATTACK PAWNBROKERS OF PORTLAND

Portland, May 12.—Just before noon today two Norris & Rowe circus employes went to the store of H. Neuman, second hand man and pawnbroker, at Second and Couch streets, and found him lying on the floor. He had been badly beaten with some blunt instrument and was bleeding from the nose and mouth. He was removed to a hospital and is thought to be fatally injured.

Last night a pawnbroker named Max Herman, at 267 Couch street, was badly beaten by a man bent on robbery and is in the hospital as a result of his wounds.

A stranger named C. W. Wagner, who claims to be a railroad man, has been arrested for the crime, but denies his guilt.

Both cases bear a strong resemblance to the Wolff murder in the character of the assault made.

Portland, May 12.—At 1 o'clock today Neuman was still on the operating table at the hospital, and the physicians were unable to say whether he will recover. The two assaults took place in the same vicinity on well-travelled streets, but no one has been found who is able to throw any light on the attempted murder. The police are unable to obtain any evidence against Wagner.

The victims are second-hand men, not pawnbrokers.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT JUNCTION CITY

Junction City, Or., May 11.—Bert Tripp, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tripp, was killed here Sunday by falling from the top of a large tree. A large number of boys were out in the grove near town climbing trees. Bert had reached a height of about 60 feet. Then he trusted a small limb that gave way. As the result of the unbroken fall to the ground, one of his legs, three of his ribs and his collar-bone were broken and the side of his head crushed. He died an hour afterward.

EXPRESS MESSENGER BEATEN AND ROBBED

Seattle, May 12—E. J. Perrine, express messenger on the Great Northern train which left Seattle at :10 this morning for Vancouver, B. C., was beaten into insensibility by a man who entered the express car, presumably at Seattle. He did not recover consciousness until after the train left the city limits, when he gave the alarm and the train backed to Ballard, where the injured man was given medical attention. Whether the highwaymen obtained any plunder and if so how much, is not ascertained. Later details are to the effect that Perrine was beaten over the head with his own gun and tied hand and foot by two men who, after overpowering the messenger, looted the strong box of money estimated from $1000 to $10,000, when the robbers escaped.

The men were dressed in brakemen's unifroms, and boarded the train as it was pulling out of the King street station in Seattle. Perrine paid little attention to them, supposing them to be train hands. As he was stooping over the strong box, which was unlocked, one of the men snatched Perrin's revolver from his pocket and struck him over the head. He did not lose consciousness, but was beaten until powerless, and was not discovered until the train was two miles out of Ballard, when Brakeman Latham entered the car and found the bound messenger.

The brakeman's cap worn by one of the robbers, with the name Anderson written in ink inside, was found in the car. It is presumed the robber stole it.

The robbers were young men.

A man saw the two robbers leave the train, hide their sack and take a street car into the city. The man later uncovered the sack, which contained 200 nickels.

QUAKER STATE GRAFTERS AGAIN PLACED ON TRIAL

Harrisburg, May 12.—The second of the series of conspiracy cases growing out of the contracts for furnishing and equipping the new state capitol was called for trial today, involving six men: Congressman H. Burke Cassell, of Marietta, Pa., head of the Pennsylvania Construction Company, which supplied about $2,000,000 worth of metallic furniture; Joseph M. Huston, architect; William P. Snyder, former auditor general; William L. Mathues, former state treasurer; James M. Shumaker, former superintendent of public grounds and buildings, and Frank M. Irvine, traveling auditor of the auditor-general's department.

Guard Special Service.

Salem, Or., May 12.—The supreme court has decided against the Portland General Electric Company in the Oregon City locks case by reversing the circuit court decree against the state. TWO BARBER SHOPS WILL CONSOLIDATE

RATHMELL & BRANSTETTER AND GEORGE SOVERN WILL MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS AND CONDUCT A SIX-CHAIR SHOP.

On June 1 Rathmell & Branstetter's and George Sovern's barber shops will be consolidated, and they will occupy the room in the Smith building, now occupied by White's restaurant, across the alley from the Hotel Smeede. The shop will have six chairs, three bath tubs and will employ two porters, with that many shoe-shining stands, making the largest shop in the upper valley. The fixtures of the respective shops will be moved to the new location and the employes of both places will be retained in the new shop. Besides the proprietors, A. C. Rathmell, W. W. Branstetter and George Sovern, the ersonnel of the working force will include Glenn Jack, of the Rathmell & Branstetter shop, and R. A. Moshberg and Albert Peden, of the Sovern shop.

The interior of the room will, as soon as the restaurant vacates it, be renovated and improved and plumbers will be put to work installing the pipes and fixtures for the bath tubs. The location is an excellent one.

As mentioned in The Guard a few days ago, Hull, the druggist, has leased the room now occupied by Sovern's shop and Lee Hoselton's cigar store to be used as an ice cream parlor, and he has purchased the Hoselton stock for his store at Marcola. E. E. Quimby, who occupies the front of the building in which Rathmell & Branstetter's shop is located, needs the room in the rear portion and will occupy it just as soon as the barbers move out.

The proprietors of these two popular shops are to be congratulated upon securing such a good location and upon their enterprise in establishing in Eugene such a large and up-to-date tonsorial parlor.

DRIVING PILES FOR TROLLEY LINE TRESTLE

L. N. Roney has a good-sized force of men at work driving piles for the Eugene-Springfield trolley line along the bottom beyond Judkins' Point. The pile driver has been at work several days and is sinking the piles at the rate of about 25 a day. A good stretch of the work has been completed. The grade for the line has been completed that far, and the work of laying the rails from the end of the line on East Thirteenth street will soon begin.

Fifteen men are working on the grading from where the street railway will cross the railroad track to Judkins' Point. L. N. Roney has started to put in the piling, and as soon as the special "frogs" to cross the Southern Pacific arrive the track will be laid clear to Judkins' Point. It is expected that this will be done in less than a month, and that the cars will be running to the bridge across the Willamette near Springfield in about three months.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup does not constipate, but on the other hand its laxative principles gently move the bowels. Children like it. Sold by all druggists.
