

DEER BEING EXTERMINATED BY WOLVES

ANIMALS ARE BECOMING NUMEROUS IN MOUNTAINS—HEAVY BOUNTY ON THEIR SCALPS WOULD BE MEANS OF PROTECTING DEER

Dr. W. W. Oglesby, of Cottage Grove, was in the city today on business and was a pleasant caller at the Guard office. He stated that the people in that vicinity report that the timber wolves in the mountains east of there are becoming very numerous and are rapidly exterminating the deer. He said that W. A. Kelly made a trip to the head of Land creek, a tributary of Row river, east of Cottage Grove, and found that wolves had killed three head of his cattle which he was pasturing there, their carcasses being found. Eight head are missing, and it is thought they, too, have been killed by the wolves. Hunters going toward the summit of the mountains are unable to find any deer at all, they having been run out by the wolves, but in the foothills and near the settlements they are reported much more numerous. In the course of time it is thought the wolves will come down the mountains and prey upon the settler's stock. If something is not done to exterminate them, it is argued that if a large bounty were placed on these wolves instead of paying game wardens high salaries, more deer would be saved by one man than could be saved by all the wardens in the state. If a good bounty were paid for the scalps of wolves many people would make it a point to hunt them all the year around. At present Lane county pays a bounty of $2.50 on each wolf scalp, but this is not enough to put any one to devote much time to killing them.

WASHINGTON PRIMARY LAW IS UPHOLD.

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 13.—The State Supreme Court today unanimously sustained the direct primary law in its entirety. The opinion was written by Justice Fullerton and signed by Hadley, Chief Justice; Dunbar, Mount and Rudkin. Justices Root and Crow, who were candidates before the primaries, took no part, although it is understood that they agree with other members. The opinion covers 11 typewritten pages and consolidates in the decision the four attacks upon the direct primary law. The points upon which the attack was made and the decision may be summarized as follows: The court holds that the title is sufficient and that the law is valid on that constitutional ground. In discussing this point the court admits the indefiniteness of the provision that candidate must file a statement of campaign expenses, "not less than 10 days after the primaries," and says in such cases the rule is they must be filed within a reasonable time.

SALEM REUB THOUGHT ELEVATOR WAS BEDROOM

Salem, Oct. 14.—Jacob A. Mauren, "from way back in the country," as he expressed it, had never seen an elevator until he reached the Willamette Hotel in Salem and the tale hangs on the fact that he did not recognize one when he saw it. When it came time to show Mr. Mauren, who is about 45 years old, to his room, he was escorted into the elevator cage by the bellboy. He had no sooner entered than he took to his surroundings and, supposing the elevator to be the room to which he had been assigned, sat down upon the upholstered end seat and began to divest himself of his clothing. The cage began to rise and he sat still in open-eyed wonderment until the fourth floor was reached when the elevator boy stopped the car and told him that was the floor on which his room was located. "Why, what?" he exclaimed; "I thought this was my room." "This," replied the boy, "is the elevator." "Elevator; well I'll be dinged! I've heard a good deal about these things, but this is the first time I ever saw one."

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Souders left today for their new home in Seattle, where Mr. Souders will be engaged in the manufacturing business, being interested in a plant for the manufacture of foodstuffs from bananas. They will be greatly missed by Eugene people, who wish them happiness in their new home.

NEWS OF COTTAGE GROVE.

The new steel fire escapes for the public and high schools arrived at this place Saturday and are being put up by Andrew Nelson. This is a commendable move on the part of the school board. Sam Pearce, J. D. Cochran and John Barker returned home from a hunt on Mosby Creek Friday evening being guests of Walt Baker on his Mosby Creek homestead. The boys killed several deer and J. D. Cochran was fortunate enough to kill a large timber wolf. The boys all report a grand, good time. J. M. Coon has returned home from the late use of a few weeks with his wife and children. They have been to the coast for a few weeks. This party included that of the Tate and was very successful. The prune crop was large and of excellent quality. The price is high and is being a fair price, with a good profit to the grower. Leader.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs. The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty. If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all the druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
