APPROPRIATION MONEY WILL BE WELL SPENT

Since the people of Oregon have shown by their votes they are heartily in favor of the appropriation for the State University at Eugene, they may desire to know specifically how this appropriation of $125,000 annually will be used. For the past several years the University has been receiving an annual appropriation of $47,999, which, together with incidental fees and the interest from the Willard fund and special appropriations from time to time, has made up about $75,000 annually; and for the several years just past the university has been run and has run this year on a $75,000 basis. The new annual appropriation of $125,000 merges all the special appropriations into one.

As the University has more than doubled in attendance in the past two years, the present running basis is insufficient. All the buildings and apparatus are far too small and few. The new library building and the small cottage for the women of the University, both of which are badly needed, could not be furnished nor heated this year owing to lack of funds. Both these buildings must be furnished at once. The library, which touches all departments of the University alike, needs an annual expenditure of $10,000 for several years to bring it up to even an ordinary standard of efficiency. Additional instructors are needed in several of the departments whose salaries will amount to $10,000 or $15,000 yearly. A woman's dormitory and boarding hall must be put in at once. It is estimated that this will cost about $50,000. Another building is needed for class, laboratory and recitation purposes, which will cost about $75,000, add the power and water plant, which has been greatly overtaxed, will take $10,000 or $15,000 to meet the demands upon it for heating, lighting and fire protection. The campus should be enlarged at once, for it is now too small and crowded. The land which borders upon it and which the University considers buying as soon as funds are available, is growing in value every year, and buying it now will mean saving considerable money.

These improvements will cost from $125,000 to $150,000, enough to absorb the amount above the annual running expense for several years. When the state legislature passed the $125,000 appropriation this year of course it did not make any special appropriations, and when the $125,000 was held up by the referendum the University was forced, as it were, to run an $80,000 business on $55,000. This could only be done by cutting down expenses wherever possible, and for three months last fall no member of the faculty received a cent's remuneration, taking notes for his money and relying upon the generosity of the state to support the appropriation and thus make the notes good. The University will close this year without a cent of money on hand, and it will require careful handling and scheming to make the $125,000 do the work the University needs it to do. All expenditures are paid by the University steward, who under heavy bonds. The bill, however, must have been "O. K." by the steward, president, and finally by the board of regents before it is paid, so there is little chance for any money to go astray.

HOW EUGENE VOTED ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

The Eugene precincts gave a majority of 275 for prohibition, each precinct going dry by good majorities except North No. 1, the vote of which was a tie, 153 each way. South Eugene No. 1, dubbed the "butter-milk precinct," gave the largest majority for prohibition, as usual, North No. 2, usually a wet precinct, went dry. The vote by precincts was as follows:

	Dry	Wet	Ma.
Fairmount	111	58	53
S. Eugene No. 1	289	121	168
S. Eugene No. 2	183	158	7
N. Eugene No. 1	153	153	—
N. Eugene No. 1	188	141	47

Thinks It Saved His Life.

Lester M. Nelson, of Naples, Maine, says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for years for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung troubles, and would not more be without a bottle than I would be without food." For nearly forty years New Discovery has been at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventative of pneumonia and cure of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at W. A. the normal. There were no changes in fish quotations today. Halibut and other sorts continue in fair supply.

Hop Men are All Bearish.

In the hop market the local trade is generally bearish. The small spurt of export buying noted a short time ago seems to have disappeared altogether. The New York Producers' Price Current gives the following of the market there:

"Locally the market continues very firm, with stock in small compass and holders unwilling to accept prices offered. In the face of these conditions business has been limited to one or two small scales of importance. In New York State the weakness of last week continues, and in the absence of buying orders growers would have to make concessions in price to dispose of their goods. Crop reports from all sections of the state are very good, as the weather has been excellent the past couple of weeks. The vine is making rapid headway, and from the present outlook the yield in this state should exceed last year's crop.

