

COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN MORMONS AND JIM GUFFEY

Denver, July 8.—The committee on credentials of the national Democratic convention concluded its labors shortly after 10 o'clock today, after having been in continuous session since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No attempt was made to restrict the time of presentation of evidence in the various contests, and the proceedings were conducted with open doors. The Idaho, Ohio and Pennsylvania cases developed much bitterness between the opposing sides.

Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, went down to defeat before the committee in all his contested cases, the contestants all being seated by a vote of 27 to 15.

In the Idaho case the Mormon faction was put to rout, the committee deciding in favor of the Dubois faction by a vote of 26 to 20.

The Nineteenth Ohio district was again given to Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, who appeared in the committee room early this morning and made a strong plea that the action of the national committee be sustained. The Ninth, or anti-Johnson district, delegates were allowed to retain their seats.

The committee made short work of the New York, Illinois and District of Columbia cases, unanimously sustaining the action of the national committee in each case.

The fight of Oklahoma for eighteen delegates, instead of fourteen, resulted in a victory for the new state. The claim of Oklahoma was based on the allegation that there had been an incorrect apportionment of the districts, and the committee accepted that view. This decision of the committee on credentials adds four Bryan votes in Oklahoma and reduces the anti-Bryan vote of Pennsylvania by ten.

CONVENTION DOES LITTLE BUT CHEER FOR NEBRASKAN

THOMAS P. GORE.

Oklahoma senator who stirred the convention by mention of Bryan's name today.

Denver, July 8.—With the assurance of another perfect day and the promise of an interesting fight over the report of the committee on credentials, which Colonel Guffey and his Pennsylvania friends generally were expected to contest, the crowd commenced early to move toward the convention hall. All progress toward the auditorium, however, was impeded by a great parade of Tammany men from New York, who, headed by a band and a number of gaudily attired Indians, wound its way around the business section of the city.

The Bryan men came tramping into the hall with cheerful faces and much laughter. The events of the night and early morning were very much in their liking, and they were more confident than ever of the ultimate success of their candidate.

The Georgia men are anxious still to fight, and in the face of apparently overwhelming odds held another caucus for the purpose of establishing a rallying point for the fight against Bryan, but when they arrived at the hall it became known that they were unable to reach a conclusion regarding the candidate they would support. There will be another caucus tonight to further consider the thank Thee for the good world in which we walk and work. We thank Thee for the part our country had in bringing in this high day of righteousness. We thank Thee for our nation's ideals and the brain and brawn which have made the world recognize and adopt them. We thank Thee for the patriots who helped melt out our own dross as well as those who compelled other nations to be fair with the weak and give the oppressed a chance to grow. We thank Thee for men of equal courage who are now willing to brave slander and endure the sapping strain of public duty and service, to carry righteousness forward through peaceful measures. We thank Thee for the finest height of citizenship this old world has ever seen.

"We thank thee for the signs of the on-going victory of righteousness. Keep our courage in the face of apparent defeat. May we push forward persistently and confidently. Deliver us from foolish fanaticism. Enable us to put principles above profit and tested purity above temporary power. Inspire us to aim high and work hard until the goal is attained.

"We thank Thee for home, life and love. Teach us tenderness in word and deed. Cool the heat of temper and check the righteousness of rage. Develop in us the kindly kindness of the Man of Galilee. We thank Thee for flowers, fields and little folk.

"We thank Thee for the increasing neighborliness of man. We thank Thee for joy and friendship. Build up brotherliness. Broaden our sympathy. Banish all ugliness from our being.

"We remember, O God, our great responsibility as a nation Israel was Thine appointed messenger only so long as she was obedient and carried forward righteousness. Thou hast chosen America to help Thee to make a better world. Thou didst use us to teach Spain a salutary lesson. Thou didst send us as the elder brother to save the partition of China. Thou didst appoint us as the messenger of peace between Russia and Japan. Thou hast given us the children of many islands that we might teach them to walk along in self-government. May our dear nation accept Thy appointment and walk carefully lest we miss God's way and so have our task taken from us. May we keep our heads clear, our hearts warm and our hands strong for the help of man.

