NEGRO JOHNSON WORLD CHAMPION OF FIGHT RING

Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 25.—Jack Johnson, the big negro, from Galveston, Tex., is the world's heavyweight champion. He won the title today in the big arena at Rushcutters bay from Tommy Burns, the French-Canadian, who had held it since James J. Jeffries relinquished it, and after a chase of Burns that led half way around the world.

The end came in the 14th round, when the police, seeing Burns tottering and unable to defend himself from the savage blows of his opponent, mercifully stopped the fight. Previously it had been arranged that, if the police interfered, a decision should be rendered on points, and Referee McIntosh declared the big black man a winner, for all through the fight he had shown himself Burns' master in every style of fighting.

Too Big, Reach Too Great.
Burns, in an interview after he had gone to his dressing-room, said: "I did the best I could and fought hard. Johnson was too big and his reach was too great."

Johnson appeared fresh after the fight, while Burns' eyes were badly puffed and his mouth swollen to twice its normal size. He fought a game battle, and showed indomitable pluck, but he was no match for the big Texas brack.

The fight was for a purse of $35,000, of which Burns received $3,000, Johnson $5,000. The ring was a 24-foot one and was pitched in the center of a big arena built especially for the purpose at Rushcutters bay. The bout was to have been for 20 rounds.

The day dawned overcast and cool. Thousands of persons from all parts of the country were attracted to the scene of the encounter and many reached there Christmas night and slept in the open. They came by street cars, automobiles, carriages and on horseback, and at 10 o'clock this morning, one hour before the fight was scheduled to start, every seat was occupied. The prices of seats ranged from $2.50 to $25.

The crowd was estimated at between 18,000 and 20,000 persons, and it kept perfect order throughout the fight. A his band enlivened the holiday throng.

No Handcuffs Allowed.
The referee, however, here took a hand in the controversy and said the wearing of handcuffs was against the rules. Johnson still demurred, nevertheless, and Burns, with a show of impatience, had his hands unbound from the spectators a tremendous round of applause.

The men agreed that if the police should interfere and stop the fight, the referee should decide the fight on points.

At 11:15 o'clock Johnson and Burns posed for a moving picture machine and had received final instruction from Referee McIntosh and retired to their corners. Then the battle began.

Jeffries to Fight.
James J. Jeffries, the retired champion, will probably take on Johnson. In an interview at Los Angeles before the fight he made the statement that he would fight the winner.

COTTAGE GROVE
LODGE WOMEN
VISIT CRESWELL

Some forty-five of the local Rebekahs left Wednesday afternoon for Creswell, where they attended the evening meeting of the Creswell Rebekahs. The Western Oregon Rebekahs with their drill team, took the chairs, initiating several new members in the lodge. After the initiation a sumptuous chicken banquet was served, a merry time was had and the late overland train was an hour behind time and it was after 3 o'clock when the visitors returned to Cottage Grove.

The Creswell lodge is composed of some ninety members and is a thriving organization every member working hard for their common cause. They will probably return the visit some time in the near future.

Mining Notes
D. A. Mosby was in from Distant today. He is one of the freighters who contracted to deliver the big quantities of the Kelsey-Miller & Co. property to the property in Mill Company at the end of the railroad at Distant. Mr. Mosby is informed as that the big job was completed Friday, unusually good weather having prevailed, greatly to their favor. The big mining plant is being erected on what is known as the Mayflower group of mines, and will be set up this winter ready for operations when spring opens.

F. J. Hard and Professor Barker, of the University of Oregon were in town Tuesday. Mr. Hard returned on Wednesday's local, and Professor Barker left on the early stage for London Springs, where he will spend a few days, and then go on to Black Lake. He is familiarizing himself with the various rock formations, with a view to this part of the country, etc. The concrete foundation for the new Veatch two-story brick is now being poured and will be begun soon. The building will be 50x90 feet. Geo. Lee is the contractor.

Thursday was our esteemed pioneer anniversary and wife. Mr. and Mrs. H. Veatch, and they are still quite well preserved and are enjoying good health.

Bert Woods, the contractor and builder, who with his family spent the past summer at Raymond, Wash., is in Cottage Grove looking after his mining and other property interests.

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY, U. S. N.

Admiral George Dewey, who received from congress a vote of thanks and the rank of admiral in recognition of his distinguished services in the battle of Manila bay, celebrated his seventy-first birthday today. His friends and admirers throughout the country remembered the anniversary with a flood of felicitous greetings and good wishes.

Admiral Dewey, despite his seventy-one years, is in the full enjoyment of robust health. With the exception of a summer vacation at his old home in Vermont he remains in Washington the greater part of the year. When in the city he never fails to spend several hours each day in his office in the Mills building, and frequently he is on hand before any of his clerks. As president of the general board he keeps in close touch with all that the navy does and it is safe to say that no one in the land has followed with closer attention or keener interest the progress of the Atlantic battleship fleet on its trip around the world than has the hero of Manila bay.

As admiral he is always on the active list, and unlike any other officer in the army or navy, cannot be retired for age or any other cause. At the same time he need not work if he preferred to do nothing and as long as he lives he will receive the gratitude of the nation.

