

FRED MOULLEN'S FOOT SAVED DAY FOR OREGON

Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 31.—In the most sensational football game ever seen in the Pacific Northwest the Oregon eleven defeated Idaho by the score of 27 to 21.

The veteran team displayed better form in the old style of football, but Oregon showed marked superiority in putting, running in punts, execution of the forward pass and defense of the line.

The game was a seesaw affair. The score was tied at the end of the first half, when Oregon scored two touchdowns in quick succession and established a lead which she held throughout the finish.

Clark and Kiltz each got loose for good runs. The particular stars of the game were Captain Moulle, of Oregon, who passed four goals from the field during the game, and Fullback Clark, of Oregon, whose superb kicking unquestionably saved the day for Oregon.

Three out of four of the field goals for Oregon, as did Chandler and Latourette, the freshman quarterback, the tackling of Main, Michael, Kiltz, Dodson and Means were features of the game.

Director Angell, of the Oregon Agricultural College, attended the game here. He acted as head linesman. J. R. Bender, of Spokane, was umpire, and R. M. Hockenberry, of Portland, referee. Many penalties were inflicted. Attendance, 2,000.

UNIVERSITY WANTS TO INCREASE LOAN FUND TO $10,000

The University hopes to establish during the coming year a loan fund of anywhere from $5000 to $10,000. The present fund amounts to about $1,000. The University believes that a loan fund is preferable to a scholarship fund, as it is not an outright gift, and may be used over and over by poor and deserving students.

William Ladd, of Portland, A. S. Roberts, of The Dalles, and Senator R. A. Booth, of this city, have been the largest individual contributors. President Campbell has responded with any one wishing to contribute a sum.

The loans are let at a low rate of interest. They are usually paid back a year after graduation. Besides the signature of the student and one other person, a small amount of life insurance is carried. The demand for the fund is now much greater than the capacity.

Song Winners Arthur Van Dusen won one-half the prize offered for the best song presented to the committee. Merle Chessman and Ralph Cronise, as partners, won the other half. The total prize was $10. No award was made on the yell, as not one was considered worthy. Virgil Cooper, Professor I. M. Glen and C. V. Loosely composed the committee.

College News Ward L. Ray, principal of the Silverton schools, visited at the Alpha house over Sunday.

The senior class has voted not to invite guests for the first two University balls. The matter was presented to them by the freshmen and sophomore classes. The action is simply advisory.

The lower portion of the campus has been plowed up, preparatory to turning it into lawns.

The Multnomah football squad returned from Portland on Monday noon. The Oregon first team returned to Eugene on the Cottage Grove local last night. A large crowd of students met them.

ARRESTED FOR FISHING WITH NET WITHOUT PROPER LICENSE

A case was tried before Judge Severy and a jury Monday afternoon, the title of which was the State of Oregon vs. T. L. Peterson. The charge was fishing with a net without having a license for the same. Peterson was arrested by Water Bailiff Stear Monday morning and taken before Judge Severy. He demanded a jury trial and William Brink, G. C. Compton, Jesse Lowe, Frank McFall, A. J. Morris and E. G. Foster were sworn in as jurors. Colonel Holden appeared in behalf of the state and Mr. Osenberg, the defendant's partner, acted as his attorney. The witnesses were Paul Bernhardt, Joseph Saffley, W. L. Flisk and Martin Peterson. The prosecution claimed that Peterson had been operating a net and showed the fish that had been taken to the same and credited to Peterson. The defense claimed that the net belonged to his partner, Osenberg, and said that the fish were sent to the cannery in Peterson's name and credited to him by an agreement between them because Osenberg owed Peterson over $200. After hearing the testimony and arguments of the counsel, the jury deliberated for a hour or more and at length brought in a verdict of guilty to a fine of $50 and costs. An appeal to the circuit court was at once taken and the sum of $150 in cash deposited with the court as security for the appearance of the defendant.

Other Shulaw Notes Mr. Kayser, an artist of Portland, was in this vicinity a couple of days this week taking pictures of scenic scenes in this section. He is employed by the Eugene Commercial Club to take a large number of pictures of different scenes in Lane county and finish them up in color. They will then be distributed in different parts of the country, to be hung up in railroad depots and other public places for advertising purposes.

Mr. Rayner secured some fine views of Florence, Tillamook Lake and scenes around Hoopa. He admitted the necessity in this vicinity and says California has nothing to compare with it in beauty.

The pupils of the Florence school held a meeting Saturday evening and organized a literary society, which will meet regularly every two weeks. The officers are: Bert Edwards, president; Edna Raymond, secretary and treasurer. Pupils of the high school and other persons of fourteen years or over are eligible to membership.

