

BRYAN DENOUNCES TACTICS OF OPPOSITION

Newark, Ohio, Oct. 21.—"I say to you that the little ward heeler who goes around and bribes a man for five dollars is a moral character beside the man who attempts to use his power to threaten those who work for him by the promise of an increase in wages or threaten them by the promise of a decrease." Thoroughly aroused by what he termed a "new menace," through the publication today of a press dispatch stating that the officials of the New York Central lines had summoned their workmen and informed them that if the Democrats won the election there would be a ten-per cent reduction in wages, but that if they lost there would be an increase, Bryan in his speech to a vast throng, poured a volley of criticism into the Republican party for its campaign tactics, beginning with the sentence quoted above.

FORMER LANE COUNTY WOMAN MURDERED BY HUSBAND AT SALEM

Salem, Oct. 21.—As a culmination of a series of quarrels covering a period of three weeks, C. Y. Timmons, a local plasterer, cut his wife's throat from ear to ear this morning and then cut his own throat in an attempt at suicide. The couple had quarreled almost nightly for three weeks and after midnight last night a scuffle was heard in their rooms. Another boarder saw the body of Mrs. Timmons on the floor face down as he passed the door, and the discovery of the crime followed. Timmons was removed to a hospital, and it is said there is some chance of his recovery.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Salem, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Stella Timmons, 21 years of age, a sister of Miss Edne B. Bogart, of Eugene, and a niece of a farmer of the same name of that city, was murdered by her husband, Silas Timmons, a plasterer, who slashed her throat with a razor at 12:30 o'clock this morning. Afterward the murderer attempted to kill himself by cutting his throat with the same razor, but was unsuccessful, and, being under the influence of liquor, fell asleep across the bed, beside which his wife, in her night dress, lay in a pool of blood. He awoke at 7:30 this morning and secured assistance. It is believed the crime was the result of a drunken frenzy and insane jealousy, the couple having agreed before an attorney here yesterday to secure a divorce. Timmons, who is 37 years of age, will probably give. He makes no denial of the murder.

Mrs. Timmons was the daughter of Andrew Bogart and wife, both of whom have been dead for several years. They resided between Eugene and Coburg, where Mrs. Timmons, whose Christian name was Stella, and her sister, Edna, were born. Mrs. Timmons was about 21 years of age. She has four uncles, A. G. Bogart, living about half way between Eugene and Coburg; William Bogart, living close to Coburg; John Bogart, at Spokane, and Charles Bogart, living near Lebanon.

Timmons and his wife were married about two years ago. They were visiting relatives here last week and expected to come back to Eugene next week. Timmons is a plasterer and he intended working at that trade on the many new buildings going up here.

Mrs. Timmons was raised in this county. After the death of her parents she and her sister, Edna, were left to care for themselves, and Stella had been a ward of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at Portland at one time. She was not a wayward girl, but was placed in that institution so she would be properly cared for.

COLONEL TAYLOR ESCAPED FROM NIGHT RIDERS

Tennessee Lawyer Was Shot At Five Hundred Times

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 21.—A Tippecanoe, Tenn., dispatch says that Colonel R. Z. Taylor has arrived at that place safe and sound. He escaped from the Night Riders, he says, after they had fired five hundred shots at him. The masked men got into a dispute among themselves over what to do with Taylor, some favoring killing him while others wanted to hold him so as to force a concession to their demands for free fishing in Redfoot lake. While they disputed Taylor got away from his guards, jumped into the lake and swam across. The Night Riders fired upon him many times, but he escaped injury.
