

SHERMAN NOTIFIED OF NOMINATION FOR SECOND PLACE

JAMES S. SHERMAN OF NEW YORK.

Hot Springs, Aug. 18.—Judge Taft has written his regrets at not being able to participate today in the Sherman notification ceremonies.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Hon. James S. Sherman was notified today that he is the Republican candidate for the vice presidency. The ceremony was made the occasion for a big demonstration in which the Republican organizations of Utica, Rochester, Troy, Syracuse and other cities took part. In addition to the other visitors the early morning trains brought the members of the notification committee, representing nearly all the states and territories.

The event of the day was preceded by a parade which marched through the decorated streets of the downtown section. The actual notification ceremonies were simple in character. After Congressman Sherman had been introduced Senator Burrows, chairman of the notification committee, notified the candidate in a short speech, and the latter replied briefly. Short speeches were also delivered by Mayor Wheeler and President Stryker, of Hamilton College. Subsequently a luncheon was served for the prominent guests from out of town.

Speech Was Brief
The candidate's acceptance speech was one of the briefest on record on such an occasion. He spoke from a flag-decked stand in front of his home on Genesee street. Secretary Root, although not on the regular program, made a brief address.

Mr. Sherman's address of acceptance followed the example of Judge Taft, pleading allegiance to an administration with which he may have to do to carry on the policies of President Roosevelt. He declared the issue of the campaign was not whether "the people shall rule," because, he said, "surely the people shall rule; surely the people do rule," but that the overshadowing issue is "shall the administration of President Roosevelt be approved?"

Mr. Sherman did not discuss the issues of the platform, contenting himself with the declaration that he subscribed full and hearty to the "Chicago statement of principles." He referred to the Democratic party as an "aggregation of experimental malcontents and theorists whose only claim to history is a party name which pattered."

Mr. Sherman's Address
Senator Burrows and gentlemen of the Notification Committee:—Your chairman, speaking for the committee, has notified me of my nomination by the Republican National convention, held in Chicago in June, as the party's candidate for vice president. As I chanced to be in Chicago in June, I had an inkling of the convention's action, which was confirmed by a warm-hearted reception tendered me by my neighbors on the occasion of my homecoming July 2. This official notification, however, is welcome and the nomination you tender me is accepted; accepted with a gratitude commensurate with the great honor conferred; accepted with a full appreciation of the obligations which accompany that honor, an honor greater because my name is linked with that of William H. Taft, whom I respect and esteem highly and who approaches the high office of president exceptionally well equipped to discharge the duties and bear the varied and weighty responsibilities of that exalted position. My acceptance could not be made with honor unless I were in full accord with the declaration of principles adopted by the convention. Not only am I in full and complete accord with my party's platform, but I endorse every word of the statement made by Mr. Taft in his address of acceptance when notified of his nomination as the Republican candidate for president.

That speech fully and comprehensively discusses the issues of this campaign as presented by the platforms of the two great parties, so that it is appropriate that my statement should be short. Those not convinced by the presentation of Mr. Taft I could not hope to persuade. It is, however, in conformity with custom that I refer at least briefly to some of the important issues of the campaign.

Is Protectionist
First, let me say that I am a protectionist. I am sufficient practical to value the utility of a fact higher than the beauty of a theory, and I am a protectionist because experience has demonstrated that the application of that principle has lifted us as a nation to a plane of prosperity above that occupied by any other people.

I especially commend that plank of our platform which promises an early revision of the tariff schedules. That pledge will be fulfilled in an adjustment based in every particular upon the broad principles of protection for all American interests, alike for labor, for capital, for producers and consumers. The Dingley bill, when enacted, was well adapted to the then existing conditions. The developments of industrial prosperity in a decade, which in volume and degree have surpassed our most rosy expectations, have so altered conditions that in certain details of schedules they no longer mete out justice to all. In this readjustment the principle of protection must and will govern; such duties must and will be imposed as will equalize the cost of production at home and abroad, and insure a reasonable profit to all American interests. The Republican idea of such a profit embraces not alone the manufacturer, not alone the capital investor, but all engaged in American production, the employer and employed, the artisan, the farmer, the miner and those engaged in transportation and trade; broadly speaking, those engaged in every pursuit and calling which our tariff directly or indirectly affects. During a statutory application of this principle, prosperity has advanced with American production, the employer and employed, the artisan, the farmer, the miner and those engaged in transportation and trade; broadly speaking, those engaged in every pursuit and calling which our tariff directly or indirectly affects. During a statutory application of this principle, prosperity has advanced with American production, the employer and employed, the artisan, the farmer, the miner and those engaged in transportation and trade; broadly speaking, those engaged in every pursuit and calling which our tariff directly or indirectly affects.

