SEVEN THOUSAND PERSONS GO HOME IN TWENTY MINUTES

(Special Correspondence.)

Portland, Aug. 3.—"Seven thousand people in twenty minutes"—that's the rate at which the various transportation interests in Portland have assured the directors of the Country Club and livestock show that the crowds attending the event in September will be handled. Every day at the grounds is busier than the one preceding. The intense interest of the whole Northwest is evidenced by the great number of entries already made, while the national interest is shown by a heavy advance correspondence from every part of the United States.

Hon. Wilbur K. Newell, president of the Oregon State Board of Horticulture, and equally well known in Washington, has, at the request of the Oregon Development League, condensed his ideas on good roads into one hundred words, and they tell the story:

"Bad roads nullify advertising, repel immigration, increase cost of living, render the automobile useless, and will deprive the farmer of rural free delivery.

"State aid and supervision of road construction is essential.

"In equity—because a public benefit—the state should pay 25 per cent and the adjacent property 25 per cent.

"For thoroughness—trained engineers and strict supervision of all work.

"For economy—levy taxes and pay as we go, or on short time certificate plan.

"For education—regular and correspondence courses in road building at Oregon Agricultural College and University of Oregon.

"Let us build good roads all summer instead of talking about them all winter."

The Oregon good roads conference will convene promptly at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, August 11, in the convention hall of the Portland Commercial Club, sixth floor. Another meeting will be held at 2 o'clock, and perhaps an evening session. A feature of the convention will be the attendance of many road supervisors and practical road officials.

A great cement plant is to be built in Portland—the first instance in America in which Portland cement has been manufactured in a city of that name. Portland and Salt Lake capitalists have organized a company with a capital of $1,200,000, and the limerock will be brought from Roseburg, where they own a tract of 100 acres of choice rock.

One thousand barrels of cement a day will be manufactured at the beginning, but the plant is so designed that this capacity can be doubled at any time with very slight change. Buildings and grounds will occupy a site of fifteen acres in the suburbs of Portland, with both rail and water transportation.

C. W. Nibley and associated capitalists, of Salt Lake City, hold one-half the stock, with Portland capitalists the other half. Mr. Nibley has extensive interests in Utah, Idaho, Oregon and California, and is president of the Union Cement Company at Devil's Slide, Utah, which has manufactured two thousand barrels a day during two years of successful and profitable operation.

Building permits exceeding a million dollars were issued in Portland during July, an increase of $300,000 as compared with that month last year. Transfers of choice business properties were never so numerous, nor building so active.

Astoria's fourteenth annual regatta, August 27, 28 and 29, presents an excellent opportunity for people in the interior of Oregon and Washington to get a brief tenting and camping experience near the ocean. The program of sports will be unusually interesting, with the addition this year of the Swedish-Norwegian Saengerfest. Hon. George S. Shepherd, of Portland, has been made admiral, the railroads have given very special rates, and $1 will be the fare by boat from Portland.

THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS BEHIND PRISON WALLS

Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.—Possibly the only man in the world without a friend outside of prison walls is William E. Hill, a civil war veteran, who today entered upon his thirty-ninth year as an inmate of the state prison in Charlestown. Hill is serving a life sentence for the murder of William Jacobs, near Stoughton Centre, in 1870. His friends deserted him from the first, and his wife, who aided him in the commission of the crime and then turned state's evidence at the trial, long since disappeared. Hill was first sentenced to be hanged, but this sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Claflin. He entered prison August 3, 1870. Since then he has been outside the prison walls only twice—once when the prison was transferred to Concord, and again, a few years later, when it was transferred back to Charlestown. Although he has spent the best years of his life behind the bars and is now an old man, he has never lost hope of some day being pardoned.

CRESWELL, GARDEN SPOT OF LANE COUNTY

(Special Correspondence.)

Creswell, Aug. 3.—"One of the graden spots" is Creswell, in all its beauty, pretty homes, prosperous farms and thriving orchards.

