

BURGLAR MAKES BIG HAUL AT BECKWITH HOME

During the past few days there has been an epidemic of burglaries in Eugene. Besides the Edwards burglary and the attempt to enter the Barrett residence as mentioned in another column, the residence of L. O. Beckwith at the corner of East Sixth and Pearl streets was burglarized Friday night and L. N. Roney's office on West Seventh street was entered and the safe broken into.

Roney's Safe Opened.

L. N. Roney's safe was opened, presumably Friday night, but nothing of value was taken. The combination lock is always open, as there is never any money or valuables left in the safe. The miscreant opened the big outside door and taking a chisel pried two of the inside drawers open. There was nothing but a number of papers of no value to any one but Mr. Roney in the drawers, and they were left unaltered.

A burglar with an ugly looking pistol entered the residence of County Commissioner H. D. Edwards at the corner of East Fourteenth and Hilliard streets and attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. D. E. Barrett at the corner of East Fourteenth and Ferry streets, Saturday night, but was frightened away before he got into the house.

Between 10:30 and 11 o'clock Miss Zelma Edwards, daughter of Commissioner Edwards, who was the last of the family to retire, heard foot steps on the stairway. Soon afterward she heard some one in the hallway near her bedroom door, and when she asked who was there a man replied, "Your husband." She ordered him to leave the house at once and she and her sister, Miss Ina arose. The latter lit a lamp and started for her father's room on the same floor. As she passed the head of the stairs the man was standing half way down the stairway, and was pointing a pistol at her.

As Miss Edwards turned and looked at him he commanded: "Don't you holler and I'll let you alone." She replied, "Get out of here and I'll let you alone," whereupon he left the house.

About that time Mr. Edwards was awakened and an investigation was made to ascertain whether or not anything was taken by the burglar.

It was found that he effected entrance to the house through a kitchen window, tearing a wire screen off. He entered the parlor and other rooms down stairs and rummaged around, but nothing was missing except a hat belonging to Mr. Edwards which the burglar substituted for the one he was wearing.

The Misses Edwards were naturally badly frightened, but they kept their nerve, as evidenced by the cool manner in which they ordered the intruder out.

At Mrs. Barrett's Residence. Soon after this occurrence Mrs. Barrett heard some one knock at her front door. She opened it and a man standing on the porch asked if Mr. Barrett lived there. Mrs. Barrett, not understanding the name he gave, she replied that he did not and remarked that she thought it was her boys returning from the circus. She had locked the door as she was alone with her daughter. At that the man drew a pistol and pointed it at her.

She slammed the door shut and the barrel of the gun was caught between the door and the jamb. Mrs. Barrett cried out, "Nathan, he has a gun," and called out the name "Charles." Those are the names of her boys. This frightened the gun artist and he beat a hasty retreat. It is probable that he was the same man who entered the Edwards residence.

Chief of Police Farrington was soon afterward notified and he made an investigation, but no clue to the fellow's identity could be obtained. He was probably a circus hanger-on.

NO DIVORCE FOR HELEN IS FINAL DECREE

New York, Aug. 30.—Pope Pius X and the college of cardinals have, according to news received here today, refused to annul the marriage of Helen Maloney, daughter of Papi Marquis Martin Maloney, of Philadelphia.

The Denver Times prints the following account of the marriage of President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, to Mrs. Susan Campbell Church.

Grand Lake, Col., Aug. 21.—The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Campbell, of Denver, was the scene of a brilliant wedding yesterday when President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, and Mrs. Susan Campbell Church, of San Francisco, were united in marriage. The bride is a sister of the late E. L. Campbell, a former resident of the capital city. The Rev. J. H. O. Smith, of Oklahoma City, a minister of the Christian church, officiated.