Mr. Parozzo, who for several weeks has held a position as assistant bookkeeper in the office of the Hurd Lumber & Navigation Company, will leave Florence November 1st for San Francisco, where he will take a position in the office of Vice President Calvin, of the Southern Pacific Company.

Captain Beerman returned to this section last Saturday after an absence of several weeks in Eugene. He has disposed of his ranch near Tillamook lake and has bought the Booker place this side of Elk Prairie.—Florence West.

Timmons Expresses Much Confidence Lying on his bed at the Salem hospital, C. Y. Timmons, self-confessed killer of his wife, Stanley Timmons, has time and again practically stated that he has sufficient evidence to outwrest any attempts at prosecution and that he will be freed.

What his proposed line of defense may be is problematical. What he will deliver an argument and one other statement. Rumor has it that Timmons has time and again insinuated that he will be fully able to free himself from any charges, that he will fully vindicate himself of any charges which might be placed against him.

From what Timmons wished to base his defense on the story that he was out with a third party before he turned upon his wife to consummate her death. It is apparently a proposition of self-defense. But outside of his confession, so confident is Timmons of his case, that he has a line of defense up his sleeve which will be surprising.—Salem Statesman.

Hard Luck Drummer's Hoodoo Still Pursues J. J. Lyons, a commercial traveler, representing a surgical instrument house at Los Angeles, struck a run of hard luck which has moved to Eugene. He was in Galveston, Texas, at the time of the flood, and lost considerable. Thinking to escape such misfortunes, he moved to San Francisco in time to participate in the quake. A year later his wife died, leaving him to care for three children. Last Tuesday night he saw his grip containing his samples in the engine room. Upon looking around for it he found some sneak thief had appropriated the same and made off with it. Aside from the value of the samples, which amount to $250, which he will have to stand for, he is losing valuable time waiting for his company to forward another case.—Western Oregon.

Taft Winds Up His Campaign Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—William H. Taft, Republican candidate for president of the United States, began the last day of his campaign here this afternoon, where he addressed a large audience. Great enthusiasm marked the meeting, members of the local Republican clubs turning out in full force and enlivening the occasion in genuine old-fashioned campaign style. Upon leaving Mr. Taft gave to Youngstown to make his final speech of the campaign, and from Youngstown he will proceed direct to Cincinnati to cast his ballot and await the result of the election.

How is Your Digestion? Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that this tonic for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best tonic and cathartic I have used. It invigorates the alternate medicine for blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. At W. A. Kaykendall's Drug Store."

In regard to the accident to Rev. Erskine, the Congregational minister, who recently suffered a broken leg, we are requested to state that the injury was sustained in a run-down wagon instead of falling from an apple tree, as published.

GIRL'S LETTER AS EVIDENCE AGAINST THE DR. ATWOOD

Pearl Lamb Wrote Before Her Death That She Was Undergoing Dangerous Operation L. Lamb, father of Pearl Lamb, who died in the Dr. Atwood's "maternity hospital," in Portland a few days ago, the arrest of the doctors for malpractice following, is in the city today. He has found a letter in the girl's trunk, which was left in the room when she went to Portland, and which will be used as evidence against the Atwoods. The letter was written to her parents, but never mailed. The girl stated that she was about to have an operation performed which might prove fatal to her, and she asked to be forgiven for her wrongdoing. She did not mean to do wrong, she said, but told of the realizations that she was about to give up, especially a working girl, and she explained that she had yielded to them only to regret her folly. The letter indicated deep contrition on the girl's part, also sorrow for her folks in their disgrace if her death should occur under the circumstances. She expressed her love for a certain young man, who she had loved him when she left home a few months ago as she did when she wrote the letter, she never would have gotten into this trouble. The letter is pathetic and indicates that the girl had little hope of surviving the operation.

DEATH OF COL. SLADDEN AT WEBSTER CITY

The Webster City, Iowa, Freeman-Tribune of October 26 contains the following account of the death of Colonel S. P. Sladden, of Eugene: S. P. Sladden, who recently arrived in this city from Eugene, Oregon, and who has been dangerously ill since he passed away Wednesday afternoon at 1:40 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. D. Burgess. Mr. Sladden's death is the result of septic poisoning caused by decayed teeth, complicated with valvular heart trouble.

Mr. Sladden was born January 21, 1832, at Herne Parsonage, county of Kent, England, and was confirmed in the Canterbury cathedral. He was united in marriage with Harriet E. Pocock December 24, 1855, at Muscatine, Iowa. Deceased leaves a wife and three children: Mrs. Fannie Sladden-Nelson of Chicago; Mrs. Edward D. Burgess, of Webster City, and Sidney C. Sladden, of New York City. Also two grand-children, Mrs. James A. Buell and Miss Beulah Sladden. All of these were present when they were called away. Father Sladden called each one of them to his bedside, and after embracing and kissing them was ready to go.