Local Wool Market is Steady.

At this time the local wool market is showing a steady tone, but prices are in no way responding to the new condition. There is, however, a disposition among the buyers to do business just now, while a short time ago they scarcely cared whether sellers accepted their bids or not. Keen disappointment continues the lot of the Willamette Valley wool raisers because of the uniformly low prices they are receiving. Nevertheless, when compared with the average prices received for other clips from various sections of the lot of the Willamette Valley man is not so hard after all.

Shanku will hold its first sale today, while the first sale in Idaho will be held at Mountain Home tomorrow. The following are the sales dates for the remainder of the season in Eastern Oregon.

Arlington, postponed sale, date not fixed; Pendleton, June 8; Pilot Rock, June 9; Heppner, June 11; Vale, June 5 and June 23; Baker City, June 22 and July 11; Elgin June 25 and July 9; Condon July 19; Shaniko June 24 and July 6.

The dates for the various wool sales in Idaho have been arranged as follows:

Mountain Home June 3; Payette, June 6; Midvale, June 8; Caldwell, June 9; Boise, June 11; Shoshone, June 15; Tulara, June 15; Halley, June 15; Pocatello, June 16; Bellevue, June 18; Bliss, June 17.

Portland Livestock Market.

There was no important change in the condition of the market, and yesterday's quotations in all lines prevailed. The demand for cattle continues strong, and this is true also of sheep and hogs, especially the best grades of stock. For lambs and calves the demand is moderate.

Quotations ruling in the livestock market today are:

Hogs—Best $6.00 @ 6.25; medium, $5.75 @ 6.00; feeders, no demand.

Cattle—Best steers $5.00; medium $4.50 @ 4.75; common $3.50 @ 3.75; cows, best $4.00; common $3.50 @ 3.75.

Sheep—Best sheared wethers $4. mixed, $3.50 @ 3.75; spring lambs, $5.00.

PORTLAND MARKET REPORT.

Portland, Or., June 4.—The local wheat market continues firm at the quotations that have ruled for some time, no changes being announced at the Board of Trade today. Chicago reported a slight advantage on both the July and September option, while there was a fractional loss at Liverpool. The San Francisco market was unchanged.

Vegetables and Fruits Active.

For practically everything in the vegetable line the demand was strong. The steamer brought in a fair assortment of fresh truck from the south, and offerings of home-grown stuff were of fair size. The activity in vegetables was in part due to the influx of visitors to the city.

Better Poultry Trade Expected.

The poultry market yesterday and today was a slow affair, but dealers are inclined to look for improvement before the end of the week, through increased demand on account of the festival. Local quotations were not changed today.

Eggs were slightly weaker, quotations on the street being 18 1/2 to 19 1/2 cents for candled stock.

There was no change in the butter situation. City creamery stocks clean up readily at the last quotations, and the Frontstreet market is in a fairly satisfactory condition.

Berries Scarce and Firm.

The strawberry supply was light again today, receipts from all quarters being far short of the demand. Probably not more than 500 crates all told came in and they were picked up about as fast as they were unloaded on Front street. Best California ones were quoted at $1.80 to $2 a crate, and Oregon at $3 to $4 a crate. There was a strong demand for Hood Rivers at the top price. Heavier receipts are looked for before the end of the week.

Veal Market is Stronger.

As a result of a temporary scarcity, veal today was quoted up to 8 cents a pound, and the demand was strong. Receipts so far this week have been lighter than usual, while at the same time the large number of visitors in the city has stimulated the market for the country dressed pork, the best offerings moving readily at 8 to 8 1/2 cents. Mutton and lambs were slow at the former quotations.

Salmon Supply Inadequate.

Fish dealers report the supply of salmon steadily growing smaller as the end of the fishing season on the Willamette draws near. Daily offerings are now short of the requirements of the trade. The season on the Willamette ends June 15. After that date the trade will have to depend on the Columbia, and the catch there is reported materially under