The ceremony took place in the big living room, which was beautifully decorated with ferns, plants and flowers. The wedding party came down the flower-lined stairway, preceded by Master Dick Campbell, as page. Following him came Mrs. E. L. Campbell, of San Francisco, and Mrs. R. C. Campbell, as matrons of honor; then the bride on the arm of Senator T. H. Patterson, who gave her away. W. H. Bryant, of Denver, was best man.

Other guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Church, of Joplin, Mo.; Miss Lucia Campbell, of Oregon; Mrs. Nettie Campbell Braden, of Indianapolis; Mrs. W. H. Bryant, Miss Minnie Bryant, and Miss Dorothy Bryant, Miss Katherine Cramer, of Denver; George Bell, of New York; Charles Lowell, of Colorado Springs; Miss Mary Shannon, Miss Ruth Porter, of Denver.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served, when Professor and Mrs. Campbell drove to Sulphur Springs, where they will spend a week before rejoining the party at Grand Lake. After a few days there they will leave for Eugene, Dr., their future home, arriving in time for the opening of the University.

Relative to the report of the state board of health upon samples of Ritchey Creek water sent to the board by Mayor Matlock to be analyzed, in which it is stated that the water is unfit for drinking or domestic purposes, Mayor Matlock stated to a Guard reporter this morning that the report as published is just as he received it, but he stated that he is of the opinion that the water became contaminated in some manner after leaving Eugene and before it was analyzed.

A good many others, in discussing the matter with the mayor, stated this morning that they believe that the water had been tampered with by those who are opposed to the city securing its supply from Ritchey creek.

Mayor Matlock sent three samples of the water to the state health board about ten days ago, one from Ritchey creek, one from Bradley creek and the third from Bradley creek. He delivered them to the express office in person and all that anyone else had to do with the shipment at this end of the line was Dr. J. W. Harris, county health officer, who simply put his signature to the jars which contained the water.

Following is the report of the state board on the analysis of the water:

Oregon State Board of Health, Office of Robt. C. Yenney, M. D., Secretary and State Health Officer, 422 Marquam Building.

To the State Board of Health, Portland, Oregon.

Gentlemen:—I have to report examination of specimens of water from Dr. J. W. Harris, of Eugene. Upon examination of these specimens I have found as follows:

No. 1 (Ritchey Creek) contains B. Coll.

No. 2 (Roaring Creek) contains B. Coll.

No. 3 (Bradley Creek) contains B. Coll.

All three specimens are therefore to be condemned as unfit for drinking or domestic purposes.

Yours very truly, RALPH C. YENNEY, M. D., Bacteriologist to the State Board.

Believe Something Wrong

Those who have advocated the taking of water from Ritchey creek for city purposes cannot help but believe that some one has been instrumental in substituting other water in the jars sent down by the mayor for the water obtained from the creeks named. For years residents in the vicinity of the creeks have drunk the water and have pronounced it as good as any mountain water that they ever drank and better than that from a great many streams.

H. H. McNamar, who has lived on Ritchey creek for several years, called at the Guard office yesterday afternoon. He stated that the water is nearly ice cold and he has been using it for domestic and drinking purposes ever since he has lived there and there has been no sickness whatever in his family. Others who have used the water for years say the same thing.

Mr. McNamar stated that he measured the flow of the water in the creek on August 6. There was a flow of 285 miners' inches in a fall of three inches to the rod, which was equivalent to a flow of 2,850,000 gallons per day. The stream is now running 350 miners' inches, he says, which makes over 3,000,000 gallons per day. It has never been any lower than when he measured it on August 6, he says. He is of the opinion that this is enough water to supply Eugene for many years to come, even if the population is doubled within the next two or three years, as many expect. He is also of the opinion that more healthful water than that in the creek cannot be found in the mountains of Oregon.

THE CAMPBELL-CHURCH WEDDING AT GRAND LAKE

MANY THINK WATER SAMPLES WERE TAMPERED WITH

Relative to the report of the state board of health upon samples of Ritchey Creek water sent to the board by Mayor Mat