For half a century, with but two exceptions, the people have commissioned the Republican party to administer the national government; commissioned it because its declared principles appealed to their best judgment; commissioned it because the common sense of the American people scented danger in Democratic policies. Ours always has been, always must be, a government of the people. The party will, after March 4 next, execute old laws and enact new ones as in November it is commissioned by the people to do. This commission will be from an untrammeled American electorate. Shame on the party, shame on the candidate who insults the American people by suggestion or declaration that a majority of its electorate is venal. The American voter, with rare exception, in casting his ballot, is guided by his best judgment, by his desire to conserve his own and the public weal.

tion that arrived and departed with the last Democratic administration, declare in their platform that they favor such "immediate revision" of schedules as may be necessary to restore the tariff to a revenue basis. A "revenue basis," "a tariff for revenue only," "ultimate free trade"—all have an identical meaning; that meaning being an assault upon American industries, an attack upon the American wage scale, a lessening of the demand for the products of American soil and toil; less work, less pay, less of the necessities and comforts of life. In the light of history what issue of the campaign so vitally affects American citizens? Experience, that effective teacher,—effective save with the one-man power now parading under the title of the Democratic party—has taught the nation a valuable lesson and the result of the coming November election will once more prove the American people to be apt scholars. What the laborer of the field, skilled and unskilled, desires is the opportunity at all times to exchange his sweat and brain for good pay in good money. A protective tariff and the gold standard, both now the existing achievements of the Republican party, in spite of Democratic opposition, give the laborer that opportunity.

Believes in Equality
The Republican party believes in the equality of all men before the law; believes in granting labor's every request that does not seek to accord rights to one man denied to another. Fair-minded labor asks no more, no less, and approves the record of the Republican party because of that party's acts.

I have helped to make my party's record in the enactment of the eight-hour law, the employers' liability act, the statutes to minimize the hazard of railroad employes, the child labor law for the District of Columbia, and other enactments designed to especially improve the conditions of labor. It cannot hope to better state my position on injunctive than by a specific endorsement of Mr. Taft's Cincinnati declaration on that subject. That endorsement I make.

The Colored Race
As a nation our duty compels that by every constitutional and reasonable means the material and educational condition of the colored race be advanced. This we owe to ourselves as well as to them. As the result of the course of events that can never be reversed, they are a part of our civilization, their prosperity is a part of our prosperity; their debasement would be our misfortune. The Republican party, therefore, will offer every encouragement to the thrift, industry and intelligence that will better their prospect of higher attainment.

I believe in the maintenance of such an army, the upbuilding of such a navy as will be the guarantee of the protection of American citizens and American interests everywhere.

That at every exposed point we may be fortified that no power on earth may be tempted to molest us. I believe in the restoration of the American merchant marine and in rendering whatever financial aid may be necessary to accomplish this purpose.

I emphasize as my party's creed and my faith that in legislation and administration favor should be extended to no class, no sect, no race, no section as opposed to another. To foster class hatred, to foster discontent, is un-Republican and un-American. Our party stands on the declaration that all men are created with equal rights and it will have no part in the enactment or execution of any law that does not apply alike to all good American citizens, whatever their calling or wherever they live. I will allow no man in our land to have advantage in law over another man. It offers no safeguard to capital that is not guaranteed to labor; no protection to the workman that is not insured to his employer. It would offer to each and to both in pursuit of health and happiness and prosperity every possible advantage.

Shall the People Rule?
"Shall the people rule?" is declared by the Democratic platform and candidate to be the "overshadowing issue." It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule; surely the people do rule. No party rules: the party commissioned by the people, is simply the instrument to execute the people's will, and from that party which does not obey their expressed will or which lacks the wisdom to lead successfully, the people will withdraw their commission.

SEVERE QUAKE CAUSES DAMAGE AT EUREKA

Eureka, Cal., Aug. 18.—Three sharp earthquake shocks were felt this morning, the first at 2:30 o'clock and the last at 5:20. The first was the heaviest, some damage being done to the walls of old buildings, but no one was injured. Crocker in many houses was broken, and the walls of the courthouse were slightly cracked.

Later it developed that one hundred chimneys were shattered and 40 plate glass windows in the business section broken. The damage is estimated at between $2000 and $3000.

The shock was almost as severe as the one felt here April 18, 1906. The second shock occurred at 3:08, the third at 5:30 o'clock, but the first shock caused practically all the damage.

The walls of the Carnegie library were slightly cracked, the damage amounting to $300.

Reports from Seary ranch, near Freshwater, six miles north of here, tell of considerable damage to chimneys and crocker, and of a crack in the earth half a mile long.

Shocks were also felt at Blue Lakes, 25 miles from Eureka.

New York, Aug. 18.—To all the usual medical tests Oscar Culver, a victim of consumption and rheumatism, had been dead for three minutes in the Eastern District hospital yesterday when Dr. Michael J. Jaffe received the report. He hurried to the man's bedside, injected strychnine above and below the heart, and resorted to artificial respiration, assisted by other physicians, and in a short time Culver opened his eyes and stared fixedly into the world from which, by all signs known to medical men, he had made his exit. His hold on life is precarious.

Later—Culver lived through the night, but never recovered consciousness, and died this morning.