A visit to Creswell just now is worth the while of the most pessimistic creature in the country. If it does not send him home with better thoughts buzzing through his bonnet it will be strange indeed. This favored section of Lane county is developing with a steady growth which spells prosperity and permanency with large, black capital letters. There is no boom on down in this section, but the progress being made in the town and surrounding country is surprising to say the least. Strangers are dropping in here all the time from the East, California and other sections of Oregon. The day of large farms is past, and many are looking for smaller homes and the donation claims are being cut up. Where there now is one family there will be a dozen in a few years. Creswell will get the trade and will be a town of 2000 inhabitants in a few years. Some twenty buildings have been put up since spring, and a number of fine residences will be put up this fall. A three-story hotel is now being built.

One has no idea of the beauties of the country until a visit is paid to Creswell. Passing through there on the railroad train gives but little idea of the surrounding country because so little of it can be seen from the window of a car. The trip must be made with a vehicle, well-trained livery horhses. The roads are fine and a person can spend several days driving around and not begin to see all the fine country.

The richest of the Eastern lands are to be found here, and anything that will grow in the East will grow in the Willamette valley, besides all kinds of fruit except tropical, with a California climate thrown in for good measure, and the very best of land so cheap that we dare not mention the price or our readers will think that there is something wrong. We can only say go and see for yourself. Then you will become as enthusiastic as the writer of this, who has lived in California since 1894, and been all over Oregon and Washington.

The climate and soil are just right to make the very best of fruit, and whether fruit-growing pays ask Dr. Scarborough, who will have about 200 tons of dried fruit this fall, and there are several others who have smaller orchards. That they are convinced is proven by the fact that they are constantly increasing the acreage in fruit. It will not be many years before this part of the Willamette valley will make Hood River valley, Ashland, Medford and the other thousand-dollars-an-acre fruit sections look to their laurels.

The land of opportunity today is Oregon. The Willamette valley is the cream of Oregon. Creswell is in the heart of the Willamette valley. A few acres of land there properly tilled will make any man independent for life. There is practically no limit to the variety of crops that can be raised in this valley.

DEFENDANT IN FAMOUS CRIMINAL CASE IS DEAD

Denver, August 2.—George A. Pettibone, for years prominent in the councils of the Western Federation of Miners and charged with President Moyer and ex-Secretary W. D. Haywood with complicity in the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, died at St. Joseph's hospital tonight from the effects of an operation for cancer.

Pettibone has been ill practically ever since his confinement in the Idaho penitentiary, which began more than a year previous to the famous trials at Boise. Pettibone was tried and acquitted. He leaves a widow.

GEORGE A. PETTIBONE.

Pettibone was involved in the Steunenberg case by Harry Orchard, the confessed assassin, and by the letters and telegrams received signed "Pat Bone" and by remittances of money. Orchard's story was that Pettibone who, though not a member of the Miners' Federation, was a warm adherent and confidential adviser of its officers, was the medium through which he was kept supplied with funds when he was in San Francisco planning the murder of Bradley, and in Caldwell, preparing to blow up Steunenberg. Orchard said that some of his bombs were prepared in Pettibone's backyard.

SAWMILLS BURN NEAR COTTAGE GROVE

Cottage Grove, Aug. 1.—This morning about 2o'clock McKibben Bros.' sawmill, three miles east of this place, burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is not known. The lumber was saved by fluming it from the mill to the railroad siding, some distance away. The mill was valued at $3000. No insurance.

While the mill hands were at dinner the Wicks sawmill on Row river 13 miles above this place caught fire last Saturday from an unknown cause and burned down. The loss is estimated at $3000, with no insuronce

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW AT ROSEBURG

Roseburg, Or., Aug. 1.—It is likely now that the matter of the Sunday closing laws in Roseburg will be thoroughly reviewed in the circuit court. In Justice Long's court last evening R. B. Mathews, who conducts a soft drink parlor, and C. J. Denning, who has a cigar store, both pleaded guilty to being open on Sunday, July 19, and withdrew their former pleas of not guilty. Upon the defendants agreeing to keep closed Sundays until a higher court could determine upon the constitutionality of the law, the justice imposed the minimum fine, $5, in each case.