"We thank Thee that true leaders still abound in our land. We thank Thee for the renowned, well furnished of vision and deeds who now counsel here. We thank Thee for the high class Americans, among the best in the land, who stand ready to obey the call of this convention, set free the best wisdom of the delegates. Rub out all sectional lines. Save from the sidetracks of selfishness. Quiet hearts until Thy voice can be heard. Thou alone art our king. We wait orders from Thee. Enable these delegates to act as God's stewards: Shape under their hands a platform a step higher than any ever yet adopted. Direct the voting minds to a candidate who can stand squarely upon it and think and work and fight until the citizens of our glorious nation step up to its higher plane. We believe in God. We trust in God. We are Thy children, O Heavenly Father. Thou wilt not fail us. We want Thy will and Thy way. Enlighten us and we will follow.

"Great God of all the earth, continue to be our nation's leader. May we build up Thy kingdom in America and so help to establish it in all lands. May we be clean-handed, white-hearted, high-purposed, and do a full man's work for the good of humanity and the glory of God. Amen."

PLATFORM WORK MOVING VERY SLOW IN COMMITTEE

SUB-COMMITTEE WILL NOT BE READY TO REPORT TO MAIN COMMITTEE UNTIL LATE TONIGHT—VARIOUS PLANKS CONSIDERED BY SPECIAL SUB-COMMITTEES

Denver, July 8.—At 1 p. m. the sub-committee of the Democratic national convention, which since early last evening has been wrestling with the platform, had passed finally upon only one plank, that relating to the publicity of campaign contributions. It was believed at that hour that the sub-committee would not be able to report to the full committee until 10 o'clock tonight.

The full committee is under adjournment, taken early this morning, to meet at 5 this evening, to hear the report of the sub-committee. When the hour of 1 o'clock was reached it was decided to refer to a sub-committee of the sub-committee various subjects for separate consideration. The injunction question, together with kindred labor subjects, was placed in the hands of George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, ex-Judge Parker, of New York, and J. B. Sullivan, of Iowa.

The subject of the tariff was referred to Pettigrew, of North Dakota, Brown, of Nebraska, and Aischuler, of Illinois.

Newlands, of Nevada, was placed at the head of a sub-committee to formulate a plank on the conservation of the national resources of the country.

The protest. The delegates voted "aye," but the galleries voted "no" and the chairman ordered the band into action to restore order.

Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, was called to the platform for a speech and when the blind senator was escorted to the platform there were cheers. He declared that Oklahoma was the most Democratic state in the union (Cheers) and said:

"The president of the United States has said that in his opinion our constitution is unfit for publication; that is true of many of the opinions of the president of the United States. Fellow Democrats, the great secretary of war came to Oklahoma and waged war against our constitution. He asked us to give up our right of liberty and self-government, but by a vote of thousands upon thousands we rejected the advice of Taft and accepted the advice of Bryan."

Then the first great demonstration of the convention occurred at the mention of the name of Bryan.

Instantly there was an uproar and cheering for the Nebraskan. A Bryan question. The delegation wands 23 against Bryan and two for him. The Pennsylvania section was sparsely filled. Colonel Guffey and his followers were meeting at the Adams hotel, considering the best line of action to take.

Temporary Chairman Bell reached the rostrum just before noon while the band was playing "The Red White and Blue," amid cheers. "Dixie" came next and there was another enthusiastic outburst. Colonel Guffey arrived at 12:10, and the crowd cheered him as he walked to his place.

At 12:30 the convention had not been called to order and it was announced that marching clubs would be permitted to march through the hall as soon as the opening prayer had been delivered. It was 12:26 before Chairman Bell began to rap for order. After ten minutes Bell made an address demanding that order prevail. He then introduced Rev. Christian P. Reiser, of Denver, chaplain of the day, who delivered the invocation.

banner was carried to the platform and gave a fresh impetus to the cheering. One by one the right banners were passed about Georgia, New York, Delaware, Connecticut and New Jersey took no part in the demonstration and their banners remained in their places. The chair called the order repeatedly, but there was no talking the delegates. The galleries took but little part in the demonstration.

After a pandemonium of thirty-three minutes there were no signs of its ending and every one joined in singing "America." There was no quieting the crowd. The Bryan men resorted to every expedient to keep up the excitement, which they did successfully.

After 55 minutes the Cowboy band left its place in the gallery and joined in the procession of standards on the floor. The huge decoration or eagles was snatched from the posts and borne about the hall.

After one hour the excitement was apparently as intense as ever, and there were no signs of quieting the Bryan men.