Mr. Sladden retired from the wholesale grocery business in Chicago in 1881 and removed to Webster City, where he resided until 1885. During that time Mr. and Mrs. Sladden's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nelson, made their home here. Mr. Nelson being engaged in the lumber business. While the deceased was a resident here he built the home now occupied by C. A. Brennecke and family, and also the residence just east of the Brennecke home.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Burgess home, on Wilson street, conducted by Rev. J. O. Thrush, of the Congregational church.

The remains will be taken to Chicago this evening, accompanied by Mrs. Sladden, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Burgess and S. C. Sladden. The body will be laid to rest at Rose Hill cemetery.

In their great sorrow the family have the sympathy of their Webster City friends.

STOLEN SUIT CASE FOUND BUT NOT FROM EUGENE

A suit case containing feminine wearing apparel, was found Saturday in the local yards of the Leona Mills Lumber Co., by John Daily, a rymple, an employe. The outfit is probably the one stolen from the S. P. depot in Eugene a few days ago. Sheriff Fenton to whom the find was delivered, is now in communication with Eugene to get the property identified, if possible. The contents of the suit case are costly, consisting among other things, of a tailor-made suit and three silk waists. The garments had been little disturbed, the thief evidently deciding that there was nothing in sight that he could use or dispose of to advantage.—Roseburg Review.

Upon inquiry at the office of Sheriff Bown, it was learned that the suit case stolen in Eugene contained surgical instruments, so the one found at Roseburg was stolen somewhere else.

PETER SPAREM DEFENDS OLD BILL OBEDIAH

(Special Correspondence.) Mapleton, Nov. 2.—In the Daily Guard of October 27 Old Bill Obediah gets a roasting from "Parity." We must be cautious not to testify to more than we know to be true, but we should show that vain talkers belong to the world, though numbers class them among religious people, to the injury of the same.

Mr. Editor, as Old Bill Obediah is very busy now looking after his fruit and vegetables, I am now trying to answer "Parity's" letter. Will say that Old Bill Obediah and his family have never attended a dance in the

LEBANON TRAIN RUNS INTO AND KILLS AGED MAN

Charles Goehinger, of Lebanon, who has been staying at the Soldier's home in Roseburg, was struck by the home train of the Lebanon train last night shortly after nine o'clock as he was walking down the track from the Lebanon depot. The car struck the aged man in the back and knocked him fully thirty feet. When found a few moments later by one of the train crew, he was dead. Goehinger was deaf and did not hear the approaching train. He had just returned to Lebanon from Roseburg where he had been stopping at the soldiers' home and had alighted from the train and had started down the track when the train backed up and he was struck. So far as known he has no relatives.—Albany Herald.

DEADWOOD ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.) Deadwood, Nov. 2.—O. Wilcutt, of Greenleaf, is in town with his witness, C. Burnett, and C. Wilcutt, of Deadwood, to prove up on a timber claim.

Quite a few people of our neighborhood are out to attend court this week.

Herman Steinhauer, of Greenleaf, had quite an exciting runaway with his team and new wagon. Luckily there was nothing broken except the coach.

Mrs. Annie Wilcutt, of this place, is in town today ready to file on a timber claim.

There is expected to be a wedding at Alpha in the near future. Both parties live in Deadwood.

Smith and Ralph Taylor, who reside on Indian Creek, are expecting to reach home tonight, both being fire wardens for the government.

L. Slayter, of Blachley, had a very good horse fall off a bridge and snag his shoulder. They were going to shoot it last report.

Miss Beatrice Wilcutt will spend the winter in Eugene attending the Sisters' school.

TESTIMONY FAVORS MRS. HOWARD GOULD

New York, Oct. 30.—Further testimony was given today by Elijah Sells and his daughter Marjorie in the Howard Gould divorce hearing. Sells asserted that he had never seen Mrs. Gould under the influence of liquor, nor to act otherwise than in a ladylike manner. Mrs. Gould never drank more than one cocktail, a single pint of wine and two cordials at dinner. He said he believed Mrs. Gould was a wronged woman and he wanted to do all he could to put her right before the public.

Miss Sells told of frequent visits to Mrs. Gould. She never saw Mrs. Gould under the influence of liquor or acting in an unladylike manner. On one occasion, when returning from a visit to Boston to Thomas W. Lawson's home, by automobile, they stopped at Hartford, where Dustin Farnum was playing. Miss Sells went to the play but Mrs. Gould stayed at home. She told of a visit to Philadelphia while Farnum was there and several meetings between Mrs. Gould and Farnum.