It is quite likely that before tonight Rhoades, in whose case the jury disagreed, and Jennings, another man arrested for keeping his place open on Sunday, will plead guilty, and later the cases will be taken through the circuit court.

TAFT'S PHONOGRAPH PLEASES MR. BRYAN

Fairview, Aug. 4.—The use of the phonograph in dessiminating speeches by Judge Taft, as reported in the ditpatches from Hot Springs, excited the liveliest interest on the part of Mr. Bryan today. He gave out a statement saying the Republican papers have been making fun of him for using the phonograph, but presumes the criticisms will cease now.

Bryan was much pleased with the decision of Secretary of State Junkin, confirming the fusion arrangement between the Democrats and the people's party, which will have the effect of throwing a large number of populist votes to the Democratic electors in Nebraska.

MARRIED

In Portland, Monday, August 3, 1908, Raymond O (Dick) Richardson, and Miss Ella Hendershott, both of Eugene. This comes as a surprise to their many friends here. They write that they will live in Seattle. Mr. Richardson's home is in Chicago, having come ti Eugene a year or more ago with the family of W. A. Sumner, secretary for Honore Palmer, the Chicago millionaire, who lived here for some time. Mrs. Richardson is the oldest daughter of Mrs. H. Hendershott, of this city, and has been employed at the Palace of Sweets for several years past.

In the list of marriage licenses appearing in yesterday's Oregonian is one issued to S. V. Ramp, of Brooks, Oregon, and Tena M. Barendwick, of Portland. Mr. Ramp, more familiarly known here by his nickname, "Squee," graduated from the University of Oregon this year. He was a member of the baseball team several years, and was prominent in other student affairs. He is at present engaged in the general merchandise business at Brooks, a small town in Marion county, north of Salem.

She Likes Good Things.

The residence of Shan Collins, at the corner of Fifth and C streets in Springfield was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The family arose early in order to take the excursion train for Newport. While they were preparing breakfast sparks from a defective flue ignited the woodwork surrounding it and soon the entire upper part of the house was in flames. The blaze was discovered about 4:30 o'clock. The alarm was given and the fire company responded quickly, but the house was four blocks away from the nearest hydrant and it took some time to lay a line of hose that long. When water was turned on the house was beyond saving. Some of the furniture from the lower floor was saved, but most of it was burned with the building. The residence was a two-story structure and was valued at about $1000. The insurance was $300, carried in the Oregon Fire Relief Association.

E. E. Dyer left here today for Marshfield via Portland. His 13-year-old son ran away from home some time ago and has just been located on Coos Bay. The boy first went to California, and he was heard of at several different points in that state, but the officers were unable to hold him or refused. A few days ago the chief of police wired that the boy was there, so he left today to bring him back home. The two will enjoy a hunt, however, before they return home. Mr. Dyer is a builder, and has been employed on the new Garrett & Mitchell building for some time past. His home is at Alsea, but he will come to Eugene with his family to reside.

DOCTOR ADVISED USE OF CUTICURA

After Other Treatment Failed—Eczema in Raw Spot on Baby Boy's Face Lasted for Months—Cried with Pain when Washed.

ECZEMA WAS CURED AND HAS NEVER REAPPEARED

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema on his face when one month old. One place on the side of his face the size of a nickel was raw like beefsteak for three months, and he would cry out when I bathed the parts that were sore and broken out. I gave him three months' treatment from a good doctor, but at the end of that time the child was no better. Then my doctor recommended Cuticura. After using a cake of Cuticura Soap, a third of a box of Cuticura Ointment, and half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent he was well and his face was as smooth as any baby's. He is now two years and a half old and no eczema has reappeared. I am still using the Cuticura Soap; I think it is the finest toilet soap I ever used. I keep my little girl's hair and face cleansed with it too. I am so thankful for what Cuticura has done for us. Mrs. M. L. Harris, R. F. D. 1, Alton, Kan., May 14 and June 12, '07."