NO COAL BURNERS FOR S. P. LOCOMOTIVES

Unauthenticated Report Is Most Improbable With Present Conditions

The report that the freight engines on the Southern Pacific railroad would be converted into coal burners seems altogether unauthenticated. Railroad men state that oil could advance one-third in its present price, and the railroad could still use it at a profit.

The gain is not all in the market price, for the big "hog" engines would require two firemen on the heavy grades when coal is used. There is also a great gain in the convenience of transporting of oil fuel.

The oil used on the Harriman lines is brought from California by ship to Portland. Sometimes two steamers will arrive in one week. Formerly the means of transportation was tank cars, but the water method has displaced the old means for the Oregon supply.

Coal was brought in the old days from Wyoming and the haul alone was a very heavy expense. Besides that there has been years when the black diamonds were so scarce that a fuel famine existed on the railroad to such a degree that only passenger trains were run.

In case oil increases in price, the Coos Bay railroad is rushed through, and the Southern Pacific coal mines and the Coos Bay are productive, railroad men say the change in conditions is said to be a most improbable move on the part of the railroad company.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE HAS NATIONAL PROTECTION

Notwithstanding the rumpus being kicked up in San Francisco by the Pacific Coast league officials and the different state league men, the Valley league in Oregon, which was proposed and put under way some time ago by Salem, Eugene, Albany, Roseburg and Woodburn, baseball magnates, is progressing nicely, and unless unforeseen difficulty arises, the Willamette valley will undoubtedly get its name in the baseball world in good shape.

The new Valley league to be has secured protection and rights from the National committee and will be in the ball market with the best amateur players obtainable by the time the season has fairly opened up. Arrangements have been made by the different town managers in the league for grounds, and Salem will probably put Asylum avenue park into use again, as this location is the most favorable of any in any distance of the city and will require but little labor to put it in first-class order.—Salem Journal.

COTTAGE GROVE PEOPLE PLAN NEW COUNTY UNIT

Cottage Grove men will probably present to the next legislature the proposition to form a new county, with Cottage Grove as the county seat. Business men of Cottage Grove want the help of Eugene influence, and purpose to arrange an amicable agreement between Cottage Grove and Eugene business men.

Not only is a part of Lane county wanted, but a big slice of Douglas county is coveted by the agitators. From Lane county the new division would take the Bohemia district. The boundary line would cross the Middle Fork of the Willamette, coming down near Goshen, and then running west to the present limits of the county. Thus Blue River would still remain a part of Lane county. In Douglas county that part of the Bohemia mining district which has so long been a matter of dispute between Douglas and Lane, and the Yoncalla and Drain districts and western part of Douglas are desired. By this division Gardiner would be included in the new county.

The people who have discussed the new move believe that a division is inevitable, if not during the coming year at least in less than four years. They think that both the people at Roseburg and here in Eugene would readily give up a part of their counties to them. The only difficulty they seem to apprehend is the location of the new boundaries.

Rather than fight for the division, as the people of Hood River did, they wish to conciliate both Douglas and Lane county people, and for that matter have broached the matter to a number of Eugene people.

With the help of the representatives of Lane county and Douglas county they think the division can easily be made in the next legislature, and that there will be no need to attempt the initiative.

The great betterment that is expected is in the administration of the district affected. It is said that with a smaller executive district much better roads would be built in all three districts and that greater attention would be paid to the vital interests of the district.

The name for the new county has not yet been decided upon, but in case such a new unit is formed it would probably be Bohemia.

MAN SMOTHERED TO DEATH IN PORTLAND JAIL CELL

Portland, Dec. 26.—An unidentified man was found dead in the "drunk cell" of the city prison today. He had been smothered yesterday and last night the deceased was crowded into a cell constructed to contain four prisoners.

The foul air and the drunken condition of the men was such that none of the prisoners knew what was transpiring in their midst until the body was found at daylight this morning. There recently has been great complaint of the overcrowded condition of the city jail. Last night eighty prisoners were confined in cells built for thirty-five men.

The man was later identified as Robert Burns, a young steam fitter.

BIG POULTRY SHOW CLOSED
THIS AFTERNOON

The big exhibition of the Lane County Poultry association in the Cherry block came to a close this afternoon. The show was a success in every particular and was greatly enjoyed by those who attended it. As to the financial success of the show, Secretary Keesey this afternoon stated that he thought the association would come out even easily. Following are the awards made in addition to those published in yesterday's Guard:

CLEVER SNEAK THIEF VISITING OREGON TOWNS

A sneak burglar, who worked in Roseburg the early part of the week, is thought to be operating or to have operated in Eugene. At Roseburg he went from house to house and knocked at the door. If anyone answered he asked if a civil engineer by the name of Speech lived there or in the vicinity. When he received the negative answer he would leave. Two houses were robbed in the same neighborhood about the same time that the man made his calls. He got money and valuables worth about twenty dollars. The police of that city think that he came north. In appearance the man is of slight build with a peculiar dwarfish aspect. His face is smooth with a sandy complexion.
