Catarrh is recognized all over the civilized world as a formidable disease. In the United States alone, two hundred thousand people have catarrh annually. In other countries the ratio of victims is as great.

For many years Pe-ru-na has held the foremost place as a standard remedy for catarrh.

Persons objecting to liquid medicines can now purchase Pe-ru-na tablets.

University of Oregon News

The track team of the University left last night for Seattle where they will meet the teams of the University of Washington and Idaho in the biggest triangular track and field contest of the year. The team expects to beat its opponents, and goes with the ambition of taking more points than both of its rivals added together.

Manager Bean and Trainer Hayward took only twelve men, each college's entries being limited to that number. Sievers, the miler, and Reid, the quarter man, were dropped on account of poor condition. Those who went are Captain Kuykendall, Huston, Moon, Roberts, Lowell, Dodson, Moulten, Downs, May, McIntire, Gardner and Zacharias. The men should win points in their events about as follows: 100 yard dash, Huston, Moon and Roberts; 220 yard dash, Moon and Roberts; high hurdles, Kuykendall and Huston; 220 yard hurdles, Roberts and Huston; mile, Moulten and Kuykendall; broad jump, Kuykendall and Huston; high jump, Moulten; quarter, Lowell; half mile, Dodson and Downs; mile, May and Downs; discus, McIntire and Zacharias; hammer throw, Zacharias and Gardner.

Huston will attempt to run the 100 yard dash again in the last of the sixth consecutive time. Moulten may try again for the college record in the pole vault, held by Heater, but it is not likely that any other record breaking performances will be attempted.

Manager Bean spent Thursday in Portland. The team was accompanied by Manager McEwen of the football team and Harvey Stackpole.

Another Meet.
The University of Oregon is considered the probable winner of the coming P. N. A. track meet to be held on Multnomah field June 6, under the auspices of the A. A. U. According to track experts the variety will take first place, the Olympic Club of San Francisco second, and the Multnomah Club third. Multnomah will pin her faith to Forrest C. Smithson, but he alone cannot hope to bring victory to Portland.

Entries are pouring in from all parts of the country and from present indications, the meet will be the greatest ever held on the coast. President Morgan of the games committee, has received entries from a number of high schools, including the Tacoma high school, Washington high school of Seattle, Seattle high school, Eugene, The Dalles and a number of others, while a large number who have not yet entered a team have announced their intention of being present.

Football and Schedule.
The biggest game of the football season in Eugene next fall will be the gridiron battle with the University of Washington. The game with Whitman will also be a close second in interest, for the Eastern Washington Congregationalists expect to have a winning aggregation. The annual game with Willamette University will also be played here, but it assumes, this fall the character of a preliminary.

The schedule, as a whole, is a very severe one and Coach Forbes and Trainer Hayward will certainly have their hands full if they keep their men in condition to play all the contests. It was largely on account of the hard schedule last year that Oregon lost to O. A. C., and there is some chance of a similar occurrence in the some of the games the coming season.

The first hard game is with Idaho at Moscow on October 31, which is followed by the Whitman battle in Eugene, promises another gruelling contest. O. A. C. comes the following week at Portland, and the annual Thanksgiving contest with Multnomah only five days after.

Correspondence Students.
Registrar Tiffany states that about 250 students are enrolled in the correspondence departments of the University, 175 of them being in the English departments and part of these and the remainder in the education and mathematics department. The largest per cent of those enrolled are teachers.

The outlook for next year is also good for hundreds will take advantage of the chance to gain valuable knowledge practically free, at the cost of postage and books.

Ackerman Spoke.
On Wednesday morning Superintendent Ackerman of the public instruction in the state talked to a fair sized audience of students in Villard Hall. Mr. Ackerman is one of the most pleasing and interesting talkers in the state. He has also been doing much to help the "artist in his fight."

Debate Tonight.
The championship debate of high schools of the state will be held tonight in Villard Hall. One of the strange occurrences is that of the six participants five are girls. Astoria has the only boy. It is also said that many of the teams in the state were composed of the fair sex. If you want to judge whether it is brains or looks that give the feminine portion of the high schools such prominence, come out tonight and see. Admission 25 cents.

Monday Decides.
Request has been made to all the friends of the University to expend every effort in doing what they can to swing all the votes possible in favor of the University appropriation. Some Portland backers of the institution have feared that part of the vote of even Lane county will go against the state university. In order for the people of Lane county to keep the confidence of the rest of the state, there should be very few "no's" on the bill.

In a statement made to the public the regents of the University say that they will have difficulty in opening the University next fall, if the appropriation bill fails.

FORMER RESIDENT GIVES GOOD ADVICE TO EUGENE PEOPLE

Kennewick, Wash., May 25, 1908.

Editor Guard:—It has been my intention for some time to write you a personal letter, and your circular letter of recent date affords me an opportunity to express my appreciation of same and to make a few remarks about my old home town.

Probably I take more notice of Eugene from the fact that ten years of my boyhood were spent in that vicinity than I otherwise would. However, after surveying the conditions and possibilities of other places along the Pacific coast which it has been my good fortune to observe and comparing them with those of Eugene I can say with candor that I believe Eugene has a brilliant future.

The question of greatest importance to the citizens of Eugene and vicinity is without doubt the building up of the city and surrounding country, and it appears that you are wide awake in regard to the means for forging ahead. I believe that the people of Eugene realize that it is better to build steadily and artistically than to boom. The greatest advertisement to any city or community is artistic and attractive homes, good highways and public places. Every one who builds should endeavor to do so attractively. A four-room house can be designed to be attractive as easily as a mansion may be. This is too infrequently considered when building cheap houses, and as a consequence most cheap dwellings present the appearance of shacks. Public parks add wonderfully to the cheerfulness and life of any city.

I might say more, but did not intend to deliver a lecture. However, I will say in conclusion that I admire the spirit of Eugene, working systematically to make a greater and better city. Such boasting done with foresight and founded upon truth will make Eugene a beautiful and prosperous city.

Wishing the Guard every success and your citizens continued prosperity, I remain,

Yours very truly,
E. R. WELLS.
