CONDITIONS RIPE FOR ADVANCE IN BUTTER.

Portland, July 22.—Conditions in the butter market are ripe for an advance in price, and but for the fact that Eastern quotations are now relatively low there would be an upward movement here at this time. With the pastures drying up more or less generally the cream supply is growing smaller and butter production is naturally on the decline. The state, however, still produces a surplus of butter, and it is generally expected that surplus is much lighter than a month ago, and for this reason outside markets are still necessary. A local creamery man said today: "At present prices we have outside markets for the surplus make, but if we were to lift quotations these outlets would be lost to us and Eastern butter makers would get the benefit. Seattle is now using large quantities of Eastern butter, and if local quotations were raised at this time the chances are that in the Sound territory Eastern butter would completely displace the Oregon product. As things look now the prospect here is for a steady market at current prices for some weeks."

In both the city and country creamery markets trade is active and there is no complaint of accumulation anywhere. A dealer in country creamery said today that the best brands of country butter were even a little scarce and that it was difficult at times to fill orders. Second-grade butter is fairly plentiful, but this moves quite freely.

In cheese the situation locally is much the same as in butter. Production in Tillamook County has fallen off seriously, with little or no weakening in the demand, here or in the North or South, and higher prices in the near future are inevitable. Twins and triplets are generally selling at 14 cents in the wholesale markets, but a dealer today reported occasional small scales at 14 1/2 cents. Young Americans are quoted at 15 cents. In all probability there will be a general advance next week.

Buyers are today freely offering $2c for new club and $1c for blue-stem, which amounts in reality to an advance of 1c a bushel over yesterday. The cash wheat situation in this market today is the firmest for opening operations for many years. Many purchases of small lots of new crop wheat have been reported during the past 24 hours at these figures on Portland basis, and now that the deadlock between buyers and sellers has been broken there is promise of heavy operations for the near future.

The present price of new wheat is but 3c a bushel under the quotation offered and paid for old crop and gradually the premium in favor of the old crop is being wiped away.

Millers are firm in their views on new crop flour and there is no disposition to sell under the price listed for old crop make—$2.50 to $3.60 a barrel.

On the Portland board of trade September wheat was advanced 1c in the bid to 87c while sellers were asking 87c. During the session there was a special bid of 85c for bluestem but no sellers appeared under 83c. The present market for old bluestem is but 85c so the new crop is even stronger than the old.

DR. BEST IS FOUND DEAD IN HIS OFFICE

Dr. W. E. Best, a well-known physician of Cottage Grove, died suddenly yesterday afternoon of apoplexy in his office, where his body was found at 4 o'clock by Mrs. Jordan, a patient. Coroner W. T. Gordon was called, but as there were no unnatural circumstances, he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Early in the morning he had felt so well that his wife had gone on a visit into the country. About noon Dr. Macy, a dentist, saw him, and Dr. Best had told him that he thought he was going to die, he had had such a bad spell. At that time, however, he was feeling much better.

From the evidence gathered by Coroner Gordon, Dr. Best had tried to raise himself from his bed and had fallen dead to the floor, two hours before his body was found. Three months before Dr. Kime, a Cottage Grove doctor, had treated the physician for heart trouble.

Dr. Best was 63 years old, and is said to have been well off, his property being in the East. He was a retired physician, still practicing when occasion required. He is survived by his wife.

Genevieve Plank left this morning for Lake Creek to arrest Simon Waterhouse, who resides in that vicinity, on the charge of assault and battery, preferred by A. Poston. Poston came to town yesterday and secured a warrant for Waterhouse's arrest, stating that the latter climbed on a lumber wagon upon which Poston was riding and proceeded to pummel him.

The circuit court in the case of J. W. Shumate vs. the Lucky Boy Mining Company was decided in favor of the plaintiff by Judge Harris yesterday. Judge Harris' decision was to the effect that plaintiff's lien on the property took priority over the mortgage of the bondholders. The amount of the plaintiff's claim was about $208, but with costs and fees, etc. it will foot up to about $500.
